FUNERAL OF THE LATE JOSEPH A. PERRY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

The funeral of the late Joseph A. Perry was held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Perry, on South Fourteenth and was attended by a large number of old friends of the family and the unfortunate young man, who gathered to pay their final tribute of respect to one they had known for so many years. There was a wealth of floral tributes laid upon the bier of the departed that silently attested the feeling of sympathy for the family of Mr. Perry in their loss of the son and brother, and to the little children made fatherless. The services were conducted by Rev. A. G. Holmwood of the Christian church, who gave a few remarks and spoke words of comfort and cheer to the bereaved family left to mourn the loss of one they loved. A quartet, composed of Mrs. E. H. Westcott, Miss Ellen Windham and Messrs. Lynn Minor and Albert Knorr, sang a number of the old hymns during the service, which served greatly in comforting the family of the deceased. At the conclusion of the service the body was conveyed to Oak Hill cemetery, where it was laid to its last long rest. The pall-bearers were selected from among the members of the Modern Woodmen of America, of which Mr. Perry had been a member for a number of years. There were quite a number of relatives from out of the city in attendance at the funeral.

SNAKE EGGS UNEARTHED AT THE POOR FARM BY HEINRICH JASPER

There is on exhibition at the drug store of Gering & Co., in this city, a very unusual sight in the shape of sixteen snake eggs that were unearthed yesterday by Heinrich Jasper while engaged in some work at the county farm, west of this city. The eggs are as large almost as hen's eggs and are irregular in shape and make an odd looking sight. One of the eggs was opened by Mr. Jasper at the store and within was found a good sized bullsnake, and from the appearance of the reptile it would only have been a short time until the whole nest of snakes would have hatched out. It is the habit of snakes to deposit their eggs from ten to eighty, all of a ellipsoid shape, covered with a soft feathery shell, in places where they are exposed to and hatched by moist heat. The parent snakes pay little or no attention to the eggs after being deposited. The exhibition of these eggs has attracted a great deal of attention, as they are a most unusual sight and few persons have ever seen anything like them.

THE CROP CONDITIONS THROUGHOUT THE STATE ARE VERY FAVORABLE

The following summary of the crop conditions and weather for the past week has just been given out by the government weather bureau at Lincoln:

The weather of the past week was favorable for harvesting, threshing and haying. The temperature averaged about 5 degree above the normal in the eastern and 4 degree above in the western. Local showers occurred on several days. In a considerable portion of the southern half of the state the rainfall for the week was between a half inch and one inch and a half. At a few places it exceeded 3 inches, while at other places little or no rain fell. The rain was decidedly less in the northern counties, largely less than the one quarter of an inch. Corn has generally continued in good condition and in large areas is exceptionally fine. However, in some localities it has been injured somewhat by dry weather. Plowing for winter wheat has commenced.

MRS. PETER OPP DIED AT HER HOME IN NE- HAWKA TUESDAY NIGHT

At her home near Nehawka, on Tuesday evening, Mrs. Barbara Opp, wife of Peter Opp, one of the prominent farmers of that section, passed away after an illness covering some months, from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Opp was born in Germany some sixty years ago and came to this country in 1876, and in the same year was united in marriage to Peter Opp, and since that time they have been among the most progressive and sturdy residents of that section of Cass county, where they have resided. The death of this worthy lady will be deeply regretted among the many friends with whom she had lived for years and to whom she had become endeared during all this time. Four children are left to mourn the passing of this good woman, as follows: Mrs. Katie Chapman, Ashland; Phillie Lloyd, Los Angeles, California; John H. and Lula Opp of Nehawka.

The interment will be held at the old Mt. Pleasant cemetery near her late home.

INDICATIONS POINT TO DELUGE OF BALLOTS AT CLOSE OF CAMPAIGN

All Candidates Up and Doing in Final Sprint—No One Can Predict the Winners—Management Warns Participants to Ignore All "Wild-Eyed" Rumors.

JUDGES FOR THE FINAL COUNT ARE NAMED.

Much care has been exercised by The Journal in the selection of judges for the final count of the ballots in the Booster Campaign, Saturday night, when the contest is brought to a close, and announcement is made that these prominent men of the community have consented to serve in that capacity:

D. C. MORGAN, Postmaster.
 R. F. PATTERSON, Bank of Cass County.
 J. E. DOUGLAS, Attorney.
 W. K. FOX, County Treasurer.
 F. E. SCHLATER, First National Bank.

"Everybody's doing it; doing what?" giving a subscription to the Daily or Semi-Weekly to help their favorite candidate win one of the big awards in the Booster Campaign. Each one in the contest needs all the help they can possibly get now, when they can get double votes on all subscriptions turned in in clubs of five old and five new before 10 p. m. next Saturday night, the close of the contest.

