

AN INDUSTRY CONTROLLED BY OUR OWN HOME PEOPLE

The Olson Photograph Company One of the Largest of Its Character in the Country.

From Saturday's Daily.
One of the industries of the city that has shown the greatest improvement in the past year, and which has been so gradual that it has not attracted the attention it really deserves, is that of the Olson Photograph company, which now employs a large number of ladies in their work and each month shows a flattering increase in business over that of the preceding one, and this business, which is chiefly in the line of developing and printing kodak pictures, comes from all sections of the country, and this has to a great extent superseded the photo post card business, which first brought this factory to the front, and now the time of the force of ladies employed is largely taken up with this line of work. The success of this company, which is purely a Plattsmouth institution, should be the object of much pride here as it was founded in this city and is owned and operated exclusively by Plattsmouth people and all the assistance employed in the factory is that of persons residing here. The work turned out by this company is of the very best and their reputation throughout the west is of the very highest and should be recognized by the citizens here as one of the institutions that contribute to the material welfare of the city and its people. Starting from the humblest of circumstances the company has been compelled to enlarge their plant until they occupy two floors of the Tidd building on lower Main street and are kept busy from morning to night.

THE DOVEY CASE IN DISTRICT COURT CLOSED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

From Saturday's Daily.
The case of Oliver C. Dovey vs. George E. Dovey, et al., was brought to a close yesterday afternoon at 2:30, when the arguments were made to the jury by Attorney Francis A. Brogan for the plaintiff and General John Lee Webster of Omaha, chief counsel for the defendants. The jury, after being out a short time brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the case, giving him judgment for the amount of $53,000, as prayed for. The defendants will file a motion for a new trial, and if overruled will probably appeal the case to the supreme court.
As stated before, the case grew out of a settlement made between the plaintiff and defendants in 1909, and which it was sought to have set aside on the ground of duress and force. When the settlement was made the papers were signed by the mother, Mrs. Jane A. Dovey, whom it was contended signed her part of the estate of E. G. Dovey away. The fact of the will of Mrs. Dovey being admitted to probate complicates matters and the defendants in the case contend lessens the share that is due the plaintiff in the settlement, which was made on the basis that Mrs. Dovey had no share in the estate.
The motion in the matter of the estate of Jane A. Dovey by the contestants of the will asking that a new trial be granted was overruled by Judge Begley and it is likely that this will also be appealed to the higher court.

JUDGE BEGLEY APPOINTS NEW BOARD OF INSANITY

From Saturday's Daily.
Yesterday District Judge James T. Begley, as provided by law, appointed the two members of the insanity board of the county, who, together with Clerk of the District Court J. M. Robertson, will constitute the official board. The two gentlemen selected are Dr. G. H. Gilmore of Murray and Attorney J. E. Douglass of this city, both of whom will be most efficient in the position to which they have been appointed. The positions are held at present by Dr. E. D. Cummins and Attorney J. M. Leyda of this city.

Seat Sale for "Peg O' My Heart."

From Saturday's Daily.
The sale of seats for the engagement of the delightful comedy success, "Peg O' My Heart," will open at the drug store of Weyrich & Hadraha on Monday, December 14, and judging from inquiries already received, all the regular theater patrons of this city and surrounding towns will see this remarkable New York success. Mail orders are now being received and all such orders, when accompanied by a check or money order will be numbered as received and then filled in the order of their receipt.

ANNETTE KILLERMAN COMING TO THE GRAND AND GEM THEATRES NEXT THURSDAY

From Saturday's Daily.
Manager Shlaes has just received notice that he can secure a return date for the splendid moving pictures of Annette Kellerman in "Neptune's Daughter," which has been pronounced by critics to be one of the greatest moving pictures in the history of the country. These pictures, shown in seven reels, will be at the Gem and Grand theatres on Thursday evening, December 17th, and should be witnessed by everyone, as the price will be only 10 and 20 cents. There was an urgent request put up to Mr. Shlaes by a large number of the persons who didn't get to see the pictures on their previous appearance to secure a return date, and it was to accommodate these persons that the return date will be the last to see them, as the films are to be taken east and shown there after the next few weeks. The extremely low prices at which the pictures are shown will permit everyone to attend and take in this splendid show.

FALSE AFFIDAVIT TO SECURE MARRIAGE LICENSE

Young Man Who Did This Will Have to Answer to Charge That May Send Him to the Pen.

