ATTRACTION AT THE GAYETY AT OMAHA THIS WEEK ONE OF THE BEST THIS SEASON

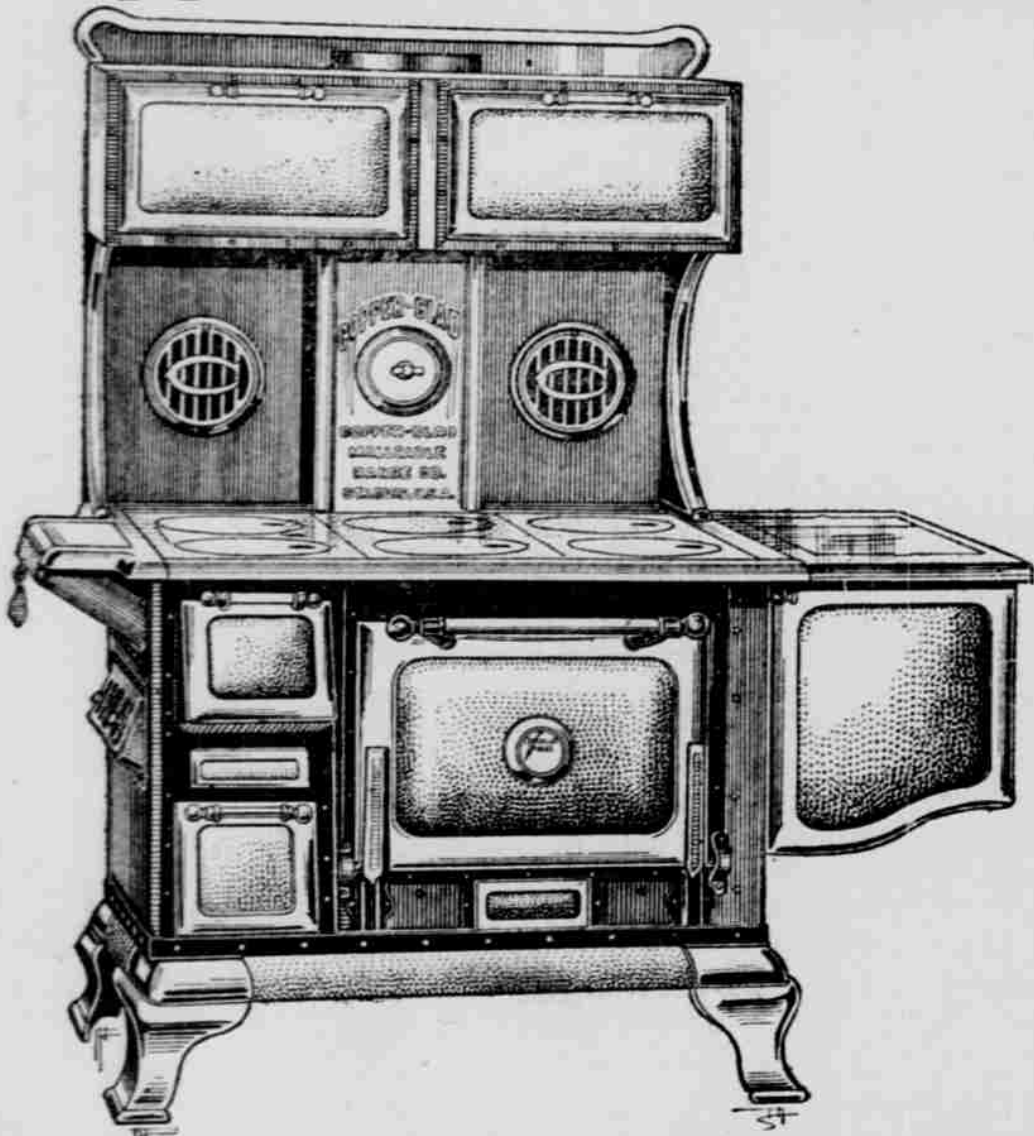

One of the most pleasing shows of the season that has visited Omaha is now on at the Gayety there this week. It is "Follies of the Day," and is one of the cleverest productions that the Columbia circuit has put out for some time, and the company presenting it is composed of the best actors and actresses on the circuit. The central idea of the show is a novelty in itself, and is woven around the work of a quartet of famous impressarios who endeavor to discover what the public desires in the way of amusement and embraces four of the leading figures in the world of theatrical managers who are backing grand opera, the drama, musical comedy and the burlesque show. The efforts of these four clever gentlemen are one of the leading features of the show, and their work is about as clever as can be seen in any theatre of the country. The settings of the show are beautiful and the musical numbers of the production are in keeping with the usual tuneful offerings of the Gayety and include a large number of new and clever song hits. Miss Gertrude Haynes with her four "bricktops" are among the pleasing features of the show, and the star and her associates are all to the good on their singing and dancing. A laughable travesty, "Three Weeks," also was received with much approval by the audience.

