

"HIGH JINKS" AT THE PARMELE LAST NIGHT

The Cleverest and Snappiest Musical Comedy That Positively Ever Visited Plattsmouth.

From Tuesday's Daily.
One of the cleverest and snappiest musical comedies in recent years which it has been the pleasure of the Plattsmouth people to enjoy was given last night at the Parmele theater, when "High Jinks" was presented by an excellent company of artists, who gave this exceedingly clever farce a most pleasing rendition.

The story of the play from the pen of Otto Hauerbach, the author of "The Three Twins" and "Madame Sherry," has all the cleverness of these two popular musical comedy successes, and the music by Rudolph Primi, the author of "The Firefly," was the most tuneful and pleasing that has been heard in this city in years, and the popular song hits, "Something Seems Ting-ling-ing," "Love's Own Kiss" and "I'm Through With Wandering Romeos" were of the kind that lingers in the minds of the auditors with their bewitching strains. The company was one of the highest standard and composed of some of the brightest stars from the glare of Broadway, and included Charles W. Meyer, Whitlock Davis, W. H. White, Betty Blye, Mary Ambrose, Mildred Shelley, Eddie Lambert and Bertha Munson, who in their different roles were most clever and amusing and thoroughly entered into the spirit of the sparkling farce comedy.

"High Jinks," besides being the title of the musical farce, is also the name of a magic perfume, which has the property of making everybody wildly joyous. The perfume is the discovery of the explorer, Dick Wayne, who communicates its secret to Dr. Thorne, an American nerve specialist, practicing in Paris. This is the starting of the fun of the performance and the complications resulting from the use of the perfume makes the complications which makes the life of the performance.

Throughout the play was one filled with snap and "pep" and everyone present felt that the event was one of rare pleasure.

DEPUTY POSTMASTER RECEIVES A VERY PAINFUL INJURY

M. S. Briggs, the efficient deputy postmaster, last evening met with an accident that proved most serious, and as a result of which he is now carrying his right hand in a sling. Returning home shortly after 10 o'clock last evening from a church meeting, he found that the rain had did considerable damage to his residence property, and which required some immediate action to put it in proper shape, and he got himself busy at once, and while working with a sheet of tin had the misfortune to have his hand slip over the sharp edge of the tin and inflicted a very severe gash between the thumb and first finger of the right hand, which bled profusely and necessitated the services of a surgeon to close up with two stitches. The injury is both very painful and annoying, but Mr. Briggs is still on the job in handing out mail, although it is necessary for him to do the greater part of the work with his left hand, and it will be several days before he is able to have the use of the injured hand. He is sure game in sticking on the job in the face of the injuries.

THE J. C. PETERSEN HOME IS FILLED WITH MUCH JOY

From Tuesday's Daily.
This morning a telegram was received by J. C. Petersen that filled that worthy gentleman with much pleasure, as it conveyed the information that he was grandpa of a fine new eight-pound boy that had arrived this morning at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Spies at Padrona, Colorado. The mother and little one are doing nicely and Mrs. J. C. Petersen, who is at the Spies home visiting, was able to welcome the little stranger and is also very much overjoyed over the happy event. Grandpa Herman Spies is feeling pretty joyful over the occasion of the new grandson, as he has a right to be, and the many friends here of the happy parents will join in wishing the young man a long and happy life.

STORK LEAVES A NEW SON AT SAM GILMOUR HOME

From Wednesday's Daily.
This morning at an early hour the stork called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gilmour, south of this city, and left with them a fine new son and heir, who is reported as being one of the finest boys in the world and the object of a great deal of interest from his delighted relatives. This is the first child in the family, and the young Mr. Gilmour is boss of everyone from Grandpa Billy Gilmour down. The grandparents will join in wishing the happy parents much joy on this happy occasion and trust that the young man may live to be a joy and comfort to them in the years to come.

THE REVIVAL SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH GROWING IN INTEREST

The special revival services being conducted by Rev. F. M. Druliner, pastor of the First Methodist church, are growing in interest at each succeeding meeting and the results so far accomplished have been far greater than at many other meetings held in this city by special evangelists, and the earnest efforts of the minister in presenting the thoughts and inspiration of the Christian life is meeting with a willing response from a greater part of the residents of this city and stimulating to a great degree the advancement of the higher ideals of manhood and womanhood.

The meeting last night was one of the best held so far, as despite the threatening weather a large number were present and ten came forward to join their lives to that of the Christian faith, and on Tuesday night seven were added to the list of conversions. To date there have been sixty-five conversions made at these meetings, which is a splendid showing for the value of the meetings and it is to be hoped that those who have affiliated themselves with the work of the church will continue on the pathway that will lead to better things and a higher appreciation of the teachings of the Master.

The street meetings which have been held have brought the minister closer to a great many who otherwise would not receive the word, and these have almost all attended the meetings at the church and demonstrated their interest in the work of the meetings. Special musical numbers have been given by the chorus choir that have served as an inspiration and aid to the meetings at the church.

