

Scenic Route to the Expositions

When planning your trip to the Expositions bear in mind that the Union Pacific affords you a larger variety of routes to select from than any other line to the Pacific Coast.

Its route lies through the richest sections of the West. You have the selection of a direct route to San Francisco, or to Los Angeles thence to San Francisco, or to Spokane, Portland, Tacoma and Seattle with choice of rail or steamship of the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company between Portland and San Francisco.

A complete circuit tour includes both Expositions and one way via the North Pacific Coast. This tour costs $17.50 more than the regular reduced price round trip Exposition fare, but it is well worth the money for it enables you to see the best in the West in a single trip.

Union Pacific

The Cool, Comfortable, Northern Route to Both Expositions

Double tracked, automatic electric block safety signals, and a selection of seven splendidly equipped daily trains to the Pacific Coast—shorter and faster than any other line, Omaha to California and Pacific Northwest, allowing more time for sightseeing on the coast.

Stop over at Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake City without extra expense. For slight additional expense during the season you can visit Rocky Mountain National Park, Colo., Yellowstone National Park, Lake Tahoe and Yosemite National Park.

Cut out the coupon and mail today for Exposition Guide books which you will find helpful in planning your Western trip.

IN PLATTSMOUTH FORTY YEARS AGO.

Seven carloads of hogs were shipped from here Monday by Charles Holmes and Sam Barker.

Farmers tell us that if the present wet spell continues two or three weeks longer, it may injure small grain.

Miss Carrie Bennett returned to Plattsmouth on Saturday last, the commencement exercises of Brownell Hall, which school she has been attending, closing the day before. Miss Carrie has attended to her studies very closely and has made rapid progress, we understand.

We are glad to hear that our harness maker, J. G. Chambers, has taken a contract to furnish fifty sets of harness to John Fitzgerald, the work to be done as quick as possible; business looks lively at Chambers' shop now-a-days.

Frank Guthmann, well known here as one of our old merchants, will soon change places with J. V. Weckbach and resume his old business, the mercantile persuasion. Mr. Weckbach retires on account of his health, and proposes to go into some outdoor business.

O. F. Johnson got whole shoe box full of pills the other day. Now Bushnell, if you get the "ager again." We asked Dr. Livingston which was "the worst pill in the box," having so often heard of this pill. He said the last pill would be the worst one in that box.

Last Wednesday afternoon during a severe thunderstorm, D. D. Johnson of Weeping Water and a Mr. Incline, his miller, were proceeding on the road from this place to Weeping Water, when near Mr. Carnes place a bolt of lightning struck Mr. Incline, killing him instantly, it paralyzed Johnson and rolled him off the seat. As Dan went over he threw up his hands, and flung the reins out on the prairie. A boy in the hind end of the wagon tried to get them, but being unable, jumped out. The horses, thoroughly frightened, were running at full speed. When Johnson came to he saw the horses were making for a deep slough full of water, and fearing he would be drowned rolled out of the wagon, and lay insensible for some time in the road. Reviving a little, he crawled down to where the horses had stuck in the slough, got one out, mounted it and rode to the nearest house, where he fainted again. In the meantime the boy had aroused other neighbors, who came on horseback, and rescuing the other horse, finally got Johnson, and with the body of Incline, proceeded to Weeping Water. Mr. Johnson is seriously injured, and his recovery was for a long while doubtful.

that he is getting along remarkably well.

Mrs. A. L. Harlan has been very seriously ill for some time, and the physicians decided that a surgical operation was the only means of affording relief. Dr. Rix of Omaha was called to assist in the operation last Friday, a tumor being removed, and we are pleased to state that the patient is getting along nicely.

E. B. Taylor is wearing a black eye since Tuesday, when the crank slipped off a small gas engine and rapped him one on the cheekbone.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Halmes, accompanied by H. D. Reed, left Tuesday night on a land exploring trip through Texas and New Mexico.

Miss Dolie Gregory returned home Monday evening from Omaha, where she spent two weeks visiting with her sister, Mrs. Jennie Rhoads.

Will Carter came in Monday from Cozad to look after some business matters and to ship his household goods to Cozad, where they will make their home.

Word was received here of the death of Charles Cozler, who died at his home in McCook, Neb., on April 30. Charley was well known in this vicinity, having lived here for many years.

Mrs. John Mulick and her friend, Miss Rasmussen, of Omaha, were visiting at the Mayor Gorder home Wednesday. Mrs. Mulick visited the school and met many of her former pupils.

Prince, the faithful family horse belonging to Mayor Gorder, died Sunday night. No cause is known unless it should be heart failure on account of the mayor buying an auto last week. Maybe the faithful old horse thought his services would no longer be needed and took the matter seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Cole left by auto Tuesday morning for Rising City to attend the funeral of Mrs. L. D. Cole. Mrs. Cole was formerly Miss Julia Lemmon and was well known in Cass county, especially in the vicinity of Rock Bluffs.

The stork seemed to be busy the first of the week, as three visits were made in the community and at each place a fine young daughter was left. The visits were: Sunday, May 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Reynolds, west of town; Tuesday, May 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, in the southeast part of town; on Wednesday, May 12, to Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Sloan at the home of Mrs. Sloan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McNamee, in town. We learned also that the stork left a baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parr Young on Saturday, May 1.
