The Car That Can Do Things Without Excuses

The Buick Valve-in-head motor is guaranteed to deliver more power than any other type of motor, either American or foreign make, of equal size.

A demonstration will satisfy the most skeptical that the Buick is without equal in performance in the popular priced car world.

Another Record Breaker

Following the 8 trainloads of Buick cars shipped into Nebraska, Western Iowa and Southern South Dakota in January and February, Buick dealers have ordered 728 Buick cars to be shipped into this territory during the month of April. Deliveries can be made to suit the convenience of the buyer.

JUDGE E. F. GRAY, PROMINENT NEBRASKA ATTORNEY, DIES AT SIOUX FALLS, S. D.

Yesterday afternoon a message was received by Attorney W. A. Robertson informing him of the death at Sioux Falls, S. D., of his father-in-law, Judge E. F. Gray, and that the funeral services would be held tomorrow at the old home at Fremont, Nebraska, and Mr. and Mrs. Robertson departed this morning for that place to make arrangements for the funeral. Judge Gray had not been in the best of health for the past year, and this necessitated his giving up his practice at Fremont several months ago, and since that time he has been making his home at Sioux Falls with his daughter, Mrs. Etta Jones, and it was there that he passed away yesterday morning. Mr. Gray was one of the pioneer attorneys of Dodge county, Nebraska, and at the time of his retirement was the dean of the bar in point of service. He was also prominent in the legal history of Idaho while it was a territory, having prepared the criminal code of that commonwealth. The judge was well known to many of the attorneys in this city, who will learn with the greatest of regret of the loss to the legal profession of this distinguished member, and to Mrs. Robertson the sympathy of the entire community will be extended in her loss of a kind and loving father. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three daughters, Miss Vesta Gray of Hanford, California; Mrs. Etta Jones of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Mrs. W. A. Robertson of this city.

Mrs. William Hunter, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolf, of Avoca, were among those going to Omaha this morning, where they will visit for the day. Mr. and Mrs. Wolf arrived yesterday for a visit at the Hunter home, Mrs. Hunter being a sister of Mrs. Wolf.

OFFICE OF J. H. McMACKEN IS THOROUGHLY OVERHAULED AND DECORATED

The office of the firm of J. H. McMacken has in the past few weeks undergone a most thorough overhauling and has been redecorated and fitted up in a manner that is most neat and tasteful and makes a very cozy office room for the firm. The walls of the room have been decorated by J. M. Vondran in a shade of light blue that makes a soft light for the eyes, while the woodwork has been touched by the brush of the skilled decorator and has improved wonderfully the looks of the establishment of this enterprising firm. One of the big improvements made in the room is that of the large cabinet reaching from the floor almost to the ceiling of the room and extending along the entire north end of the building, in which the famous McMacken collection of curiosities and souvenirs has been placed for safe keeping, as it is treasured by the family as it was the proudest possession of their father, Col. J. H. McMacken. This is the work of Frank Konfrst, the carpenter. This collection, the result of years of labor on the part of Mr. McMacken, is certainly one of the best in this section of the state. It includes many rare Indian relics of beads, weapons and different stone instruments used by the early inhabitants of this section of the country, as well as a large number of guns, swords and other articles that saw service in the war of the rebellion and which have a peculiar interest to the younger generations who are not familiar with the times of the war. It is really a treat to visit the office of Mr. McMacken and look over the collection, as it is both entertaining and instructive to the student of history.

MR. JOSEPH ZATOPEK AND MISS MARY BELOHLAVY UNITED IN WEDLOCK TODAY

This morning County Judge Beeson, at his office in the court house, was called upon to unite in the bonds of wedlock Mr. Joseph Zatopek and Miss Mary Belohlavy, both of this city, and the marriage service was performed in the usual impressive manner of the judge and left with the young people a sense of the responsibilities they were assuming in joining together their lives as one. The bride is a daughter of V. E. Belohlavy, one of the prominent residents of the northwest section of the city, and has been reared to womanhood in this city, where she possesses many friends who will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Zatopek many happy years of wedded life.

