

THE RED SOX LOSE OUT YESTER- DAY AFTERNOON

The Omaha Aggregation Done Our Boys to the Tune of 6 to 2, Which Was Disappointing to All.

The base ball aggregation representing the McGraw company of Omaha dropped in Sunday afternoon and proceeded to separate the Red Sox team of this city from one ball game by a score of 6 to 2, and at times the situation of the contest seemed almost tragic. The locals were certainly enjoying an off day in every department, as they were unable to either field or hit with any degree of success, and this allowed the visitors to romp away with the victors' share of the gate receipts.

The game opened with every prospect of a win for the home team, as the visitors were retired scoreless, while in the second half the Johnsonites took kindly to the slants of Mr. Weber, the mound artist of the visitors, and scored their two tallies, and from the result of the succeeding innings they were mighty lucky in this. Deal, who headed the batting list, secured a safety, and on the sacrifice of Parriott advanced to the third station, when on the hit of Rockwell to left field he was able to tally one for the Sox. Herold retired on a fly to left, but on the throw-in Rocky was able to register and this constituted the scoring of the Sox, who in the course of the rest of the game operated under the worst possible luck with the breaks going against them, and several hits that looked good were caught by the fast-fielding aggregation of the visitors.

In the second the visitors got busy with their war clubs and this, with a walk, gave them sufficient scores to tie up with the Sox. Holdbrooke was able to get to first on a little hit to second, which was not fielded in time and Weber was given a safe pass to the first sack, and on the two-bagger of Snapp to left field they were able to romp home with the scores that tied the game. In the third spasm of the contest the gasmakers took the lead and checked up another run to their credit. E. Adams was hit by Stimpson and sent to first base, from where he was advanced on the sacrifice of Krug; Moore secured a hit to short, while Penny was not so lucky and retired on a little drive to first base. At this time Adams, who was resting on third, came in on a passed ball, which gave the visitors a much-needed score. Holdbrooke was walked to first and Weber ended the inning by striking out.

There was no further scoring until the opening of the seventh, when the boys from the metropolis proceeded to make another onslaught on the rather demoralized Red Sox. Krug, who opened the fireworks for the visitors, secured a safe one through short, while Penny, who followed, was retired on a little hit to Stimpson that caught him at first base. J. Adams, however, proceeded to break a large hole in the game when he hit over second base safe and scored Krug, but died on the base, as his teammates were not able to bring on the hit needed to score him.

In the opening of the eighth inning the visitors added further to the agony of the encounter by annexing two more to their list of scores, and put one large-sized dent in the hopes of the Sox of winning the game, and while the home team had two chances they were not able to get to the plate, being robbed of several long drives by the fast fielding of the visitors, who in this department of the game were right on the spot all the time.

The Sox showed clearly their lack of batting practice and were not able to hit the delivery of Weber with any degree of success at any stage of the game, and as a consequence will be compelled to endure the pangs of defeat until they are able to tangle with the Omaha boys in the future. Several very raw errors also contributed to the sad story and assisted in swelling the list of scores of the gasmakers.

Pays Visit to This City.

From Friday's Daily.
Deputy Oil Inspector Murphy of Lincoln paid a visit to Plattsmouth yesterday looking over the work for his department, which requires that all oil in the state be inspected by the state as to its compliance with all requirements of the law. Mr. Murphy is a most efficient official, as well as a clever gentleman and one of the chief aids in this important department. Mr. Murphy paid a short visit at the Journal printing establishment and was greatly pleased with the equipment which was a great surprise to him.

Here to Visit Parents.

From Saturday's Daily.
This morning Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDaniel were greatly delighted when their daughter, Mrs. Virginia McDaniel Allen arrived from her home at Los Angeles, California, for a visit here for a time under the parental roof. Mrs. Allen has been making her home on the coast for the past two years and this is the first opportunity she has had of visiting the old home, and it is needless to say that the occasion is one of the greatest pleasure to the parents, as well as the many friends of Mrs. Allen in this city. Mr. Allen is the manager at Los Angeles of one of the large moving picture companies and his time is constantly taken up with the affairs of the movie company, which has its headquarters in California.