From Saturday's Daily.
As the readers of The Journal will bear in mind, there was issued on Thursday in the county judge's office a marriage license to Earl Jaques and Miss Lottie Cheek, both of Weeping Water. The groom-to-be, who came up to secure the license, gave his age as 25 and that of Miss Cheek as 18 and as is the law made affidavit to that fact before being allowed to have the license and the act was sworn to and witnessed by a notary public. There was nothing further thought of the matter until last evening, when a message was received from the parents of the bride at Weeping Water inquiring as to whether a license was issued here to the parties. They stated that the lady was only 16 years of age and that they knew nothing of the projected marriage until yesterday, when the girl failed to show up at school at Murdock as usual, and this fact created some feeling of uneasiness, and an investigation developed that the parties had been married at that place and had disappeared, apparently, as no trace of them could be found. Sheriff Quinlan was informed of the fact of the elopement and will attempt to locate the parties, as the parents of the girl are quite worried as to her whereabouts.
When securing the license here the groom was unable to write his name, or stated so, and it was necessary to have his mark witnessed by one of the young lady employees at the court house before he could secure the necessary license. Just what action will be taken by the parents of the girl is not known, as the young man has laid himself liable to punishment in making an oath which was untrue. There cannot be any possible blame attached to the office of the judge, as the oath given is what they are supposed to accept for the truth.
Later reports from Weeping Water state that it is thought that the young couple have gone to Ohio, where the home of the groom formerly was, and whether an attempt will be made to send the bride back here or not has not been fully determined upon, as no complaint has as yet been filed here before the authorities.

PARENTS SHOULD BE MORE CAREFUL IN LOOKING AFTER THEIR CHILDREN'S GOOD

A few months ago the authorities had their attention called to the fact that two children between 10 and 12 years of age were being allowed to grow up without the least care being given them, and a charge was preferred against them that did not speak very highly for the manner in which they were being reared. There was a promise made that conditions would be changed by the parents of these children, but from all reports to the police it seems that things are not improving in the least and that if anything they are going from bad to worse in this case. It is certainly a shame that such a condition of affairs should be allowed to exist, and the parents should attempt to look after their children a little more strict. The police are employed not to rear people's children, but to see that violators of the law are punished, and if the children are compelled to rely upon the public and the authorities to look after them it is certain that they will continue to be the wards of the police. Such a condition is certainly deplorable to say the least.

California Woman Seriously Alarmed.

"A short time ago I contracted a severe cold which settled on my lungs and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I would have had coughing spells and my lungs were so sore and inflamed I began to be seriously alarmed. A friend recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saying she had used it for years. I bought a bottle and it relieved my cough the first night, and in a week I was rid of the cold and soreness of my lungs," writes Miss Marie Gerber, Sawtelle, Cal. For sale by all dealers.

Fit His Case Exactly.

"When father was sick about six years ago he read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Tablets in the papers that fit his case exactly," writes Miss Margaret Campbell of Ft. Smith, Ark. "He purchased a box of them and he has not been sick since. My sister had stomach trouble and was also benefited by them." For sale by all dealers.

Comes Here From Grand Island.

From Saturday's Daily.
Dan Cooney of Grand Island has been secured by Ward Clark as a barber in his first-class shop in this city, and is giving the patrons there the best possible service that they could secure in any of the metropolitan shops of the country. Mr. Cooney comes here very highly recommended and his work is most satisfactory in every way and this gentleman has demonstrated that he is an artist with the razor, and Ward feels very well pleased that he has secured his services for his barber shop.

NEBRASKA GIRL AS "PEG O' MY HEART" AT THE PARMELE

Miss Marion Dentler, Leading Lady in the Play, Is a Nebraska Girl, and They Always Make Good.

From Saturday's Daily.
Miss Marion Dentler, Oliver Morosco's youngest leading lady, will interpret the name part in J. Hartley Manners' brilliant comedy of love and laughter, "Peg O' My Heart," at the Parmele theater on Wednesday night, December 16.

Miss Dentler has had a thorough training under the direction of Mr. Morosco and his general stage director, T. Daniel Frawley, at his famous Burbank Theater Stock company in Los Angeles, and is capable of portraying any kind of character. She is a daughter of Dan Dentler, the famous poet-scout and life-long friend and companion of Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). Little Miss Dentler was born in their camp at North Platte, Neb., just nineteen years ago, and began her stage career four years ago in ingenue with Richard Carle. The following season H. W. Savage engaged her for the role of Youth in the New York company of "Every Woman;" it was in this part Mr. Morosco first saw her and placed his new star under contract for a long period for his stock company, where she remained until last October, when he sent her east to portray "Peg." In selecting her Mr. Morosco considers the little lady his best "Peg." Miss Dentler is wonderful in the title role and gives such an artistic performance that it lingers in your memory as a sweet thought that you will remember ever after. Seats on sale at Weyrich & Hadraha's drug store.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS TO THE MEMBERS OF THE INCOMING LEGISLATURE

From Saturday's Daily.
Editor of the Journal:
The legislature will soon be in session and the question of short ballot and long ballot will be discussed, and my observation is that people do not complain much about the long ballot, but they do think the primary law costs the people too much and costs the candidates too much in time and money. I see by the paper that they want to shorten the ballot by electing a governor and allowing him to appoint the state officers. This, in my opinion, would be a great mistake, as the people can always be trusted, but when you take the power away from the people and put it in the hands of one man you are going backward—no progress in that kind of legislation. The cry has been, "let the people rule," and our congressmen and now the senators are elected by the people, and to take the state officers off the ballot would give very little relief. We are now burdened with taxation and the people will demand more economy in state and nation. I do think that if some one would and could arrange to reduce the members of the legislature it would please the people, and if I had my way I would make the senate consist of seventeen members and the house fifty-one members and you would have better laws and save half the expense. If congress had a body one-half less it would give us better laws and suit the people better in state and nation. They seem to be very liberal with the money collected from the people and think it no harm to use it lavishly, whether it is needed or not.

