Henry and Oscar Flamme of Lem-on, S. D., arrived Sunday night to help care for their father, William Flamme, who is seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Meier.

C. M. Cherry was on police duty Wednesday night, as officer Noel was not able to be out on account of his injuries received in the mix-up with Phil Davis Tuesday night while arresting Davis for being drunk and disorderly.

Arley Dowler returned Tuesday morning from his trip to Montana, where he went in company with Claude Johnson. He says Claude and his sister, Miss Pearl, are busy with their buildings on their homesteads, and preparing for winter. Although it was nice and warm when he left, they had nine inches of snow which he was there, but it did not stay long.

ELMWOOD.
Leader-Echo.

Wm. Minford enjoyed a few days' visit the fore part of the week from his brother of Los Angeles, Calif.

Wm. Wray and wife are rejoicing because of the arrival of a fine baby girl at their home Thursday morning. The little baby weighed ten pounds.

A girl baby was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Corbett. Mrs. Corbett was at the hospital at Lincoln. Mother and child are getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rouse of Alvo took the morning train here Wednesday for Verion, Neb., and will spend several days visiting at the home of their daughter there, Mrs. Ralph Uhley.

The latter part of last week Ed. Gustin and A. A. Wallinger purchased a 160-acre farm. The farm is located near Douglas, Neb. It is a nice piece of land, in good condition, and well improved.

James McCartney, one of the oldest settlers in this community, who has spent thirty-six years of his life here, but has been staying at Central City, arrived in the city the latter part of last week and will live here in the future with his daughter, Mrs. Oliver. His many friends are glad to see him back again.

The editor and wife are rejoicing because of the arrival of a fine nine-pound baby boy at their home Sunday morning. "George William, Jr." will be an added inspiration to us in the conduct of our daily bread-winning avocation; a flower, we anticipate, to permeate the atmosphere of home life and bring to our hearts joys two-fold which "blessing" we now more thoroughly appreciate and gladly concede to all fond and happy parents.

Sunday afternoon as Frank Stege was driving his auto through Main street he lost control of it. The machine swerved from the street, running up in front of Dr. Liston's office, barely missing a large tree and crashing into the doctor's sign, tearing it to pieces. He was placed under arrest and on Monday he pleaded guilty to careless driving in Justice Neihart's court and was fined $10 and costs.

This week A. C. Ferguson commenced tearing down the old house which had been occupied by William Deles Dernier as a law office, and which he purchased of Dr. O. E. Liston. This is one of the oldest houses in Elmwood, having been built a number of years ago as the Methodist parsonage. Mr. Ferguson will use the lumber and materials in the large addition which he is going to build to his house this fall.

UNION.
Ledger.

James and Charles Frans went to Auburn on Monday and visited Duke Frans and family.

Harry D. Royal and wife of Lincoln were here Sunday spending the day with his relatives at the Graves home.

Mrs. John F. Hoback went to Salem on Sunday in response to a message informing her of the very serious illness of her mother.

W. H. Mark departed yesterday for a few days' visit and business trip to Lincoln, Imperial and other points in that part of the state.

William Cogdill left Saturday morning for Wausa, Neb., where he spent a few days visiting his parents and his brother, Charles.

Miss Rosa Cline, who is teaching near Weeping Water, made a visit with her parents in Rock Bluffs precinct, returning Sunday evening to her school work.

Our friend, J. C. Sherwood, sent to this office last Saturday a beet that is hard to beat—a fine specimen weighing ten pounds. He has a few larger ones, but fears our readers wouldn't believe it if we told the size of them.

John P. Hoback reached the age of 57 on Tuesday, and was reminded of the fact that evening when a number of relatives and neighbors invaded his home without having notified him in advance. The evening was spent very pleasantly, and a nice birthday supper was added to the enjoyment.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Hall was the scene of another very pleasant affair last Sunday, when they gave a family dinner complimentary to Miss Isadore Hall, the following being present to enjoy it: B. P.

Davis and wife, R. E. Davis and wife, O. R. Hall and wife, R. B. Stone and family, W. C. Davis and wife, Misses Isadore Hall, Florence Davis, Geraldine Roddy, Elma Hall, Cordelia Roddy, Dorothy Hall, Mrs. Rose Kendall and family, Ben and Gene Roddy, Luther Hall, Bernard and Edwin Roddy.

EAGLE.
Beacon.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coatman, Wednesday, October 14 an eight-pound girl.

