SMITH STICKS TO DETAILS

Former Kearney Postoffice Clerk Unshaken In Testimony.

Omaha, Nov. 19.—The government's fight to fix on ex-Sheriff Walter F. Sammons of Buffalo county the theft of a $7,000 registered package from the Kearney postoffice Christmas night a year ago is narrowing to reliance on the testimony of Delbert K. Smith, former clerk in the Kearney postoffice. He swears Sammons secured from him keys to the postoffice and the safe where the package was. Smith's story has withstood the strain of severe cross-examination.

United States District Attorney F. S. Howell still has several witnesses to examine before the prosecution's case is finished.

Judge Page Morris has ordered more speed in the trial and has notified the prosecution and defense that he will expect the case to be completed this week.

Witnesses were put on the stand to trace the package from the First National bank of Omaha to the City National bank of Kearney. Bank and postoffice clerks were able to show registry receipts for the package as it passed on.

TURKEY ASKED TO EXPLAIN

Porte Must Give Reason For Firing on U. S. Flag.

COMMANDERS TO BE CAREFUL

Daniels Orders North Carolina and Tennessee Captains to Proceed With Caution—Wilson Determined Nation Will Not Be Involved In War.

WAR SUMMARY

While along the fighting lines in France and Belgium and in East Prussia, Russian Poland and Galicia fierce fighting continues and engagements have been won and lost at various places, nowhere has a decisive result been achieved either by the allies or the Germans and Austrians.

In the west the same ding-dong fighting that has been proceeding for weeks along the entrenched lines which extend virtually from the North sea to the Swiss frontier is being waged.

In the east the battling is more in the nature of field operations.

Here there are claims to victories by both the Teuton allies and the Russians and admissions by the Russians of at least one defeat—near Bzoure, Poland. Petrograd says that here the Germans forced back the Muscovite troops and gained a foothold near Lenczyoa and Orloff. All along the East Prussian frontier, however, Petrograd declares the Russians have made successive advances and claims that in Galicia they have captured the passes of the Carpathian mountains, through which the Austrians would be forced to make their way back into Austria in case of a decisive defeat. According to Berlin the Russians were forced to retreat near Soldau.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The American government has directed Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople to ask the Ottoman government for an explanation of the firing by Turkish land forces at a launch from the American cruiser Tennessee, proceeding from Voulah to the American consulate at Smyrna, Asia Minor.

Secretary Daniels, with the approval of President Wilson, simultaneously called the commander of the Tennessee and North Carolina, also in the Mediterranean, to take no action which might embarrass the American government and to await specific instructions from Washington concerning the general situation.

Message From Decker.

These steps followed the receipt of a message from Captain Benton C. Decker, commander of the Tennessee, which was paraphrased in this statement from the navy department: "Captain B. C. Decker, in command of the Tennessee, wired Secretary Daniels that while proceeding from Voulah to Smyrna to make official calls, the boat was fired at. Counsel anxious for safety of consulate, Tennessee proceeded to and left Voulah at request of ambassador and is now anchored in the harbor of Chios, Greece from which Captain Decker's telegram was sent. Secretary Daniels wired for fuller information."

Although without definite details as to just what occurred, high officials of the Washington government had no doubt that the incident, no matter where the responsibility lay, would be promptly adjusted through diplomatic channels.

President Wilson is determined that under no circumstances shall the United States be involved in war with Turkey. If the Turkish officials acted without the authority of the Ottoman government and the firing was not justified by naval procedure in a closed port, it is confidently believed here that the Ottoman government will render an apology.

SHELL WRECKS TROOP TRAIN

British Warships Bombard Two Cities on Belgium Coast.

London, Nov. 19.—A Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Mail says:

"The British fleet received information which led them to carry out a vigorous bombardment at Knocke and Zeebrugge on the Belgian coast. The Solway company's works on the Bruges ship canal, which are being used as a base for German military trains, were wrecked. A train of five cars filled with soldiers was struck by a shell, took fire and was destroyed. Much damage was done to the German stores and supplies."

Indictment Against Morgan Dismissed.

New York, Nov. 19.—The indictment charging Daniel N. Morgan, former treasurer of the United States, and six others with using the mails to defraud stock investors in connection with the operations of Jared Flaggs, was quashed on motion of the United States district attorney, who said that the testimony at Flaggs' trial showed that Mr. Morgan and his six associates were not guilty.

Prince of Wales Aide-de-Camp.

London, Nov. 19.—It was officially announced in London that the Prince of Wales had been appointed aide-de-camp to Field Marshal Sir John French, the commander of the British expeditionary force on the continent.