HUNGARIAN COUNTESS THANKS SUNDAY SCHOOL FOR THEIR DONATION

When the citizens of the United States were engaged last November in preparing to send to the war-ridden nations of Europe Christmas remembrances for the little ones, the Methodist Sunday school of this city became active and were able to secure a large number of articles which were shipped on the "Jason" to the unfortunate little ones across the sea. It seems that the boxes from the Plattsmouth Methodist Sunday school were given out to the children of Hungary, as a letter just received through the United States department of state returns the thanks of the Hungarians for the remembrances. The letter is signed by Countess Tisza, wife of the Hungarian premier, who has charge of the relief work in that section of the war-ridden Austria empire. In her message the countess states: "Best thanks from the Hungarian children for your kind Christmas presents. We have made many little ones happy with them. God bless you. Countess Tisza."

Surely the spirit of charity and love makes all the world akin and the joy of the little children of Hungary will be a source of pleasure to those in this city who contributed to the Christmas boxes for Europe.

Luck Not Always Bad.

The store of E. A. Wurl of Plattsmouth, Neb., was visited by a burglar last week and a small amount of cash taken. Entrance was gained through the basement. This is the first time this store has been visited by thieves during the night, but it is not an uncommon item in this department, for nearly every week we report some store robbed. It will be remembered that Mrs. Wurl was the lucky retailer's wife who drew a set of Haviland china dishes at the recent Market Week event in Omaha, so their luck hasn't always been bad.—Omaha Trade Exhibit.

A POEM WRITTEN IN HONOR OF OUR OLD FRIEND, WM. BUSTER

The following poem written in honor of our old friend, William Buster, of Ashland, and formerly a resident of this county, as well as a contribution from the pen of Mr. Buster, has been sent to the Journal, and we take pleasure in printing them in order that they may be enjoyed by the old friends of Mr. Buster in this county. The poems were exchanged at a birthday celebration of Mr. Samuel Lippincott, an old union soldier, held at his home at Memphis, Neb., a few weeks ago, and at which Mr. Buster was a guest of honor. The poems are such as will be appreciated by the old soldiers, especially:

To William Buster, who wore the gray,
Your card was received and thanks, I say.

To you, old soldier, who adorned the gray,
Who done your duty from day to day,
Now that those days are gone and past

And peace has come to our country at last,
The battles are fought and our marches o'er
And we hear the boom of the cannon no more.

And as today, under one color we stand,
The dove of peace flies o'er our land
Cooing of love and of feast,
And of past differences we are thinking the least.

We gather today around the oyster on the shell
And many is the story our friend will tell
Of the bygone days that are gone and past,
As we sit around the table at this repast.

Samuel Lippincott.

To Samuel Lippincott, who wore the blue,
Your card was received—and many thanks to you.
You spoke the truth when you did say
That William Buster wore the gray.

I wore the gray—and wore it well,
As records true, to you will tell.
In the late rebellion I did my part
And fought you Yanks with all my heart!

You whipped us—true, you whipped us well;
I admit the case—the truth I'll tell!
But there is One who'll judge some day
Between the blue—the blue and gray!

When worldly troubles—worldly strife,
Shall cease to bother in this life;
And when we reach that heavenly place,
I'll without fear submit my case.

William Buster.
P. S.—A postscript I would add before
I overlook it—I'm seventy-four.

To Start Booming.

Different reports from railroad heads at Chicago and other places state that three of the most important western railroads will ask the different labor employment agents for some 10,000 men, starting about the first of May, these men to be used in not only additional track building, but in general maintenance work which will be made necessary on account of the excessive western traffic the coming year. According to the reports, the Burlington will employ some 2,000 men; the Union Pacific, starting about June 1st, will employ 4,000, and the Rock Island, Missouri Pacific and Northwestern roads together will employ an additional 4,000 men.

Will Wehrbein and wife came up this morning from their home near Murray and were passengers on the early Burlington train for Omaha, where they will visit for the day, looking after some matters of business.
