

RED SOX WIN THE FIFTH AND DECIDING GAME

From Wednesday's Daily.
The fifth game of the world series was staged today in the Phillies park at Philadelphia, and for the game the two opposing pitchers of last Saturday's game were sent in to face each other. Foster for Boston and Mayer for the Phillies. Thomas did the receiving for the Red Sox and Burns for the Quakers.

The Phillies started right after the bacon in the first inning, when they scored two runs, while the Red Sox were blanked.

In the second inning Boston secured their first score of the game, while the Phillies drew a blank, and in the third inning Boston repeated, while the National leaguers were unable to tally, tying up the score.

In the third inning Rixey was sent in by the Phillies to do the pitching, and in the fourth inning the Quakers again added two more to their list of tallies.

The fifth inning was free from any scoring by either side and the batters of both teams seemed unable to do anything in the way of safe hits.

In the sixth inning there was nothing doing in the scoring line. Cady was sent in to do the catching for the Red Sox.

The seventh was also a blank for both teams.

The eighth inning was Boston's, as they were able to gather in two runs and tie the score. The excitement was intense as the prospects for the lengthening of the game became apparent.

In the ninth Boston, by a sensational finish, scored the winning run and nailed the world's championship flag by a score of 5 to 4.

ROBERT HUNTER FOUND "NOT GUILTY" BY THE JURY

From Wednesday's Daily.
The completion of the trial of Robert Hunter on the charge of assault was brought to conclusion yesterday afternoon at 3:30, when the attorneys completed their arguments and the jury retired to weigh the evidence in their minds, and at 4:30 returned with a verdict of "not guilty," and releasing the young man from the charge that had been preferred against him.

The evidence introduced by the defense at the afternoon session was of a nature that tended to show that it would have been almost impossible for the young man to have been on Wintersteen Hill at the time the assault is alleged to have occurred, and the story of the father and mother of Hunter as to the time he arrived home on that evening was such as to greatly impress the jury, and their clear, straight-forward story was undoubtedly the evidence that most impressed the jury. Both testified that they had awakened when Robert had returned home on the evening of September 8th and they had gone into the living room to scold him for being out late and discovered by the clock that it was only 9:05. This, as well as the evidence of several other witnesses as to the good character and reputation of young Hunter assisted his case materially and formed the basis of the defense.

The acquittal of Mr. Hunter will be most pleasing to his many friends with whom he has been associated during his lifetime, and he is to be congratulated on the showing made in his behalf during the case.

Visits an Uncle in Otao County.

From Tuesday's Daily.
John McNurlin and wife and W. H. Seybert and wife were down in Otao county Sunday visiting near Syracuse with Andrew Seybert, an uncle of Mrs. McNurlin and Mrs. Seybert, where they spent the day. The trip was made in the car of Mr. Seybert and was a most pleasant one to the quartet who composed the party. They brought back with them a specimen of the fruit of Otao county in the shape of a fine big red apple from the farm of the uncle.

AS WINTER APPROACHES DAN CUPID GETS BUSY

From Tuesday's Daily.
The next few weeks promises to be busy ones with our friend, Dan Cupid, in this city and five new homes will spring up among us before the calendar reaches the first of November, if all predictions are true, and ten happy hearts will beat as one under the soft caresses of the dimpled little Cupid who watches over the hearts of the young men and women. This will prove a move in the right direction and it is to be hoped that other homes will soon be made here in Plattsburgh, as they all help toward making a prosperous city of modern homes.

"THE PRINCE OF TONIGHT" COMING TO THE PARMELE

From Tuesday's Daily.
"The Prince of Tonight," which will be seen at the Parmele theater on Monday night October 25, ranks as one of the most notable achievements of those prolific writers of musical successes, Adams, Hough & Howard. "The Prince of Tonight" is a production tastefully conceived and elaborately executed scenic ideas. Tom Arnold, a popular actor and whose artistic ability and splendid baritone voice have long held him a favorite, is the predominant figure in the plot, which is one of real substance. The play opens at Palm Beach, Florida, on the night that a century blooms, when the air is full of magic. Mr. Arnold, as a young collegian, in despair at being jilted by his sweetheart, is aided by virtue of the century plant, to become a mythical prince of Lunitania for the night, at the end of which he is to die unless he is kissed by the girl he loves. Mr. Arnold is surrounded by a large cast of well known principals and a big chorus. Each of the three acts offers really notable stage pictures, the first, "The Breakers," Palm Beach, then the beautiful Delft Forest in the mythical country of Lunitania, the house-boat at the picturesque water fete, a scene of kaleidoscopic beauty, and a banquet on the lawn in front of "The Breakers." The musical numbers are said to possess a merit which closely allies "The Prince of Tonight" to comic opera. Among the many song hits are: "Tonight Will Never Come Again," "You Won't Know Anybody There," "Can It Be Love?" "Mean Moon Man," "Her Eyes Are Blue for Yale," "Follow the Rainbow Trail," "I Fell in Love on Monday," "It Is a Dead Old World After All," and "I Can't Be True So Far Away."

From Tuesday's Daily.
Announcements were received here today of the arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Wurl, at Pomona, California, of a bright little daughter, who had made her appearance there on Thursday, October 7th. The arrival of the little daughter will be the source of a great deal of pleasure to the many friends in this city, who will join in wishing the parents a great joy in their new daughter, and to little Jean Margaret Wurl their hopes for a long and happy life in the years to come. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wurl are former residents of this city and the happiness that has been visited on them is certainly one to feel very grateful for.

