JOHN W. CRABILL

FORMER PLATTSMOUTH MAN COMMITS SUICIDE AT TABOR, IOWA

Tuesday evening at the home of his parents, in Tabor, Iowa, the lifeless body of D. W. Roberts was discovered in the yard and by his side an empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid and the contents of which the unfortunate man had swallowed in his despondency. Mr. Roberts was a man of about 35 years of age and was a resident of this city for some few months, and while here was employed as a driver on the coal wagon of Nelson Jean & Co. The cause for his rash act is attributed to family trouble, as he has had some differences with his wife in the last few months and they were not living together at the time of the suicide, as she was in Omaha, where he had been with his parents for the last few weeks. Besides the parents and his wife and children, he leaves a brother, Morgan Roberts, to mourn his untimely death. The funeral will be held at Tabor this afternoon and interment made in the cemetery at that place.

LUCILLE LOVE THE GIRL OF MYSTERY

Synopsis of the First and Second Series—Third Series at the Air Dome Friday Night.

The opening drama in the "Lucille" series, in which the principal characters are established, and in which "Lucille" undertakes a hazardous mission in an hydroplane to save the honor of her father and the man she loves, Hugo Loubeque and Sumpter Love are cadets at West Point. Both love the same woman, Loubeque is expelled from the institution for theft from his fellow cadets. The principal witness against him is Cadet Love, who as a result of Loubeque's downfall, wins the woman for the hand of whom both were rivals.

Loubeque sets apart his life to avenge himself upon Love. He carefully educates himself to the end of making his revenge more certain and dire. Knowing that Love will some day become an officer in the army, he lays his plans in that direction.

He becomes an international spy, a broker in national secrets. He works upon the plan that no country is greater than its smallest secret.

After a lapse of many years Love is a general in the U. S. army, stationed in Manila. He has an only daughter, Lucille, who is engaged to marry Lieutenant Gibson. The butler in the Love household is a cracksmen in the employ of Loubeque.

After watching the movements of Love for years, Loubeque decides that the time for action has arrived.

General Love receives from Washington a set of documents of the utmost diplomatic importance and the contents of which must be kept in the strictest secrecy. As his aide, Lieutenant Gibson locks them in the safe, at the instigation of Loubeque, the butler steals the papers. The honor of General Love is threatened and he informs Gibson to consider himself under arrest until the papers are returned.

Lucille takes up a telephone receiver that morning to find that the wires are crossed. She overhears a conversation between Loubeque and his accomplice in which the spy admits that the documents are in his possession, and that he intends leaving Manila on the steamship Empress at once. Lucille decides on the spot that she will regain possession of the documents if she has to follow Loubeque to the ends of the earth. She at once realizes that her only chance of reaching the Empress before it puts well to sea, is through the aid of the government aviator, Gibson's rival for her hand. The aviator lends his assistance. She springs into the hydroplane and in a moment later is skipping over the waters in the wake of the Empress.

Little does Hugo Loubeque dream that his Nemesis is above his head and ready to land by his side as he contemplates that the last great stroke in his plan for revenge is nearing completion.

Series No. 2.
 The second story of this series opens when Lucille deserts the hydroplane in the open ocean and make a sensational landing upon the steamship. Then, for the first time, Loubeque becomes aware that his program of revenge is being interfered with. The moment he sees the girls he is struck by her resemblance to his first love, who in reality was Lucille's mother.

Loubeque's first move aboard the ship is to have sent out an unsigned wireless message to the effect that General Love and not his aide, proved a traitor by selling the diplomatic secrets. After the message is sent out, and to prevent further communications with the ship, Loubeque disarranges the wireless apparatus. In doing so he causes an explosion in which he is injured.

Lucille realizes that her opportunity has arrived, and she volunteers to nurse him. Her services are accepted. She is soon on friendly terms with the international spy, but seek as she will the hiding place of the documents remains a mystery.

Fortune, however, favors her. A fierce fire breaks out in the hold of the ship. Lucille is with Loubeque in his state room when the impending disaster is announced. With the first shock of the news the spy's first thought is of the valuable documents and his startled glance toward a desk reveals to Lucille the hiding place of the stolen papers. Loubeque leaves the room for an instant, and the next instant Lucille finds the papers and thrusts them in her bosom.

The fire in the hold is now burning fiercely, and all hope for the ship is lost. The lifeboats are lowered and the rule of "women first" is adhered to.

