COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL AND COUNTY COMMIS-SIONERS HOLD MEETING

From Wednesday's Dally. The board of county commissioners last evening held a short session with the members of the streets, alleys and bridges committee of the city council relative to the matter of the bridges on Locust street that the county is to put in this spring. It is the desire of the councilmen to have a six-foot concrete culvert of the same character as placed by the Burlington at the shop yards installed on Locust street, instead of the bridges as first thought of by the county. The desire of the city to have these culverts installed is so that they can in the future, if it is desired, place a continuation of the culverts mit the filling in of the creek. If the county places in bridges it will do away with the idea of the sewer out Washington avenue for some time, but with the culverts the city could easily add a little each year until the whole creek was filled in. The commissioners are willing to allow the culverts to be put in instead of the bridges, but desire to have the county cleared of all damages Phone that might occur from overflows f the small six-foot culverts were placed in. The matter will
