IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO.

Hatt is having a new fence put around his place.

The weather nowadays is kind of mixed, good, poor, bad and indifferent.

Dr. W. E. Donelan is having his drug store raised and a brick foundation put in.

George Fairfield was surveying the site for the new Catholic cathedral to be erected in this town, on last Wednesday, laying it off for the builders to commence work.

A horse that was hitched to a wagon in front of Johnson's drug store last Friday afternoon, got frightened and kicked its harness to pieces before he could be quieted.

Our town is filling up rapidly now and an empty house is hard to find. Several new frame houses are going up and as soon as the brick is burnt there will be a number of fine brick residences built.

About the first of May M. Schnellbacher, our blacksmith, will move into the Henry Boeck building on Fifth street, between Vine and Main streets, where he will be happy to see all his old customers and hopes for many new ones.

The following letter we clip from the Shepherdstown (W. Va.) Register of April 17. It contains some good advice from a progressive and shrewd business man:

A few weeks ago we stated that ex-Mayor Ray of this town had taken a trip west, following the advice of the late Horace Greeley, and whilst sojourning in the state of Nebraska he writes us as follows:

Cedar Creek, Cass Co., Neb.—Hon. John H. Zittle: This is a beautiful morning in this far western country. This county (together with Otoe, Seward, Lancaster and Saline counties) along the south of the Platte river, comprises the excelsior prairie—the finest country ever man's eye beheld. It is a wheat and corn growing country—wheat grows in abundance—they raise an average of 20 bushels to the acre, and of a very fine quality, and it is worth 75 cents per bushel. Corn grows in this country as fine as in the Shenandoah valley of Virginia, and yields much more to the acre—60 bushels to the acre is considered an average crop, but often a crop of 80 and 90 bushels is raised. Raising oats is very profitable here, they grow to perfection in this climate—the finest I ever saw being here, and they yield 60 bushels to the acre. Potatoes also grow in abundance, but our little Shepherdstown Colorado bug played havoc with the crop last year. The climate is much colder than in Jefferson county, West Virginia. Fruit is scarce here, but young orchards are being set out, and in a few years, no doubt, fruit will be plentiful in this state. Game is abundant, from a quail to a sand hill crane—the air is sometimes darkened with them—and geese and ducks of the finest kinds. Fish in the Platte and Missouri river consist principally of buffalo and cat, and range from the smaller sizes to over 200 pounds in weight. Small fruits grow here in abundance—wild plums, grapes and gooseberries are gathered along the ravines and creeks. Now, friend Zittle, I have given you a brief description of the country, and what do you think these lands can be bought for per acre? Raw lands can be purchased for $5 to $10 per acre; improved land, $10 to $25; school and railroad land $10 per acre, with ten years' time. Great inducements are held out to emigrants to procure homes in this state. The first crop will pay for the land and all expenses for cultivation; so that if any of our Jefferson folks want to own a fine farm in the west, without money, we say come right along. This is the asylum for the oppressed of all nations. Thousands and millions of acres of the finest land here are waiting for just such folks as we have in old Jefferson county, and who would become wealthy here, whilst if they remain there it is impossible for them to become more than a moderate renter. Thousands of people in this state, who come any more than a moderate renter years ago, today are in first-rate circumstances, whilst a large portion of them are wealthy. Now, young men, and middle aged men, come west, buy yourselves homes, and grow up rich with this beautiful western country.

Fred Ronne of Cedar Creek sends in his back pay and pays a year in advance. Good boy, Fred.

Unless another hitch takes place a train from Omaha to St. Louis, via Plattsmouth and Lincoln, will be put on Sunday morning next.

Arrival of a New Son.

Last evening there arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Turner in this city a fine bouncing baby boy, and the advent of the young man was the source of much happiness to the proud parents. The young man is the first child in the family and consequently is the object of great admiration from its relatives, who vow he is the finest young man in the city. The mother and little one are getting along nicely. Mrs. Turner was formerly Miss Annie Morley of this city.

Lightning struck the carpenter shop of Johnson Brothers on Sunday night and knocked the Martin house galley west, besides ripping off the boards and shingles pretty lively.

The champion billiardists of town, Sam Long and Joe Fairfield, played a big game the other day at Neville's. By the way, what has become of the tournament Billy was going to give us?

Mr. and Mrs. John Charlton of Omaha, both of Plattsmouth once, have become proprietors of a brand new daughter lately. Captain Paine is said to be awful jealous of his friend, John, on "this auspicious occasion."

Mr. Arnold, our well known and reliable county commissioner, called on the Herald yesterday. We were much pleased to see him and hope he may live long to build good bridges and serve the county faithfully.

Lee Estell of Red Cloud, colonel of Governor Furnas' staff, passed through Plattsmouth on Saturday last on his return from the east, where he has been a gettin' married and other things.

Phil Harrison met with a very painful accident last Tuesday evening week. He had caught a large catfish and was getting it off the hook when it ran its horn into the side of his heel, making a wound that you could put your finger in.

Maj. R. C. Cushing, the well known and popular superintendent of Messrs. Fitzgerald, Mallory & Flynn, southern railroad contracts, when he returns to his Nebraska home will have a beautiful reminder of his southern stay, in a daughter born in Knoxville early yesterday morning. Sixteen years from now the Tennessee-born Miss Cushing will hold her own in grace and beauty against all the young ladies of the west.—Knoxville (Tenn.) Press and Herald. Don't wait the sixteen years, though, friend Dick, before you show us the young lady.