ROBBING CLOTHES LINES IS NOW AN OCCUPATION

From Wednesday's Daily.
Last night someone visited the home of Haywood Ellledge and proceeded to rob the clothes line in the yard of about half of the clothes thereon and made away with them without leaving any trace of who the parties were, but Mr. Ellledge will be on the lookout in the future and if the unwelcome visitors show up again they will receive a raking artillery fire and a lesson they will long remember. The clothes taken will amount to quite a little sum of money and it is certain an act of which the perpetrator should feel ashamed, and if caught he made to suffer the full penalty of the law.

TWO FELLOWS PAY PENALTY OF PARTAK- ING OF MUCH BOOZE

From Wednesday's Daily.
Judge M. Archer this morning had before him J. H. Graham, who was charged with having imbibed too freely of joy water, and as a result of which he was taken in last evening by Officer Alvin Jones and lodged in the village lockup until this morning, when the police judge, after hearing the facts in the case, decided that it would require $2 and costs to settle the case, and Mr. Graham forked over the $5 required and was sent on his way rejoicing.

Charles Allen, who claims that he has been engaged in farm work south of this city, was in yesterday afternoon on complaint of Chief Barclay, and was another of the victims of the flowing bowl and he was compelled to confess that the charge was true, and as a result he was handed a little package labeled $2 and costs, which he settled for with a $5 bill, and was also sent on his way with a warning to avoid in the future the snares of the city.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND AND BRIDE IN PLATTS- MOUTH 28 YEARS AGO

Twenty-eight years ago yesterday this city was honored by having President Grover Cleveland, then serving his first term as president of the United States, pass through the city in company with his bride of a few days on their tour of the western portion of the country. While the train of the president was stopped here for a short time President and Mrs. Cleveland were presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by little Miss Janet Livingston, who has since become Mrs. R. W. Clement. The flowers came from the late Dr. R. R. Livingston, who was one of the ardent Cleveland men in this section.

A COMPANY OF STATE MILITIA IN PLATTSMOUTH

From Wednesday's Daily.
A dispatch in the World-Herald of this morning states that among other cities in the state which are considered in the proposition for the location of a militia company is that of Plattsburgh. This will be news to a great majority of the people of the city, as there has been nothing broached on this line among our people, and although it has been agitated several times in the past it has never met with the hearty support of the general public here, and it is doubtful if a company could be secured among the young men who would be desired for an organization of this kind.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT

In Coming Down Hill Near Murray
Wednesday the Automobile Driven by Jake Miller Turns Turtle, Throwing Out Occupants.

What might easily have been a fatal automobile accident occurred yesterday afternoon just west of Murray when the automobile driven by Jake Miller, the liverman at Manley, turned turtle and threw the occupants of the car out, but fortunately none of the party were injured, although they were badly shaken up and the car damaged considerably as the result of the accident. Mr. Miller, accompanied by Isaac Wiles and two children, had reached what is known as the Obiham hill west of Murray, when they encountered very muddy roads and the machine was managed with the greatest difficulty, and as they descended the hill the machine skidded to one side of the road and in an instant had turned turtle, and as it went over the members of the party were thrown out and escaped injury. The car was a light one and the slippery condition of the roads made it very easy for an accident of this kind to occur, and it is most fortunate that it was not more serious for the members of the auto party, as if they had been pinned beneath the machine they might easily have received serious if not fatal injuries. As it is they are congratulating themselves on their narrow escape from injury.

ARE WEDDED AT THE HOLY ROSARY CHURCH EARLY THIS MORNING

This morning at 6:30 at the residence of Rev. Father John Vleck, rector of the Holy Rosary church, was celebrated the wedding of Mr. Charles W. Hula and Miss Winifred Parmele, both of this city. The wedding was a very quiet one and was attended by only the contracting parties and the members of the household of the priest. After the marriage lines were read the young people were taken to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. K. Parmele, where they remained for a short time, departing on No. 6 for Chicago, where they will spend their honeymoon. Returning home to this city the young people will make their home in the residence property which the groom has just erected on West Oak street.

Fairyland in all its alluring mysticisms is embodied in the first act of "The Prince of Tonight," Le Comte & Fletcher's musical fantasy, in which Tom Arnold will appear at the Parmele theater on Monday night, October 25. The show opens with a scene at "The Breakers," a world famous hotel at Palm Beach, suddenly changing to the mythical Delft forest in Lunitania, where lithe fairies dance in an emerald gloom before the prince, who is to reign for one night. "The Prince of Tonight" is one of the most elaborate spectacular productions seen in years, and the costumes are correspondingly gorgeous. A special crew of expert electricians is carried by the company to handle the wonderful electrical effects.

The Biltmore Stout

(BY THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER)

The world respects the substantial—and weight is an asset to the man who is well-enough dressed.

The making of right clothes for stout men should be classed among the Liberal Arts—and the House of Kuppenheimer given a Master's Degree.

There is none of the bagginess about Kuppenheimer clothes that you see about most "stouts" and "extra sizes."

Note the Biltmore Stout, for example. The front of the coat is carefully worked out and tailored.

The shoulders and collar especially designed for the short neck of the average stout man. The coat shaped to conceal, not emphasize, the appearance of corpulence in front.

This is our fashionable three-button Biltmore Model—with all the style detail—cut and tailored for men of full figure and shown in all the new and wanted suitings. Perfect fitting trousers and vests are much appreciated features of these suits.
