

ARE IMPORTANT CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Matters That Involve Large Sum of Money and Perhaps Long Litigation.

From Saturday's Daily. In the district court a suit has been filed entitled James L. Wiles vs. Sollie C. Keckler, Hula P. Keckler and Ralph L. Keckler. In his petition plaintiff alleges that he recovered at the June term of the district court a judgment against Sollie C. Keckler in the sum of $6,334.44, which remains unpaid and unsatisfied at the present time. He further states that the defendant, S. C. Keckler is insolvent and that the defendants, Sollie C. Keckler and Hulda P. Keckler, on March 17, 1915, made and executed a deed transferring some land to Ralph L. Keckler, with the intent to avoid payment of the judgment and the petition asks that the deed made to Ralph L. Keckler be declared null and void and set aside and that the land be sold to satisfy the judgment held by plaintiff. C. A. Rawls appears as attorney for plaintiff.

A suit entitled George E. Dovey, administrator of the estate of Edward G. Dovey, deceased, vs. Frank E. Schlater, administrator of the estate of Jane A. Dovey, deceased, has also been filed and the petition is a very large one, covering some thirty-two pages. In this the plaintiff sets forth that the judgment in the county court in which the share of Jane A. Dovey in the estate of Edward G. Dovey was fixed at $54,297.64, is unjust and that the lower court did not have the jurisdiction to pass on the case as presented. The case involves the matter of the interest that Mrs. Jane A. Dovey held in the estate of her husband, who died in England in 1881, and which estate was in charge of George E. Dovey as administrator, from 1881 to the present time. On the death of Mrs. Dovey the heirs of her estate, through their administrator, filed in the county court a demand for a report on the estate of Edward G. Dovey to determine the interest held in the estate by Mrs. Dovey, and the finding of the county court was as stated above, and for this the plaintiff is appealing to the district court.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE THAT SHOULD BE REMOVED AT ONCE

The old frame house on Washington avenue, near the German Home, which in years past has been the rendezvous of many floating characters and is a nuisance in general, is now rapidly approaching a state where it really should be torn down as a public nuisance and an eyesore to everyone traveling up and down the avenue. Several times the Plattsburgh Turn-Verein, whose property adjoins the old house, have sought to purchase it, but were unable to secure a title and the old shack has stood as a black mark against that section of the city, as it is really only fit for kindling wood. Surely there should be some legal method by which the old shell could be condemned and torn down, as it is almost certain that the persons who owned the house in the past will not care to expend the sum necessary to put it in repair, and there is something over $200 in unpaid taxes on the property, which must be settled before the property could be transferred. If there is any way in which the old house could be gotten rid of surely it ought to be taken up by the city and cleared away and the lot made into a small park if it cannot be sold to some of the residents in that section. There is really only a fraction of a lot to the place and the only persons who could use the land to any advantage would be the German Turn-Verein.

HOLLY ORCHESTRA PLAYED AT UNION LAST NIGHT

From Saturday's Daily. The Holly orchestra last evening played in our neighboring town of Union at the Becker hall at a social dance which was largely attended, and the members of the orchestra, who made the trip via automobile, report the roads as being very good considering the wet weather. The orchestra will also play at Union during the Old Settlers' Reunion next month.

ARM FRACTURED WHILE ENGAGED IN CRANKING AUTO

From Saturday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon while Frank Blotzer, jr., was engaged in cranking his automobile at his home, west of this city, he was so unfortunate as to have his right forearm fractured. The accident was caused by the crank flying back and allowing the arm of Mr. Blotzer to strike the radiator of the car, with the result that it was fractured in a painful manner. The injured young man was brought to this city, where the arm was set and the patient made as comfortable as possible, but it will be several weeks before the arm is in condition where it can be used.

FINGER CHOPPED OFF IN SPLITTING KINDLING

From Saturday's Daily. Yesterday Herman Weisse was engaged in splitting some kindling with a hatchet at his home and he was unfortunate enough to get the middle finger of his left hand in the road of the descending hatchet, with the result that the upper part of the finger was almost completely severed, hanging only by a small piece of the skin. The injured member was dressed by Dr. Cook and the patient made as comfortable as could be expected under the circumstances, but in the future he will see that his hands are not in the danger zone when he starts in chopping kindling.

JESSE N. ELLIOTT HAS RETURNED HOME FROM THE OMAHA HOSPITAL

From Saturday's Daily. Jesse N. Elliott, who for several weeks past has been at St. Joseph's hospital in Omaha recovering from the effects of a broken leg received in an accident on a farm near Cedar Creek, has returned to his home near that place and is recovering there from the effects of his injury, although the leg is far from well and it will be several months before he gains the use of it. The break in the bone of his leg was a very severe one and quite difficult to set, but it is hoped that in a few weeks it will knit together sufficiently to allow him to get around a little, but the injury will be a long time in healing.