Jacob Adams, an old resident of the county, died this morning (Thursday) January 15th, at his residence, southwest of town, aged 59 years and 4 months. Deceased was an Odd Fellow and a Granger. His funeral takes place Saturday, at 1 o'clock p. m., from the residence of the family. The Odd Fellows will take charge of the funeral.

Has a Very Sore Hand.

This morning Grover Will came in from his farm home to receive medical attention for what had apparently started in as a small pimple or boil on his left hand, but later became infected and has been giving him a great deal of trouble and necessitated lancing the hand. It had swollen up to twice its normal size and was exceedingly painful to the young man.

Most disgusting skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters as a cleansing blood tonic, is well recommended. $1.00 at all stores.

UNION. Ledger.

John B. Nichols arrived Tuesday evening from Manning, Iowa, to make a short visit with his friends here.

T. M. Patterson, one of the Plattsmouth bankers, came down yesterday morning and made a visit with his son, J. M. Patterson and wife.

Rev. W. A. Taylor went on the Tuesday forenoon train to Lincoln in obedience to an order of the court notifying him that his services were required as a juror in the U. S. court. Mrs. Joseph Burr, accompanied by her daughter, Ruth, and son, Melvin, came up from Nebraska City last Friday and made a few days' visit with her son, George Burr and wife, at the hotel.

Miss Kate Fitchhorn of Plattsmouth, Miss Marian Spellman of Omaha, and Arthur Hayworth of Plattsmouth were here last Saturday and were the guests of Harry McCarrroll and wife.

Philip C. Engell, who has been spending the winter with his daughter, Mrs. John Johnson, at Baldwin, Kas., returned home last week, and Mrs. Johnson came with him to make a visit with relatives and friends here.

William Metz of Nebraska City was here Tuesday meeting many of his friends and looking after business affairs. Mr. Metz was a teacher in the Union schools a number of years ago, and he certainly enjoyed spending a few hours among his old-time associates.

Foster Buck returned home Monday from Omaha, where he had been in a hospital the past few weeks recovering from an operation for appendicitis. He shows the effects of the ordeal, but appears to be regaining his health as rapidly as is usual in such cases.

Ben P. Davis departed Wednesday evening for Neola, Iowa, having received a message informing him that his brother, Frank Davis, died Tuesday night in a hospital in Council Bluffs, his death resulting from a surgical operation. Frank Davis was quite well known to many of the old settlers here, as he resided in this vicinity a number of years ago and in his young days he was a student in the old Naomii institute at Rock Bluffs. He and his wife made a visit here last October.

ELMWOOD. Leader-Echo.

Mrs. William Wilcockson was able to be down town on Wednesday morning after about five weeks of sickness.

At the time of going to press Grandma DelesDernier is reported to be very low at the home of her son, William DelesDernier.

Grandma Buckley is improving rapidly at the hospital in Lincoln and it is thought that she will soon be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert McNamee of Weeping Water are spending the week at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William DelesDernier.

The little grandchild being reared by Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Beck died very suddenly Saturday night, funeral services being held Sunday afternoon. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

Noel Tyson, who is principal of the schools at Stanton, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tyson. He had attended the tournament at Lincoln with his basket ball boys.

Joseph Cammann and Mrs. Rachel Kridler of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. John Morgan of Shreve, Ohio, have been making an extended visit through the west. This week they are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Morgan.

G. L. Berger has been keeping count of the sunny days since the 13th day of December, 1914, up to the present time. He says that during all this time there has only been nine days that could be considered sunny days. This has surely been a record-breaker for cloudy days.

On Monday morning C. Schneider, who had been very sick with a very severe case of la grippe, came to his harness shop and started in repairing harness. While he felt quite well he was weak. While endeavoring to take some harness out of the oiling vat he overdid himself and fell in a faint. Frank Lorenz happened in about this time and noting his condition called several to help him and he was taken to his home. At the present time he is much improved.

Mrs. J. C. Kline and daughter, Hazel, of Fairbury, are visiting with Mrs. Kline's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hills.

The dance given by the Workmen and Degree of Honor lodges was well attended Wednesday night and all report a fine time.

A. B. Vanlandingham shipped a carload of hogs to Nebraska City Saturday.

Sam Westlake shipped a carload of hogs and cattle to South Omaha Wednesday.

William Lee is not improving in health and the family expect to remove him to a hospital in Lincoln as soon as the roads permit.

Mayor Betts is a busy man these days inspecting the water mains pipe, looking intently for the white mark designating the weight and inspection.

Russ Mick is again confined to the house with an attack of rheumatism. Russ is sure having his share of bad luck, but we trust that he may be able to be out again soon.

George Williams returned home from the St. Elizabeth hospital at Lincoln the first of the week, where he was just recently operated on for swollen glands of the neck. We are glad to report that he is getting along nicely.

Owen Wall was in Lincoln between trains Wednesday evening, having gone up to see his wife, who is at the Tabitha Home, where she is recovering from a recent operation. We are glad to report that she is getting along nicely.

A man with a less robust constitution than our popular barber would undoubtedly have succumbed to the onslaughts of the practical jokers. The latest was a large rock painted to represent a hunk of coal. After Remaly got the stone in the stove he pronounced it "nigger-head."

A deal was consummated Wednesday whereby Charles Frohlich became owner of the 160-acre farm belonging to his brother, John, one mile north and one and one-quarter miles east of Eagle. John will hold a public sale March 26th and he and his family will then depart for Winifred, Montana, to make their future home.