A VERY PATHETIC SCENE AT BUR- LINGTON STATION

Alex Hunter Makes a Successful Kidnap of 8-Year-Old Daughter, Which She Resents at Depot.

A very pathetic scene was enacted at the Burlington passenger station on Saturday afternoon, when the little 8-year-old daughter of Alex Hunter, who has, since the death of her mother several years ago, been making her home in this city with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hiner, was taken away on No. 2 by the father to his home in Iowa, and the sobs and protestations of the little one as she was roughly thrust on the train by the father made a deep impression upon the persons on the platform at the time.

It seems that a few days ago the grandfather of the little girl was called to Walthill, Neb., for a few days and the little girl was left in the care of her aunt, Mrs. Claus Boetel, Jr., and it was only a short time after this that the father of the girl came over from Iowa, where he has been making his home, and visited at the Boetel home to see the little girl, and apparently was satisfied with the manner in which she was being cared for, although in the past there had been some controversy between him and the grandparents over the care of the child, and Hunter purchased a number of articles for her. On Saturday afternoon he again called at the Boetel home and asked that the little girl be allowed to accompany him to town to have her picture taken. This Mrs. Boetel did not care to do, and Hunter announced that he was going to take the girl down town anyway, consent or not, and the aunt, through fear of the man, who is of very violent temper, was forced to let her go, as the father promised to bring her back in a short time. He at once came down to the Burlington station with the girl and took her back with him to Iowa.

The story of this little child has been one of tragedy, as when but an infant her mother was found dead at her home, south of this city, having been, it was claimed, accidentally shot, and the circumstances at the time created a great deal of interest and much of the case is still shrouded in mystery. Hunter was some two years ago tried for the murder of a man in Mills county, Iowa, and acquitted of the charge.

It is not known what steps the grandfather will take to regain possession of the child, as he has not yet reached home.

Not Showing Improvement.

From Friday's Daily.
Reports from the St. Catherine hospital in Omaha state that Johnnie Fitzpatrick, who was taken there a few days ago, is not showing any signs of improvement and so far has not shown much change since being taken to the hospital. It has been a hard matter to fully determine the cause of his illness and it will require some time before it can be fully known just what is the cause of it.

Told That There Was No Cure for Him.

"After suffering for over twenty years with indigestion and having some of the best doctors here tell me there was no cure for me, I think it only right to tell you, for the sake of other sufferers as well as your own satisfaction, that a 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets not only relieved me, but cured me within two months, although I am a man of 65 years," writes Jul. Grobien, Houston, Texas. Obtainable everywhere.

FUNERAL OF JOHN FITZ- PATRICK HELD THIS MORN- ING AT CATHOLIC CHURCH

This morning at St. John's Catholic church in this city was held the mass of the church over all that was mortal of John Fitzpatrick, and a large number of the old friends who had in all these years known this estimable gentleman, gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to his memory. The mass was celebrated by Rev. Father M. A. Shine, rector of the church, with all the beauty and solemnity of the Roman service, and at the close the body was borne to the Catholic cemetery, west of this city, where it was laid to rest beside that of the wife, who had preceded Mr. Fitzpatrick in death several years ago. The pallbearers were selected from among the old friends of the departed and were: Chief of Police Ben Rainey, Charles McGuire, B. E. Danner, William Morley, Con Gillespie and Charles McEntee.

Thus passes away his final reward one of the most faithful public servants that the city of Plattsmouth has ever had in its service, and his going brings to the citizens of this community a sense of grief in the loss of one whom they held in the highest esteem through all these years in which he has served as a member of the police department of the city government. Faithful to his duty to the community, Mr. Fitzpatrick remained at his post until the ravages of his malady passed the point of endurance and compelled him to go to the hospital. Peace to the ashes of this kindly old man, whose years of service have just been closed by the messenger of death, and may his reward be as rich as he well deserves.

