I Stands for Interest So Welcome And Sure!

"INTEREST speaks all sorts of tongues and plays all sorts of parts, even that of disinterestedness." La Rochefoucauld was right. Interest is the ever increasing rolling snowball of money. Interest grows fat upon what it feeds. Interest is never an idle fellow, but he is best when let alone. GET INTERESTED IN INTEREST. Some INTERESTING FIGURES about what INTEREST WILL DO for the asking.

MURRAY STATE BANK

Minford & Creamer shipped one car of hogs last Friday, and also on Monday.

Miss Marguerite Moore, who has been visiting in Plattsburgh, returned home Wednesday morning.

Uncle George Shrader made a business trip to Nebraska City Thursday morning, returning the same evening.

The David Cole Creamery Co. pays the highest market price for butter fat, and the station is located at Oldham's.

W. H. and Otto Puls shipped a car of hogs to South Omaha Tuesday, and W. H. went up Wednesday morning to look after them.

Miss Ione Dovey and her guest, Miss Stella Blake, of Racine, Wis., came down from Plattsburgh Tuesday morning and spent the day and night with Miss Margy Walker, returning the next morning.

Mrs. Kikendall returned from her visit to her son and family in the western part of the state, Saturday, accompanied by her little grandson, who will visit here for a time. W. H. will now eat at home.

Dr. B. F. Brendel accompanied Mrs. Dave Lloyd to Omaha Tuesday, where she will receive treatment for an afflicted limb which has been giving her a great deal of trouble for some time. Dr. J. F. Brendel of Zionsville, Indiana, accompanied them.

D. Shrader went to Omaha Tuesday morning to accompany his twin daughters, Misses Margie and Marie, home from that city, where they had been visiting Miss Gertha Long and other relatives for a time. Miss Long returned home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Pitman and Mrs. J. F. Brendel were Plattsburgh visitors Tuesday afternoon.

Ad Boedecker shipped a car of cattle to South Omaha Sunday night, going up via Plattsburgh Monday to look after them on the market.

Dr. J. W. Brendel and wife of Avoca; Dr. J. F. Brendel of Zionsville, Indiana, and Dr. B. F. Brendel were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Brendel Monday evening.

Dave West, the Nehawka banker, accompanied by Glen Boedecker, the Murray banker, were Plattsburgh visitors Tuesday. Dr. Gilmore went along for good measure.

Mrs. B. F. Brendel and daughter, Mrs. Will Seybolt, departed last Thursday morning for Boone county, Indiana, where they will visit relatives and friends for two or three weeks. They will also visit in Indianapolis and other points while gone.

Dr. Gilmore accompanied Gust Hansen to Omaha Wednesday to interview a specialist in regard to his injured limb. Mr. Hansen, bruised the limb quite badly while handling ice last winter, and it seems to give him much uneasiness. We trust he will receive much benefit from the trip.

The old home on the Dora Moore farm, which was wrecked a few nights ago by the wind, was the homestead of William Ellington, by whom it was erected many years ago and moved from the Ellington farm to the place where it was wrecked. Mrs. Kennedy of Murray was born in this house, which was built of logs. William Ellington, her father, was one of the early pioneers of Cass county.

Miss Esther Rice spent Sunday with Miss Francis Campbell.

Mrs. LaRue-Tany has almost completely recovered from her recent illness.

Miss Mary Jameson came in from Weeping Water Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. J. F. Brendel.

Mrs. Joe Cook is very ill and may have to go to a hospital in Omaha to be operated upon for appendicitis, if relief is not received soon.

James M. Holmes, accompanied by his father, Mr. A. M. Holmes, and Miss Neva Latta, the latter to receive vocal instructions and Jim and his father to visit during the day in Plattsburgh.

Miss Carlston of Omaha, who has been nursing Janette Fleming during her severe illness, came in from Weeping Water a few days since to visit Mesdames J. T. and J. F. Brendel, en route home to Omaha.