DEATH OF W. B. REED OF COUNCIL BLUFFS, IOWA

From Saturday's Daily. A message was received here this afternoon by Mrs. P. E. Ruffner announcing the death of her brother-in-law, W. B. Reed, which occurred at the hospital in Council Bluffs this noon, where he has been for a few weeks past suffering from diabetes, and despite all that could be done he gradually grew worse until death came to his relief. Mr. Reed was about 60 years of age and was for years one of the leading residents of Council Bluffs and for two terms served as county treasurer, as well as secretary of the Commercial club of that city. A few years ago he removed with his family to Omaha, where he made his home up to the time of his last illness, when it was his desire to be taken back to the Iowa city, where he had for so long made his home, and under the care of his physicians pass his last hours, and this was done in accordance with his wishes. The funeral will be held in Council Bluffs and the burial made there in the family lot.

A VERY PRETTY MOVING PICTURE SHOW OF HOME TALENT

From Saturday's Daily. This afternoon a very pretty moving picture drama was staged in this city by the Superior Film Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, and the participants in the feature were composed entirely of local talent. The play is entitled "The Man at the Throttle," and through the course of the play a charming love story was woven that will make it most interesting to the lovers of a drama of this kind, and an automobile accident is staged as one of the features of the play and it took place on Main street this afternoon at 1:30. The role of the general superintendent of the railroad, "Bernard Powers," was taken by C. C. Parmele, while Miss Nora Rosenkrans appeared as "Helen Powers," his daughter. As "Jack Manning," the lover of Helen, Byron Arries appeared, while his rival, "Jim Hilton," was taken by Charles Dovey. The role of chief of police was filled by Chief William Barclay. A part of the play was taken in the Burlington railway yards, where a most thrilling scene was staged and where the hero rescued the girl he loved. The big play required some 2,000 feet of film and as soon as fully arranged will be shown here at the local theaters. Messrs. Schlaes and Peterson of the Mid-West Amusement Co. secured this production at quite a cost and with a view of giving the people here something new and novel in the moving picture line.

BIG CARNIVAL COMPANY ARRIVES AT NOON TOMORROW

From Saturday's Daily. The big S. W. Brundage Carnival company, with its great array of fine attractions, will arrive in the city tomorrow about noon, coming in their special train of some nineteen cars over the Missouri Pacific from Auburn, where they are showing this week, and the big shows will be unloaded and set up on the grounds near the ball park. The unloading of the shows will be a great sight and well worth seeing and they will be gotten in position for the opening on Monday at the carnival grounds. A big week is anticipated and the company will do their utmost to live up to their reputation as one of the best and cleanest show companies in the business.

WET WEATHER CONTINUES TO FRET THE FARMERS AND OTHERS

From Saturday's Daily. The wet weather jinx seems to stick right with the residents of this section of the west and the downpour is the heaviest that has occurred for years in this state. Another very soaking and heavy rain fell here at an early hour this morning and added its efforts to the many preceding rains that has held back the crops and also delayed harvesting on account of the amount of moisture which prevails. The older residents of the community report that not for years has so much wet and chilly weather been had in this county at this time of year, and usually there is a cry for rain during July and August from the farmers, but this year there has been no need of such complaint and now a large number are wondering just when the cold and wet weather will end, to be followed by the famous old Nebraska corn weather, with plenty of heat and sunshine. The continued bad weather has also raised havoc with the plans for the Saturday entertainments in this city, as the days set aside for the public amusement are usually the worst of the whole week and certainly is discouraging to the committee that has been working on the plans for the different events.

ESTATES FOR SETTLEMENT IN THE PROBATE COURT

From Saturday's Daily. In the county court a number of petitions in probate matters have been filed before Judge Beeson. Mrs. Gertrude Carper has filed a petition in the court asking that the estate of her husband, Anderson L. Carper, be probated and, further stating that the estate consists of personal property of the value of $6,000. The petitioner asks that she be appointed as administrator of said estate. The heirs are the petitioner and three minor children. Attorney C. A. Rawls appears as attorney of the estate.

In the estate of Ernest Huebner, deceased, a petition has been filed by Mrs. Minna Huebner, the widow, asking that the estate of the deceased, who died on June 10, 1915, be admitted to probate and asking for the appointment of R. C. Wenzel as administrator. William A. Robertson is the attorney for the petitioner.

THE STORK LEAVES A FINE BOY AT THE HIRZ HOME

From Saturday's Daily. This morning at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hirz, near this city, a fine new son and heir made his appearance and was welcomed by the delighted and happy parents in a royal manner. The mother and little one are both doing nicely and the proud father is just as happy as it is possible for anyone to be. The event will be most pleasing news to the friends of this estimable family, and the young son and heir receive their heartiest best wishes for a long and happy life.

