

THE LIBRARY SITE IS SET- TLED AMICABLY

And as Soon as the Mumm Residence
Can Be Removed the Work on
New Building Begins.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The settlement of the library question, as far as location is concerned, now leaves the way open to the consummation of what has been for years the ambition of our citizens, and that is a proper public library building that can look after the needs of the reading public of the city and be a monument to which the city can point with pride.

The architect is preparing plans that will be sent to the Carnegie corporation in New York for their final approval, and the work can then be commenced on the building. In making the design for the building the library board and architect have striven for a building that will be of a substantial and neat appearance and one that will be an ornament to the city and an object of pride to its people. It will be, if the design fixed upon proves satisfactory, of a style of architecture that is largely used in the libraries of other towns of this size, with a main entrance which is reached from a small flight of steps, and two huge columns of stone will support either side of the entrance to the main building, while on the front large full length windows will be placed to furnish light and add to the architectural beauty of the structure, and on either side of the building the windows will be wide and placed in such a position that it will be possible to allow of shelving for the books to be placed beneath these windows and save space. The changing desk will be placed in a position in the building where it can command a view and keep the librarian in touch with those who are using the library.

The children and adults will have their books in separate departments, as well as a general reading room where those who so desire may pass a few hours in the day reading. The reference room, where the works which students or others desiring to look some matter up can find books at their command and be assured of a privacy where they will be free from interruption. The ground floor of the building, where it is proposed to locate an assembly room and museum, will be provided with a main entrance, as well as an emergency entrance for use when necessary.

The building, when placed on the Mumm corner, will be in a commanding position and be an object of beauty to the city that will be in a position to attract the attention of those visiting the city and convenient to the business part of town and the price paid for the lot will leave the library board with funds to aid in securing many new books that are badly needed.

THE FEDERAL GAME LAW WILL NOW BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

From Wednesday's Daily.

With the approach of the open season for shooting wild fowl, the United States Department of Agriculture is warning sportsmen that the federal regulation as amended October 1, 1914, will be strictly enforced. The department will consider any recommendations submitted in good faith for amendment of the regulations, but will hold no public hearing thereon, nor will it amend the regulations prior to October 15, 1915. It is the purpose of the department to conform the regulations to the wishes of the majority of sportsmen so far as it can be done and at the same time give wild fowl the necessary protection. Federal regulations divide the United States into two zones. Zone No. 1, the breeding zone, includes the states of Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and all states north of them. Zone No. 2, the wintering zone, includes all states south of those named.

CLARENCE MEISINGER'S RESI- DENCE ON WASHINGTON AVE.

One of the neat new homes of the city that will be an improvement to the general appearance of the locality is the new bungalow being erected on Washington avenue by Clarence Meisinger. The new bungalow is located just east of the residence of Mr. Meisinger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Meisinger. This new home will add greatly in the appearance of that section of the city and shows that the spirit of improvement is still on the boom in this community.

LIBRARY RECEIVES A USEFUL ADDITION TO COLLECTION OF BOOKS

From Wednesday's Daily.

The Plattsmouth public library has just received a gift in a work that will add very much to the splendid line of reference books on the shelves of the library, and this work is "The Catholic Encyclopedia," which will give the patrons of the library an opportunity of getting a standard work covering subjects on which the ordinary encyclopedia does not give one as clear an insight into. The work is in seven volumes and is not in any way confined to religious subjects or church work, but takes up the subjects that can be found in any of the standard works of reference and the arrangement of the subjects has been prepared under the direction of the master minds of the world. In covering the matters pertaining to the Catholic church the work is very complete, and to the student and scholar whose lines of study cover this subject he can find here the greatest opportunity of securing a full and complete insight into what he may desire. This splendid collection of books comes to the public library as a gift from the members of St. John's parish of this city and will be found one of the most complete and best work that has ever been installed in the public library, which has many subscribers of the Catholic faith, to whom the use of the encyclopedia will be found invaluable.