Misses Maize Dillon and Gwendolyn Smith came down from Lincoln Friday afternoon for a short visit with friends.

Mrs. R. H. McManis came down from Lincoln last Saturday night for a week's visit at the home of her son, F. W. McManis, and family.

Miss Ida Blomenkamp of Hastings, Neb., arrived last Friday for a few days visit at the home of her brother, F. W. Blomenkamp, and family.

Mrs. G. W. Balderson, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Blomenkamp, for the past two weeks, returned to her home at Pickrell, Neb., last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leidig, who reside northwest of town, are rejoicing over the arrival of a nine-pound girl which arrived at their home Friday, October 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Horn, who reside in the north part of town, are the proud parents of an eight-pound boy which arrived at their home Saturday, October 10.

James Allen and wife of Red Oak, Ia., and Mrs. L. F. Frost and Clyde Frost of Mirable, Mo., visited from Friday until Monday at the Joe Allen home, north of town.

The Beacon editor and family were called to Lincoln the latter part of last week on account of the death of the editor's father, Robert B. McManis, which occurred Thursday evening at 6:30 at the St. Elizabeth hospital. Funeral services were held in Lincoln Saturday, and interment was made in Wyuka cemetery.

NEHAWKA.
News.

Dr. Thomas reports the arrival of a girl at Arch Sprockers Saturday and another girl at Carl Stone's Monday.

The steel that has been holding back operations on the auditorium for the past four or five weeks arrived Tuesday, and now we may expect to see things hum.

Robert Willis lost a valuable horse during the severe electrical storm Friday evening. It was the hardest rain that has fallen in this vicinity this season, over two inches.

Mike Boden, a brother of Mrs. Robert Dore, is here on a visit. This is the first time he has been in Nebraska for over seven years, and for years his family had thought him dead.

John Wunderlich went to Eagle Wednesday evening in the interest of his candidacy for sheriff. Mr. Wunderlich is making a careful and thorough canvas of the county, and wherever he goes he makes a good impression.

John Hansen started home after school Tuesday evening and on the west bridge his horse skidded, throwing John and bruising his knees pretty badly. The banister wall was all that prevented horse and rider from going into the creek.

Mrs. Raymond C. Pollard received a telegram a few days ago announcing the death of her father at Palmyra, Mo. Mrs. Pollard had just returned from a visit there. Although her father was suffering from a cancer, the family did not anticipate his death so soon.

Roy Kirkpatrick and wife came in last Saturday evening from Tacoma, Wash., for a short visit to Mr. Kirkpatrick's parents. They left Tuesday for St. Joseph for a few days' visit with Guy and family, after which they will return to their home in Tacoma, where Roy holds a position of responsibility and trust with the Great Northern railroad, being chief clerk in one of the departments.

LOUISVILLE.
Courier.

Ed. Eager returned home from Colorado Thursday evening, where he went six weeks ago on account of hay fever.

Frank Aikeman, a turner in the old Louisville pottery twenty-five years ago, but who now resides in Denver, was a Louisville visitor last week.

Little Ethel Wilno Sinnard, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sinnard, died Saturday, October 10, 1914, aged 2 months and 1 day.

Henry Inhelder of Frontier county is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity. He expects to return home next Monday.

Miss Rachel Stander, member of the class of 1916, has just been announced as associate editor of the Annual students' publication, The Coyote, in Nebraska Wesleyan university.

Mrs. Arthur Masters returned from the hospital at Omaha last week, where she underwent a very critical operation. Her many friends will be glad to know of her recovery.

Mrs. J. E. Hart and son, Ellis, who have been here for the past ten days visiting with Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. W. F. Diers, and family, returned to their home at Gresham Friday.

Herbert Worthman had the misfortune to break his left arm at the elbow last Saturday while jumping from the ice house in the back yard. Herbert is a very popular little fellow, and has the sympathy of a host of friends.

Marshall Seybert has been busy this week searching for the horse blankets stolen from Ed. Group's team Monday night while hitched to a rack near the Blake-McCarty drug store. It is reported that his search has not been in vain and that an arrest will shortly be made. This case of thievery has been going on for some time, and an example should now be made of the miscreant that will do its part in breaking up the practice.

Newsy Notes from Cedar Creek

Personal Points of Interest Picked Up and Penciled for the Personal of the Cedar Creek Readers by Our Regular Reporter of that Village

Literary.

