

DEATH OF LOU GENUNG OF GLENWOOD, IOWA

Eminent Lawyer, Splendid Citizen, Orator and Standard-Bearer of Democracy.

From Tuesday's Daily. It was with the most profound regret that last evening we learned that Hon. Lou T. Genung, the eminent Glenwood attorney, was no more, having passed away at his home in that city yesterday morning. Mr. Genung was to us a warm personal friend and it had often been a great pleasure to have this genial and brilliant attorney with us, and the news that he had passed away was a grievous blow. There has been many men of talent from the great state of Iowa, but none were more gifted than the eminent Mills county gentleman. The bereaved family will have the deepest sympathy of the friends throughout this section, in which the Journal joins. In speaking of the death of Mr. Genung, the World-Herald has the following:

Lou Genung, who for forty-seven years has played a leading role in Iowa democracy and who is one of the largest cattle-ranch owners in Nebraska, died at his home in Glenwood at 8 o'clock Monday morning from a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Genung died surrounded by members of his family and local physicians. He was 72. He had been in poor health about a year. His wife, daughters, Georgia and Mrs. Marion Buffington, and sons, Clyde T. and Norman S., with the sons' families, were with him at the end. Besides those members of his family mentioned, he leaves three sons, Clint T. and Bert of Carns, and Clarence of Atkinson, Neb.

Mr. Genung had carried the standard of the Iowa democratic party from the time it was considered almost a crime to be a democrat up through the last presidential campaign, when he conducted a most effective two months' speaking tour of the state. For over forty years he has practiced law most successfully. His unusual ability to understand all types of men served him in good stead, both as a pleader with a jury and as an effective platform speaker. For the past twenty years he has devoted much of his time to the upbuilding of a ranch in Nebraska, and at the present time he and his sons own one of the largest and most complete cattle ranches in the west.

Genung was born in Rock Island county, Illinois. He enlisted in the Illinois infantry and served throughout the war. He was captured at the battle of Franklin with a bayonet thrust through his body, and was confined by the confederates in Andersonville prison for several months. Near the close of the war, he was exchanged, and came to Vicksburg almost naked.

In 1868 he settled on a farm near Hastings, Mills county, Iowa. He soon began to turn from farming to the study of law, gradually taking up a practice as he studied in a lawyer's office. In 1896 he was democratic candidate for congress, and he served one term as attorney of Mills county. On several occasions he was a delegate to democratic national conventions. In 1902 Genung moved to Glenwood.

Genung had many friends among attorneys and politicians throughout Iowa. Attorney Emmett Tinley of Council Bluffs states of Genung's connection with the bar:

"Soon after Mr. Genung settled in Bills county, he took up the study of law and commenced to practice before justices of the peace. He was very successful and soon found a large part of his time occupied in his work. After a few years of diligent application to the study of law, without the aid of any instructor, he was admitted to the bar and then commenced to devote his entire time to the practice of his profession. By hard work Mr. Genung became a good lawyer. He has been connected with one of the strongest lawyers and most formidable advocates in the state of Iowa. He had been connected with many of the most important lawsuits in the section of the country in the last twenty years. He was a close student of human nature, knew men, their habits and natural inclinations much better than most lawyers. He possessed a rare talent for seeing and presenting the humorous side of any transaction. He was fond of outdoors and hunting as well as of his profession. Mr. Genung was a strong and forceful public speaker and was recognized as one of the best orators in the state."

MONSTER CROWD AT METHODIST CHURCH LAST EVENING

From Tuesday's Daily. Another monster crowd was present last evening at the Methodist church to attend the special services being conducted by Rev. F. M. Drullner, and the attendance clearly demonstrated the fact that these meetings have outgrown that of a regular church service and become of city-wide interest, with members of all denominations present to take part in the services. In response to the sermon and invitation of the pastor five persons came forward and took their stand for Christianity and the church. This being the last week of the special services there is a constantly growing interest shown by the public, and before the week is over the number of "trail" hitters will reach the proportions of a record-breaker. This evening there will be reservations made for the High school students, as well as members of the Queen Esther's society at the church, and during the week there will probably be other special evenings.

