Fatal Accident.
Citizens were shocked last evening about 7:30 when the news was spread that J. W. Johnson was found lying dead in the road about a mile north of town. The body was found by Olof Olson who was on the way from work to his home in town. He spread the alarm and Dr. Asa and others were soon on hand but life was extinct.

He was on his way to the home of Albin Nelson, walking and leading a cow, and it is the supposition that the animal, in an effort to get away, jerked him down with such force as to cause death. There were several bruises on his head and face. At the inquest this morning the verdict was accidental death.

Mr. Johnson, who was in his 67th year, was one of our oldest and most highly respected citizens, home-staying a few miles southwest of this place over 40 years ago, and was the possessor of the place at time of death. He, together with his bereaved wife, have witnessed all the so-called hard times of the early pioneers, and have seen this country develop from a barren plain to a great state of productiveness and habitation.

He leaves to mourn his departure a wife, six children, two brothers, and endless number of very warm friends. He was a loving husband, parent and neighbor, and the Visitor, along with a host of friends, offers sympathy and condolences to each member of the heartbroken family.

At the time of going to press the funeral arrangements had not been made—The Ong Visitor.

The sad accident occurred at Ong, Nebraska, where the Johnson family made their home and where W. S. Smith, the brother-in-law of Mr. Johnson formerly made his home. Mr. Johnson was married to the eldest sister of Mr. Smith, and was the father of Miss Nellie Johnson, well known here where she has been a frequent visitor, and the news of the death of this gentleman will be keenly regretted by the friends in Murray.

United Presbyterian Church News.

Last week two special meetings were held at which the different phases of church work were discussed. Most interest was aroused by the propositions, that we contribute to the support of work among the "Mountain Whites" as it is represented by the school at Frenchburg. 2nd that we organize a mission study class. Friday evening program was enlivened by recitations and music.

The young people enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Jas. H. Brown and family last Saturday evening when they held the monthly business meeting and social. The church cannot make progress without the help of the young people, neither can the young people succeed without the interest of the older folks. Murray's United Presbyterian young people should be successful because the Y. P. C. U. is receiving the active interest of the senior members of the congregation.

There were over seventy present for the Rally Day program. The offering goes to help make the Sabbath School of our denomination more efficient.

Next Sabbath the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed, preparatory services being held Friday evening and Saturday afternoon.