AUXILIARY IS ENTER- TAINED BY MESDAMES MARTIN AND MORGAN

From Wednesday's Daily.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church were entertained in a most delightful manner yesterday afternoon by Mesdames J. B. Martin and D. C. Morgan, at the home of Mrs. Martin. This is the first meeting of the autumn season and there was a large number of ladies in attendance, who are now anxious to get to work after their summer vacation. A very interesting business session was held, at which time committees for the coming year's work were selected and various plans for the year were made. On account of the business session taking up the greater part of the afternoon, no musical program was arranged, but little Miss Catherine McClusky contributed a recitation and a song, which were greatly enjoyed by those present. The hostesses then served some delicious refreshments. A few moments devoted to a social time and then the ladies dispersed, very much indebted to the hostesses for the splendid afternoon afforded them.

Not Known in Plattsmouth.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The friends here of the Janda family have been much worried since the appearance in the Omaha papers of the account of the death of Joe Janda at Child's Point, near that place, as it was feared that it was one of the members of the family who had formerly resided in this city, but an investigation of the matter has failed to show any relationship between him and the Janda family in this city.

Rev. A. F. Ploetz and wife of Scotland, S. D., who have been here visiting with relatives and friends for a few weeks, departed this morning for their home.

CONVENTION OF NEBRASKA WOMAN'S CLUBS

Which Meets in Norfolk on Tuesday,
September 28, and Continues
for Four Days.

From Wednesday's Daily.

The annual convention of the Nebraska Federation of Woman's clubs, to be held in Norfolk September 28th to October 1st, inclusive, promises to be notable not only in point of attendance, but for its exceptionally strong program and the presence of an unusual number of nationally known speakers. The federation has never presented a program that covers more generally its several branches of effort, or that illustrates better the wide scope of endeavor of the several thousand club women of Nebraska.

Perhaps the most conspicuous guest will be Mrs. Percy Pennybacker, of Austin, Texas, president of the National Federation. Mrs. Pennybacker is one of the brilliant leaders of the woman's movement of today, and is known across the continent. Mrs. H. L. Keefe, of Waltham, Neb., is another of the national officers who will be present. Mrs. Keefe is a past president of the Nebraska Federation, as well as a former director of the General Federation, who for her strong work has been retained in the executive councils of the national body.

Dr. Rachel Yarrow, of Hull House, Chicago, will be another of the celebrities. She will speak on "The Mission and the Problems of Social Settlement." This is to be one of the features of the meeting, especially as the Nebraska club women are just now giving special attention to social work and social problems.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, also one of the national committee members, will present "The Club, the Middle-Aged Woman's University," and Mrs. F. H. Cole, of Omaha, chairman of the civil service committee of the national organization, will talk on the work of that important committee, the stereopticon to be used in illustration.

There will be conferences for the various departments and committees; and also an art exhibit which will be an attractive feature.

The meetings will be held in the First Methodist church, and about 400 visiting women are expected to be present. The growing attendance of men at the state conventions is one of the gratifying developments and one that is encouraged by the women. Delegates will be entertained in the homes of the local club women for lodging and breakfast, and the local committee, with the co-operation of the Commercial club and the business men, is planning several features for the visitors.

THE BASE BALL TOURNA- MENT AT GLENWOOD, IOWA

From Wednesday's Daily.

The opening game of the Glenwood base ball tournament was staged yesterday afternoon, with Plattsmouth and Tabor as the contenders for the honors, and in the battle the team representing this city was overwhelmed by a score of 8 to 2, although the Plattsmouth boys outthrew the Tabor aggregation, but several errors and misjudgments gave the Iowa team the victory. Barney Bardwell, who done the pitching stunt for the locals, was in good form and deserved a win for his efforts, as he was as good as Hall at all stages of the game, but the support given the Iowa pitcher was much better and enabled him to win with ease. Will Mason covered himself with glory in the game by knocking the ball over the fence, but owing to ground rules he was limited to a two-bagger on the hit. As the Plattsmouth team was leaving on their return to this city the Red Oak and Glenwood teams were struggling over the second game in the tournament, and in which the Red Oak team proved the winner.

Rosencrans & Bonner will run another excursion to Chase county on Monday evening, September 12th. Watch for further announcements.

