A BALTIMORE YOUNG MAN VISITING THE WEST

A Relative of the Hirz Family, and Thinks Plattsmouth Is a Very Progressive Little City.

Walter Reed Irving of Baltimore, Maryland, is in town visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hirz and family. Mr. Irving arrived in Plattsmouth on July 2 from Chicago, where he had spent a week with relatives. On his arrival he went to the farm of Henry Hirz, sr., on the Louisville road, and quickly adapted himself to the gentle art of farming, and was soon to be seen in overalls and straw hat shocking grain and plowing corn.

This is the third visit of Mr. Irving to Plattsmouth, the two former visits being in October, 1911, and July and August, 1912. While here in 1912 he was generally known to the farmers in this section as "the Baltimore Kid." He then stayed at the homes of Henry, John and Philip Hirz.

Mr. Irving was favorably impressed by Plattsmouth and Cass county. He says that Plattsmouth is a young and progressive city and did not seem to be tied down by any superfluous laws. In Baltimore, he says, they have never repealed the old "blue laws," which prohibit the sale of anything on Sunday, and do not allow baseball to be played within the city boundaries, and that even the amateur games are under the ban, and even dancing and theaters are forbidden in that city. He stated that he was glad that somewhere people were allowed a little freedom and that the wants of the many were not subjected to the wishes of the few.

When in Baltimore Mr. Irving was employed by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company in their printing department. While he did not visit the mechanical department of the Journal he said that he thought it to be an up-to-date paper and enjoyed reading it very much. He goes to Chicago this afternoon for a week's visit.

JOE HUNTER IS SUFFERING FROM ILLNESS AT HAVELOCK

At an early hour this morning a telephone message was received here by J. R. Hunter announcing the fact that his son, Joe Hunter, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis, and that an operation would be necessary this morning in order to give him relief from his suffering. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunter and son, Paul, departed this morning on No. 15 to be present at the hospital when the operation will be performed. The family were unaware of the illness of the young man until the message calling them to his bedside was received. The many friends here of the young man will trust that he may recover from the operation.

FAMILY REUNION AT THE A. W. WHITE HOME

The home of A. W. White and wife in this city is the scene of a very pleasant family reunion this week, as their children have gathered with them to spend a few days very pleasantly in visiting with the father and mother. Ralph White came in this afternoon from Victoria, Texas, to join his wife and baby daughter who have been here for some time, and will spend the coming week with the family here. Mrs. J. C. Thygeson and babe of Nebraska City and Mrs. Frank Burgess of Cedar Rapids, Neb., are also here for the reunion, and with all the family home the occasion is a most pleasant one to Mr. and Mrs. White.

The Cool, Comfortable, Northern Route to Both Expositions

Colorado and the Rockies, Echo, Weber and Ogden Canyons. The Great Salt Lake region, where the Mormons have made history. Nevada of latter day gold fame. Truckee River Canyon and Lake Tahoe, the most beautiful of all mountain lakes. Donner Lake, where so many emigrants perished just previous to the California gold rush in 1849. Emigrant Gap, another forty-niner landmark, and also the head of the beautiful American River, the most picturesque of California rivers. The view down the canyon is superb. Blue Canyon and Dutch Flat, the immediate region which produced sixty-five million dollars in gold in 1852. Sacramento, Berkeley, Oakland and then the gorgeous San Francisco Bay, covering 300 square miles, which you skit for an hour when you travel this route.
