MRS. VAN HORN ENTERTAINS HELPERS OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Helpers of the Christian church were entertained in a most charming manner yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. C. VanHorn. The ladies held a short business session, at which time they completed their plans for their apron bazaar, which they will hold all day Saturday in the vacant room west of M. Fanger's Department store. After the business session the ladies whiled away the remainder of the afternoon in a most delightful social time. At the proper time the hostess served an excellent luncheon, which was highly appreciated by the large number in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. VanHorn are soon to remove from our midst to a farm near this city, where they will make their home in the future, and as the large company took their departure many expressed their regrets at having to lose Mrs. VanHorn from their midst, as she had been a very efficient worker, both in the church and the Helpers' society, but all extended to her their best wishes for happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Fill Makes Improvement.

One of the biggest jobs of improvement that has been done in this city in the past year is the fill at the foot of Wintersteen Hill, which has done away with the bridge which formerly stood at the foot of the hill, and also where the Burlington did away with their bridge, making a fill there that set only adds to the appearance of that part of the city, but makes it a great deal safer for those traveling over the street at that point, as well as for the Burlington in running their engines to and from the shop yards.

MRS. J. M. MEISINGER

VERY LOW AND DEATH EXPECTED ANY MOMENT

The condition of Mrs. J. M. Meisinger, who is lying at her home in this city very low as the result of a paralytic stroke, has not shown any improvement and the patient has gradually sunk until almost all hopes of her recovery have been abandoned by the family, all of whom are at her bedside. Last evening Mrs. Meisinger began to sink rapidly and this morning it was deemed only a matter of hours that she would last. The condition of this estimable lady has been the source of much grief to her friends and the friends of the family, who had hoped that Mrs. Meisinger might be spared to her family. Since the death of her husband she has been gradually failing until she was stricken with paralysis, since which time it has been thought only a question of time until she would be called away.

PHIL HARRISON TAKES POISON AND HAS CLOSE CALL

For Several Hours His Life Was Despaired of, but Finally Rallies and Is Improving.

Tuesday evening the residents of this city were greatly surprised when it was learned that Philip Harrison, who for over forty years has made Plattsmouth his home, had attempted suicide at his residence in this city by taking eighteen grains of strychnine, and the fact that death had not been almost instant was from the effect of his having taken an overdose of the poison, as had he merely contented himself with eight or nine grains he would have died in a few minutes.

Tuesday afternoon he stated to his wife that he was going down town for a few minutes and came down to the drug store of Weyrich & Hadraba, where he stated that he wanted to purchase some strychnine for the purpose of killing gophers, and as Mr. Harrison has done a great deal of work around the city looking after the yards and lawns of different persons, and the request seemingly being in good faith, the poison was given him on his signing the register as to what he desired with it.

He then went home and proceeded to make preparations for his act. He had in the past few days made the statement to his wife of the fact that he did not have long to remain, and had greatly alarmed her with his statements, as in his condition he was not really responsible, and it was not known what he might do. On reaching home he had given his wife some medicine, which she had requested, and then gone out into an adjoining room, came back into the room of his wife and told her it was the last she would see of him, at the same time swallowing the strychnine, and apparently thought that his wife, who was very sick with pneumonia, would be unable to stop him or attempt to save his life, as he calmly walked up stairs to his room, where he laid down in his bed to await the end.

The wife, although very weak from her sickness, was able to open a window near her bed and called to the little child of George Hall, who was playing in the adjoining yard and asked for help. The neighbors at once ran to the Harrison home, where they were informed of the condition of affairs, and medical assistance was summoned to attempt to save the life of the unfortunate man, and it was with great difficulty that a stomach pump was used. The patient in a short time was taken with convulsions, and these continued for several hours without abatement, until it was thought that his life was merely a matter of hours and minutes, but he is improving at this time, and in all probability will entirely recover within a few days.

Philip Harrison has for years been a familiar figure on the streets of Plattsmouth and has been a most energetic and industrious gentleman, and for a long period of years was engaged in the transfer business, and his team of small mules were a familiar figure on the streets of the city up to the time of his retirement.

The above account of the affair was intended for yesterday's paper, but owing to Mrs. Harrison's serious illness of pneumonia the same was kept out by her request. Mrs. Harrison's friends will be pleased to learn that she is much better and her recovery seems only a question of time.