If you want to boost the town,
Bring its citizens renown,
Just mention that you saw it in the

It will help the advertiser;
It will show that you are wiser,
More considerate than the average

It is just a little favor,
But it leaves a pleasant flavor
If you mention that you saw it in

You'll encourage local trade,
And the home town merchant aid,
While the editor will cut a merry

And the mail order concern
Smaller dividends will earn,

MRS. HENRY HEROLD ENTERTAINS LADIES OF ST. MARY'S GUILD

From Wednesday's Daily.

The ladies of the St. Mary's Guild yesterday afternoon were entertained in a most delightful manner at the home of Mrs. Henry Herold, and the occasion was one of the most delightful that it has been the pleasure of the Guild ladies to enjoy for some time and marked the opening of the fall season of work for the church. The large and commodious porch of the Herold home was made the scene of the pleasant gathering and here tables had been arranged that were most tastefully arranged with bouquets of handsome flowers and made a very pretty touch to the general decorative scheme. The afternoon was spent in sewing, as well as visiting and discussing the plans that might contribute to the betterment of the church work to which the Guild has dedicated themselves. At a suitable hour a very tempting luncheon was served that was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the ladies in attendance. The opening of the fall series of meetings was very gratifying in the point of numbers who were in attendance and promises well for the future of the church work.

FROM ST. PAUL, MINN., TO TEXAS BY AUTOMOBILE ROUTE

From Wednesday's Daily.

Saturday evening a party of automobile tourists arrived in this city, being en route from St. Paul, Minnesota, to Texas, where they expect to spend some time, and the party was well prepared for the enjoyment of the trip, carrying a full camp equipment, such as tents and cooking utensils, and along the route they will make camp and enjoy a leisurely journey to the southland. They had left St. Paul on Tuesday and were having the best of success in their trip, with but one mishap, which occurred to them at the railroad crossing just this side of La Platte Saturday afternoon, when one of the cars was struck by Burlington train No. 2, but fortunately none of the party were injured in the least in the accident. The auto party were not acquainted with the running time of the trains and when approaching the railroad crossing did not see any signs of the train, and as the car came onto the crossing the engine was killed by the jar and the driver, not thinking over the route in the guide book when in a few seconds No. 2 swung in sight around the bend, and being a few minutes late was going at a high rate of speed and was too close to stop before striking the car. The members of the auto party attempted to get the car off the track and had all but one of the front wheels off when the locomotive struck it and took off the tire on the wheel and busted the front fender, but otherwise the car was all right and was brought on into this city, where the damage was repaired and the journey continued. The party camped near the Jean school house, southwest of the city, for the night.

In placing a commercial course in the High school the board of Education are seeking to make the schools meet the needs of the people of Plattsmouth. Every year there are large numbers of the young people of our city going to Omaha for this kind of training, when they should get this work in the local High school. This is a new departure for us, but only following the lead of scores of other towns of the state, many of that are smaller, that are offering commercial training.

The work as outlined in the course above will cover four years. It is the purpose of the school authorities to make this work very thorough and right. We hope to turn out young men and women, graduates of this course, capable of rendering efficient and adequate service to their employer. Any student seeking this course because he feels that it will be an easy means of escape from work will be disappointed.

Upon examining the course as presented above offers a selection or election of courses rather than of subjects. The College Preparatory course will fit students who plan to go to college or the university after finishing High school. The Normal Training course is for those who plan to teach after completing High school. Those finishing this course will also be eligible for entrance to the university or state normal schools without entrance examinations. Those desiring employment in commercial fields will find it to their interest to take the Commercial course.

Parents should consult with the superintendent or High school principal relative to the courses which they desire their children to take. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Eggenberger will be in their offices Friday and Saturday afternoons from 1:30 to 5, for the purpose of conferring with parents or students who may wish to talk over any part of their work for the coming year.

There are one or two regulations to which the attention of pupils and parents are directed:

First. No High school student will be permitted to carry work in the High school and at the same time tutor work outside of school.

Second. Any student coming to the close of the first semester in his or her senior year with more than five points credit to earn will not be permitted to attempt graduation.

Four subjects will furnish plenty of work for the average student if they give them the time and study they should, and certainly five subjects will be all one will wish to carry.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO FORMER PLATTS- MOUTH CITIZEN

Harland Snyder, of Lincoln, son of O. H. Snyder and a brother of H. E. Snyder, formerly of this city, met with a serious automobile accident Monday, August 30th. It seems that Mr. Snyder, who is in the electrical supply business at Lincoln, and his business partner, and a couple of gentlemen friends were driving about Lincoln and were about to collide with an auto truck and another car, and in trying to get out of the way failed to see a train approaching and their car collided with the train before they realized what had really happened.