FAREWELL PARTY IN HONOR OF MISS LIZZIE KOSTAL

On Saturday evening the pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Puls, five miles west and one mile north of Murray, was the scene of a very enjoyable gathering and much merriment, which, however, was not without its sadness, as it was in farewell of Miss Lizzie Kostal, who soon departs for Kearney, Neb., where she will take treatment for an affliction of the throat from which she has been suffering for some time past. The party was in the nature of a surprise and Miss Kostal was unaware of the pleasant treat in store for her until the jolly party of friends came in to join in wishing her the best of luck on her journey westward, as well as a complete recovery and her return to her home near Murray. Games and music passed the hours very pleasantly and at the midnight hour a very dainty and delicious luncheon was served, which added very much to the pleasure of the occasion. Those who were present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hill and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Engelke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Kraeger and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Engelke, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Puls and family, Misses Dora Kostal, Lizzie Kostal, Marie Philpot, Marie West, Rosa Engelke, Clara Hunter, Coenna Handley, Josephine Friesel, May Otterstine, Mrs. Fred Wohlfarth, Mrs. Clara Otterstine, Messrs. Virgle Urish, Joe West, John West, Jack Gregory, Otho Gregory, Dick Otterstine, Wallace Hunter, Guy McGill, Otto Wohlfarth. The cold weather prevented many from attending.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF ST. ANDREW IS ENTERTAINED

From Tuesday's Daily. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew of the Episcopal church were entertained last evening at the rectory, where they met with the rector, Father Leete, and the members of the order spent some time in discussing the needs of the organization and the advancement of the work of the church. The gentlemen had arranged to assume full charge of the rectory and prepared their lunch, which was pronounced most delectable and came as a very pleasant social feature of the evening. This order has created a great interest among the men of the church and will in the future show greater force in the advancement of the church and its interests.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF PLATTSMOUTH

The Various Departments Are in a Most Prosperous Condition, With Large Enrollments.

From Tuesday's Daily. The city schools seem to be progressing nicely at the present time, with a very large attendance, which has shown a marked increase over the past year and has made the question of room to handle the students quite a problem, and especially in the High school, where the classes are all much larger than in the past years, and with an additional course to handle. The new commercial course has proven even a greater success than was anticipated and the boys and girls are taking to this course of study in fine shape. The examinations for the first quarter of the school year have just been completed and the students are awaiting the results as to their credits and standing in the different courses of study. The superintendent is contemplating a different system in the holding of the examinations in the future and it is likely that the examinations will not be given at any certain time, but whenever the school authorities see fit, which would have a marked tendency to stimulate much letter work from the students each day, as they would not be aware when they would be called on for the examinations and the daily average would be raised considerably.

There will be a quarter credit given for work in Glee club work, athletics, debating, music taken outside of school, penmanship in the school, and this will give one whole credit at the end of four years' work.

The enrollment and per cent of attendance in the different grades and rooms of the schools are as follows:

	Attendance	P. C.
A. O. Eggenberger	204	98

ROOSTER SNEAKS A RIDE ON PILOT OF THE ENGINE

A strange wayfarer came in last night on No. 2 and he was far more successful in beating his way than the usual tramp, as he rode bravely on the pilot of the engine, and where he came from nobody knows, but this is as far as he progressed. The dead-head was a fine brown rooster which was perched in a care-free manner on the pilot and seemed to enjoy the ride very much. Where the fowl came from is not known, as the engineer had no recollection of passing through a flock of chickens, but there was one that had evidently decided to see the world. The chicken was removed from the pilot at the station by one of the messenger boys and will doubtless live to furnish a toothsome morsel for someone.

Preparing for Shed.

From Tuesday's Daily. The city hall property is soon to have erected on the rear of the lots a new shed or shelter wherein the property of the city can be stored and the machinery and tools placed where they will not be exposed to the snow this winter and keep them in a better state of preservation.

Plattsmouth's New Lights.

From Tuesday's Daily. Some new nitrogen lights are soon to be installed on the main street of Plattsmouth, Neb., and it is anticipated that these lights will make the street a "gay white way." Visitors to that city after the lights are in place will be interested to observe how they compare in economy and efficiency with other kinds of street lights.—Omaha Trade Exhibit.

DEATH OF SAMUEL LONG AT SOUTH BEND THIS MORNING

From Tuesday's Daily. This morning at his home in South Bend, Samuel Long, one of the oldest and best known residents of that section, passed away quite suddenly. Mr. Long had not been in the best of health for the past few years and his condition has been the cause of considerable worry to his family for some time. He was one of the early residents of the county and for the past forty years has been one of the leading men in his community. Mr. Long was married in this city in 1872 to Miss Viola Streight, daughter of the late Jason Streight, and a sister of the late H. J. Streight and O. M. Streight of this city. The family have made their home in Cass county during all these years. Besides the wife, one son, Harry Long, survives to mourn the loss of the husband and father. The message received here did not give any particulars of the death of Mr. Long, but it is supposed to have resulted from heart trouble from which he had been suffering. The arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been completed.