Realizing that he must desert the ship at once the spy rushes to his cabin only to find the papers gone. He then realizes that his late nurse is no other than Lucille Love, daughter of his deadliest enemy. He dashes to the ship's rail just in time to see the boat in which Lucille is seated, lowered into the angry sea.

"Well played, Miss Love," he cries, "but I am afraid you will have to return the papers."

No soon does Lucille's boat touch the water than it is capsized and all the women occupants are left to the mercy of the waves.

The burning ship listing almost to the water's edge, the ocean spotted with the dying and dead, Lucille grasps a floating timber and clings to it until she loses consciousness.

When she regains her senses she finds herself upon a long stretch of beach; a castaway upon one of the South Sea Islands.

THE LOUISVILLE POTTERY IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE FOR LOUISVILLE

On Tuesday of this week a Journal representative made a brief visit in the thriving little city of Louisville, meeting quite a number of the business and professional men and visiting many of the enterprising and prosperous business houses in what can truthfully be termed one of, if not the best towns of its size in eastern Nebraska. Louisville is a progressive little city in every way. It has advanced very rapidly during the past few years, many new business houses and residences have been erected, but among the busy places all the time the Louisville Pottery Works takes the lead. Here is where we spent the most interesting few moments of our time in that city. This institution is doing more to advertise Louisville than any other within its borders. While the products of this concern are entirely confined to the flower pot, the very high quality of the same places them in great demand wherever they have been introduced, and the entire output of the plant is sold as fast as they can be manufactured, which is way up into the many thousands every day.

The pots are being sold in car-load lots, and are finding sale in Omaha, Kansas City, Council Bluffs and other cities of the middle west where there are located florists and hot houses of any magnitude, and are pronounced by them all to be the very best pottery work in the land. The natural clay in the Louisville hills, which is a beautiful red, combined with an excellent and up-to-date plant and workmen that know their business, this plant is sure turning out a finished piece of pottery that is a beauty, one that has been in demand from the start, and under the able management of Mr. Kahler there is still greater success for the Louisville pottery in years to come.

The Journal has always had a great many friends in Louisville, with whom it is a pleasure to spend a few hours. The business men are progressive and up-to-date in every way, the farmers are prosperous and liberal, and the city and community is just what this class of people can make it, an ideal place to live.

Gets a Very Severe Fall.

Yesterday afternoon while Geo. A. Kaffenberger was engaged in some work trimming trees at his home on High School Hill he met with an accident that will lay him up for a few days at least. Mr. Kaffenberger was mounted on a ladder and cutting off branches from a tree, when one of the branches, in falling, struck the stepladder and it was knocked from beneath Mr. Kaffenberger, throwing him to the ground with great force, and as a result of the fall he received several severe bruises that made the services of a physician necessary to treat. It is to be hoped that he will not sustain any serious injuries as the result of the accident.

Here for a Short Visit.

The friends of Mrs. S. L. Thomas of Long Beach, California, are enjoying very much a visit from that estimable lady, who is here for a week's stay in this city. Mrs. Thomas has been at Malvern, Iowa, looking after some business matters there and took the opportunity to pay a visit to the old home, where she and her genial husband, Senator Thomas, resided for so many years. The Thomas family has made their home in California for the past few years and greatly like the climate in that country.

Certainly Deserves Much Praise.

The two plays given by the senior class at the Parmele theater on Monday evening, which have attracted such a large amount of praise for the work of the persons taking part, and which showed such careful training, owes a great deal of their excellence to the splendid work of instruction given the young people by Mrs. George H. Falter, who, owing to the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. G. E. Dovey, assisted in the work of instruction. The splendid performances certainly speaks well for the work of Mrs. Falter, who devoted a great deal of time to the boys and girls.

A Strange Fatigue.

Without any premonition and without any previous symptoms we feel sometimes a strange, sudden fatigue, the cause of which we are at a loss to explain. The most common cause of it is the so-called auto-intoxication, or indigestion, in which certain particles of food remain in the body, fermenting and decomposing. In such a case you need help at once. We wish to recommend you Trimer's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, which will quickly drive out of the body all undigested waste matter. Your fatigue will give room to energy. In many ailments of the stomach, the bowels and the liver where a thorough cleaning out is necessary, this remedy gives a speedy relief. At drug stores.