All four were thrown out of the car, but Mr. Snyder was the only one receiving any injury, the other three escaping with just a few scratches. Mr. Snyder was hurried to a hospital at Lincoln, where he still lies in a very precarious condition. Both of his lower limbs have been paralyzed by the accident, and the attending physician says that there is some hope of his being able to walk again. Mr. Snyder's mother, Mrs. O. H. Snyder, of Chicago, who is very well known in this city, having resided here for a number of years, has been called to his bedside. Harland was but a mere lad when he resided here with his parents, and the many friends of the Snyder family will be sorry to learn of this most distressing accident, but trust that his condition may change for the better and that he may regain the use of his limbs.

MISS MILDRED CUM- MINS TO TEACH IN M'COOK SCHOOLS

Miss Mildred Cummins, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Cummins, who graduated in the class of 1915 at the University of Nebraska, has entered on her school work for the year by taking the position as English teacher in the High school at McCook, which is one of the leading educational institutions in that section of the state, and they are fortunate in securing the services of Miss Cummins to carry on their work, as her preparation at the state university has well fitted her for the position. Miss Emma Cummins will also take up her music work this winter at the University School of Music at Lincoln, and advance herself in the line in which she has such talent. The friends of these two young ladies, while regretting to lose them for the coming season, will be pleased to see that they are advancing in their chosen lines.

LOUISVILLE PRIS- ONERS BOUND OV- ER BREAK JAIL

Young Fellows Seem to Have Some Experience, Both in Getting in and Also Out of Jail.

The two young men who were brought here Tuesday morning to answer to the charge of breaking into the hardware store of Noyes & Merriam at Louisville Sunday evening, were arraigned yesterday at the court of Justice M. Archer on the complaint preferred against them by the county attorney. The two boys, Raymond Howe and Grant Ball, each entered a plea of guilty to the charge preferred against them and were bound over to the district court at its next session, when they will probably be sent to the state reform school to spend a few years, as they are only 17 years of age and both very young-looking lads. The court placed their bond at $500 each, and in view of their inability to furnish this they were remanded to the care of Sheriff Quinton and will remain in jail until their case is disposed of by the district court.

A case like this seems very sad, when it becomes necessary to deprive two boys just verging into manhood of their liberty for violation of the laws of the state and send them to an institution which, while to satisfy the demands of the exacting laws they have violated, will probably not result in the improvement of the young men. An institution such as is maintained in other states—a state reformatory—is certainly needed in Nebraska, where the cases of boys like these can be looked after and efforts made to bring them into the right path, as one of them, the Hall boy, has already served in the reform school, and it has failed to do him any good.

The two boys, after their hearing, were taken back to the county jail and confined in the women's ward on the second floor, as the main jail is occupied by the men who were implicated in the Union robbery, and the law will not allow the keeping of the reform school prisoners with the others, and it was necessary to transfer the boys to the top floor of the building, and from there some time last night or early this morning the boys took flight and made good their escape.

The boys had dragged their cot over under one of the small windows in this ward of the jail that was just about large enough to allow of a small person getting through, and had gotten this window open, and using their blanket as a rope slid down to the ground and got away without an alarm being made of their escape. The window which the boys escaped through has no bars over it and was evidently not fastened in securely, as the nails used were small and it had come out without much trouble, as there were no tools or instruments used in prying it open. Hans Seivers, the janitor at the court house, first noticed the blankets hanging from the window on the north side of the jail as he came to work shortly after 6 o'clock, and at once notified Sheriff Quinton, but the lads had made good their escape and were gone for some time, evidently.

A reward of $10 for their apprehension has been offered by the sheriff and an effort will be made to locate them. Young Howe, the larger of the two boys, was very much downcast by his experience in court yesterday, while the other boy was not apparently affected by the prospect of serving another term in the reform school. Ball was dressed in blue overalls and jumper and wore a gray checked cap, while Howe wore a pair of khaki pants with a dark brown coat and brown hat.