Mesdames J. A. Walker, Will Smith, J. A. Holmes and James Loughridge attended the Presbyterian convention at South Omaha Tuesday, as delegates from the Murray U. P. church, and they report a most interesting and pleasant meeting.

Mrs. J. A. Walker, Mrs. Will Smith, Mrs. J. M. Holmes and Mrs. J. A. Loughridge attended the meeting of the State Missionary society of the Presbyterian church Tuesday. The ladies enjoyed a very pleasant time and the meeting was largely attended.

Mrs. A. L. Baker departed Friday evening for Sheridan, Indiana, where she will spend several weeks with relatives and friends. Mrs. Baker has been in very poor health for several months, and the trip is taken in the hope that she will be greatly benefited thereby. She will be absent several weeks.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. B. F. Brendel on Wednesday afternoon, where they were entertained by Mrs. J. F. Brendel, Mrs. J. F. Brendel and Mrs. Jenkins. A very pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent and all went home feeling that they had been delightfully entertained.

Mrs. A. J. Augustine and three children, of South Omaha, came down on the morning Missouri Pacific Wednesday to spend the day at the home of her father, Uncle Ben Beckman, where Mr. and Mrs. Louie Rheinackle reside. Wednesday was Mrs. Rheinackle's birthday, and Mrs. Augustine, being a sister, of course the day was pleasantly enjoyed by all.

Dr. B. F. Brendel was called to Weeping Water one day last week to consult with a local physician in regard to the illness of Janette Fleming, which case seemed very puzzling. The Fleming family formerly resided near Murray, where the little lady has many friends, who will be glad to learn that she is improving.

Mesdames Adda Stokes, O. A. Davis, S. O. Pitman and Pauline and Fay Oldham took a little outing Wednesday morning. They went out hunting for wild geese, berries, and took their dinners along with them. Much wasn't heard as to their success, but they were the "sourest" looking bunch as they walked south from town we have seen in a long time.

Concrete street crossings is now the order of the day, and they are being put in as fast as workmen can do the work. They have no way of taxing the people for this purpose, and the "chip-in" plan has been adopted and no one is backward in contributing. The citizens of Murray are displaying the proper spirit and you won't find a town of the size of Murray that possesses more energy than this little village. She is booming with a big B.

A. L. Baker and his father, M. C. Baker, of Michigan, visited in Omaha on Sunday morning, and while there they went out to Florence to view the surroundings where the senior Baker lived with his parents in 1853, and where his older brother homesteaded 160 acres, and the father owned a number of lots in what is now the heart of Omaha. When the war broke out the lots were traded for a pair of oxen and a mule, and they moved further east. Mr. Baker does not know how the brother disposed of his land.

The very freshest goods at the store of Will Smith.

Mrs. Rose Kendall has invested in a fine new Buick auto.

Miss Pearl Dugay was a guest of Miss Esther Ray over Sunday.

Miss Bertha Nickels transacted business in Plattsburgh Thursday.

Arthur Crunk and wife were guests of Albert Wilson and family Sunday.

H. C. Creamer had a load of stock on the South Omaha market this week.

George Nichols was looking after the interests of the hardware business near Nehawka Tuesday.

F. L. Rhoden went to Plattsburgh Saturday to attend the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Rhoden.

John Hobschiedt, sr., and wife, and John Hobschiedt, jr., and wife attended the Kopka-Lorenz wedding at Plattsburgh Tuesday morning.

The Young Men's Bible class received much good last week from the visit of the representatives from the Methodist Episcopal Men's class of Plattsburgh.

Take your butter, eggs and produce to W. S. Smith and get the highest market price in trade.

All kinds of country produce taken in exchange for goods at the highest market prices at W. S. Smith's.

The Rev. C. E. Givits of Omaha is here this week in the interests of the Child Saving Institute, located in Omaha. Your continued interest is asked in the young people's organization. The officers are: President, Neva Latta; vice president, Leora Brown; secretary, Lorence Chamberlain; and treasurer, Everett Spangler.

