

THE DEMOCRATIC AND REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTIONS

No Particular Enthusiasm Was Displayed, as All Candidates Were Nominated by Common Consent.

From Saturday's Daily. The political hosts of the city last night assembled at their chosen places and proceeded to place in the political field a complete list of candidates for the different offices.

The democratic convention met at the council chamber in the city hall and every delegate with the exception of one who were elected appeared at the convention hall to take their seats in the body. J. P. Falter, chairman of the city committee, called the convention to order, and on motion D. O. Dryer was selected as temporary chairman of the convention. No time was lost in getting down to business in placing the candidates in nomination. Mayor John P. Sattler was placed in nomination by the Second ward, his home, and was selected without opposition, and responded with a short speech of thanks, and the same course resulted in that of City Treasurer Scennichsen and Clerk Nemetz, who were selected without a dissenting vote.

On the matter of the school board there was practically no question raised as to following out the plan adopted during the last few years of making the board non-partisan, and Dr. C. A. Marshall, the retiring republican member, and John Lutz, the democratic member, going out, were placed in nomination, but Mr. Lutz declined, and the name of Frank E. Schlater was placed in nomination and carried without a dissenting vote. Mr. Schlater, in a short talk, asked that Mr. Lutz reconsider his decision not to run again and accept the renomination, but this Mr. Lutz declined to do and the nomination stands.

Fred Patterson, at present city engineer, was selected for another term by the convention. The different wards when called for responded with their selections for councilmen as follows: First ward, Mike Maury; Second ward, Mike Bajack; Third ward, John H. Hallstrom; Fourth ward, Henry Ofer; Fifth ward, William Shea. J. P. Falter, who so efficiently filled the position of chairman of the city central committee during the past year, was re-elected, and accepted the office after some consideration. The convention then adjourned, as there was nothing further to be carried out, and the delegates felt well satisfied with their work.

Republican Convention.

The republicans of the city assembled at the office of the county judge in the court house to take some action on what might be the best method of procedure during the coming year and whether to place in the field a full ticket or not this spring. Quite a number of the delegates in the convention favored the endorsement of the democratic candidate for mayor, provided that a suitable man was selected, but this fell through with early in the game, and the meeting then proceeded to organize and get busy on selecting the men to head their ticket.

For the office of mayor, Emmons J. Richey was finally selected, while for treasurer Dr. E. W. Cook was drafted to fill the place. For the office of city clerk Governor Dovey was nominated. The republicans followed the example of the democrats in the matter of the school board and selected Dr. Marshall and F. E. Schlater as the candidates in these wards will have no opposition.

In taking up the matter of councilmen in the different wards the convention placed in the field from the First ward W. J. Streight, the present councilman; in the Second, George Sayles, and in the Fourth ward George Lushinsky, the present councilman from that ward. In the Third and Fifth wards the convention did not place any candidates in the field and it is likely that the democratic candidates in these wards will have no opposition. There was a good attendance at this convention, as well as their democratic opponents' meeting, and considerable interest seemed to have been shown in the result.

Woodmen Circle Lodge, Notice!

The Woodmen Circle lodge will hold their regular meeting tomorrow (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Operation Proves Successful.

From Friday's Daily. Yesterday Mrs. J. E. Mason was operated on in Omaha for gall stones, from which she had been suffering for some years past, and the reports from her bedside are that the operation was entirely successful in every way and the prospects for her recovery are excellent. Quite a number of stones were secured in the operation and brought relief to the patient from the affliction which she has been suffering with. Her friends will be pleased to learn that the operation was so successful and trust that she may continue to improve.

"SAFETY FIRST" DEPARTMENT OF THE BURLINGTON

Frank B. Thomas of Chicago Was in Charge of This Department Here a Short Time Saturday.

Frank B. Thomas of Chicago, of the "Safety First" department of the Burlington, was in the city Saturday afternoon for a short time looking after the interests of his department in the new line of work they are preparing to inaugurate along their lines. This is the safety first idea among the drivers and owners of automobiles. There are a great many accidents each year from the result of recklessness in crossing over railroad crossings and this is what the Burlington is seeking to eliminate as far as possible. There is always appearing some item in the press where an automobile has been caught on a crossing and the occupants of the car injured or the machine wrecked, and in many cases this could easily be remedied by a little care on the part of the drivers of the cars if they would pay ordinary heed in going over the crossings, which are always more or less dangerous, and to recklessly disregard the danger or neglect to pay attention to the warning devices placed there by the different railroad companies sooner or later results in the death of several innocent parties. Too often a driver of a car recklessly dashes on the crossing when a train is approaching, and if any accident happens to the machine and the train crashes into it there is a case for the coroner, when safety first would prevent all of this trouble.

