Louie Puls, who is attending the Automobile School in Omaha, was home to spend Sunday, remaining to attend the public sale of George M. Hild. He went to Plattsmouth Wednesday evening, and from there returned to Omaha Thursday morning, where he will again resume his studies. Louie has a fine garage on his farm and when his course in school will be finished he will be prepared to repair any and all cars that are out of commission.

Ed. Schwald, who was seriously injured last fall, when a wagon load of corn turned over on him and broke his hip, returned to Murray Monday, after being in the hospital all winter. Chas. Tucker went after him, bringing him to his home, where he will remain until entirely recovered from his injuries. He is still compelled to use crutches in getting around. The young man has sure experienced a siege of confinement, and the many Murray friends are indeed glad to see him home once more.

Mrs. J. W. Berger, who was taken to the hospital in Omaha last week for treatment, is getting along nicely, and will be able to return home in a few days. It was first feared that she may be compelled to undergo an operation, but she is promised a complete recovery through the treatment at the hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. James Brown, is assisting in the care of the hotel during the absence of Mrs. Berger, and the traveling public, as well as the regular boarders of the Hotel Berger are being cared for in the same excellent manner as when Mrs. Berger was at home.

Death Claims a Good Man.

The funeral services of the late Julius Asch were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Lewiston M. E. church east of Murray and were attended by a large number of sympathizing friends. Rev. William VanBuren of Surprise, Nebraska, a nephew of the deceased, preached the funeral sermon and the remains were laid to rest in the Lewiston cemetery.

Julius Asch was born in Stettin, Roumania, on May 4, 1838. When he was only a year and a half old his parents removed to Berlin, Germany, where he received his education and grew to manhood. For two and a half years he attended the Royal Academy of Art in Berlin. In the year 1867 he came to America and engaged in business and in 1885 was united in marriage to Miss A. Ducey Wiley. In 1903 he moved to the farm near Murray and resided here until his demise on February 8, 1915, aged 71 years, 9 months and 4 days. A little over a year ago he was stricken with paralysis and on Monday last he fell asleep, leaving to mourn his loss his devoted wife.

Our dead are gone, and yet they are ever with us. They speak to us not only from their silent graves, but from the throngs of life.

We remember in love the kindly acts of the years that are gone. There is no death, an angel form walks o'er the earth with silent tread; He bears our best loved ones away, and then we call them dead."

Card of Thanks.

Words but feebly express the warm feeling of gratitude of my heart toward the dear friends and neighbors for their kindly sympathy, love and help during the sickness, death and burial of my beloved husband, Julius Asch.

MRS. JULIUS ASCH.

Too Much Soap?

For many weeks the young people of Murray have been a source of great annoyance to the business men by having entirely too much soap in their possession. On several occasions during this time they have smeared the windows of the business houses with this soap, which has been a very difficult task to remove, and in some instances newly lettered signs have been removed with the process of removing the soap. Now, the Journal is called upon to notify these parties that such actions will no longer be tolerated and if continued the authorities will be called upon to punish the guilty ones. It has certainly grown to be a nuisance, and there will be no trouble in convicting the guilty when caught. A word should be sufficient.

LIBRARY NOTES.

There will be a civic program given at the Library Rooms on Tuesday evening, February 16th. The Library Association have decided to give a number of these programs during the balance of the winter and spring. The committee feel fortunate in securing such able talent for the first number. This will also be the regular business and social meeting for the month of February. No charges of admission will be made for these programs. The public are invited. You do not need to be a member of the Library Association to attend.

Following will be the program: Vocal Solo—"I Wonder Is Ever the Rose" ..... Miss Eda Marquardt
 Miss Laura Puls, Accompanist.
 Paper—By Mrs. Redfield—"Value of Civic Improvements to the Children" ..... Mrs. T. J. Brendel
 Vocal solo ..... Carl Lange
 Address—"Educational Values That Pay" ..... Miss Eda Marquardt
 Vocal solo ..... Miss Eda Marquardt

Librarians for February.

Feb. 13—Mrs. Glen Boedeker.
 Feb. 17—Mrs. Lloyd Gapsen.
 Feb. 20—Mrs. Margaret Brendel.
 Feb. 24—Mrs. Mary Virgin.
 Feb. 27—Mrs. J. D. Shrader.
 Lee Kniss, President.

Dinner in the Library Rooms, Tuesday, February 16. Dinner at noon, and all you can eat for 25c.