It has been a long time since such real interest has been occasioned here as has been by these meetings, and the gatherings will be continued as long as the good they can accomplish remains to be carried out.

MRS. F. G. EGENBERGER ENTERTAINS THE W. R. C.

From Wednesday's Daily.
Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the W. R. C. were entertained in a most charming manner at the beautiful home of Mrs. F. G. Egenberger on Vine street, when Mrs. Egenberger, Mrs. J. H. Thrasher and Mrs. H. J. Streight entertained the members of the society. The afternoon was spent by the ladies in fancy work, as well as in the enjoyment of a most pleasing little program arranged for the occasion and which was a most delightful feature of the afternoon. Mrs. William Baird gave a number of her always pleasing readings, which were received with warm approval by the ladies, as was also the piano number of Miss Genevieve Whelan, which this talented little lady contributed to the enjoyment of the afternoon. At a suitable hour a most delicious luncheon was served that proved a most pleasing treat to the jolly party of ladies present.

Will Make Apple Butter.

Wm. Gilmour, residing south of this city, returned home last Saturday from the western part of the state, where he had been with a car load of apples. He did not strike a very good market, and says that apples are selling cheaper out there than right here at home. He says he had a nice time, but will remain at home with his apples in the future and make apple butter out of them for the winter use.

FRECKLES IS PRONOUNCED A BIG SUCCESS

The Broadway Amusement Co. Will Present Gene Stratton-Porter's "Freckles" at the Parmele Theater, Tuesday, November 16.

There has been nothing produced in the history of the American stage just like "Freckles." It is distinctive and original, but of such absorbing interest that it is not difficult to understand why millions of fiction readers have delighted in the story, nor why the song play has become so popular with all classes of theater-goers.

In his dramatization, Neil Twomey has kept faithfully to the text of Mrs. Porter's story; every character has been brought out in bold relief in the play, and where the picture was in the mind's eye of the reader, it is now in the actual line of vision.

The great Limerlost scene, in which Freckles has taken hold on life is realistically shown. It is a beautiful swamp forming a dark, massive background below, while above tower gigantic trees.

The coming of "Freckles" will be a theatrical event just as it was an event in fiction; the song play is now as great a success as in the story and is playing to immense crowds everywhere.

The music for the play and the songs rendered by Freckles and the various characters are by the Viennese composer, Anatol Friedland; it is said to be a novelty from a musical point of view and the songs among the most beautiful heard in a long time.

MISTAKEN IN THE TOWN WHERE ADDRESS WAS GIVEN

Our fair little city has received a great deal of publicity through the press in the last few days through a special dispatch dated from this city, in which the address of Mr. Walker, editor of the Scientific American, is quoted on the national preparedness proposition, and Mr. Walker is stated to have delivered this address at a banquet given in this city Saturday evening, but if such an occasion was held it was without the knowledge of any of the residents here, and while the matter will prove an advertisement for the city, it looks as though some other community had been robbed of the honor paid them in the visit of the distinguished editor of the eastern scientific publication and their banquet. The mistake has probably been caused by the misreading of the date of the message giving the notice of the banquet, but wherever the event was held the position of Mr. Walker in this important step that is being urged by the president at this time has the right ring.

CURED BOY OF CROUP.

Nothing frightens a mother more than the loud, hoarse cough of croup. Labored breathing, strangling, choking and gasping for breath demand instant action. Mrs. T. Neureur, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my boy of croup after other remedies failed." Recommended for coughs and colds. Sold everywhere.

MAKE ALL PAY FOR LICENSE OR NONE AT ALL

From Wednesday's Daily.
The auto livery men of this city who have paid their occupation tax for the privilege of doing business are making quite a complaint to the city authorities over the fact that others who have not complied with the requirements of the city ordinance in regard to having a license to operate a livery line are doing business and receiving money for this service, and those who have paid over their hard-earned coin for a license naturally feel rather put out over the matter, and they well may, as it does not look right if the ordinance is complied with by some and not obeyed by others. While we have no knowledge of any, if there be such that are engaged in this line of work without a license, still those who have complied with the city ordinance insist that such is the case and they have brought pressure on the city to try and put a stop to the practice.

MARRIED LAST FEBRUARY AND FOOLED THEIR FRIENDS

Carl Stimson of Glenwood and Miss Pauline Brown of Emerson were married last February in Omaha, and have kept the matter a secret from everyone. Finally last week they feigned up to friends and accepted congratulations.

We heard this summer when Carl was putting the ball across the plate for the home boys, that he seemed to keep himself in line and as a whole did better work than ever before. Now it is accounted for, as he knew of one, whose criticisms he appreciated, and of whom none others knew.

Mr. Stimson has been employed in line work on telephone lines in various parts of the county. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vin Brown of Emerson and counts her friends by her acquaintance. It was in the phone exchange at Emerson where the romance began.—Glenwood Tribune.

