Death of Dr. John F. Brendel.

Dr. John F. Brendel died at his home in Zionsville, Hamilton county, Indiana, on Thursday, Nov. 3d, after an illness of about two years, at the age of sixty-two. He was born in Hamilton county, where the greater portion of his life was spent, and where he practiced medicine for a great many years.

Dr. Brendel was a resident of Cass county for sixteen years, first settling in Murray, where he studied medicine with his brother, Dr. B. F. Brendel, and after graduating he located in Avoca, this county, where he practiced medicine for many years. Some twelve or fourteen years ago he returned to his old home in Indiana, where he practiced medicine up to the time of his illness about two years ago. In the early part of his illness, about two years ago, Dr. Brendel was out here on a visit to his brother, with a view of regaining his health, returning to his home some weeks later, he gradually grew worse until death relieved his sufferings on last Thursday, Nov. 3d. Dr. Brendel was always a successful practitioner, both in Nebraska and Indiana.

The deceased leaves a wife, one son and two daughters to mourn his loss, and a host of other friends and relatives in this county and part of the state, as well as in his Indiana home. Dr. B. F. Brendel, who departed from here last Wednesday for his brother's bedside arrived too late to see him alive, as he passed away the night before his arrival. He remained for the funeral and returned home Monday of this week.

JOS. HATHAWAY IS SERIOUSLY INJURED BY HORSE

The Animal Kicks Him on the Right Leg, Badly Splintering the Ankle.

From Wednesday's Daily.

A most distressing accident occurred last evening shortly after 7 o'clock at the farm home of Joseph Hathaway, three miles south and two miles east of Murray, and which resulted most seriously for Mr. Hathaway.

It seems that he had been busy the greater part of the day in butchering and had left his team standing in the barn with the harness on, as he expected to be able to use them, but the butchering occupied so much time that it was dark before he finished, and he went to the barn about 7 o'clock to remove the harness and feed the horses.

As he entered the barn he advanced to where the animals were tied, and having considerable blood from the butchering on his clothes this seemed to madden one of the horses, who began to kick and attempt to break loose, and in so doing knocked Mr. Hathaway down and proceeded to kick and tramp the unfortunate man in a most vicious manner, possibly as the smell of the blood seemed to have infuriated the otherwise gentle horse, and it launched some very vicious kicks at the owner, who was in such a position that it was impossible for him to arise, and as a result of the terrific blows of the horse the unfortunate man received a compound fracture of the right ankle, the bones being badly splintered and protruding from the flesh, and the left arm fractured just above the wrist, both of which injuries were very severe. The cries of the man and the noise made by the horses brought others of the family to the stable and Mr. Hathaway was rescued from his perilous position beneath the hoofs of the horse.

Drs. B. F. and J. F. Brendel of Murray were called to the Hathaway home by the broken bones set, but it was deemed best to take him to a hospital, and accordingly, about 11:30, as soon as the injuries were dressed, the unfortunate man was loaded into the auto of Charles Schwab and started for the metropolis, accompanied by the physicians, and the journey the greater part of the way was through the driving rain, the party reaching Omaha about 3:30, and Mr. Hathaway was at once taken to St. Joseph's hospital to be cared for there.

He has suffered severely from the effects of the injury and the left foot may possibly have to be amputated as the result of the infection acquired from the dirt and refuse in which he was tramped by the horse. His friends will anxiously await word as to his condition and trust that he may be able to come out of the ordeal without the necessity of the removing of the foot, but the very severe nature of the injuries makes the case very doubtful.

Lumber Yard Changes Hands.

W. H. Kikendall, the Murray lumberman, has sold his business in this place to George Nickels and W. B. Banning, of Union. The business will be conducted in the future by Mr. Nickels and Mr. Banning, with the former gentleman as the local manager. These gentlemen need no introduction to the people of Cass county, as Mr. Banning has been engaged in this line of business in Union for a great many years and has sold lumber all over this section of Cass county. George Nickels is almost as well known, but this line will be a new one to him, but we venture the assertion that he will not be long in proving himself equal for the position. The new firm have already taken charge and are doing business at the old stand. Mr. Kikendall is still in Murray and will remain for a few weeks, in looking after his matters, after which time he will move to Eddyville, Nebraska, where he owns a half interest in a general merchandise business with his son-in-law, Mr. Gray.

Notice to Patrons!

Having disposed of my lumber business in Murray, and desiring to move just as soon as possible, I hereby notify all patrons knowing themselves indebted to me to call and settle their accounts just as soon as possible. At this time this favor will be greatly appreciated. Please give this your prompt attention, and oblige.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Next Sabbath is the World's Temperance Sabbath. Be present at Sabbath school and church. The saloon would destroy the church if it could. The church would destroy the saloon if it could. It may, if you help.

A Salvation Army representative was in our prayer-meeting Wednesday evening, Nov. 3d, and told of the work being carried on out at Beatrice.

The attendance at last Sabbath services was encouraging. The total attendance was sixty. Those who were not regular attendants, we say, come again. Your presence helps.

The Women's Missionary Society meets with Mrs. O. A. Davis Friday afternoon. This is the regular monthly meeting, but the members have also been meeting at the church on Thursday also to sew.

Fine Entertainment.

The Edna Earl Concert Party has come and gone, and their excellent entertainment given at the Puls & Gansemer hall on last Tuesday evening, was one of the best that ever visited Murray. There was a little larger crowd than usual in attendance, but not near what such an organization should receive. The promoters of the Lyceum Course in Murray this winter will stand an excellent chance of paying pretty dearly for their entertainment if the amusement loving people do not turn out pretty strong for the remaining two numbers on the course for this season. The next number will be given on December 9th. See if the house cannot be filled just once.

Doing Well in South Omaha.

H. C. Long, who has been out in Western Nebraska for the past few weeks, returned home last Friday. Here he was looking after his land interests in both Nebraska and Kansas. On the return trip he made a brief stop in South Omaha where he visited with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Shrader. Mr. Shrader is in the transfer and storage business in that city and is doing fine. He keeps several teams and large auto trucks busy all the time, and has been enjoying an excellent business in the storage line. Success to him for the future is the wish of his many Murray friends.