BOLD HOLDUPS BY TWO VERY YOUTHFUL HIGHWAYMEN

Two Farmers on the West Side of the County Held Up and Robbed of All They Had, but Are Caught.

THE STORK STILL ENGAGED IN MAKING PEOPLE HAPPY

From Saturday's Daily. Sheriff Quinton returned yesterday afternoon from Weeping Water, bringing with him Fred Davis and John Dees, the two men wanted for holding up William Neechel, near Elmwood, on Thursday, as well as a similar offence committed near Eagle on Wednesday night, when a man named Wright was held up and relieved of a watch, knife and a small sum of money. It seems that after holding up Neechel, near Elmwood, the men visited the village of Wabash and broke into a store there, securing several cans of beans as well as cigars and chewing gum and a leather belt which they successfully made away with. The sheriff, arriving at Elmwood early in the morning, was joined by Mr. Neechel and Ed. Dorr, who, securing an auto, started in pursuit, having learned of the burglary at Wabash, and going there took up the trail of the two men who were finally located in a piece of timber between Wabash and Weeping Water where they sought to hide from the officer. While the men were on the run, one of them, in crossing a small slough, fell and cut quite a severe gash on the right side of his head, and was captured by the sheriff who was only a short distance behind the men at the time pursuing them through the woods. A shot from the revolver of the sheriff stopped the flight of the man, Davis, and he too was handcuffed and placed in the automobile to be brought to this city for lodgment in jail. As soon as the men were locked in the cells at the jail Sheriff Quinton summoned Dr. Martin to dress the wound of the man who had been injured in the fall and which required several stitches to close the wound. They are both very young men in appearance, seemingly only about 19 or 20 years of age, and were attired in overalls as if they had been engaged in farm work of some sort. They seemed not to be affected in the least by their position in being placed in jail, but laughed and joked among themselves as to the fact of their condition, and the young man, Dees, who had the injured head, was apparently not suffering in the least from his injury, although it was quite an ugly looking wound.

Returns From Colorado.

From Saturday's Daily. Yesterday Uncle Lig Brown returned from Colorado, where he has been making a short visit there at the home of his niece and family at Fort Morgan, in that state. Uncle Lig enjoyed his visit, but finds that Nebraska is a mighty good place to be in during the winter months or any other time, for that matter.

They have proven their value to me. Others of my family have also tried Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Gering & Co.'s Drug Store. They think just as much of them as I do."

Candidates Get Very Active.

From Saturday's Daily. The nearness of election time, which is a week from next Tuesday, is causing a great activity among the different candidates throughout the state and county and from now on the common voter will get his in being rounded up by some of the seekers after public office, and already to venture on the street is to have three or four candidates jump on a man at once to attempt to secure his assistance at the polls. However, after the election there will be a great period of rest for the weary.

THE STORK STILL ENGAGED IN MAKING PEOPLE HAPPY

From Saturday's Daily. Yesterday a new daughter made her appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ofe and is of the regulation size and weight, and a fine little girl in every way. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ofe will be pleased to learn of the good fortune that has fallen to their lot, and will trust that the new daughter may live to be a joy and comfort to her parents in the years to come. The stork also made a visit this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Krecklen in the south part of the city and left with them a new son and heir, who is about as fine a specimen of a lad as can be found in this locality. The advent of the new son is the source of great joy to the parents as well as the friends of the family.

Cass County Sends Top Hogs.