S. O. Pitman and wife autoed to Plattsburgh Wednesday morning, taking with them Albert Shaffer and Mrs. Hennings and Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer's 7-year-old son. The little son was bitten on his left arm by a dog owned by a neighbor, and for fear the bite may result in rabies Mrs. Hennings, his grandmother, accompanied the little fellow to Chicago, where he will receive treatment at the Pastuer hospital.

Musical at Gopen's.

The recent rains made the ground damp and the evening chilly, but 150 gathered on the pretty lawn of the L. Gopen home Sunday evening to listen to a pleasing and talented program. Mesdames L. Gopen and S. O. Pitman were assisted by about 25 of the library members. Tables were arranged on the south lawn and beautifully decorated with roses, for the serving of the ice cream and cake. The musical was certainly one of the big successes of the library happenings, and the sum of $25 was turned into the library fund.

Reasons Why We Want a Woman on the School Board.

The first and most important reason is that it will cause women to take more interest in the school. And when once they are interested they will acquaint themselves with the workings thereof. They will better understand what the teacher and child has to contend with and be more capable of advising sanely and wisely when the child comes home with his tales of woe. It is very unnatural for man or woman to be interested in a subject of which they have no part. If Mrs. So and So was given a place on the board we would all wake up and get in line, and the slogan would be: "Better school for Murray." Other schools are doing it. Why not us? Lincoln has a woman on the school board, Kearney, Grand Island and in fact all progressive towns and they are successful. Some have said: "We are building a new school house, we should have a good, competent man to fill the vacancy."

Women have handled, in fact made it, the money that builds churches, missions, hospitals and they are proving themselves capable, and I am sure that we have plenty of women in this district that can write the check for the new $5,000 school house. Just give one the chance this time and see if they don't make good. In next week's paper there will be an article by Mrs. J. H. Melville, secretary of the State Board of Education, on "Why There Should Be a Mother on Every School Board."

Little Children Enjoy Time.

Last Wednesday a number of little ladies were very pleasantly entertained by Mrs. William Gilmore, at her home, west of Murray. The occasion was in honor of Eva and Mae Christensen, of Dunbar, Neb. The little guests indulged in all sorts of games and various amusements which children find so much pleasure in, and which made this occasion a most delightful one. At an appropriate time the hostess served some dainty refreshments, and about dusk the little guests dispersed, very much indebted to the hostess for the splendid afternoon's entertainment afforded them. Those in attendance were: Margaret Beck, Elsie and Marie Pils, Mayone and Lola Chambers, Margie and Marie Shrader, Leona Davis, Grace Long, Helen Gilmore, Beulah Freeze, Nellie Tucker, Clara Churchill, Ella Hamilton, Eva and Mae Christensen.

These initials or numbers are worked in hand embroidery and often require considerable labor. They should measure about three inches. On white linen the markings look better worked in white mercerized cotton, but on tan linen, which many people prefer because it does not soil so readily, colored embroidery gives a most artistic finish. Shades of delft blue, greens and golden browns all show off well on the tan linen.

How to Chase Away Many Ills.

THERE are so many excellent remedies among the common, inexpensive articles found in every kitchen pantry that we might save ourselves the expenditure of many dollars by using them and possibly gain even better results than we can with high priced remedies. Are you tired and nervous? Is your circulation below par, and are chilly sensations chasing each other up and down your spine? The best possible remedy is found on the pantry shelf in your can of ground mustard. Dissolve a tablespoonful of the mustard—make it a generous one—and mix it with a tubful of hot water, then rest in this bath for from ten to twenty minutes. You will feel like a new individual, rested, refreshed, toned up generally and fit for a big day's work.

Do you feel rheumatic twinges that are elusive as to location but very apparent as to unpleasant sensations? Here is a mixture which has proved its worth in such cases times innumerable! Draw a tubful of hot water and have ready these ingredients, which must be thoroughly mixed and completely dissolved in the water before you get into the bath: One small cupful sal soda, or ordinary washing soda, one big tablespoonful ground mustard, one teaspoonful laundry ammonia. Now empty half the package of bran you have on hand for bran bread into a piece of coarse muslin or double cheesecloth, and tie it up tightly, then soak it for a few minutes in the water and after you are in the tub squeeze the bag of bran until every bit of the gluten is out of it. Remain in the bath from ten to twenty minutes. You will be likely to lose all the aches and pains and will come out of the bath with your skin as soft as velvet.

