GUY REECE FALLS AND BREAKS ANOTHER LIMB

This morning Guy Reece met with a very serious and painful accident that will lay him up for some time before he is able to be around attending to his usual duties. The accident occurred near the residence of C. G. Fricke on North Ninth street and resulted in Guy having his right leg fractured in a very painful manner above the ankle, and it was necessary to convey him to his home, a short distance away, where medical assistance was summoned to dress the injured member. One very unfortunate feature of the affair is that Mr. Reece was injured last spring in a motorcycle accident and has never fully recovered the use of the ankle of his left leg, which was injured in the mix-up, and the present accident will therefore be doubly severe on him, as it will put him on the retired list for several weeks at least. The weakened condition of the left ankle was one of the chief causes of the accident this morning, as when he attempted to save himself from falling on the icy walk the ankle refused to bear his weight and he was thrown back on his right leg, breaking it, as stated above. The friends of Guy throughout the city will learn of the mishap with the most profound feelings of regret, as it must of necessity remove him from their midst for a time at least, and the suffering and trouble which he has just gotten over will have to be all gone over again before he will be able to use the limb. It has been truly said that misfortunes never come singly and Guy certainly has had enough in this line to cause anyone to feel decidedly disgusted, but he maintains a most cheerful and pleasant spirit, despite his unfortunate accidents, and his many friends trust that his recovery from the injury may be as speedy as possible.

Whoever says Cedar Creek isn't up-to-date let him spend some time in admiring the new, modern, highly polished postoffice fixtures, lock boxes, etc. Everything in that particular line worthy of a city many times our size. But whenever we are asked the question: Who is responsible for our progress, for our feeling of pride in everything about us? In some mind the idea formed and a nature of push and energy carried it to the finish.

There was a large number of young people from this vicinity experienced quite a serious time while out sleigh-riding last Saturday evening. They had started for the dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albert. When within about one mile of the Albert home, the sleigh turned bottom side up and left the crowd of young people lying in a big snow drift in the corner of the fence. The team passed merrily on, leaving the jolly crowd only the wagon box to finish their journey in. They completed the trip on foot to the Albert home. The boy journeyed on to Cedar Creek to learn what had become of the team, where they found them at the home of Sam Kline. The trip was a pleasant one and the boys rather enjoyed the outing.