The Financial Committee find it necessary to hold another dinner. This dinner will be served at noon. You will find value received in this dinner, so make an effort to attend. You will enjoy the afternoon with friends. Tuesday, February 16th.

Call at the Journal office and see the 75c Initial Stationery that you can now buy for 50c.

DEATH OF PROF. JULIUS ASCH, A GRAND, GOOD MAN

After an Illness of Nearly a Year the Deceased Passes Away at His Home South of This City and East of Murray.

From Tuesday's Data.

Yesterday, after an illness covering a long period of several months, Prof. Julius Asch passed away at his home, several miles east of Murray, when death came to his relief and touched his eyelids down in lasting sleep, and the messenger came as a relief to this talented man, who had suffered greatly during the last year as the result of several paralytic strokes that had made him a confirmed invalid and several times threatened to cause his death.

He was a native of Germany, where he was born some seventy-three years ago, and was an artist of more than usual merit, and when he was in the enjoyment of his health nothing gave him greater pleasure than to reproduce in oils and crayon the objects of interest to himself or his friends, and many of his splendid works have been the object of admiration from those of an artistic taste and training throughout the county. Mr. Asch was married in this county to Miss Dovie Wiley, who is left to mourn his passing away, and who, during the last months has ministered tenderly to his wants and needs as he slowly wasted away before the ravages of his malady that had crumbled his splendid physical health, as well as his brilliant and talented mind.

The death of Prof. Asch occurred at his home shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning and had been expected for some time, as he gradually grew weaker and weaker until the end. The death comes as a profound grief to the many friends who have known Prof. Asch during his years of residence in this county, and although the end was foreseen to be inevitable, still it does not lessen the profound sense of grief and sorrow that swept over them on learning that their old friend was no more.

MISS ROSE MAE CREAMER ENTERTAINS A NUMBER OF HER COLLEGE FRIENDS

A very pleasant gathering was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Creamer, south of this city, Sunday, when their daughter, Miss Rose Mae Creamer, entertained a number of college friends in a most charming manner, and the occasion was one that will be long very pleasantly remembered by all who were fortunate enough to be present, and the young folks vowed that they would return again in the future to enjoy the delightful hospitality of the Creamer home. One of the features of the day that was most heartily enjoyed was the bobbed ride, in which the young people found the greatest pleasure, as they sped over the snow-clad hills and dales with the fresh, bracing air and the sparkling snow keeping their spirits at their highest pitch of enthusiasm. The party, on returning to the home, were invited to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was spread, to which the young people did ample justice. The table was very prettily decorated in hearts and cupid, which lent a very pleasing touch to the scene of merriment and happiness. Those taking part in the pleasant occasion were: Misses Lenora Smith, Omaha; Eulalia Irie, Engberg Jensen, Omaha; Lillian Wheeler and Rose Mae Creamer, Plattsmouth; Messrs. J. Jensen, West Point, Nebraska; Merle Milton, Long Pine, Nebraska; Hilt Rabenold, Ainsworth, Iowa; George Stovall, Aurora, Nebraska; Bennie Hoilingshead, Arcadia, Nebraska; Percy Wheeler, Robert Patterson and Ed Creamer, Plattsmouth.

Strayed or Stolen. One brindle bull pup about six months old, from my barn last Friday. Any information as to whereabouts will be thankfully received by me. D. C. Rhoden, Murray, Neb.

Letter files at the Journal office.

C. S. Stone and Wife Leave Yampa.

Charles S. Stone, for a number of years cashier of the Bank of Yampa, accompanied by his wife, left here the first of the week for Denver, where they will spend a few days, and then go on to Nebraska, Neb., for a visit with Mr. Stone's father, Mr. Stone sold his interests in the bank the first of the year and expects to locate somewhere in the west. Under the able management of Mr. Stone the Bank of Yampa has become one of the strongest financial institutions in northwest Colorado, and Yampa is losing one of her most enterprising and public-spirited citizens. The good will of the entire community follow Mr. and Mrs. Stone wherever they may go and they will always be sure of a warm welcome should they decide to return to Yampa.—Yampa (Colo.) Leader.

Mr. A. M. Holmes Very Ill.

The many friends of A. M. Holmes, one of the pioneers, will regret greatly to learn that this most estimable gentleman is quite ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Rawls, in this city, where he has been visiting for several weeks. Mr. Holmes has been in very poor health for the past year or two, as he has been afflicted with hardening of the arteries, and his condition is such as to cause his family the keenest apprehension as to his recovery.