A FINE BALLOON ASCENSION AT THE NOON HOUR TODAY

From Saturday's Daily. The first balloon ascension, given as a part of the Saturday program of amusement and entertainment, as planned by the citizens and Commercial club, occurred this noon, when Mr. Jameson, the aeronaut from the Twin City Amusement company, made a most successful ascension. The start was made from the lot on Washington avenue and the aeronaut was able to ascend several hundred feet before it was necessary to cut loose, and he landed on the farm of Tom Stokes, just this side of the river. The wind from the northwest made it hard to ascend as high as was desired, but the danger of landing in the Missouri river made it necessary to have the drop made much quicker than was intended. While going up Mr. Jameson performed on the bar of the parachute in a thrilling manner. The second ascension will be made this afternoon at 5 o'clock from the lot on Washington avenue.

HENRY ROBINSON IS QUITE SERIOUSLY INJURED TODAY

From Saturday's Daily. Henry Robinson, who is employed as a driver for the firm of H. M. Soennichsen, this noon met with a rather serious injury when he was preparing to unhitch his team at the home of Mr. Soennichsen. He was just ready to stop for the noon hour and had driven his team up to the residence of his employer to put them up when the horses started to run and Mr. Robinson, after throwing the brake on the wagon, started to jump, and as he did this the brake was suddenly released and flew back, striking Mr. Robinson and injuring him in a most painful manner, and as he hung from the handle of the brake he was dragged quite a distance before the team was stopped, and he was bruised and injured quite painfully, which, in addition to the wound inflicted by the handle of the brake, will lay him up for some time. He was taken to the office of a surgeon and the injuries dressed and he will be compelled to take an enforced rest for a few weeks.

THE RED SOX DO UP ANOTHER OMAHA BALL BUNCH

Red Sox Have a Hard Time Getting an Omaha Team Down Here Who Can Hold Them Level.

In a rather wierd contest yesterday afternoon the Red Sox succeeded in their assaults on the Krajaeck team of Omaha, and secured the long end of the 13 to 2 score, the locals playing a fast and furious game throughout, and at no time did the visitors have a look-in, and what chances came their way were spoiled by rank errors on their part. The members of the Hose aggregation started the swat-fest in the opening inning and succeeded in accumulating two runs to their credit. Beal, who headed the batting list of the Sox, was retired on a short grounder to third base, which resulted in his being thrown out at first; Parriott was passed to the initial sack by Kaufmann, and on the drive of Herold to second reached the third station; Mason struck out; Pitman hit to short and was safe on an error, while Parriott and Herold both registered at the plate; Greko hit safely over second base, but Pitman ended the show by being tagged at the third sack.

In the second inning the locals again took kindly to the slants of Kaufmann, the hurler for the visitors, who was decidedly up in the air, and annexed three more runs to their credit. L. Smith opened the inning by a safety to center field; Parker struck out; Craig was given a pass to first and was followed by Beal, who with a timely poke to left field advanced the runners, but Smith perished at the home station by being tagged by Gallagher; Parriott secured a timely hit to right field that brought both Craig and Beal home; Herold slammed one to the first sack, and on an error was safe; Mason made a line drive along third base that brought in Parriott; Herold was put out at home, ending the inning.

In the third inning the visitors took on a lease of life, when through the combination of a walk and an error they were able to secure a lonely tally, but the Sox came right back in their half and touched up the boys from the metropolis for five more runs. Pitman started the doings by placing one to short which was allowed to go through for a safety on an error; Greko followed with a safety through third; L. Smith was whiffed by Kaufmann; Parker shoved the pill on the nose for a single to right field, on which Pitman scored; Craig hit to third and was safe on the juggling of the ball by Brodbeck; Beal slammed one to second which was dropped by the demoralized second sacker, and Greko scored; Parriott drove a hot one to first, on which Parker registered at home, and when an error was made on the hit of Herold to third, both Craig and Beal came home, but Herold was tagged at the second station.

The visitors, taking advantage of the fact that the locals were kidding a little with them, brought in their second and last score in the seventh frame of the battle.

In the eighth inning the representatives of the crimson hose registered up three more runs just for practice and were assisted by the Krajaeck's in a number of costly errors. Craig opened with a clean hit to left field;

Beal hit to third and was safe on the error of Brodbeck; Parriott then bunted and was safe on a wild heave of Brodbeck to first, on which Craig scored. Herold was out on a foul to Gallagher, which the catcher nailed after a hard run, and Beal came in on the throw in. Mason struck out and Pitman cleared the bases by a hit to center that brought in Parriott, but he died at first, as Greko struck out.

FINE DANCE AT GERMAN HOME LAST SATURDAY EVENING

The dance given Saturday evening at the German Home in this city was one most enjoyable in every way to the large crowd attending and a most pleasant time was enjoyed until a late hour in dancing to the sweet strains furnished by the Plattsburgh orchestra under the leadership of Tom Svoboda. The occasion was one filled with much pleasure and was free from all disorder or anything that might detract from the pleasure of the evening.

Traveling Man's Experience.

"In the summer of 1888 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from 4 a. m. to 6 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At 5 o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took a train for my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W.