Following are the Literary dates for October and November:
October 23—Program as published last week. Suffrage debate.
October 31—Lecture on "The American Indian and My Work Among Them," by Julius H. Schwartz.

November 13 (Friday evening)—An illustrated lecture on "Yellowstone National Park," by Geo. M. Gates. Mr. Gates is a writer and lecturer of prominence, and entertains many people in many cities and towns throughout the country. He is a success. The writer spent an entire summer in Yellowstone park, and after having seen his pictures and heard Mr. Gates is in a position to say his pictures are natural and beautiful.

November 28 (Saturday evening)—"Customs and Curios of the Philippines," by Roscoe C. Ozman. Mr. Ozman has spent six years in our possessions beyond the sea, and will have something to delight both eye and ear, and will answer any questions about the curios he will show.

Further mention will be made later of these speakers. Louisville will be represented on this date, also.

D. of H. at Fremont.

The convention opened with a reception by the Fremont lodge at the Commercial club headquarters. Amid the official colors of the order, pink and purple, tastefully displayed, these enthusiastic D. of H. delegates listened to Mayor Harris' address of welcome. Mrs. Mayme Cleaver of Neligh, grand chief of honor, responded, followed by a short address by A. M. Walling, grand master workman of the A. O. U. W. The Butler sisters of Omaha gave a most pleasing exhibition of Scottish dances. There was a song by the Oriole male quartette, a bagpipe solo by Geo. McDougall, and so the program continued.

A class of twenty candidates were initiated into the order by the Fremont D. of H. drill team. Their work deserves special mention. When one remembers this was only one evening's program, and that is was a continuous round of pleasure and profit, Fremont can but be a pleasant memory in the hearts of "the 400."

Philip Trietsch is building a garage.

Miss Treman spent Sunday at home this week.
Mr. and Mrs. John Benche spent Sunday at John Gauer's.

Ernest Treatch of Collium was a Cedar Creek caller Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Baker of Moorefield, Neb., is visiting friends here.

Mr. Allie Meisinger and Miss Hennings were Omaha passengers Thursday.
Report for Sunday school, October 18: Attendance, 63; collection, $1.92.

Mr. and Mrs. Iredick of Omaha spent Sunday with C. A. Gauer and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Adam Kaufenberger spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stoehr.

Mr. Geo. Sayles of Plattsmouth visited relatives and friends here Tuesday night.

Mr. Francis Pace and Henry Baughman shipped a carload of hogs, and one of cattle, Tuesday.

Mrs. John Gauer and daughters, Frances and Mildred, were shopping in Plattsmouth Saturday.

H. P. Roberts visited at Plattsmouth Sunday, and Peter Schroeder went to Sarpy county on that day.

Henry Sanders, Jr., and family of Omaha came in Monday night to spend a few days with home folks.

Carl Quinton, county sheriff, was in the city this week tacking up election notices and handing out his cards.

Mr. Geo. Poland and family have moved on a farm near Plattsmouth. Alta and Mark will be missed at school.

The new flower pitcher on the reading table at school was found among Mrs. Thompson's collection. See her window.

Corn and apple picking has begun in earnest. Are you sure you can crib it fast, considering the rainy weather and no frosts?

Mrs. Olive, sister of Mr. Meyers, was asked to teach the young ladies and men's classes in joint assemblage Sunday. Total, 25.

The Cedar Creek chorus meets at 2:30 p. m. every Sunday. Next Sunday it will work on two entirely new pieces. Get your voice in harmony by practicing with them.

A. O. Ault is in Minnesota this week, making a combination business and hunting trip, and has promised an account for publication on his return.

What do you call it—homesickness or reflex action—when a Louisville teacher attempts to stop the team by pressing the button as our train neared Lincoln?

When anyone hands you such a pleasing package through the post-office, George, the thing to do is to remember them handsomely about Christmas time. Watch out for a blue-ribboned package, girls.

If you have an enemy, treat him kindly and you will make him your friend. You may not win him over at once, but continue your kindness and you will succeed. Repeated kindness will soften the hardest heart.

Miss Marjorie Dorman of New York, one of the speakers against woman suffrage, will be in Cedar Creek the evening of the 23rd, and will talk on the negative. Things ought to be lively in this little city that night.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schneider and son, Oliver, returned Monday from Wahoo, where they were visiting friends and relatives. Their nephew, who has been dangerously ill for weeks past, was taken to an Omaha hospital Monday.

