WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS HOLD MEETING AND ELECT ENSUING YEAR OFFICERS

The ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps held a very largely attended meeting Saturday afternoon at their room in the court house and a most interesting session was enjoyed by all present. The chief feature of the afternoon was the election of officers for the coming year, and the following were selected for the different offices:

President—Mrs. L. B. Egenberger.
Senior Vice President—Miss Ella Kennedy.

Junior Vice President—Mrs. Frances Purdy.

Chaplain—Mrs. Julia Thomas.

Conductor—Mrs. Loretta Ault.

Secretary—Mrs. George Dodge.

Treasurer—Mrs. Val Barkle.

Guard—Mrs. Mary Jacks.

Patriotic Instructor—Mrs. Laura Thrasher.

Press Correspondent—Mrs. H. C. VanHorn.

Color-Bearers—Mrs. E. G. Egenberger, Mrs. Florence Elliott, Mrs. Thomas Wiles and Mrs. J. E. McDaniel.

For the position of delegates to the state encampment that meets in Minden in May, Mrs. Laura Thrasher was selected to represent the post of this city.

GREAT DIFFICULTY EXPERIENCED IN SECURING REVENUE STAMPS

There has been quite a good deal of complaint expressed among the merchants of the city whose business requires that they use revenue stamps, over the difficulty in securing them, and many have expressed the opinion that these stamps should be handled at the local postoffice, where they could be secured when needed, and not force the merchants to send to the office of the revenue collector in Omaha for the stamps. It is stated that the law allows the postoffice to carry these stamps for the use of the patrons, and they certainly should be given this courtesy. The banks carry documentary stamps for use on legal papers, but the stamps that go on articles retailed by the merchants are not obtainable here without sending to Omaha, which works a hardship on the merchants in that it compels them to carry a large assortment of these on hand, when it would be far more convenient for them to secure them at the postoffice as needed. There has been a great deal of confusion over the stamp act and its complicated features makes it difficult for the merchants to get thoroughly familiar with its workings. If possible this aid should be given to the business men whose lines of trade compels them to use the revenue stamps.

STORY OF "PEG O' MY HEART" TO APPEAR IN JOURNAL NEXT MONTH

The Evening Journal expects to commence the publication in serial form in the early part of January of J. Hartley Manners' very successful book, "Peg O' My Heart," adapted from the play of the same name. This play will be shown at the Parmele theater on Wednesday evening and will be a rare treat for the theater-going public and those who will likely read the story later it will give them an opportunity to get a clearer view point of the story itself. This story and play has everywhere received the greatest praise for its cleanliness and freshness and is a most pleasing departure from the general trend of the books and plays of the day.

Notice to Pay Up.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to the store of M. Fanger will please call and settle same at the earliest possible moment. We must make a demand at this time that all accounts be paid before the first of January, as the dissolution of the partnership between M. Fanger and V. Zucker makes it necessary that all collections be made. All accounts not settled by the first of January will be placed in other hands for collection. Fanger's Department Store.

Mrs. George B. Mann was among those going to Omaha this afternoon for a short time, being called there on some business matters.

Eugene Maurer returned home this morning from a short trip to Iowa points as well as Omaha, where he spent Sunday with friends.

Mrs. J. H. Kubus was among the passengers this morning for Omaha, where she spent a few hours looking after some matters of business.

John Bauer, jr., was a passenger this morning for Pacific Junction to look over the heating plant that is being installed there by his firm.

Mrs. W. E. Rosencrans was among those going to Omaha this afternoon, where she will visit for a few hours looking after some business affairs.

Christmas Candies and Nuts!

You well know that we are headquarters for all kinds of Christmas Candies and Nuts, and this year we are at the same old stand with the usual fine line of fine

Candies, Nuts and Fruits of all Kinds!

Our prices are always right, and the goods are the very best the market affords. Call and see us for the best in this line.

John Schiappacasse,
Plattsmouth's Reliable Fruit Dealer.

ALWAYS FOR PLATTSMOUTH.

Sometimes I can't help but wonder why, when pay day rolls around, the most of us hit 'er for Omaha. Unless it's the bargain there we've found.

One time we adopted a slogan. You remember 'twas: "See Plattsmouth Succeed!" But how in the h—l can we do it when you always go away when in need?

I'll admit you have more there to pick from.

But figure the extras you've spent. And when you come home and look at your junk,

Huh! How do our merchants pay rent?

Did you ever stop to think, folks, the goods which you buy that are leased;

That they appear on the records at our court house

For the public to see how you've fared?

Now let's do this thing right this next Christmas.

And cause all our Red Cross Stamps to read:

"I bought this little gift here in Plattsmouth.

For I want to 'See Plattsmouth Succeed!'"

Blank books of all kinds at the Journal office.

Mrs. Thomas Hill departed Saturday afternoon on No. 2 for Evanston, Illinois, where she will visit with a sister over the holidays before returning home to this city.

Henry Lamphere returned Saturday from Brunswick, Neb., where he has been for the past few months engaged in working on the farm of Charles Miller near that place.

James Bulin, George Klinger and Con Grebe departed this morning for Pacific Junction, Iowa, where they are engaged in putting in a heating plant in the new school building there.

Mrs. W. S. Askwith was among the passengers this morning on the early Burlington train for Omaha, where she will spend the day looking after matters of business and visiting her friends.

When you are looking for the very best articles in the line of fancy box stationery, call at the Journal office, where you will find an excellent variety to select from.

The second number of the lecture course will be given on Thursday evening, December 17th, and will consist of the Ladies' Trio.

PLATTSMOUTH TURN VERIN ELECTS OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR 1915

Over half a million people saw the comedy in New York during the run of "Peg O' My Heart." It cost a million dollars to make this record. See it at the Parmele theater Wednesday, December 16.

Mrs. Becker Still Ill.

The condition of Mrs. J. H. Becker still continues to be a source of much concern to her family and friends, as she is still confined to her room with a complication of the grippe and heart trouble that has been very trying on her for the past few weeks. It is certainly to be hoped that she will soon recover from the attack.

Box Social at Lewiston Church.

The pupils and teachers of School Districts No. 7 and 8 will hold a box social at the Lewiston church, Friday evening, December 18th. A program rendered by the pupils of these two districts will begin at 8 o'clock. Everybody invited. Ladies please bring boxes.

EIGHT DEGREES BELOW ZERO AT THE BURLINGTON DEPOT THIS MORNING

This morning came as near being a specimen of real old winter as it would be possible to find, with the temperature reaching 8 below zero at the Burlington station and reports from other sections of the city giving a temperature ranging from 8 to 13 below zero, which is some cold, and especially noticeable considering the remarkably mild weather that has prevailed heretofore. The sudden drop in the mercury proved to be a most pleasant event for the coal men, as well as the plumbers, and from all parts of town comes a cry over frozen water pipes and a rush to get furnaces and stoves in running order. It is the right kind of weather, however, for this time of year and will be found much more healthier than the warm weather and will make everything fine and dandy for Christmas time.

New Addition to Vallery Family.

This morning there was born to Mrs. Edward Vallery, at the home of her parents, a fine new baby daughter, and the little stranger was given a hearty welcome by the grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaufmann, as well as the delighted mother, Mrs. Vallery arrived here a few months ago from their home in Montana to visit with her relatives, while Mr. Vallery remained behind to look after his land interests there. The new addition to the Vallery family will be the occasion of much pleasure to the members of the family throughout this section. Mr. Vallery is a son of C. H. Vallery, one of the prominent farmers of this section of the county.