K. S. SOCIETY TO GIVE DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT

From Tuesday's Daily.
The dramatic club of the K. S. society are arranging to give one of their productions at their hall on West Locust street Saturday evening, November 20th, and which will be given in the Bohemian tongue. This dramatic club has given a number of very pleasing plays of the national life in Bohemia and it has afforded the members of this nationality a rare opportunity of enjoying themselves in witnessing the portrayal of scenes in the old country.

MRS. TOM WILL IS IN THE HOSPITAL AT OMAHA

Mrs. Tom Will of Hennessey, Oklahoma, who is at the Lord Lister hospital in Omaha recovering from an operation performed there last Friday, is reported as getting along nicely and her relatives and friends are hopeful of her speedy recovery. Mrs. Will has been in poor health for the past few months and on the advice of her physicians was operated on as the only means of affording her permanent relief from her suffering, and this was accordingly did at the Omaha hospital. That she is doing so nicely will be most pleasant news to her many friends throughout this county.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE FILED IN THE DISTRICT COURT

From Tuesday's Daily.
This morning a suit to quiet title was filed in the district court entitled Venetia M. Hand vs. C. A. Manker, et al., in which the plaintiff states that she and J. V. Carnes, from whom she purchased the property, have been in undisputed possession of lots 688, 689 and 690, in the village of Greenwood, Cass county, Nebraska, and she asks that the cloud on the title of the property be removed by the court and she be given full and unquestioned title to the same.

Mrs. Laura Wright and daughter of Nebraska City departed for Omaha this morning after a short visit in this city as the guests of Miss Mae Murphy. Mrs. Wright and daughter have just returned from a six months' tour of the western states.

CLARK HASTENS TO THE RESCUE

Wilson Ticked to Get Congratulations on Speech From Bryan's One-Time Friend.

Washington, Nov. 10.—It was announced at the White house today that Speaker Clark had sent a message to the president congratulating him on the Manhattan club speech.

This is taken by friends of the administration to indicate that Clark will support the president. Clark's message was received with frank gratification in administration circles.

JACOB MEISINGER VISITS OUT IN THE COUNTRY

Yesterday Jacob Meisinger took a trip out into the country to visit for a short time at the homes of his sons, George P., jr., and John Meisinger, and look over the corn crop on the farms. He was very much pleased with the general condition of the crop and reports that the yield has been large and the corn in fine shape and ready for shelling. The trip was one thoroughly enjoyed by Mr. Meisinger and he was delighted with the general conditions found in that section of the county.

FRED ENGELKEMEIER SHOWS VERY LITTLE IMPROVEMENT

Fred Engelkemeier of this city, who has not been in the best of health for the past few weeks, is showing a little improvement and is now able to be around the house and yard at his home, but is still in very poor health and his family and friends have been quite anxious about his condition, but trust that he may continue to show improvement. He has been a sufferer from stomach trouble for the past few years and has apparently been taken with a much more severe attack of this malady.

YOUNG LADY STUDENTS RETURN TO PERU NORMAL

From Tuesday's Daily.
The Plattsmouth young ladies who are attending the normal school at Peru and who have been here visiting with their relatives for the past week during the time of the State Teachers' association meeting in Omaha, departed last evening on No. 2 for their school work in the Nemaha county city. Those who were in the party were: Misses Lillian Dwyer, Gladys McMaken, Nell Cook and Mildred Snyder. The young ladies are fitting themselves for the work as teachers and are making a splendid showing.

Good People From Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jochim and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jochim, from near Louisville, were in the city for a few hours last Saturday, driving down in the big Cadillac car of Mr. Ed Jochim. They had some business matters at the court house to look after, and while here paid this office a pleasant call. They are among the Journal's valued readers from the vicinity of Louisville.

Quality and "Cut Prices" are the coil and water of business. You may attempt to mix them by a generous use of printer's ink, but the fact remains that between buyer and seller a cut-price offer produces a feeling that somebody is attempting to "put something over."

THE LIVE STORE OFFERS AT $20.00 TO $30.00 Kuppenheimer Clothes!

There's no attempt to sell them on a cut-price basis. The question of their greater value is left entirely to your judgment—to your ability to compare them and decide between them and what you may be offered elsewhere.

TWO SMALL ACCIDENTS AT THE BURLINGTON SHOPS

From Wednesday's Daily.
Two small accidents occurred this morning at the Burlington shops which caused the men receiving the injuries considerable annoyance, but are not serious. Vincent Slatinsky, who is a carpenter in the freight car department, was struck on the left cheek by a crowbar and received a slight cut which required one stitch. George Epperson, a boilermaker helper, also was unfortunate, while helping carry a large piece of steel to a punch, to fall and sprain his right wrist in a very painful manner.

Emil Meisinger was a visitor in Omaha yesterday for a few hours, returning home yesterday afternoon on No. 2, driving from here to his farm home, northwest of this city.