"THE WINNING OF BAR- BARA WORTH" COMING TO THE PARMELE MAY 3

In present-day theatrical offerings the capabilities of star and supporting company, especially in presentations of the higher class, are not the only qualifications necessary to satisfy the seasoned patron of the drama. The scenic production also comes in for its due measure of criticism or praise, as the case warrants. Even at a time when stagecraft seems to have reached the apex of possibilities the massive scenic splendor of stage mounting of "The Winning of Barbara Worth," which will be presented at the Parmele theater Monday night, May 3, is said to be nothing short of staggering. Those who have read the celebrated book by Harold Bell Wright, from which the play has been made, will be quick to see the great opportunities offered the producers for scenic beauty. The curtain rises on a wonderful desert scene, immediately after a sand storm, in which the father and mother of the heroine have lost their lives. In the second act is seen the city of Barba before the flood and the last act shows the ruin and devastation of the same city after the flood has done its work.

NEW MORTGAGE TAX LAW WILL INCREASE REVENUE FROM TAXES SECURED

The new law passed by the last legislature taxing real estate mortgages will bring into the treasury considerable increase in taxes, adding to the assessment roll, according to Secretary Bernecker of the state board of assessment. The estimate is made by the secretary on a one-fifth valuation which he places at $7,500,000. For several years banks and trust companies have been getting around the law and evading the payment of this tax by subtracting from their capital stock the amount they had invested in real estate mortgages. It is generally supposed that the tax was paid by the mortgagor, but as a matter of fact the mortgages were not listed for assessment and thus escaped taxation, while on the other hand stock went untaxed. The Smith law is not repealed by the new law, H. R. 292, the latter simply correcting the fault.

Getting Along Very Nicely.

From Saturday's Daily.
Harris Cook, who is at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha recovering from an operation for appendicitis, which was performed last Monday morning, is getting along very nicely and expects to be able to return home in a week if the present favorable conditions continue. He has shown constant improvement and it is thought by the attending physicians that the same rate of improvement will be shown in the next few days.

THE BURLINGTON SHOPS ARE VERY BUSY, AND DOING LOTS OF WORK

From Saturday's Daily.
The coming season gives promise of being one of the liveliest that has been had at the Burlington shops in this city, and a great deal of work is being turned out each day by the different departments of this establishment, which, under Superintendent Baird and the force of efficient foremen, have reached a high state of excellence and the men who are skilled at their work certainly show a splendid result for the company in the results attained. The improvements at the shops in the past year in the way of equipment has added very much to the ability to get out the work as rapidly as possible and maintain the high standard that the work of the Plattsmouth shops has attained during the past few years. The new air compressor, which was put in last season at a cost of several thousand dollars, is now supplying air to the different departments to operate the tools, and this overcomes a fault that for some time proved a stumbling block to the shops—that of lack of facilities to furnish sufficient air for the use of the shops.

MURRAY COMMERCIAL CLUB TO PROVIDE A HIGH CLASS ENTERTAINMENT TO FRIENDS

The Commercial club of our thriving little neighbor, Murray, have arranged for a meeting next Thursday evening at the Pals & Gansmer hall in that city which will be a splendid treat to the people of Murray and the surrounding territory and serve to bring together everyone on a common plane and to share the pleasures of the evening with each other. Hon. John W. Steinhart of Nebraska City, prominent in the financial circles of that city, will be present and address the meeting on the subject of "Co-operation Between Town and County," and with the wide experience of the speaker in this line of work his address should prove of mutual helpfulness to the people of Murray and vicinity. In addition to the splendid address a short musical entertainment will be given consisting of several selections from a mixed quartet from Plattsmouth composed of Mrs. E. H. Wescott, Mrs. Mae Morgan, W. G. Brooks and Don C. York. In addition to the work in the quartet Mr. York will also give a solo for the benefit of the victims. The ladies' trio of Murray, a most pleasing organization composed of Mrs. J. W. Holmes, Miss Neva Latta and Miss Mae Loughridge, will render a number of musical numbers. It has been arranged that delicious refreshments will be provided for all attending and those who miss out will regret it all the days of their lives.