MOST EXCELLENT MEETING HELD AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening was one of the best meetings of the revival services at the Methodist church and a very large attendance was present to take part in the meeting. There were some 125 members of the High school in the seats reserved for them in the main auditorium of the church, as well as a large number of the members of the Queen Esther class of the church. The evening was productive of bringing forward to take their stand some ten converts who were added to the list secured so far during the revival services, and brings the total close to 100. Special musical numbers were given at this service.

Tomorrow evening will be railway men's night at the church and requests have been made for the reservation of 200 seats for the employees of the Burlington shops. For this occasion a special program of music will be arranged and also added special features given to the evening service which should make it a splendid meeting.

W. C. T. U. Holds Meeting.

From Tuesday's Daily. The members of the W. C. T. U. held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Mrs. M. Archer yesterday afternoon. The attendance was very good and everyone felt that they had spent a most profitable and delightful afternoon. A short business session was held, at which time the ladies made final arrangements for their Japanese Bazaar, which they will hold next Saturday, November 20th, at the Warga & Schuldice store. After the business session Mrs. C. C. Wescott and Mrs. R. B. Hayes, who have charge of the mothers' department of this organization, took charge and carried out a program on this particular line of work. It proved very interesting and instructive to those in attendance.

Soon to Return Home.

From Tuesday's Daily. James Holmes, who is at the Presbyterian hospital in Omaha recovering from an operation for appendicitis, is now reported as doing nicely and it is expected that unless something unforeseen sets in that he will be able to return home Thursday.

"TWO MERRY TRAMPS" COMING TO PARMELE

Fine Entertainment, With No Fancy Price Attachments, and as Good as the Best.

From Wednesday's Daily. Next Tuesday night the manager of the Parmele theater offers "Two Merry Tramps," a clever stage melange-farce comedy, travesty and pantomime, set to music and further enlivened by frequent dancing numbers, in which all the tango and one-step touts figure largely. The play is by Ernest Ambrose, who contributes the book and lyrics, and Claude Roe, who composed the musical settings. The company is under the personal direction of E. A. Harrington, and, with the exception of a minor change or two in its cast of principals, remains the same as that which gave the play its premier in New York.

It has been characterized by many clever reviewers as being "quite the brightest and breeziest musical comedy of the season."

On the whole, "Two Merry Tramps" is to be commended for those who like this sort of thing, being an evening of extravagant farce and travesty, at which one may laugh without being ashamed of themselves—music that slips along in a riotous tumble of melody, as does all the tango tunes out of which it is made, and dancing that is sprightly.

"Two Merry Tramps" company includes a cast of principals and with its corps of numbers over eighteen people. Its girl chorus was splendidly drilled by Claude Roe, who devised and arranged the dance diversions. The chorus is said to be one of great beauty—a lovely string with splendid pace and vigorous action.

The piece will be given here with all the original costumes and stage embellishments, at a low price of admission.

EARL M. GEIS AND MISS ELSIE BUDIG MARRIED AT M'COOK

From Wednesday's Daily. Last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Budig, at McCook, Neb., occurred the marriage of Mr. Earl M. Geis of this city and Miss Elsie Budig. The wedding was one of simplicity and beauty and was attended by a number of the relatives and close friends of the contracting parties. The young people will enjoy a short visit in the west for a few days before returning home to this city, where the groom has a very pleasant home awaiting the arrival of his bride. The bride is a most charming young lady and well known here, where she has been a frequent visitor in the past, and in her home she possesses a host of warm friends who part with her with the greatest of regret. She is a niece of William Budig of this city and spent several months here while Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Murray were residents of this city, Miss Budig and Mrs. Murray being sisters. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geis, is a young man held in the very highest esteem by all who know him as one that is a gentleman in every sense of the word and a most pleasant and genial friend and associate, and during his years spent here in this city has won many warm friends, who will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Geis long years of happiness and success as they float along the matrimonial sea.

Very Prompt Settlement.

Gus Pein has received from the Degree of Honor lodge a draft for the payment of the insurance carried by his wife in that order, and the organization has been very prompt in the settlement of the claim, which speaks well for this splendid fraternal order. The settlement of the claim is greatly appreciated by Mr. Pein and his family and they will hold a warm spot for the fraternity of which their wife and mother had been a member.

To Unveil Monument.

From Wednesday's Daily. The Woodmen Circle lodge of this city will unveil the monument to the late Mrs. Celia Pein on Sunday, November 28th, at Oak Hill cemetery. It had been hoped to be able to do this the coming Sunday, but it was found necessary to postpone the ceremony. A number of the grand lodge officers are expected to be present at the services at the cemetery, and these services will be open to the public.

