VERY BEAUTIFUL CHURCH WEDDING LAST EVENING

A Large Number of Relatives and Friends Witness the Marriage of Miss Tuoy and Mr. Jennings.

At the close of a perfect summer's day last evening there occurred at the First Methodist church the wedding of one of Plattsmouth's most charming young ladies, Miss Zelma Tuoy and Mr. J. R. Jennings, of Des Moines, Iowa. The church was made a veritable bowyer of beauty for the beautiful ceremony, an elaborate decorative scheme of white and green being used in the decoration of the church. At the pulpit great festoons of greens and white daisies was draped at the front of the platform banks of the asparagus greens and the daisies interspersed with golden rods made the scene one of the most beautiful that could possibly have been wished for in the heart of any bride and groom, and made a fitting setting for the happy event that united in the bonds of wedlock these two happy young hearts. Proceeding the entrance of the bridal party the "Wedding Song" from "Rose Maid" was given by the brother and sister of the bride, E. J. Tuoy and Miss Hazel Tuoy, the chorists being given by the members of the church choir. As the notes of song died away the wedding march played by Miss Kittie Cummins signaled the approach of the wedding party. The bride was preceded by the two witness little ribbon bearers, Alice Louise Westcott and Doris McDaniell of Council Bluffs, Ia., immediately following were the flower girls, Helen Westcott and Eleanor McCarthy and then came little Virginia Tuoy, niece of the bride, carrying the golden wedding ring in the heart of a great American Beauty rose, and the little one with her golden hair made a winsome picture. The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. J. E. Tuoy and was met at the platform by the groom and his best man Mr. A. A. Barnhart, of Des Moines, Iowa.

The maid of honor Miss Alice Tuoy, sister of the bride and the bridesmaids, Misses George White Blanche Jennings, and Leola Jennings, sisters of the groom from Moulton, Iowa, and Miss Pearl Kibbo of Glenwood, Iowa, entered from the north aisle of the church joining the wedding party at the floral bowyer where the ceremony was performed. The costume of the bride was a most charming one of pussy willow taffeta, trimmed with silk lace and chiffon with the long bridal veil. The bride carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The only jewels worn was a handsome gold bracelet studded with diamonds, the gift of the groom.

As the bride approached the bridal bowyer the groom and the best man with their party consisting of Charles Tupper of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Roy Beggs, Moulton, Iowa, E. E. Fisher, Des Moines, and J. W. Jennings of Moulton, old classmates of the groom from Drake university, entered and took their station to attend the solemn and beautiful ceremony that was to join for all time the hearts and lives of the young people. The pastor of the church, Rev. F. M. Druliner in a most impressive manner pronounced the words that made these two most estimable young people as one, using the beautiful ring ceremony. At the close of the wedding ceremony the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march ushered the wedding party from the church from where they were conveyed to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held for the newly-weds. The ushers at the church were selected from the ladies in the office of the Burlington Store-keeper E. C. Hill where the bride was for several years a most faithful member of the force of clerks and were Misses Madeline Minor, Bertha Jackson, Leona Brady, and Miss Cowles. The ushers were handsomely gowned and wore large black picture hats.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. J. E. Tuoy wore a tasteful costume of black and white taffeta trimmed with white lace.

honor, was charmingly gowned in Canton crepe in a shade of pale yellow, carrying a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were gowned in keeping with the beautiful wedding ceremony and made a most handsome appearance. Miss Georgia White was gowned in pale green crepe de chine and carried pink and white roses; Miss Blanche Jennings wore pink silk with a handsome bouquet of pink roses; Miss Leola Jennings was most charmingly gowned in pale blue silk with a bouquet of pink and white roses; Miss Pearl Kibbo wore a costume of yellow crepe de chine, with the pink roses.

The reception at the home of the parents was attended by a large number of the friends of the young people who showered them with the heartiest best wishes for their future happiness. The guests were received at the home of Miss Edna Morrison and ushered into the presence of the bridal party, where they extended their congratulations. Delicious punch was served during the reception by Misses Mina Thieroff and Ellen Windham. One of the features of the reception was the large wedding cake that was cut by the bride and distributed among the friends. The plans for the newly-weds to make their get-away had been carefully arranged and although a number of their friends had intended to give them the customary shower of rice and old shoes, they were disappointed, as the bride and groom, escaping from the house, were conveyed to the waiting automobile of Major Hall and taken to Omaha, where they left at midnight over the Union Pacific for Colorado, where they will spend some two weeks at Estes Park, returning to Plattsmouth for a short visit before leaving for Hartford, Connecticut, where they will make their future home.

Miss Tuoy is one of the talented musicians of this city, and her departure from this city is an occasion of great regret among her friends, but in her going she will take with her the best wishes for a long and happy life in her new home. During her residence here she has been a most devoted and faithful member of the First Methodist church and her work in the musical department of the church has been a great factor in its success.

The groom is a young man of splendid character and has been most successful in his business ventures, and goes east to embark in a career that is certain to bring him the greatest success.

The out town guests present at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. L. McDaniel, son Paul and daughter Doris, Council Bluffs; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jennings, parents of the groom, Iowa; Miss Blanche Jennings, Miss Leola Jennings, J. W. Jennings, Moulton, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Barnett, Linden, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel, Thurman, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Soper, Nebraska City; Miss Beattie Kibbo, Glenwood; Charles Tupper, Sioux Falls, South Dakota; Roy Beggs, Moulton, Iowa; E. E. Fisher, A. H. Barnett, Des Moines, Iowa.
