GREAT SHOW AGAIN

AT THE PARMELE

FRIDAY NIGHT

From Saturday's Daily.
The appearance of the Empress Advanced Vaudeville in this city last evening drew what may be considered the best house of the season, and the greater part of the audience seemed well pleased with the varied program of first-class acts offered to them. Doc Baker, the character singer, was the big hit of the bill and his amusing offerings were enjoyed to the utmost by everyone in the audience, and he was compelled to respond to a number of encores before he could get away from the delighted audience. Miss Olive Vail and sister, in their act were given the opportunity of displaying their ability as vocalists, and were assisted by Prof P. Hans Flath at the piano and his work added much to the success of the program. Miss Vail, who was formerly with the "Miss Nobody From Starland," gave a number of her successful hits which were most pleasing. The Six Cecilian Maids in the instrumental and vocal numbers proved a novel feature of the evening and the duet of harp and cello, "The Rosary," was a very beautiful number. The dancing number on the program was one that was thoroughly appreciated by the large audience and the clever actors were compelled to respond with a number of late fancy stage dancing steps and were exceptionally clever in their roles. Owing to illness the roller skate dancers were unable to be placed on the bill last evening. Taken as a whole, the company was up to the usual high standard of the Empress brand of vaudeville.

JOLLY CLUB PLEASANTLY SURPRISE MISS METTA JENNINGS

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock the Jolly club crowd gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCrary and from there wended their way southward until they reached the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jennings, where they very pleasantly surprised their daughter, Miss Metta, she being a member of the crowd. There were several musical selections given by Misses Gladys Steinhauer, Metta Jennings and Donna Lahoda; also several songs were sung by all. At a suitable hour a delightful lunch was served by Mrs. Jennings, after which they played many outdoor games until darkness drove them in. Several games were then played until the homeward hour called them home. They sang "Home, Sweet Home" with much regret and declared they had a very delight time. Those present were: Misses Donna Lahoda, Mable McBride, Gladys Steinhauer, Katie Fitchhorn, Martha McCrary, Metta Jennings, Messrs. John McCrary, Glenn Hawk-eberry, Harvey Henniger of Nebraska City, Arthur Haworth, George Privett, Henry Jasper and Mr. and Mrs. Jennings.

Draws a Small Fine in Court.

This morning George Taylor drew from Saturday's Daily. $2 and costs in Judge Archer's court as the result of a liquid joy ride in which he had been caught by the police and marched before the representative of the law to have justice handed out to him, and for his offense he shelled forth the coin necessary to escape the wrath of the law and was allowed to go on his way rejoicing.

When Baby Has the Croup.

When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health, struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until coming is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere.

Oscar Gopen and family were in Omaha yesterday for the day visiting with friends and taking in the sights of the metropolis.

INSTALLING A HEATING PLANT AT THE PROPST BUILDING

This morning the work of installing the heating plant for the Patterson & Wynn garage and the Crystal Star theater was commenced, and the material is being hauled up to the building as fast as possible in order that the work may be completed, as it is getting very chilly and the necessity of a heating system is felt very keenly. It is expected to have the plant, which will be a hot water system, in operation in ten days at the outside.

THE FAMOUS CALF CASE DECIDED FOR THE TIME BEING

The famous calf case, which has been the subject of a great deal of discussion in the district surrounding this city, where the parties to the controversy reside, has at last been decided, and now it will probably be taken up higher for trial to the district court. Judge Beeson Saturday afternoon passed on the case, and in his finding found for the defendants, Earl Wiles and M. C. Walker, who had been made the defendants in the action brought by James Terryberry to secure possession of and establish title of ownership of a calf which had been sold by Wiles to Walker, and which was claimed was one that had been raised on the farm of Mr. Terryberry, and which had been missing for some weeks before the date of the starting of the suit last May. The testimony in the case was of a most conflicting nature, as both parties were very positive as to the identity of the calf, and considerable bitterness of feeling was developed in the hearing of the case that will probably continue for some time. It was a case very hard to really establish a real basis for settlement, as the jury in the first case was compelled to disagree, and the judge was almost compelled to give it up, but based his ruling as far as possible along the preponderance of evidence in the case. There is little doubt that both Wiles and Terryberry had a calf answering the description of the one in controversy, and it would require a mighty smart man to really determine whose calf it really was that is the bone of contention in the case, and before it is through it will cost the price of several calves.

VERY CLOSE CALL FROM SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES

From Saturday's Daily.
Edgar Steinhauer, who is employed in the steel car shops of the Burlington in looking after the repair of the acetylene light systems, this morning had a rather painful experience when one of the hose carrying the gas burst and treated Ed to a shower of fire and damaged his clothing to a certain extent, as well as burning him slightly on the lower portion of his body, but it fortunately did not result in anything serious and the young man will not be put out of commission.

Mrs. Ida Tritsch and daughter, Miss Margaret, were among those going to Omaha this morning, where they will visit for the day, looking after some matters of business.

THE RED SOX ARE WINNERS OF THE THIRD GAME

In the third game of the championship contest between the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Nationals, staged at Boston today, a monster crowd thronged the Braves' ball park, where the game was held, and wild enthusiasm prevailed among the Royal Rooters, while large delegations accompanied the Phillies from the Quaker city.

Manager Moran again pitched his star, Alexander, in the hopes of stifling the Boston batters, while Leonard was selected as the mounted artist of the Sox, with Carrigan doing the receiving, and Burns, who has appeared in all three games, was behind the bat for the National league winners.

The first two innings were blanks for both sides.

In the third Philadelphia drew first blood by scoring, and Boston was blanked.

The fourth was Boston's chance to even up, and one run was tallied, while the Phillies were blanked.

The fifth was a stand-off, with neither side scoring a run.

The sixth and seventh innings were without any success in breaking the tie between the two teams, as the batters were unable to get around the bases for the needed run.

The eighth inning was also one filled with much excitement, with the teams battling for victory and nobody able to score, and at the close of this inning the score was still 1 and 1.

Boston again won in the ninth inning by a timely score, ending the game by a score of 2 to 1.

WEDDING AT THE HOLY ROSARY CHURCH THIS MORNING

This morning at the Holy Rosary church in the west part of the city occurred the marriage of Mr. John H. Jaske of Omaha and Miss Lillian B. Jelinek of this city. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties and the nuptial mass of the church celebrated by Rev. Father John Vlcek, rector of the Holy Rosary church, and the occasion was one of great beauty and solemnity as the two young people plighted their vows before the priest. The wedding was a very quiet one, and following the ceremony the newly wedded couple were entertained at the home of the bride's mother until 4 o'clock, when they left for Omaha, in which city they expect to make their future home. The bride is a young lady of a most charming personality and has for the past few years been engaged as a trained nurse in Omaha, as well as at McCook, and those who have the pleasure of her acquaintance hold her in the highest esteem. She is a daughter of Mrs. James Jelinek of this city. The groom is a young business man of Omaha, and held in high esteem by those who know him.