Just two more days before the close of the contest. The ballots were counted as usual last evening. After which the ballot book was sealed only to be opened by the judges Saturday night. Subscriptions may be turned in up to 10 o'clock that night, when the polls will be declared closed and only those waiting previous to that time will be allowed to finish, the seal will then be broken for the judges, and the final vote counted in the presence of the contestants and their friends and will determine who are fortunate ones in the two districts to win eight valuable awards, headed by the two capital prizes, viz: the Overland Touring Car, the Schmolzer & Mueller Piano, the two diamond rings, the two $30 Merchandise Orders and the two Gold Watches.

The race has been hotly contested and spirited throughout, arousing and maintaining the keen interest of the contestants and their numerous friends, who have rallied to the support of their favorite candidate, bending every effort towards the capture of one of these unprecedented opportunities for winning one of these awards. None but the best of feeling has existed among the various candidates, and of this fact all connected with the Journal are proud, as it strikingly denotes the high character of the body of popular and representative people who are participating. It also indicates that they are capable of carrying out this good-natured rivalry until the last ballots are cast.

In the closing hours the probable result is impossible to be forecast with any degree of certainty, as the reserve strength of the many contestants is as yet only known to themselves. Suffice to say that these last days are days of action, and how very busy they have been and to what purpose will only be disclosed in the final action, but all indications point to a heavy vote.

Saturday is sure to be a very busy day at the Journal office, and the contestants are once more urged to get their subscriptions in early, that they may be cared for, retaining their voting coupons, if they so desire, until a later hour. All subscriptions must be carefully filled out, stating whether the subscriber is an old or a new one, and turned in in clubs of ten (not over five old ones or renewals count in each club) in order to get the double votes. The method of turning in an old subscription as a new one will not be tolerated and all such transactions when brought to light will be credited with the proper number of votes.

Contestants from outside of Plattsmouth who cannot make it convenient to come to the Journal office in person on Saturday, should mail their subscriptions or have them delivered to the Campaign Manager as early as possible on the closing day. They should have someone represent them and to take care of the business secured during the final hours, which gives that advantage of working up to the last possible moment. No votes sent by mail will be counted if not received by 10 p. m. There will be two methods of voting at the close on Saturday night, viz: You can either turn over your business to the Campaign Manager and have it written up in the regular way and receive your vote coupons and deposit them in the ballot box, or you can deposit your subscriptions and money in the ballot box and have it written up after being counted by the judges. All subscription votes held by contestants and all subscriptions and moneys not to be written up must be in the ballot box by 10 o'clock, as only those who have been waiting through no fault of their own will be allowed to deposit their votes after that hour.

CLOSING RULES

For The Journal's Big Booster Campaign.

Only those contestants who work to the end and turn in subscriptions on the last day will be entitled to the 10 per cent commission to non-winners.

All clipped coupons must be in the ballot box by 7 p. m., Wednesday, July 29, when the last regular count will be made and the ballot box locked and sealed and will only be opened by the judges at the close of the contest.

The contest closes at 10 o'clock August 1. Nothing but subscription votes will count on the last night of the contest.

Contestants are requested to bring in the bulk of their business early in the day, as the work of writing up the business and making out vote coupons is considerable and will save on the last hour's rush.

All subscriptions and votes must be in this office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday evening, August 1. At that time the doors will be declared closed and only those inside the office will be allowed to finish.

There will be two methods of turning in your subscriptions on the last night. You can either have your business written by the campaign department and deposit your ballots in the ballot box in the regular way, or you may put your subscriptions and money in an envelope and deposit the whole in the ballot box for the judges to count.

All subscriptions must be accompanied by the regular subscription blank, properly made out. No subscriptions will be accepted with the understanding that the name will be turned in later. Only bonafide subscriptions will be accepted. A bonafide subscription means one turned into this office paid in full.

No personal checks will be accepted on the closing day of the campaign unless certified. Outside candidates sending in subscriptions must send postoffice or express money order or bank draft. Do not present personal checks unless they are properly endorsed and certified, for they will not be accepted by the Campaign Manager.

Candidates and their friends are invited to be present during the judges count. The count will begin immediately after the last ballot or subscription is put in the ballot box, and they will announce the winners.

All subscriptions must be turned in in clubs of ten (not more than five old ones or renewals to a club) to count for double votes. Have each club made up separate.

Be sure that your votes are here in time for the final count. Better bring them personally and be sure that they are here.

Contestants holding subscription votes and those wishing to place their money and subscription blanks in the ballot box for the judges to count must have them in the ballot box by 10 o'clock to count.