Have you come home sunburned from a long walk or ride? Grate up a raw potato and spread thickly on the reddened skin. It will take out the fire and relieve the irritation very quickly.

Has your skin a tendency to break out in heat rashes when the hot weather becomes settled? Bicarbonate of soda, or, in other words, ordinary baking soda, dissolved in the bath will soon relieve the trouble. You can use a half pound of the soda in an ordinary tub of water or vary the quantity as seems best for your needs. It is absolutely harmless and can be used as frequently as desired and will be found to make a cooling and refreshing bath at the close of a hot and humid day.

Is your liver out of order? Do you have trouble with your digestion and a generally sluggish condition of your system? Dissolve a half teaspoonful of ordinary table salt in a glass of water, either hot or cold, and drink a half hour before breakfast, or at bedtime, if you prefer. This simple remedy acts like magic and has no ill effects afterward, as many medicines have.

FOR A GIFT.

How to Make Linen Covers For Card Tables. The woman who plays cards or who has friends who play is interested in making linen covers for card tables. These may be hemstitched or scalloped and either initialed or numbered on one side of the corner so that the mark shows on top of the table, but yet is not in the way of the players.

These initials or numbers are worked in hand embroidery and often require considerable labor. They should measure about three inches. On white linen the markings look better worked in white mercerized cotton, but on tan linen, which many people prefer because it does not soil so readily, colored embroidery gives a most artistic finish. Shades of delft blue, greens and golden browns all show off well on the tan linen.

A pretty set prepared as a gift for a linen wedding anniversary consisted of four cloths marked 1, 2, 3 and 4. The numbers were quite large and fat and were filled in entirely with French knots of a rather light delft blue outlined around the edge with a darker thread. The cloths, which were tan, hemstitched, were folded into triangles with the embroidered numbers in the apex. Put together in a box, they formed a square (fitted into each other with the numbers toward the center); then they were held in place by delft ribbon meeting in the center with a bow of many loops.

How to Make a Palm Thrive. Almost every housewife complains that it is impossible to keep a palm in the ordinary steam heated apartment. The remedy all lies in its watering.

Once a week the leaves should be sponged off with lukewarm water, to which a little milk has been added.

Once a week also the plant should be placed for two hours in enough lukewarm water to cover the pot entirely. This is the right way to water palms, and it will be found that they thrive under the treatment.

How to Remove the Disfiguring Shine. To treat, sponge the suit or dress with hot vinegar and press in the usual manner. No color of vinegar will remain, all the shine caused by wear will disappear, and the garment will look like new. The vinegar leaves no stain.

A NOTE IN SCHOOL.

Did You Ever, on the Sly, Either Slip One or Receive One?

Did you ever get a note in school?—from a boy?—from a big boy? I suppose there are other experiences in life that are comparable to this, but certainly there is nothing else at that time which combines the same elements—dramatic, embarrassing, gratifying, triumphant, delicious, queer. Not that there was anything in such a note—the outside, as the missive first came to view, was much more thrilling than the contents.

But the very slight of it—pencilled on rough bluish scratch paper, and ragged edged and crumpled—as it was flipped across an intervening space or dropped slyly behind a geography or offered on the desk as the writer went up to the A spelling class, gave a sensation not to be duplicated in any later years. The contents, I regret to say, were insignificant, negligible. It is to be hoped that the big boy learned more about the art in time. But the mere fact of getting such a note, of having it written to yourself, of forecasting the contents, of having the other girls see you get it, all that in addition to the exciting fear that the teacher might see—once she made a girl read a note out loud—filled the moment with peculiar emotion.—Margaret Lynn in Atlantic Monthly.
