CHAPTER XXI. Complications.

BRENT turned away up again to the window seat crying, "Oh, this is unbearable!" Ethel said quite calmly: "Is it? Your wife all over again, eh?"

Let us be honest with each other, Ethel," said Peg.

Mrs. Chichester looked at the flushed face of the young girl, at the mass of curly hair that had been carefully dressed by Bennett for dinner and was now hovering around her eyes unkindly. The old lady straightened it.

"Can you not keep your hair out of your eyes? What do you think will become of you?" "I hope to go to heaven, like all good people," said Peg.

"What is it?" asked the old lady. "I say what is it?" "What is what?" asked Peg. "Is it that you don't wish to improve? Is it that?"

"I'll tell you what I think it is," began Peg helpfully, as if anxious to reach some satisfactory explanation. "I think there's a little devil in me, isn't there, an' every now an' again he jumps out?"

"A devil?" cried Mrs. Chichester, horrified. "Yes, aunt," said Peg demurely. "How dare you use such a word to me?"

$100 Reward, $100 The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in her curative powers that they offer the Hundred Dollar reward for any case that it fails to cure. were left alone. Peg went right over to her and looked at her compassionately. "What do you mean?" said Ethel, with a sudden contraction of her breath.

"You like Mr. Brent, don't you?" So the moment had come. The little spy had been watching her. Well, she would fight this common little Irish nobody to the bitter end. All the anger in her nature surged upward as Ethel answered Peg, but she kept her voice under control.

"Certainly I like Mr. Brent. He is a very old friend of the family!" "He's got a wife?" "He has!" "An' a baby?" "Yes—and a baby." Ethel was not going to betray herself. She would just wait to see what course this creature was going to take with her.

"The devil doubt it but it's old. I'm not so sure about the respect. Why doesn't he kiss me aunt's hand as well?" Ethel could not control herself much longer. It was becoming unbearable. As she crossed the room she said with a little heat as possible: "You don't understand."

"I don't see why the common people should have all the decency and the aristocratic pose." "It is impossible to talk to you. I was foolish to have stayed here. You don't understand. You never could understand!"

"I should think not, indeed—running about all over the place." Mrs. Chichester held up an open telegram. "Mr. Hawkes telegraphs he will call tomorrow for his first report. What can I tell him?"

ISSUES FLAG DAY PROCLAMATION

Governor Specifies June 14 as Time For Honoring Old Glory.

CALLED TO SCHOOLS' NOTICE.

Balance in State Treasury Greater Than in Previous Month—Oldest Notary Asks to Continue in Office Governor Will Deliver Address.

Lincoln, June 3.—June 14 has been designated as Flag day by the governor of Nebraska. It being the 128th anniversary of the birth of the nation's emblem, and that the day may be fittingly celebrated, the Governor has issued the following proclamation:

"The observance of Flag day is being more and more recognized as the years pass. It is of especial interest to the children and youth of our land and affords an opportunity to impress on the minds of all the significance of our banner.

"The stars set in the field of blue keep fresh in the mind the union of states in the formation of the republic and its thirteen stripes recall the heroism of our forefathers and mother in their efforts to establish the government under which we have lived and prospered.

"I, therefore, as governor of the state, urge that Monday, the 14th day of June, of the present year, be set apart as Flag day, and ask that the flag be displayed from the state capitol building, school houses and various state institutions throughout the commonwealth and by citizens at their homes and places of business; that flag drills be conducted by the schools where convenient, and that a general display of the flag be seen everywhere, that a wholesome and genuine respect for law and obedience to order be cultivated in the hearts of our citizenship.

"There is no more beautiful sign of the perpetuation of the republic and its institutions than the fact that the people of this country, of all classes, whether native or foreign born, honor the flag and put their lives and property in jeopardy for its defense."

Oldest Notary Asks For Blank. D. C. Cole has written the secretary of state asking for a blank that it may secure the necessary freshetters in order to be commissioned as a notary public. Mr. Cole was first commissioned by Governor Alvin Saunders in 1864, when the state was a territory, and has continued as a notary public ever since, having been commissioned eight times. He desires to continue as long as he is alive and hold the record in the notary public race for longevity.

OSTEOPATHY IS NOT MASSAGE

It gets to be a threadbare explanation that Osteopathy is not massage, and yet we have to make it over and over, for many people hold to such opinion. Osteopathy is neither a "scientific form of massage" nor any other kind. It is a complete school of medical practice, although not using drugs as a remedial agent, and it might employ massage as an adjunct, just as any other school does when massage happens to be required. But do not confuse this broad science of natural medicine with the limited art of masseur, for they have very little in common, except that both are performed with the hands. But, then, the hands are used to do most anything, so that it is not sufficient apology for saying that "Osteopathy is only massage."