At the time of the organization of the Commercial club at Murray it was decided to have an entertainment of this kind, and President Hiatt has worked early and late to provide the people of Murray and nearby country with a high-class entertainment in every way, and at least 300 persons are expected to be in attendance, and everything will be as free as the air and the spirit of good fellowship prevailing throughout the meeting and everyone interested in the development of the town or surrounding country are cordially invited to be present.

MISS MARGARET RUEH- LAND DIES OF PNEU- MONIA IN OMAHA

From Friday's Daily.
This morning the body of Miss Margaret Ruehland, sister of John Ruehland of this city, arrived on No. 6 for burial. Miss Ruehland, who was some 50 years of age, passed away yesterday at Omaha, where she had made her home for many years, being engaged in hospital work in that city, and was quite active up to a short time ago, when she was taken down with pneumonia and grew worse until her death. The body was taken direct to St. John's Catholic church, where services were held, and the interment made in the Catholic cemetery, west of this city. Miss Ruehland will be remembered by a large number of our citizens, as she was a frequent visitor here in the past years with her brother and family.

Purchases New Auto.

From Friday's Daily.
Ed Becker, residing several miles west of this city, has just invested in a fine new Hudson forty, which is a beauty and one of the late models of this make of automobiles. The car was purchased through the medium of P. T. Becker, the agent for this county, and who has disposed of a number of machines to the residents of Cass county.

Purchases a New Home.

From Friday's Daily.
The residence property of Mrs. Christina Burr on West Main street has been disposed of to John F. Clويد, who will at once have it fixed up for rental purposes. This is a very fine location for a home and Mr. Clويد in the future expects to build a new residence on the site. The tract includes the entire block and is a most ideal location for a home, as it has a commanding view and is in first-class shape.

DISTRICT COURT CONVENE THIS MORNING AFTER CELEBRATING ARBOR DAY

From Friday's Daily.
This morning district court convened after a recess over Arbor day, and the first case taken up was that of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co. vs. Charles Quinn. This case comes from Elmwood and involves the settlement of a disputed account between the plaintiff and the defendant. William DelesDernier appears for the plaintiff, while C. S. Aldrich appears for the defendant. The case has attracted considerable attention and much interest has been shown by the residents of the locality where the suit was originated. The case is being tried before a jury to determine the issues involved. A portion of the jury panel has been excused until next week, while a part of them were retained here for service.

HAS LIVED IN SAME NEIGHBORHOOD FOR FIFTY-NINE YEARS

B. F. Hoback of near Union was in the city yesterday transacting business at the court house. Mr. Hoback is one of the oldest settlers of Otoe county, having come to Nebraska City in May, 1854, with his parents. His father first farmed the plot of ground upon which now stands the School for Blind, and later moved to a farm a few miles west of the city.

In 1856 Mr. Hoback moved to a farm near Union on the Otoe-Cass county line and since that time has lived within a mile of that place. Mr. Hoback yesterday, in conversation with a representative of the Press, stated that he had not been outside of the state to exceed three months during that time.

He is always a conspicuous figure at the annual old settlers' picnic at Union and last year when the management asked all visitors present who had come to Nebraska in the '50s to come to the platform, Mr. Hoback headed the list in being the earliest settler present. A group picture was taken of the pioneers. He promised to come to the next Old Settlers' reunion to be held in this city and renew acquaintances of many years.—Nebraska City Daily Press.
