

REX SOX DEFEAT DE VOL'S VICTORS OF THE BLUFFS

From Tuesday's Daily. Yesterday afternoon the Red Sox copped their eighteenth straight victory of the season when they captured an excellent game from the De Voll Victory of Council Bluffs who early in the season had defeated the Sox, but the boys from the Bluffs were not in the same class with the Plattsmouth followers of the national pastime and were blanked by a score of 5 to 0.

In the opening inning for the visitors Jones was walked while Cline was warming up for the onslaught on the Iowans, but Jones' lease was short lived, as he was caught stealing second by Herold and retired and the two following players were retired in order.

In the second the Sox scored their first run of the game when Mason was walked by Ford, the mound artist of the Bluffs team, and was advanced to second on the sacrifice of Parker; Smith was out on an easy one to second base, and here is where Pitman busted up the Victors by a double to right garden, on which Mason came home with a tally. This inning saw the finish of Mr. Ford, whose carterator was not working right, and he retired to left field while Guinee was called in to try and stop the onslaught of the Sox.

There was nothing more doing in the scoring line until the seventh inning, when another run was chalked up for the home team, and this after Pitman and Beal had made out on high flies to left field. Parriott, following Beal, had his batting eye busy and smacked one of Guinee's curves for a safety, and later pilfered second, and when Graham hit to right for a safety, came home. Herold was out on a long drive to left field, which Ford gathered in after a sensational run.

In the eighth the locals heaped on the humiliation by annexing three more to their lead, when Cline was given a least of life by an error by Mahoney at first; Mason, in attempting to sacrifice, was out on a pop-up fly to Guinee; Parker then laid down on the ball for a drive to the right garden, and when Smith connected for a hit over third Cline scored; Pitman was retired, Guinee to Mahoney, but Beal done the job for the Sox by a hit to left that scored Parker and Smith and ended the festal occasion with a crushing defeat for their erstwhile rivals, as the Victors were unable to solve the delivery of Cline to any effect.

This game was a benefit for Harry Craig, the first sacker of the home team, and as a result of the efforts of his friends and teammates he will receive a neat sum, as the receipts of the home team were donated to him. The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

SECOND CROP OF STRAW-BERRIES FOR THIS SEASON

From Tuesday's Daily. The season of 1915 will long be remembered as one full of freaks and wonders in the production of fruit and vegetables, and especially in the fact that this season there has been a tendency to produce more than one crop in the way of fruit, and that this has been the case was demonstrated yesterday when Mrs. J. C. Peterson presented the Journal publisher with a fine box of strawberries which had been picked at their fruit farm south of this city, and is the second crop of the year, and as fine as any you could find in the state at any time. Riley Jones is another who is having a second crop, as he was out this morning in his blackberry patch and gathered several fine luscious blackberries, which is not bad for Nebraska to produce on September 6th.

STRANGERS EN ROUTE FROM CHICAGO TO KANSAS CITY, STOP HERE

From Tuesday's Daily. Gustave Krueger and Charles Boege, both of Chicago, who are engaged in traveling from their home city to Kansas City by motorcycle, arrived in Plattsmouth Saturday afternoon and remained over Sunday here for a rest before continuing on their way to the Missouri city. They were compelled to stop here for repairs, as one of the machines had burned out its clutch and it was necessary to secure new repair parts here, which were furnished by H. Steinhauer & Son, the Excelsior agents. They were compelled to lose only about eighteen hours from their schedule time. This is the first trouble the boys have experienced of any kind since they left the Windy City a week ago. Since leaving Chicago they have toured northern Iowa, and made stops at Sioux City and Omaha and came from the metropolis of Nebraska to this city. They left here at 11:30 Sunday morning and expect to make the trip to Kansas City and return to Chicago Wednesday. Both are jolly good fellows and while here were guests of the local Excelsior agents.

GREAT TOURNAMENT OF KATOLITY TURNERS

Katolity Sokols Tournament Brought Many Visitors and Everything Passed off Pleasantly.

From Tuesday's Daily. The fourth annual tournament of the Katolity Sokols, which was held in this city, reached its climax Sunday at noon, when the hosts of this splendid Bohemian order from Omaha and South Omaha arrived on their special train at 12:40 and swelled the great crowd in attendance at the K. S. hall and park in the west part of the city, and a great parade of 1,000 of the members of the turning society moved over the main street of our city shortly after the arrival of the special train from Omaha. The visitors were met at the Burlington station by the members of the local K. S. society, headed by the Bohemian brass band and the delegations from Dodge and other towns in the state, with their large turning classes, while the South Omaha delegation brought with them a splendid band, which, with the band of the local society, discoursed sweet music as the parade moved west on Washington avenue to Locust street and thence to the K. S. hall. The parade was in charge of Joseph Stenik as grand marshal and was headed by Mayor Richey and Chief Barclay, as well as the members of the city council in automobiles, and following them came the band and delegations from Omaha and Dodge and the Plattsmouth K. S. society with their band and turning classes.

On the arrival of the parade at the hall the visitors were welcomed by Frank Konfrst, president of the local society, who introduced the different speakers of the occasion. Rev. Father John Vleck of the Holy Rosary church, who had celebrated mass for the turners before the parade, spoke very eloquently in Bohemian to the members of the K. S. society and the visitors and was followed by Rev. Father M. A. Shine of St. John's church, who, in the English tongue, welcomed the visitors to the city and expressed the appreciation of the people of the city in the holding of the tournament here and for the splendid organization of young men and women who composed the active turners of the K. S. society. In behalf of the city, Mayor E. J. Richey welcomed the visitors and tendered to them the freedom of the city and assured them that Plattsmouth appreciated the honor of having this meeting held here.

