TWO ROADS, WHICH WILL YOU TAKE?

START on the ROAD TO PROSPERITY today. The first milestone is a BANK ACCOUNT. It is a check against extravagance. Read the autobiography of any of our great captains of industry and finance. Invariably, close to the opening paragraph, he will tell of his FIRST BANK ACCOUNT. It was the first milestone in his ROAD TO SUCCESS!

Attend the bazaar at the church April 11, 1914. Bonnet and apron sale. A program and supper in the evening.

The ladies of the K. N. K.K. will hold a business meeting at the Lewiston church Thursday afternoon, April 16. Every member is requested to be present.

Mrs. Alpha Nickels has been sick for a week or two, but is slightly improved at present. Mr. Nickels was better for a few days, but is suffering again.

Mrs. Ed Worl fell from the steps of the house at her home Monday of this week and dislocated her knee. The dislocation was reduced and she is getting along nicely.

William LaRue, the section foreman, coming to the conclusion that it is almost impossible to keep house any longer without the Journal, orders this great family friend sent to his address here.

Our genial friend, W. C. Foster, one of the M. P. telegraph operators at this place, requests us to send the Journal to his home at Union. Mr. Foster is one of the best fellows in the world, and loves to tell a good joke. He is popular with all who know him.

Mrs. Joe Bird has been quite sick the past few days.

A new addition to Mrs. Dull's residence is under headway.

Remember the place and date of the social, Saturday evening, April 11.

Mrs. Jane Jenkins returned from Rosalie, Neb., Tuesday, where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jenkins for a few days.

A W. O. W. camp will be instituted here Saturday. The brag drill team of the state will be here from Nebraska City to do the work.

J. D. Shrader and daughter, Isabell, were among the numbers from Murray that witnessed "The Shepherd of the Hills" at the Parmele Friday night.

Mark White returned from Kansas City Sunday evening, where he had been taking treatment at the Thornton & Minor hospital for a few days.

Minford & Creamer had two mules and three horses shipped in Wednesday from South Omaha, where Mr. Creamer had purchased them on the market.

Section Foreman Wm. LaRue and gang have been doing some good work at the depot in the way of filling in the ruts with cinders and making a walk from the depot platform to the sidewalk steps.

Rex Young was in Berlin Friday and Saturday, where he cried a two days' sale. Rex is climbing up as an auctioneer, and we predict he will be one of the foremost auctioneers in the country before many months.

Mrs. Lawton of Morrison, Illinois, and Mrs. Ona Young Lawton, accompanied by Rex Young, went to Sioux City, Iowa, Monday to settle up the affairs of the late Mr. Lawton, who was killed by falling walls recently, an account of whose tragic death has appeared in this paper.

Mrs. A. M. Cole of Weeping Water arrived here Wednesday evening to accompany her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Hiatt, to her home, where Mr. Hiatt will celebrate his 78th birthday on Saturday, April 11. Uncle Moses has hosts of friends who will be glad to learn that he is in fairly good health for one of his age, and hope that he may live to celebrate his 100th birthday.

The Lewiston Glee club met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. G. W. Shrader and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe, and a royal time was enjoyed by all present. The Glee club orchestra was present and furnished some excellent music and singing. A delightful lunch was served at a late hour, which was thoroughly appreciated by all. Those present were: Frank Rhoden, Frank Dugay, Wayne Lewis, Earl Merritt, Roy Cline, Mrs. Frank Rhoden, Esther Ray, Etta Nickels, Bertha Nickels, Mae Lewis.

Everybody was smoking cigars in Murray Wednesday. Even Scotty and Foster at the depot were pulling away and making smoke in curls over their heads. This was all due to the fact that our young friend, O. E. Powers, who was married in Plattsmouth Wednesday evening, was setting them up to the boys. Mr. Powers is very popular in Murray, and wherever known, for that matter, and we hope the step he has taken will never be regretted, and as down the pathway of Time he and his companion for life trod, may it always be strewn with the choicest of flowers, and if any troubles overtake them, may they be "little ones."

Thomas Hansen, from south of Murray was visiting with county seat friends Thursday of this week.

Mrs. Minford and children returned to Lincoln Saturday, after spending the vacation week at the old home.

Making Good as Auctioneer.

W. R. Young, better known in this locality as "Rex," has sure been making good this season as an auctioneer. While he has devoted a great deal of time for the past few years to this profession, this is the first season that Rex has really been given an opportunity to properly display his ability in the ring. He has had a number of sales here this season, the last of which was the one held by Enoch Moreland on the 30th of March, at which time he made good in the fullest sense of the term, and Mr. Moreland was more than pleased with the results. He is a sticker for the high dollar all the time, and we believe will get as much, if not more, money than any of the older men in the ring.

School Items.

The eighth grade are taking their second preliminary examinations. Naomi Adams, from district 60, is also taking the examinations.

A great number of pupils have been absent on account of German measles.

During the month of March there were only three cases of tardiness in the grammar room.

The fifth grade are studying nature; they are now studying the birds of Nebraska.

The fifth grade reading class are studying the life of Henry W. Longfellow.

The sixth grade agriculture class are now studying the types and care of cattle.

The school are enjoying two new pieces on the Victrola. The pieces are played by the Neopolitan Trio.

In the Fine Hog Business.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schwab, from west of Murray, were Plattsmouth visitors last Saturday, looking after some business matters, and while there Mr. Schwab called at the Journal office for the purpose of renewing his subscription. In conversation with Mr. Schwab he tells us that he is in the hog business this year deeper than ever, and has made the practice for several years of breeding some excellent sows that are sold on the market just a trifle over the market price. He has some fine ones this year that the now ready for those who are in the market for such hogs.

Birthday Party.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dill was the scene of a joyous gathering Saturday night, the occasion being in honor of the birthday of their son, Frank. At an early hour the participants began to arrive, and it was not long till the house was filled with both young and old neighbors and friends who had come to do honor to Frank. The evening was spent in the usual pastime—games, music and social conversation, and everyone present seemed to enjoy the event to the fullest extent. At the proper hour a delicious and appetizing lunch was partaken of by those present, after which for a short time the party engaged in social conversation until the time of departure arrived when all wended their way homeward, with the wish that Frank might live to enjoy many more such happy events.