JUDGE NEWELL MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT WHILE AT HIS RANCH

Judge W. H. Newell, while out at Marquett, Nebraska, visiting the ranch in which he is interested, met with an accident that was both dangerous and painful. He started out of the house where he was staying, after dark, and not knowing that there was a post standing near the door, ran against it, with the result that a protruding nail struck him just below the eye and inflicted a very nasty injury. Although the accident is one that is very painful, it is really fortunate that the nail did not strike him an inch higher or it would probably have resulted in the loss of his eye. He returned home last evening on No. 2 and will have the injury looked after by his physician.

FRANK A. CHEVAL AND ELLEN BOETEL MARRIED AT THE TULENE HOME

At the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Tulene, in the west part of the city, last evening occurred the wedding of Mr. Frank A. Cheval and Miss Ellen Boetel, the ceremony being performed by Rev. F. M. Drulliner of the First Methodist church. The wedding was attended by the relatives of the contracting parties, as well as a few invited friends, who, at the close of the ceremony, showered the young people with their best wishes for their future happiness in their wedded life. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claus Boetel, sr., and is a young lady who possesses a large number of friends in this city, where she was born and reared to womanhood, and in her happiness she will have the heartiest best wishes of all of her friends. The groom is a young man who, since his residence here, has won many friends and is very industrious and possesses the esteem of all who know him. He is a stepson of E. C. Ripple of this city and is at present in the employ of the Burlington in the shops here. The young people will start to housekeeping in the cozy home that the groom has prepared in the First ward, and where they will be at home to their friends.

Apron Bazaar All Day Saturday.

P. E. O. Notice!

Chapter F. P. E. O., will meet with Mrs. Kate Minor Friday afternoon at 2:30.

LAW EFFECTS COMMON CARRIERS IN THE STATE

One Law in Which Stock Shippers Are Interested More Than Any Other Class.

The number of bills passed by the Nebraska legislature affecting railways of the state was much smaller than has been passed by some other legislatures. One bill affects the granting of transportation to caretakers accompanying live stock; another relates to how live stock shall be cared for when in charge of express companies; another specifies how high voltage wires may be strung across railway rights of way; while another appropriates money to enable the railway commission to delve into the rate question.

The bill relating to transportation to be granted caretakers of live stock in transit reads:

"Section 1. That section 6060, revised statutes of Nebraska for 1913, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 6060. That the charge or rate made by any person, company or corporation owning, managing, or operating a railroad in the state of Nebraska, for the transportation of live stock from one point within this state to another point within this state in ear loads, shall include transportation for a caretaker for said stock, either the owner, agent, agents, employe or employes, from the shipping point to destination, and from destination back to shipping point, as follows: Charge for transporting one and not more than six cars of live stock shall include transportation for one person only, and for shipments of more than six cars going on the same train shall include such transportation for two persons; but if said shipment is made in two separate trains or in separate sections of the same train, then one such right of transportation shall be given to such owner, agent or employe for each train or section.

"Section 2. Any person, railroad company, or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and be subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than one thousand dollars, for every violation thereof.

Section 3. Said original section 6060, revised statutes of 1913, is hereby repealed, providing that the repeal of said original section 6060 does not affect any rights or obligations or actions now pending, accruing under and by virtue of said action."

This bill has been signed by Governor Morehead.

EXCITING TIME WITH A TRAMP NIGGER WHO BECOMES VERY "SASSY"

Will Jean, residing a few miles southwest of this city, had quite an experience at his home Tuesday afternoon with a negro who had all the appearance of a real bad man. Mr. Jean was out in his barnyard doing some work when the man came up the railroad track and asked Mr. Jean for a meal, and when informed that there was nothing that could be given him he got very abusive and started for the house, when Mr. Jean stopped him and again informed him that there was nothing for him there. The negro then informed Mr. Jean that if he did not eat, Mr. Jean would not eat very much longer, and being armed with the butt end of a billiard cue, presented a very dangerous appearance. He was ordered to leave the premises, but as Will stepped toward him he reached in his hip pocket as if to draw a gun, and it was something like fifteen minutes before he would start away from the Jean home, going up the Missouri Pacific tracks towards Plattsmouth.

A telephone message was sent to this city for someone to arrest the man, but Sheriff Quinton was out of the city and Mr. Manspeaker being no longer the deputy sheriff, there was no one with authority to go out after him, until Chief of Police Rainey was sent out to search for the man. Although a thorough search of the locality of the Jean home was made it was impossible to find anyone, as the delay in trying to get the authorities had allowed him to get away. It was reported yesterday that a negro answering the same description had been rounded up in Omaha and placed in jail as a bad man. Others in the same locality as Mr. Jean report having seen the same negro along the tracks on Sunday, and he must have spent several days in that neighborhood.