NEW PASTOR OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH AND FAMILY ARRIVE

From Wednesday's Daily. Yesterday Rev. C. E. PerLee, the new pastor of the Christian church in this city, arrived, together with his wife, to take up his duties in the pastorate here, and was kept busy meeting the members of the church and business men and getting acquainted with his future field of labor in the cause of the church.

Rev. PerLee is a graduate from Cotner university at Lincoln and is a young man who brings to his new charge a strong personality and ability to aid in the work of upbuilding of the church in this city, and will be assisted very much in this work by his wife, who is a lady of most charming personality. The household goods of the family have arrived here, and as soon as possible the family will move into one of the new bungalows erected by Peters & Richards on West Pearl street.

Mr. PerLee has been located at Marcus, Iowa, for some time and gave splendid service there to the cause he represents and should prove a wonderful force in the development of the Christian church here. It is a pleasure to welcome this gentleman and his accomplished wife, and it is to be hoped that they will find Plattsmouth a pleasant home and meet with the greatest of success in their work.

FAMOUS CALF CASE SETTLED BY BOTH SIDES PAYING COSTS

From Wednesday's Daily. The famous calf case, involving the young bovine claimed by both James Terryberry and Earl Wiles, seems to have been passed by and settled, as the two parties to the lawsuit that has attracted more or less attention, have gotten together and decided that as they were little ahead no matter how the lawsuit came out that they would attempt to reach a compromise, and accordingly the matter will be dropped. As far as can be learned the calf in controversy will be sold and the proceeds applied on the costs of the case, while both parties will be compelled to bear a share in the remainder of the court costs, which will amount to considerably more than the calf could possibly have cost. This is a very happy ending of what promised to be a most disagreeable affair and the friends of the parties to the suit will be well pleased to learn that it is to be settled without the necessity of a long and bitter contest through the courts which could win either side but little in the long run.

MEETING OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB POSTPONED

The meeting of the Plattsmouth Commercial club, which was to have been held on Thursday evening, has been postponed on account of the fact that the special meeting for railroad men will be held at the Methodist church on that evening, and as a great many of the members desire to attend the officers and directors of the club have decided that there will be no meeting held on Thursday. The next meeting of the club will be a continuation of the series of addresses on the subject of the industries and enterprise of Plattsmouth and should doubtless prove very interesting.

MAKING PLATTSMOUTH A MORE BEAUTIFUL CITY

The Work of Parking West Main Street Is Adding Greatly to Its Beauty.

The city has been engaged in doing considerable work on High School Hill, where the grading necessary to permit the parking of the residence property, and the street has been looked after in good shape and the property owners can now get busy in their plans of beautifying that portion of the city as it should be. This part of the city, located along the main thoroughfare, is one that in years gone by has been neglected, but in the past year it has received much needed attention, and it is a pleasure to note the changes that have taken place there in the public and private improvements, and there are a great many others contemplated in the spring that will tend to make this the prettiest street in the entire city.

The establishment of the curb and gutter on the street from Seventh to Tenth, has furnished an opportunity to a great deal of parking with a view of adding to the appearance of the street, and the efforts of the public-spirited citizens who have planted grass plots between the walks and the curb line will serve a good purpose in making the street an object of beauty, and the trees set out along these parkways will also be a valued addition to the general plan of a city beautiful.

Along this fine street there has been placed a great many new permanent concrete walks, all of which are monuments to the progress of the city and its people, and it is now possible to walk the entire length of Main street and find only one or two places where there is not a good permanent walk, and in a greater number of these cases they are of the latest approved style and finish and have added immensely to the value of the property along this thoroughfare.

All of these improvements are objects which should bring the greatest satisfaction to the citizens who take a pride in the city and speaks well for the property owners who have and in procuring such a splendid addition in procuring such a splendid addition to the community. In the coming year doubtless the curb and gutter work will be extended in this, as well as other sections of the city, and all of this will prove a boon to the city, as it in the end will be the means of reducing the cost of the upkeep of the streets of the city.

CASS COUNTY LADY MARRIED IN NEBRASKA CITY

This morning John F. Buck of Casper, Wyo., and Miss Alice B. O'Donnell of Union, came to this city and securing a license were married quietly at the rectory of the St. Mary's Catholic church by Father Sauer. They will take a short wedding trip, after which they will go to Casper, Wyoming, where they will make their future home. The bride is a well known and popular resident of the vicinity of Union and highly esteemed by everyone.—Nebraska City News.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck came up to this city this morning from Union, where they were visiting at the home of the bride's parents, and departed on their honeymoon for a short time before leaving for their home in the west.