The propaganda against the reckless disregard of railroad crossings will be laid before the people of the territory through which the Burlington travel and every effort made to present it to them in such a light that they may realize fully the needs of the warning of the safety first bureau. Mr. Thomas has spent the past few years in looking after this department of the railroad and has greatly aided in the lessening of the many accidents that formerly occurred at the different places along the Burlington in the shop towns, especially, and it is to be hoped that the same success may attend him in the new safety movement.

NEXT ENTERTAINMENT OF LECTURE COURSE AFTER EASTER SUNDAY

It has been announced that the last number of the lecture course in this city will be given shortly after Easter at the High school auditorium and will consist of a program given by the Elks quartet of Council Bluffs lodge of the B. P. O. E. This is one of the best known and popular musical organizations in the west and its reputation is a guarantee that it will be most pleasing to the music lovers of Plattsmouth. It was thought at first that it would be impossible to secure the quartet, but arrangements have finally been closed whereby the organization will be with us soon. That the Elks' quartet stands high is shown by the fact that they have been offered positions on the Orpheum circuit by Martin Beck of New York, president of that organization, but as the members are all men interested in business in Omaha and Council Bluffs they were compelled to refuse the offer and merely appear in concert in the west. This is a treat that will be much appreciated by everyone in the city and the quartet should have a large audience to hear their program when they appear here.

One way to relieve habitual constipation is to take regularly a mild laxative. Doan's Regulents are recommended for this purpose. 25c a box at all drug stores.

LOYAL SONS BANQUET AT MODERN WOODMAN HALL

A Most Enjoyable Event and Every Attendee Went Home Feeling "It Was Good to Be There."

From Saturday's Daily. The banquet given last evening at the Modern Woodman hall by the members of the Loyal Sons class of the Christian church was a very pleasing success in every way and the members of the class and their friends in attendance were well pleased with the success of the banquet and the interest in the different talks made by the speakers on the toast list. The repast was most pleasing and the ladies of the Helpers class are certainly deserving of much praise in having provided the occasion with such an array of good things to eat, which were thoroughly enjoyed by the men folks, young and old, gathered around the banquet board. The banquet was presided over by Judge A. J. Beeson as toastmaster, and in his usual pleasing manner the judge proceeded to keep everyone in the best of humor by his clever introductory speeches, as he called on them. The tables were very handsomely decorated with bouquets of red carnations that lent a very pleasing appearance to the beauty of the banquet hall.

The toast, "The Cost of It," was responded to by C. E. Whittaker, and in very well chosen words pointed out the cost it demands to make a young man. He estimated in money $25,000 and in the care of the parents and the anxious moments spent an endless amount of energy, but, as the speaker stated, it was well worth all the efforts put forth, as upon these young men lay the responsibility of the future of the human race.

D. C. Morgan spoke on the subject of "Steadfastness" and pointed out the need of firmness on the part of the young men of today and of the false idea that some entertained that they were too old to attend and take part in the work of the Sunday school.

Philip F. Rhin spoke of the "Mission of the Loyal Sons Class," he spoke freely of the need of helpfulness among the members and if one strayed from the paths laid out before him that the members of the class should exercise every possible means to bring him back and make him worthy of the true mission of the Loyal Sons class.

Harry Winscott took as his subject "America at the Bat," and pointed out the many problems that today confronted the country and their increase in the future, as a result of the great European war, which was bringing to this country many vital questions to solve in order to keep out of the great conflict.

On the subject, "The Idle Acre," Will T. Adams pointed out the wastefulness of having the higher things in life neglected, and drew a picture of the idle plot of land where only the weeds flourished in profusion and how these weed seeds were scattered over the cultivated lands, and compared this to the lives of the men and women who let the best things go uncultivated.

M. S. Briggs spoke on the subject, "Covet Emtor," and stated that each person stood in the light of a salesman offering for sale his life, health, opportunity, brains. In making an exchange the speaker stated the purchaser should see that they did not neglect their eternal life.

At the close of the banquet the ladies of the Helpers presented to their president, Mrs. W. R. Bryan, the flowers decorating the tables, as a token of esteem.

Amount of Judgment Secured.

We have received a number of inquiries from out in the country as to the amount of judgment recovered by the county against Sheriff Quinton, mention of which was previously made in these columns when the two appellate suits were decided. In the first case the sum of $412.99 was awarded in the matter of the disputed fees, and in the second $91.53, making a total of $504.42. These involve the fees which were in dispute between the sheriff and commissioners as to the possession of, and were decided in favor of the county.

Proper Treatment for Biliousness.

Leads in Horses Per Capita.

