CHAMBERS ON STAND

Says Bryan Liked Florida Land Under Water.

Kansas City, Nov. 25.—C. C. Chambers, on trial here charged with the use of the mails to defraud through the sale of Florida lands, took the stand in his own defense. He testified that he was a personal friend of William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, and told of taking Mr. Bryan on an inspection tour through his land in 1910.

“Mr. Bryan poked a stick down into the muck a couple of feet,” he said. “Then he examined the stick carefully and remarked, ‘This land is good enough for me. I think I’ll buy sixty acres right now.’ He did not buy any at that time, but I understood he purchased 160 acres later.”

DEATH CLAIMS

HENRY SEYMOUR

Secretary of Board of Assessment Dies Very Suddenly.

FOUND FAINTING ON STREET. Long in Employ of State Where For Five Years He Handled Figures of Assessment of Nebraska Property. Expires of Heart Trouble.

Lincoln, Nov. 25.—Henry Seymour, secretary of the state board of assessment, died suddenly at his home in this city. Death was caused from heart failure, according to Dr. J. E. Sward, his physician, who was with him from the time he found him on P street, in the downtown district, until he died.

With Captain J. L. Paul of St. Paul, Dr. Sward was walking down the street when they discovered Mr. Seymour leaning against a post, evidently in considerable pain. He asked them to take him home and, after doing so, Dr. Sward discovered that his heart action was very weak. He gave him a small injection of strychnine, but it was of no avail and he died soon after.

Besides the widow and a son, he leaves a brother, Victor Seymour, deputy clerk of the supreme court. Mr. Seymour had been connected with the state house for several years, having been with the insurance department, then bookkeeper in the state auditor's office and on June 1, 1909, was appointed to his present position as secretary of the state board of assessment to fill the vacancy caused by the killing of Christ Schaveland by an automobile. He was well known over the state and was in great demand at meetings of county assessors.

The tax commission last week recommended him unanimously for reappointment as secretary of the board of assessment and the same was filed with the governor only a day or so ago. Arrangements for the funeral will be made later.

Children Sent to Geneva. Three children, Emma, aged eleven; Leona, nine, and Verona, eight years of age, daughters of Mrs. Jessie Billings, have been committed to the Geneva school for girls, according to a copy of the commitment received by the state auditor's office from the clerk of the district court of Washington county. Mrs. Billings has been traveling around the country in a covered wagon with Charles Schroeder and on reaching Washington county the children, with another named Marjida, aged three years, were taken from them by the authorities, the younger one being held by the sheriff of Washington county, subject to the order of the court.

Treasurer's Mind Thought Unbalanced. E. J. Robinson, examiner in the office of the state auditor, who was sent to Banner county to investigate the condition of the county treasurer's office there, because of the disappearance of J. W. Hill, the treasurer, returned here. Mr. Robinson does not believe that there was any intention of dishonesty on the part of Mr. Hill, although he had overdrawn about $400, but thinks from all he can learn that his mind became deranged. In fact, he has been acting queerly for some time. No one seems to be able to offer any information as to his whereabouts.

SAMMONS ON STAND

Says Smith Confessed Story Suggested by Postal Inspector. Omaha, Nov. 25.—Testifying in his own behalf, former Sheriff Walter Sammons of Buffalo county, on trial in the federal court on the charge of robbing the Kearney postoffice of a $25,000 registered package last Christmas, made charges that Delbert Smith, the postoffice clerk who had confessed to being an accomplice and had alleged that Sammons actually committed the robbery, had testified falsely. He asserted that Smith had admitted to him that Brewer, a postoffice inspector, had suggested the story that he (Smith) had given “Sammons the key to the postoffice and he stole the money.” Sammons denied practically every material allegation previously made against him by Smith.

Aside from Sammons' testimony, the feature of the session was an attempt to impeachment of witnesses for the defense by the government.

STARVING BELGIANS

PILLAGAGE AND SLAY Civilization Set Back Several Centuries by the Conflict.

Bruges, Belgium, Nov. 25.—In some aspects civilization has been set back several centuries by the war in parts of Belgium. Conditions in Bruges and the surrounding region are so unsatisfactory that the entire countryside seems likely to return to a state resembling the period of the religious wars in the sixteenth century, when the starving population resorted to stealing, plundering and smuggling.

Such occurrences are being reported now along the Dutch frontier. They have led to sanguinary fights between Belgian snipers and German soldiers and Dutch frontier guards. Lawless elements of the population are raiding farms, killing or wounding the occupants and stealing their possessions.

The Germans are doing whatever they can to preserve order. Marauders are pursued relentlessly. In cities like Antwerp prices of the necessities of life have risen greatly. The German authorities, while refraining from the imposition of direct taxation, demand large sums from the people through a complicated system of stamp taxes. These taxes are imposed for infraction of any one of the many petty rules which have been made.

All the Austrian troops who were engaged so actively in the operations at Antwerp have disappeared.

FRENCH DEFEAT TRIBESMEN

Gauls Fighting Another War in the Hills of Morocco.

Paris, Nov. 25.—While the main armies of France have been striving to hurl back the German invaders from their home soil, the French colonial army has been waging a small war against the fierce Berber mountain tribes in Morocco.

Great numbers of these tribesmen belonging to the Zanain confederation and under Chief Moha On Hanoum, assembled at a vast camp in the Rheidia region, according to a long report to the French government by General Lyautey, resident French governor in Morocco.

Colonel Leveure, commanding at Khenifra, lost no time in setting out with a column, according to the report, and succeeded in surprising and destroying the camp Nov. 13, but on the way back was assailed by great numbers of tribesmen and was only able to fight his way back to the station with a loss of a number of officers and a hundred European soldiers. The artillery horses having been killed, part of the war material had to be abandoned.

Khenifra, an isolated post, was then subjected to a regular siege, but all attacks were beaten off by severe losses. Meanwhile Colonel Duplessis, commanding the territory of Zedda, with 2,500 men, and Brigadier General Henry from Fez, with 7,000 men, marched to the relief of the besieged camp. The two columns joined at Khenifra, Nov. 19, and drove back the invaders to the mountains and recaptured the war material.
