We have received a copy of the Cincinnati Enquirer containing a notice of the presentation of a handsome buggy and harness to Judge J. W. Fitzgerald, by a few of his personal friends. Judge Fitzgerald, son and daughter, as will be remembered, visited our Mr. Fitzgerald a short time ago, and shortly after his return, while riding, he met with an accident which injured him quite severely, and totally demolished his buggy, hence the presentation by his friends, as a token of their regard and thankfulness for his escape. In the course of his remarks thanking them for the same, Judge Fitzgerald took occasion to remark that during a long period of public service he had always refused to receive testimonials of any kind, for acts of public duty performed, but as this gift was entirely of a private nature he for once departed

Maurice Fitzgerald who is now under indictment for assault with intent to kill was taken out on habeas corpus last Friday and tried before Judge Sullivan. After a prolonged argument on both sides the judge admitted him to bail in the sum of $1,000. No bondsmen as yet has appeared. Since the present indictment McNell, the man assaulted, has died and his case is now one of murder. We presume the state of the jail here had some influence on the judge's mind in allowing bail at all. Fitzgerald claims that the confinement is injuring his health.

Sacrificing Goods at Almost Your Own Price!

WE NEED THE ROOM IN OUR STORE!

The masses of the people of Cass County do not realize the obstacles that the average business man has been confronted with during the past few months, in the endeavor to carry on business. The weather has not only been against the farmer, but the business man also. One loses money in handling the crops the other in handling his goods. One has lost by the wet weather in the field the other by having his goods on the shelf. Now we will stand

STILL GREATER LOSSES,

For we must move the goods in our store at this time, and we are willing to forget all chances of a profit, and even cut many articles below the first cost to move them now. All over this entire store you will find

A YELLOW TAG OF REDUCTION!

This tag does not only apply to a few articles, but will be found on every article in the house. Some of the greatest values that have ever been offered you in Dry Goods, Shoes, Ladies' Suits and Dresses, Coats and all Wearing Apparel for the Entire Family!