According to the figures of the United States department of agriculture, Nebraska leads in the number of horses per capita. The states with more than a million horses and the number per capita of rural population are as follows:

State	Rural Pop.	Number Per Cap.
Nebraska	1,038,000	$1.19
Iowa	1,600,000	1.03
Kansas	1,132,000	.94
Illinois	1,462,000	.67
Missouri	1,095,000	.57
Texas	1,192,000	.49

MURRAY CITIZENS ORGANIZE A COMMERCIAL CLUB

A Very Enthusiastic Meeting and the Club Starts Out Under Very Flattering Auspices.

From Saturday's Daily. The live business men and citizens of Murray and vicinity are evidently determined to see that their town is put on the map in the proper shape by getting together last evening and organizing a Commercial club for the purpose of mutual help to each other and benefit to the town. The meeting was held at the Puls & Gansmer hall and was attended by quite a number of the citizens of Murray and vicinity, and all were most enthusiastic over the outlook for the success of the club and its benefits to the town and surrounding country. The officers selected for the ensuing year were:

President—L. D. Hiatt.
Vice President—W. H. Puls.
Secretary—A. L. Baker.
Treasurer—Dr. J. F. Brendel.

Two committees were appointed—W. G. Boedeker, Ted Barrows and George Nichols being placed on the committee to prepare the by-laws for the new club and outline a plan of action along the lines that might prove the most helpful to the community. On the good roads and street improvement committee E. S. Tut, Dr. G. H. Gilmore and Ted Barrows were selected, and will at once get busy in outlining a plan of action that will result in getting the roads leading into Murray in first-class shape in every way. The plan of the club is to interest all those residing in a radius of several miles of Murray in the work of the club, and through social and business sessions develop the community spirit. There are really few livelier little towns than this in the state, and the Murray people, when they see a good proposition believe in going after it and securing results. There is no doubt but that the club will be a big success and mean a great deal to that town in the future. The club will meet again next Wednesday evening.

THE MAN WHOM EVERY BODY OUGHT TO KNOW

I knew a man who thinks that he could write a book or tune a bee, could run the earth in every way much better than it's run today; could sail a boat or ride a mule, or teach the teacher in the school; could beat the band at every squeak were he to practice about a week; could do all these were he to try. He doesn't though—I wonder why? I know him like a printed book, as well as though I were his cook. I know he thinks that he could start the universe and call it fun. If he could only get a start, that he would play wondrous part. But still he sets around and waits, and on his merits cogitates. Perform in every line? 'Great Scott! He knows he could—but he does not. Now, how can I such insight show, and say of him that is so? The man's myself—I ought to know.

JUDGE BEGLEY HELD A BRIEF SESSION OF DISTRICT COURT FRIDAY

From Saturday's Daily. The district court yesterday at its session passed on a number of matters, and in the case of Cass County vs. Carroll D. Quinton, case No. 6427, the court found for the plaintiff in the sum of $91.53, with interest from date at 7 per cent. A motion of defendant for a new trial was overruled, as well as a motion of plaintiff to increase amount of judgment. The costs of the case will be divided equally, each one paying their share.

In the case of William Dunn, et al., vs. Eva Elliott, et al., on motion of defendant, the court ordered the tenant on the farm under question, Dixie Kirkpatrick, to pay into the court all rents due and owing within ten days, and the clerk of the court was instructed to notify the tenant.

CHIROPRACTORS WIN OUT FRIDAY IN THE HOUSE

Wild Night Session in Which the Cass County Gentlemen Makes a Showing.

"A rough house" is what spectators at the house night session were treated to Friday night. The osteopaths and chiropractic regulation bills were before the house and all the trouble was stirred up when opponents, few in number, tried to adjourn to prevent consideration of the bill. The house refused, and Peterson of Lancaster started a filibuster which raised a commotion, says the Lincoln Journal.

Members received an illustration of what chiropractic can do for a person when Kime of Cass made a speech, his maiden effort, in which he explained that he had been on his back, and the chiropractors had come to him and helped him. In fact Mr. Kime made several speeches which few could hear, and had never tried to do before he had been sick, and the chiropractors had treated him.

Kime started like a shot from a gun when Hoffmeister jumped on the chiropractors, declaring that this gentleman could well afford to stay on the job another day for his pay, and pointing out that he was at the moment on the floor. Mr. Kime took exception to the remarks and made a long speech to Hoffmeister, the tones of his voice reaching only those nearest him, but the gestures being very loud. Occasional remarks drifted out far enough to be caught. He considered that gratitude was the finest thing in the world, and that Mr. Edgerton and those who waited on him had been extremely fair. Mr. Kime made other speeches, each short and almost inaudible.

The osteopathy bill came up first, a bill to extend the requirements for practice hereafter. In some way a substitute bill appeared, proposing to put all adjustment healers under a composite board of six members and requiring them to meet identical requirements before being licensed. It was a long bill and took much time to read.