From Saturday's Daily. Peter Gakemeier of Louisville topped the market today with a load of good, healthy hogs of his own raising. Mr. Gakemeier was here a short while back and received the top of the market for his hogs at that time and he is very much pleased with his sale today. There were sixty-two head in the load, averaging 199 pounds. These hogs were not in a finished condition, but were a bunch of good, even hogs. He reports that farmers are busy shucking corn which will average 15 to 20 bushels more than last year. Wheat is coming up in fine shape, the ground being in a moist condition and prospects in general are good. — South Omaha Drover's Journal-Stockman.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE IN OMAHA BEE REPORTER

Yesterday was an open date with the football team, owing to the fact that there was a misunderstanding over the dates scheduled with the California Athletics of Omaha, and as a consequence of the matter the fans were deprived of witnessing their weekly game. The team, however, was given a thorough working out at the ball park, in order to fit them for the next contest that they will have on their hands on next Sunday. The boys from here were advertised in the Omaha papers yesterday to play the Columbias of that city at the Rourke park, but this was a mistake, as the team will not go there until the 8th of November to play. The line-up as printed in the metropolitan papers was certainly a poor guess.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

I have for sale several good Cass county farms near Plattsmouth at from $125 to $150 per acre. These are all worth the money. Call and get particulars.

MISS AGNES KNOFICEK RETURNS HOME FROM HER STUDIES IN EUROPE

Last Saturday afternoon Gus Knoficek departed on No. 2 for Chicago, where he goes to meet his little daughter, Agnes, who has arrived in New York from Prague, Bohemia, where for the past two years she has been studying the violin in that city. Miss Knoficek is one of the most talented young violinists in the west, and while studying here under Prof. Kolbaba and other instructors developed a most wonderful talent in the playing of this instrument that was the marvel of all who had the pleasure of hearing her and it was to further develop the wonderful playing of the leading lady that she was under the leading violinists of Bohemia and in the city of Prague she entered upon her studies and has developed quite rapidly into one of the most proficient pupils of the musical world there. The outbreak of the war which has demoralized all Europe caused great uneasiness to the parents of Miss Knoficek, who at once through the United States government began to take steps to have her brought back to the United States, and after several months of anxious waiting she arrived at New York Friday and has started on her journey west and arrived in Chicago yesterday and will at once start on to Plattsmouth with her father.

R. L. PROPST PASSES HIS SIXTIETH MILESTONE AND HAPPY AS A LARK

Our old friend, R. L. Propst, of Myrard, on Thursday, October 15, passed his sixtieth milestone of life's highway and his family yesterday decided to celebrate the event by giving the father a royal time. For the occasion all the children were present around the festal board where a most sumptuous dinner was served that would have graced the banquet of a prince, and there was nothing omitted to make the occasion most complete in every way. It is unnecessary to say that the guest of honor was delighted as the children and grandchildren gathered with him to pass the day, and the event will long be fondly remembered by the entire family. The friends of Mr. Propst throughout the county will rejoice with him in having passed this period of time with them, and trust that he may enjoy many more birthdays before he is called hence. The beautiful home of the Propst family has been the scene of many pleasing entertainments, but none more so than the family reunion held yesterday.

FORTY JUNIORS OF THE PLATTSMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL SURE HAVE A BIG TIME

At the witching hours of 8 o'clock Friday evening, forty Juniors of the local high school hiked to their rendezvous, where a campfire had been prepared and was awaiting them. Everyone immediately joined hands in an Indian war dance to the tune of "Chicka-Ga-Run-Garee-Garee." More civilized amusements, such as drop the handkerchief, charades and three deep, followed and were very much enjoyed by the young people. By the time the games and festivities were over there was a splendid bed of coals in which the juicy weenies were roasted to a queen's taste. The sandwiches and the bright, sparkling apple cider were most refreshing after the strenuous games of the occasion. The latter part of the evening was spent in story telling and singing before the open grate fire in the bungalow. Beyond a doubt the occasion was a very pleasant one and the members of the class feel that they are certainly a bunch of live ones when it comes to providing entertainment for their class parties.

Certainly Fine Fall Days. Yesterday and today are certainly mighty fine examples of the Indian summer brand of weather that prevails in Nebraska during the late fall and this year has been an exceptional pretty one with no frost as yet to speak of. A great many took advantage of the occasion yesterday to stroll out along the hills near the bridge as well as along the new road that winds along the river bluffs and where the trees are fired with all the beauty of autumn's magic touch and the greens, yellows and reds blend in harmony into a most beautiful picture to the eye. Those who have failed to take a trip down in this direction certainly have missed a rare treat in the display of the glories of nature.