After the speech-making turning and dancing were enjoyed for the afternoon and evening, the crowd at the park and hall numbering close to 3,000, and everyone had a fine time by the pleasures afforded them by the sterling representatives of the Bohemian race in this city and state, and there was nothing to mar the perfect enjoyment of the great tournament.

The different athletic contests which were staged at the hall were most pleasing in every way, and in these events the team from South Omaha proved the prize-winning one and a great part of the prizes awarded went to the members of this splendid organization of turners. The drills by the ladies' classes were given in a very entertaining manner and the large crowd of several thousand were delighted with the work of the ladies in the lines in which they were competing. The athletic exhibition was as good as any seen here in the past few years and the members of the society here can well feel proud of the showing they have made in the handling of the tournament. The Omaha girls captured the first prize, while the team representing Dodge was awarded the second prize for their work. The judges of the tournament were: Peter David, John Lejsek, Anton Benda, Jacob Novy, Frank Bechota and J. S. Glosh, and made the following award for the different turning events:

First Division—Ferdinand Janousek, South Omaha, first; Edward Swincina, South Omaha, second; Jan Polkorny, Omaha, third; Josef Ficenece, South Omaha, fourth. Second Division—James Vick, South Omaha, first; Frank Cerveny, South Omaha, second; Joseph Proskocit, Omaha, third. Third Division—Frank Kment, South Omaha, first.

LOUISVILLE ROBBERS BROUGHT HERE AND ARE PLACED IN JAIL

From Tuesday's Daily. For several months past the merchants and citizens of Louisville have been annoyed by having their places of business entered and considerable property has been taken in this way, and the person committing the depredations was not known. The series of robberies culminated Sunday night in the breaking into of the Noyes & Merriman hardware store and the securing of considerable stuff from the stock, including several expensive knives, as well as two revolvers and a large quantity of shells and two flashlights. The suspicions of the business men and the marshal were directed toward Grant Hall, a young man who had been in the reform school and who was out on parole, as well as Ray Howe, a companion of Hall, and to catch them it was decided that a committee watch in different sections of the city and endeavor to get the goods on the boys.

This was accordingly carried out, and last night Harold Koop, the catcher of the ball team, was stationed near the Ball home, where he lay in wait and was finally rewarded by seeing Ball, Howe and an unknown companion come up and discuss the disposition of the stolen goods, and about this time Koop got busy and told the boys to throw up their hands, at which they started to run, but a few shots halted them and the two boys mentioned above were captured, but the third one was not overhauled and made good his getaway.

This morning the two boys were brought in to be put on the carpet before County Attorney Cole, and were accompanied by Marshal Alloway as well as several others of the Louisville people who have suffered from the depredations of the robbers. The boys are about 16 years of age and it is thought that the third party in the case was a young Mexican who was picked up last morning and lodged in jail at Louisville, and who will be given an examination as to what he knows of the affair.

LOCAL T. J. SOKOL TURNERS WIN PRIZE AT SOUTH OMAHA

From Tuesday's Daily. The young ladies composing the turning class of the T. J. Sokol society, who were in attendance at the annual tournament of that society in South Omaha on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, returned home Sunday evening, well pleased with the showing they had made, as they were given the fifth prize out of thirteen different classes competing, and only the classes from Omaha and South Omaha were able to top the girls from our city in the different drills. The class here has had the services of an instructor only for four times, but were able to capture the prizes from the classes from Schuyler, Dodge, Howells and other towns in the state, and feel very proud, as they justly may be, of the record made at the tournament. Those in the class were: Misses Bessie, Alma, Elizabeth and Agnes Holly and Marie and Paulina Svoboda.

TWO FINES ARE PAID IN THE POLICE COURT

From Tuesday's Daily. Yesterday, despite the fact that it was Labor Day, Judge Archer held a short session of police court to hand out justice to those who were demanding his attention, and as a result enriched the city treasury to a considerable extent.

Andrew Rabb, jr., was the first to appear in the court and parted with $10 and costs to pay for the outraged feeling of justice and for the result of hitting Hugh Stander Saturday evening, near the skating rink, and the young man at once liquidated. Riley McFarland was another of those who answered at the call of the judge, as he had been involved in a dispute Saturday afternoon with a man named Owens, and Officers Jones gathered them in, but Owens was released on a cash bond to appear later and plea in the case. McFarland was fined $2 and costs and settled the same, while Owens will be given his innings later on.

AUTOS PUT OUT OF COMMISSION AND BOYS WALKED IN

Last evening when the members of the ball team and a few of the rooters were returning from Glenwood they met with a rather disagreeable experience, which resulted in a part of the trip being completed on foot, as the motor truck and automobile which was used to convey the party became out of commission, and although every effort was made to repair the damage, it was necessary to leave the cars on the road over night. The first car was stuck just this side of the ferry, when the gear was put out of commission, and the machine refused to make its way through the mud, while the truck was stalled a short distance from the ferry on the other side of the old Missouri, when the chain which furnishes the driving power broke and compelled the party to move on to this city minus the truck. The muddy roads made the work of driving the heavy cars a hard job and the strain proved too much for the machinery.