George Dovey has returned from St. Louis, looking first rate.

James Tucker has returned from Lincoln and will remain at home the rest of the winter. Jimmy looks fine and hearty.

Mr. Shryock's youngest child, Lizzie, aged 3 years, had a pretty severe fall last Friday afternoon, falling down the steps. Fortunately no bones were broken, although she was severely bruised.

Max Albee, a son of Prof. Albee, the musician, died at Louisville on Monday night. He was born December 19th, 1859, and was therefore in his 55th year. The young man was the prop and mainstay of the old gentleman's band, and the parents both feel the loss most keenly.

At a called meeting of the citizens of Plattsmouth, in regard to the location of a Methodist college, held in the court house, Wednesday evening, Dr. R. R. Livingston was called to the chair on motion of G. H. Black. John A. MacMurphy was chosen secretary. The Rev. Mr. Alexander was asked to more fully explain the object and intent of the meeting, or, in other words, to explain what terms the trustees of the Methodist college desired. Mr. Alexander did explain the origin and authority of the board of trustees, and stated that the M. E. church proposed to establish a seminary school of high grade—not a university at present—but a good high grade seminary. The question of obtaining this was then discussed. A committee of five was then appointed to draw up a resolution embodying the offer of Plattsmouth, and also to act as a standing committee between the citizens and the trustees until this matter is settled. The committee are: Sam M. Chapman, Jacob Vallery, Geo. H. Black, E. G. Dovey and R. R. Livingston. The following proposition was then offered as a resolution, and adopted by a large majority vote of the people present.

We, the committee of citizens appointed to make a proposition to the trustees of the Methodist conference, do offer the following:
The citizens of Plattsmouth propose to give and make a good title to the following property in order to secure the location of a Methodist seminary in this place:
The High school building and grounds, together with two blocks north of said High school building; also a subscription of $10,000 in money, lots and lands, all located within or near the City of Plattsmouth.

Always provided the trustees make suitable propositions in return, and the proper vote can be given by the people.

Sam M. Chapman, J. Vallery, G. H. Black, E. G. Dovey, R. R. Livingston, Committee.

"PEG O' MY HEART" AT THE PARMELE NEXT WEDNESDAY

A True-to-Life Story That Has Met With Great Success in All the Large Cities.

From Friday's Daily.
Ask the majority of playwrights, who have seen the children of their brain really presented on the stage, what they consider their most successful play and they will hem and haw, glance at the skyline in an effort to look wise and ultimately ejaculate: "Really, old chap, you take me quite unaware." Not so with J. Hartley Manners, the author of "Peg O' My Heart," which comes to the Parmele theater on Wednesday night, December 16. Ask him the question and the answer comes with the suddenness of a bullet from a "Lee-Metford," "Peg O' My Heart," of course. And Hartley Manners means it. Any play which will win for a man the woman of his heart, is wonderful in his estimation, no matter what the critics may think of it. Mr. Manners says he is an Irishman; that will account for his wit, which runs through Peg, adding sparkle to the dialogue and a piquancy to his imagination. As a matter of fact, he was born in London, of Irish parents. (A geographical mistake which has embittered his whole life—whenever he thinks of it)—that is seldom. It is just a little over three years ago, Mr. Manners ran out to Los Angeles to see Mr. Morosco about having some plays "tried out" by his wonderful Burbank Theater Stock company. It was there the young author first saw and met Laurette Taylor and wrote "Peg O' My Heart" for her, and in which she is to play the name part in London. In writing this comedy of youth, love and laughter, the author laid the scenes in an English resort—the home of Mrs. Chichester. She is a proud, unnatural aristocrat and accepted the responsibility of making a polished lady out of Peg, an unknown niece, for no other reason than that her bank had failed and left the family absolutely penniless, and the 1,000 pounds a year offered by Peg's uncle will keep the wolf from the door. Peg, on the other hand, is a jolly, impetuous Irish girl with a fascinating brogue. She has been raised by her whole-hearted father, and when she arrives in the Chichester home with her dog, "Michael," she shocks the family with her appearance and then by her manners. Her unfamiliarity with their modes of living, her ready wit and her curious antics cause many humorous scenes throughout the evening. Miss Marion Dentler, Mr. Morosco's youngest "Peg," will interpret the star part. Miss Dentler gives a wonderful artistic performance of this famous character and is supported by a well-balanced cast.