We have noticed candidates on our streets interviewing our voters and passing their cards. Woman suffrage still being a thing of the future, we noticed the ladies were not honored with their attentions. Just wait until election, and then what?

Misses Verla Schneider and Mary Schroeder were appointed by our Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Ault, to attend the Sunday school convention at Weeping Water this week. We know Cedar Creek deserves representation and we hope the girls will bring a full report, for it will be good to be there.

Miss Grace Duff has placed the Ladies' Home Journal and the Woman's World upon the reading table at school. Mr. Reames sent Popular Mechanics, Bernice Ault the Literary Digest. If anyone has magazines for us, leave same at J. S. Reames' and don't forget the public library at the barber shop. It is for you.

At the Cedar Creek school building Mrs. Olive told of her experience in her travels from Maine to California and north to Alaska, the land of ice, snow and continual day. To illustrate the extreme cold of that region, she recited "How They Buried Sam McGee." Mrs. Olive gives of her time and talents freely wherever she is.

It is reported by one of the young ladies that Mrs. Olive told in a most interesting manner of her work in a Boston Sunday school for the Chinese. And that she made it plain that it was almost impossible for us to realize Christ's agony in the garden where he shed drops of blood. She dwelt upon the thought of how terrible he or we must feel when a most trusted friend plays the part of Judas.

The new blacksmith shop on School street is nearing completion. It has a very neat, commodious and well built appearance. We only hope that Mr. Johnson, in remembering that "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," will not paint it red. One of the most up-to-date shops we know of is drab with black lettering. Anyway, he has promised not to put any paint on until the Commercial club decides on the color.

John Gauer, James Terryberry and Rollie Noyes returned Saturday from a hunt at Merriion, Neb. They were entertained at the home of M. O. Metzger, and speak in highest praise of roast duck and good dressing prepared by Mrs. Metzger. It may be sport to see a duck fall, but they seem to feel the real fun began when their feet were under the Metzger table. They brought home as trophies a fine lot of ducks and chickens.

Tuesday evening, October 20, at 4 p. m., the Cedar Creek school children went to the home of William Schneider, carrying flowers to Grandma Broadbeck, it being her 81st birthday anniversary. It was a pleasing picture to see this dear old lady sitting there surrounded by happy, youthful faces enjoying the refreshments served by Mrs. William Schneider, assisted by Mrs. Ault, Mrs. Jake Schneider, Mrs. Wolf and Miss Verla.

Mr. Hackenberg and family moved into the hotel last week, the only place vacant just now. It will be remembered that fire destroyed his farm home and other buildings, eight head of horses, etc., a few weeks ago. Let us welcome this family and by our neighborliness and kindly thought of their help to make them feel at home among us.

You are thinking of the referendum measures soon to be voted on? The Nebraska City armory appropriation asks the voters for an appropriation of $20,000 for an armory building at Nebraska City. The second is the workmen's compensation act. We believe, if you give this bill your attention and found it provided for a more equitable system for adjusting the loss to laborers when injured at work, that you would support this bill.

When one listens to the report of the Degree of Honor state convention held at Fremont last week, as told by the delegates, Mrs. John Wolf and Mrs. Wm. Schneider, it makes one long to be a member of that grand order and get in on those entertaining and uplifting meetings. Two hundred and seventy-five lodges were represented. Four hundred delegates were in attendance.

M. Tritsch, refracting optician, at Gering & Co.'s Wednesday and Saturday evenings. Examination free.

Try the Journal for calling cards.

ELLWOOD FENCE

SIMPLE—SCIENTIFIC—STRONG

The Reasons:
1st—Each horizontal extension of the ELLWOOD is a steel cable, consisting of two heavy wires intertwined.
2d—Each of these cables is tied to each other cable by a continuous heavy wire lapped tightly about every cable—not tied in a crooked "knot" or twist to weaken the strength of the tie wire at the bending point. (Wrap a wire around your finger and the wire is not weakened; tie a wire up in a hard knot and you cannot untie it without breaking, it is so much weakened.)

THAT IS ALL THERE IS TO ELLWOOD FENCE—

Heavy steel cables lapped about and held together by steel wire, forming uniform meshes. Simple, isn't it? No chance for weakness in any part; uniformly strong. The reasons for the superiority of ELLWOOD FENCE are not hard to find. This company owns and operates its own iron mines and furnaces; its own wire mills and six large fence factories—either one of the six being larger than any other fence factory in the world. These facts should be convincing.
