

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S DREAM AT VALLEY FORGE

The Father of Our Country Has Vision and Dream Which May Be Fully Verified as Time Goes On.

A great many readers of the Journal have doubtless heard at different times of the wonderful vision or dream of George Washington, the Father of His Country, at Valley Forge during the revolutionary war that won for us our independence...

7:50—Washington's Dream. Little Sioux, Iowa, June 18, 1880. I see a request for Washington's dream, and, as one of my neighbors chanced to have it, I borrowed the paper containing it, and take the liberty to send you a copy of the dream.

Washington's Vision. "The last time I ever saw Anthony Sherman was on the 4th of July, 1859, in Independence square. He was then 99 years old, and becoming very feeble; but though so old, his dimming eyes rekindled as he gazed upon Independence hall, which he had come to gaze upon once more before he was gathered home."

"Let us go into the hall he said. I want to tell you an incident of Washington's life—one which no one alive knows of except myself; and if you live, you will before long see it verified. Mark the prediction, you will see it verified."

"One day, I remember it well, the chilly winds whistled through the leafless trees, though the sky was cloudless and the sun shone brightly; he remained in his quarters nearly all the afternoon alone. When he came out I noticed his face was a shade paler than usual, and there seemed to be something on his mind of more than ordinary importance. Returning just after dusk, he dispatched an orderly to the quarters of the officer I mention, who was presently in attendance. After a preliminary conversation, which lasted about half an hour, Washington, gazing upon his companion with that strange look of dignity, which he alone could command, said to the latter: 'I do not know whether it is owing to the anxiety of my mind or what, but this afternoon as I was sitting at this very table engaged in preparing a dispatch, something in the department seemed to disturb me. Looking up, I beheld standing opposite to me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, a third, and even a fourth time did I repeat my question, but received no answer from my mysterious visitor except a slight raising of the eyes. By this time I felt strange sensations spreading through me. I would have risen, but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered volition impossible. I essayed once more to address her, but my tongue had become powerless. Even thought itself suddenly became paralyzed. A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily vacantly, at my unknown visitor. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as though becoming filled with sensations, and grew luminous. Everything about me seemed to rarify, the mysterious visitor herself becoming more airy, and yet even more distinct to my sight than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or rather to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think, I did not reason, I did not move; all were alike impossible. I was only conscious of gazing fixedly, vacantly, at my companion.

"Presently I heard a voice saying: 'Son of the Republic, look and learn,' while at the same time my visitor extended her arm eastwardly. I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance rising fold upon fold. This gradually dissipated, and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay spread out in one vast plain all the countries of the world—Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw rolling and tossing between Europe and America the billows of the Atlantic, and between Asia and America lay the Pacific. 'Son of the Republic,' said the same mysterious voice as before, 'look and learn.' At that moment I beheld a dark shadowy being like an angel standing, or rather floating, in mid-air between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand, he sprinkled some upon America with his right hand. Immediately a dark cloud raised from each of these countries, and joined in mid-ocean. For a while it remained stationary, and then moved slowly westward, until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning gleamed through it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American people. A second time the angel dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean, in whose heaving waves it sank from view. A third time I heard the mysterious voice saying: 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' I cast my eyes upon America and beheld villages and towns and cities springing up one after another, until the whole land, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, was dotted with them. Again I heard the mysterious voice say: 'Son of the Republic, the end of the century cometh, look and learn.' At this the dark, shadowy angel turned his face southward, and from Africa I saw an ill-omened specter approach our land. It flitted slowly and heavily over town and city of the latter; the inhabitants presently sat themselves in battle array against each other. As I continued looking, saw a bright angel, on whose brow raised a crown of light, on which was traced 'Union,' bearing the American flag, which was placed between the divided nation, and said: 'Remember, ye are brethren.' Instantly the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons, became friends once more, and united around the national standard. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying: 'Son of the Republic, the end of the century cometh, look and learn.' At this the dark shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth, and blew three distinct blasts, and taking water from the ocean, he sprinkled it upon Europe, Asia and Africa. Then my eyes beheld a fearful scene. From each of these countries arose thick black clouds, that were soon joined into one. And throughout this mass there gleamed a dark, red light by which I saw the hordes of armed men, who, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sailed by sea to America, which country was enveloped in the volume of the cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country and burn the villages, towns and cities that I beheld springing up. As my ears listened to the thundering of cannon, clashing of swords, and shouts and cries of millions in mortal combat, I again heard the mysterious voice saying: 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.'"

"When the voice had ceased, the dark, shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth, and blew a long, powerful blast. 'Instantly a light, as if of a thousand suns, shone down from above me, and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment I saw the angel upon whose head still shone the word, 'Union,' and who bore our national flag in one hand and a sword in the other, descend from heaven attended by legions of bright spirits. 'These immediately joined the inhabitants of America, who, I perceived, were well-nigh overcome, but who immediately taking courage again, closed up their broken ranks, and renewed the battle. Again the fearful noise of the conflict. I heard the mysterious voice saying: 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' 'As the voice ceased the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the inhabitants of the land victorious. 'Then once more, I beheld villages, towns and cities springing up where they had been before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried in a loud voice: 'While the stars remain, and the heavens send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the republic last.' And taking from his brow the crown, on which blazoned the word 'Union,' he placed it upon the standard, while the people, kneeling down, said 'Amen.' 'The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and I at last saw nothing but the rising, curling vapor I had at first beheld. This also disappeared, and I found myself once more gazing on my mysterious visitor, who, in the same voice I heard before, said: 'Son of the Republic, what ye have seen is thus interpreted. Three perils will come upon the republic. The most fearful is second, passing which the whole world united shall never be able to prevail against her. Let every child of the republic learn to live for his God, his land and the Union.' 'With these words the vision vanished, and I started from my seat and felt that I had seen a vision wherein had been shown me the birth, progress, and destiny of the United States. In union she will have her strength, in disunion her destruction.' 'Such, my friend,' concluded the venerable narrator, 'were the words I heard from Washington's own lips, and America will do well to profit by them.' Wesley Bradshaw.

ELMWOOD. Leader-Echo. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kettlehut of near Lincoln came down last Sunday to see the new girl at the home of Ollie Spratt. 'Martin, one of the twin boys of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith, ran a pitchfork tine in his large toe, making a very painful wound. The bacalaureate services will be held in the new M. E. church May 16; the graduation exercises will also be held there Thursday, May 20. The several cases of scarlet fever that had been reported in the country are all better, the patients are doing nicely and no new cases have developed at this time. The village board met Monday evening in regular session, and the newly elected members were duly installed. These were: E. H. Penterman (hold-over), Dr. J. M. Neely and A. J. Bedson. Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Spratt are rejoicing because of the arrival of a fine little daughter at their home on May 1. The proud parents have the heartiest congratulations of their many friends. A. H. Wollen expects to commence the erection of a fine large barn on his farm nine miles south of town next week. The dimensions will be 48x54 with 20-foot posts for the main portion. Chas. Peck has the contract for the carpenter work. Dr. and Mrs. Fred Evans of Sioux Falls, S. D., arrived Friday evening overland in their touring car and visited until Saturday evening at the home of the latter's brother, P. J. Marshall, and family. They went from here to Weeping Water for a short visit with relatives there before returning home. Mrs. Van Fleet returned on Monday from the meeting of the Home Missionary society in Pawnee City, where she received a banner for the local society of the Elmwood M. E. church for the best work done in the district and the most money collected during the past year. She also attended a meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society and visited many relatives in Thayer county before returning home.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of Those Ugly Spots. There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.
