Ed Ruffner's new house looks very handsome from the corner of Main street. It is a decided improvement to the town.

Our foreman and deputy, Will and Rush, spent a couple of days last week out on Cedar Creek and at Louisville, and they report that of all the good times, they never saw any better. The girls are all well.

Frank Stadter is going to paint a full-size life portrait of our new mayor with his third term robes on. Councilman Waymen and Johnson will frame it and it is to be hung over the official chair of state. We feel encouraged for Grant now.

Rock Bluffs.—The first of a series of match games was played on our grounds today, between the Rock Bluffs base ball club and the Lone Stars of Dresden, under the government of Scott Hale of Nebraska City, who was chosen umpire, and A. Lacy, scorer. The score stood: Rock Bluffs, 47; Lone Stars, 18. Captain.

Owing to lack of space last week we omitted several personal notices, which although late in the day we shall still give space to. Among them we are sorry to chronicle the departure of Mr. Philippi and wife to Council Bluffs, although for his own sake we ought to rejoice, as we understand it is a change for the better.

Almost all of our teachers have left school, and the town and—the young men look deserted. Miss Shelton and Miss Ruby have gone to their home in the county. Miss Butterfield to Omaha, and Mrs. Gardner to visit friends in Big Rapids, Mich. No more grand horseback rides and gay doings for two months, anyway.

We saw a very fine gray stallion on the street the other day. On inquiry we found he belonged to A. M. Holmes of Rock Bluffs. He is five years old, half Norman and English Coach horse, is not so stocky as the pure Norman, with plenty of bone and muscle; he has more life and action, weighs 1,500 pounds, and is not fat. Altogether he seems a mighty likely horse, and the kind that our farmers need to improve and give weight to our present stock.

The grading for the new machine shops is rapidly nearing completion.

The site now selected and already surveyed by Mr. Calvert, takes in the big spring and two lots running lengthwise up the hill towards Wintersteen's. At the summit of these a huge tank will be built supplying water to all the works below, and to the town if necessary, same day. It takes the old mill, and this wonderful, complicated, and useless old structure will be removed from our sight and remembrance. It also takes the buildings and lots of Mr. Edgerton and where Savage lives. The machine shops proper will be 160x45, instead of 60x45, as the Watchman stated a week or two ago, built of brick with stone foundation. The buildings altogether are to be of superior make and will be permanent, substantial improvements, for both town and railroad company.

Our usually quiet Sundays are a credit to Plattsmouth, but the last one was broken of its dull monotony about 4 p. m. A man by the name of Thompson, who some time ago had a little fallout with the Saunders House, walked into the office of said house, and after waking the clerk, Dodge, from his afternoon nap, demanded the whereabouts of his wife, who has been working in the laundry. Dodge told him he knew nothing of his wife, and told him to leave the house and not make so much noise. Thompson refused, when Dodge seized the poker, and didn't hit him, but told him to leave again, which he still refused to do and demanded to know where old Gregory was. Frank Gregory came up at this point and told him to leave the house, which he again refused and Frank summoned Marshal Murphy, who arrested him and cooled him off. An information was filed by Mr. G. next morning and he was brought before Judge Gass, who upon examination fined him $5 and costs, amounting to $12.95, and to stand committed till paid. Mr. Chambers, his employer, paid the costs and he has gone to work again.

Lawyer Sam Chapman has had seven cases in the supreme court—for which the Herald has printed briefs—within the past few weeks.

A Mr. Kinsey here, unfortunately became deranged about two weeks ago. He escaped from the house in the night, ran to the depot, climbed up a ladder left standing, jumped into the window from the porch and attacked the night watchman, known as "Scotty," with Mr. Latham's chair. The upper part of the chair coming off he threw that at Scotty and grabbed the other, when the watchman struck his arm with the poker and disabled him. The next day Sheriff Hyers with great trouble got him to Lincoln and the asylum. He was very violent at the asylum, he kicked an attendant down stairs and seemed endowed with superhuman strength.

There has been quite a little railroad racket out at Red Cloud. Mr. Fitzgerald's men got on a strike, wanted to be fashionable, like their eastern neighbors. William Stadelman, who arrived at Red Cloud on Monday evening, writes: "I was too late to get the 'bus' going up town and had to foot it—about a mile—and carry my carpet sack and a pair of blankets. After walking a quarter I overtook James O'Neil. We had not gone more than 200 yards when we met squads of men coming from town, one of which surrounded us and ordered a 'halt.' They had guns and revolvers which they handled very carelessly. I told the leader we were homesteaders going home. They said it is all right so long as you are not railroad men. Coming up town we found the track-layers had struck and had a big fight; broke up one saloon, nearly killed one man, and wounded several others. Hurrah for the frontier!"

Among the attorneys present at this term of court are: Mayor Tom Stevenson, Nebraska City; Hon. T. M. Marquette (in and off like a flash, as usual); T. B. Wilson of Asland; Mr. Hart of Council Bluffs, and Hon. F. Gaylord of Omaha; Covell of Nebraska City; Foxworthy of Lincoln. OMAHA COUPLE MARRIED AT THE HOME OF WILLIAM BUDIG

Saturday evening the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. William Budig, on Wintersteen Hill, was the scene of a very pleasant wedding ceremony, when Mr. Morse Rivers and Miss Letta Anna Myers of Omaha were united in the bonds of holy wedlock. The marriage occurred at 7 o'clock and was performed by Rev. J. H. Steger of the St. Paul's Evangelical church in a most impressive manner, as he united for life the hearts of these worthy young people in the most solemn of life's undertakings. The ceremony was witnessed by the members of the family and Mrs. Clark of Omaha, a friend of the contracting parties, who arrived on No. 14 to attend the happy event. Mr. Budig was very careful in seeing that the nuptial knot was tied properly and that the newly weds were started on their matrimonial voyage in proper shape. The bride is a niece of Mrs. William Budig and is a lady of rare attainments, who is held in the highest esteem and affection by those who have the pleasure of her acquaintance. The groom is well known in this city, where he was employed some four years ago in the Burlington shops, and is a young man of splendid character and well deserving of the charming helpmate he has secured. The newly wedded couple expect to make their home in Omaha in the future.

PETER MADSEN RETURNS FROM HIS NORTHWEST TRIP

Peter Madsen, who has been visiting in the Pacific northwest for a month past, has returned home to this city feeling that he has had one of the most pleasant events of his life in the great trip through the mountains and on the coast country and the different large cities there. While en route out to Spokane, Washington, Mr. Madsen paid a visit to the home of his son, Henry, at Red Lodge, Montana, and found him in the best of health and doing nicely and in love with that country. At Spokane Mr. Madsen visited with another son, Emil, and spent some time taking in the sights of this section of our great commonwealth and its wonderful resources and manufacturing concerns.
