THE BARCLAY RESTAURANT UNDER DRUM MANAGEMENT QUILTS

The restaurant which has been conducted here by the firm of Drum & Palmer since the first of the year, was closed last night at 12 o'clock by Mr. E. Drum, who has been looking after the management. The closing came suddenly, as there had been no intimation of the intention to close down, and it was not until Mr. Drum dismissed his help and announced that he was quitting the business of running a restaurant. There has been no statement made as to the reason for closing aside from the heavy cost of operating it not justifying the owners in continuing the business. The building and equipment of the restaurant is owned by Chief of Police Barclay and was leased to Messrs. Drum & Palmer until January 15th next. Just what will be the future of the restaurant has not been fully determined.

TWO PLEASANT AND ENJOYABLE DANCES SATURDAY EVE.

Saturday evening two very pleasant social dances were held in this city, which were very largely attended and afforded much pleasure to the lovers of dancing in attendance. At the German Home the fire department boys were in charge of the dance and a fine time was enjoyed by the large crowd in tripping the dances to the excellent music of the Plattsmouth orchestra, and as a result the fire boys will realize a neat sum. At the T. J. Sokol hall a very enjoyable social dance was held and here a jolly crowd of young people passed the hours very pleasantly in the pleasures of the new dances. The Holly orchestra furnished the music. The occasion was a very pleasant one throughout.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT THE METHODIST CHURCH LAST NIGHT

The special revival services at the Methodist church are growing in interest with each passing day and last evening the attendance was one that filled the auditorium with a congregation to receive the message given by the pastor, Rev. Druliner, and a sermon of much force and strength was afforded the worshippers and proved a strong feature in the series of revival sermons. The efforts of Rev. Druliner to advance the cause of religion in the city has met with a great deal of encouragement and yesterday several came forward to take a stand for the Master, while others were received by letter into the church in this city. The meetings will be continued all this week with the exception of tonight, and the street meetings be held at 7 o'clock in the evening, while the services at the church will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

THE GIRLS CLUB HOLD HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT THE GAPEN HOME

The Girls' club, composed of a number of the young ladies of Mynard and vicinity, held a very delightful Halloween party Saturday evening at the charming country home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gapen, where they were the guests of Miss Elsie Gapen, and were entertained in a royal manner. The guests arrived at the Gapen home in ghostlike draperies, which gave a very spooky appearance as the members of the party made entrance to the merry gathering. The dining room of the Gapen home had been arranged with the Halloween decorations and made a very pretty scene and here the guests were treated to dainty refreshments in keeping with the occasion. The evening was spent in games which are used on this mystic event of Halloween, and the members of the party peered into the future through the medium of the fortune teller, who forecast what the years had in store for the different members of the jolly party. Bobbing for apples was among the other amusements which served to pass the time most pleasantly, and after a time the guests laid aside their ghostlike raiment and took on their usual form and until a late hour the pleasure of the evening continued, and it was with great regret that they saw the hour for parting come, when they departed, expressing their appreciation of the delightful time.

JUNIOR CLASS PARTY AT THE HOME OF MISS DELLA FRANS

The junior class of the High school enjoyed a very pleasant party at the home of Miss Della Frans on Friday evening, and the occasion was in the nature of a Halloween gathering and the following interesting account of the event has been handed the Journal for publication:

"After school Friday the senior boys managed to take the president of the junior class, Tracy Druliner, and tried to take the class advisor, Miss Daniels, but did not succeed. Five junior girls held the senior boys off while Miss Daniels escaped by jumping from a rear window of the High school building, successfully evading the seniors until the juniors rescued her. In the earlier part of the evening the girls of the class entertained themselves while the boys called upon the seniors and brought back the president. The games were now continued with much enthusiasm, since the president and the boys had returned.

"At a late hour, after the appropriate luncheon had been served, everyone departed for home, declaring to their hostess they had thoroughly enjoyed themselves. On their way home the juniors decided to pay the seniors a visit, and on entering through a window found the house silent, with nothing left but the decorations. Suddenly a few bewildered seniors appeared on the scene as the juniors gave the yell:

"Cows in the pasture,
Sheep in the grass,
And all the silly geese
Are in the senior class."

"At last the juniors departed for home, after giving the rousing yell: "Get off the earth Give us the scene, We're the class Of Seventeen."

MR. AND MRS. MATT SULSER RETURN FROM THE PACIFIC COAST

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Sulser returned home Friday evening from a tour of the Pacific coast, where they have been visiting as the guests of friends and taking in the sights of that section of the country. While on the coast they attended the San Francisco and San Diego expositions and were delighted with the beauties and wonders of those places. While in California they met a large number of former Plattsmouth people, and at Long Beach had a most delightful visit with the Thomas and Stohlman families and also enjoyed many a fine automobile ride in the car of Senator S. L. Thomas, which enabled them to see a great deal of the beautiful country and enjoy the California climate to the utmost. While in the west they also enjoyed a visit with Mrs. Sulser's sister, Mrs. J. V. Egenberger, at Salt Lake, stopping there both in going and coming from their coast trip. The occasion was one that proved a rare treat to both Mr. and Mrs. Sulser.

BRYAN TELLS OHIO PEOPLE HE DOESN'T WANT PITY AT ALL

Cleveland, O., Oct. 31.—In a speech for prohibition at a mass meeting today, William Jennings Bryan told an audience not to pity him for his "unsuccessful political career." "Sometimes, my friends have expressed sympathy to me because of what they termed the unsuccessfulness of my political career," said Mr. Bryan. "Why, they should not do that. Since I've been in politics, reforms have been accomplished without the loss of a single life that would have cost thousands of lives in sacrifice 200 years ago. "Pity me? Don't do it. If I had lived two centuries ago and advocated what I do now I would have been hung. No one has accomplished any great reform without being abused and ostracized at first. But when a man believes he is in the right he must speak out."

THE S. S. CLUB CELEBRATE HALLOWE'EN IN APPROPRIATE MANNER

Saturday evening the S. S. club entertained a number of guests at a Halloween party and the gathering was held in a vacant house to be in keeping with the anniversary supposed to mark the season when the spirits are out mingling with the mortals. The rooms had been beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, Jack-o-Lanterns and other trimmings, which made a bright array in the candle light. Upon their arrival the guests were ushered into the main room, where they spent some time in playing various games. The winners of the first game were to be crowned king and queen of the Halloween party, and for this honor Rudolph Wallengren and Miss Alice Lister were selected. In "pinning the nose on the jack," Kenneth McCarty proved the most fortunate, being the winner of the first prize, while the consolation prize was awarded to Miss Edythe Kelley. Later the merry party adjourned to the "witches' cave," where grouped about the fireplace they told thrilling stories of adventure. At a suitable hour they were invited to the "feast room," where was spread a delightful Halloween luncheon, to which all did ample justice. A number of other games followed and it was with much regret that at a late hour they all dispersed, tired but delighted and happy.
