Miss Ault in Daily News Contest.

Miss Bernese Ault, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Ault, of Cedar Creek, is in the Omaha Daily News auto contest, and of course is making every effort to capture the prize, and has been making a great advancement to that end. This little lady will appreciate any and all favors that may be extended her in this contest by the readers of the News in any part of the county. If you are a reader of the paper and going to renew, remember the little Cass county lady and help her win the prize by sending your subscription to Mr. A. O. Ault, postmaster of Cedar Creek. Your kindness will surely be greatly appreciated by her.

Remember the dance at the Sayles hall in Cedar Creek on next Saturday evening. There will be good music and a good time for those who attend.

Ed McBride, who for some time was engaged in the meat business, in the employ of Wolf & Ault, and who has been spending the past two months on the Pacific coast, returned to Cedar Creek this week, where he is visiting with friends. He reports a very pleasant trip and tells an interesting story of the numerous sights of note he visited in the coast country.

Another Business Industry.

If the natural resources of Cedar Creek continue to grow, and the business industry that is necessary to take care of such resources continue to be launched in and near this village, she will sure be put on the business map of Nebraska. The latest is the sawmill equipment that was installed just north of the tracks last Friday by Mr. Christ Overgaard of Omaha. This new industry will employ about twenty men and five teams all the time, and the present contract that Mr. Overgaard has to fill will require about six months' work, sawing at the rate of 175 to 200 logs a day. This lumber is utilized in the manufacture of certain kinds of boxes, and is of a timber that is not found in all localities. His present contracts are with Omaha and Kansas City houses and will be shipped as rapidly as it can be placed in the proper dimensions for their use. These contracts will mean many thousands of feet. Cedar Creek will soon don the garb of a real city, the big factory whistle will be heard morning, noon and night. Let the good work go on, it all helps to increase the business of Cedar Creek and vicinity. Mr. Overgaard brought the more experienced men in this line of work with him from Omaha, while the balance of the men and all the teams are employed from this locality, and means a great deal more to the weekly pay-roll of this village.

Takes in the Omaha Shoot.

J. F. Wolff departed Tuesday morning of this week overland in his auto for Omaha, where he took part in the crack shoot that was being held in that city, given at the grounds of the Omaha Gun club. He went via Louisville, where he picked up Rolly Noyes and John Gauer, two other good shooters of this section, who made the trip with him. These gentlemen will make an excellent representation of Cass county shooters, especially after they were joined by Jim Terryberry, who after looking after some business matter in the county seat, drove to Omaha, where we understand he attended the shoot.

Business on the Increase.

Business seems to be on the increase at the First Security Bank of Cedar Creek. This is one of the recent additions to the village that means more than any other one thing that could possibly be launched here, and all should rejoice in the fact that they are growing each day from the start. The bank is safe and sound, and will no doubt be the future depository of all in this locality.

Shipping Hedge Posts.

Schafer Bros. loaded and shipped a carload of hedge posts from this station to their ranch in the western part of the state last Saturday. With the addition of the other business has made Cedar Creek a real busy place on his day, as there were eleven teams engaged in hauling the posts, and all wagons returned with a load of sand that will be used for building purposes.

This will be one of the shooting events of the season, and if you enjoy a day over the traps do not fail to attend this event. It will be under the management of J. F. Wolff.

A Queer Marine Animal Is the Dugong or Sea Cow.

The American Museum of Natural History, New York city, recently installed as a new exhibit a specimen of a dugong, or sea cow. In general appearance the dugong resembles the familiar seal, but has no hair on the body and is more nearly related to the porpoises and whales; nevertheless it is a warm blooded animal. The present specimen is nearly seven feet long and is the only one of its kind known to be preserved in any museum of the western hemisphere.

This animal is found on the shores of the Indian ocean, fifteen degrees on each side of the equator, from East Africa to Australia, and also in the Red sea. It is a marine animal which never ascends the rivers, its food consisting chiefly of seaweed and the algae found in the water. Years ago it was reported to have been found in large herds of several hundred individuals and to have been so fearless as to allow itself to be touched with the hand of man.

The flesh of the young dugong has been compared with pork, beef and veal, but the old animals are tougher and not so highly prized. The skin is smooth and thick; the upper lip is large and thick and covers prominent incisors, forming a kind of snout, something like the trunk of an elephant cut short across. The eyes are very small and are supplied with a third lid, which closes horizontally across the eye.

To its habit of raising its round head out of the water and of its great affection for its young, which it carries under the fore fin, seems to have arisen the legend of the mermaid, in allusion to which the name sirenna was given to this order of mammals.

Cause of Freckles.

Are you freckled? Those little brown spots we call freckles are seen on the skins of some people, especially after they have been exposed to the sun. If you went to the country the past summer or played out of doors a great deal you probably have freckles.

Freckles come on the hands and face because those parts of the skin are unprotected by clothes. Some people have more freckles than others. For some people the freckles disappear in a short time, while they stay on others for a long time.

The freckles are the result of the sun's action on cells of the skin, which cause those cells to produce coloring matter which remains there for a time.

Exchange.

To play this game one player is blindfolded and stands in the center. The other players sit in chairs in a circle around him. The players are numbered consecutively from one to the highest number playing.

The game starts with the blindfolded player calling out two numbers, whereupon the players with these numbers must exchange places, the blindfolded player trying to catch one of the players, so as to obtain one of the chairs.

In this game no player must go outside of the circle, but any other device may be used to escape capture, such as stooping, creeping, etc.

Word Addition.

To insure add the shortest word in the dictionary; to the combination add an essential for light at night in many homes; add again your automobile, and you will have the four syllables forming the name of a large island.

Answer: Mad-a-gas-car—Madagascar.

Up to Date.

A nowadays Red Riding Hood Would never tread that lonesome wood. In siren bugled motorcar The way to grandma's is not far. And woodmen now must spare that tree. So there would be no woodmen, see? In pall of sanitary make She carries salads, ornate cake. A patent bottle holds hot tea. Or cooling drink, as case may be. Her rifle, small, with newest latch. Sir Vagrant Wolf would soon dispatch. The old time cape would hurt her pride; She'd have one made of that wolf's hide. Then Mother Goose no tale could tell; I like new things, but this I know— I'm glad that she lived long ago! —Ph. ## GREECE ASSUMING LESS UNCOM-PROMISING AIR

King Constantine Has Expressed a Desire to Confer With Lord Kitchener.

SERBS HOLD BABUNA PASS

London, Nov. 17.—The Greek government appears to be adopting a less uncompromising attitude, says the Athens correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company. It is believed to be seeking a satisfactory solution of the question as to its attitude toward allied troops which might take refuge in the Greek territory, although it hesitates to make a declaration in the form demanded by the entente powers.

The correspondent says King Constantine has expressed a desire to see Earl Kitchener, the British secretary of war, who is now in the Near East, and discuss the situation with him from a military standpoint.

The diplomatic corps has gone from Monastir to Florina, just across the border in northern Greece.

Serbs Hold Strategic Pass.

A dispatch from Reuter's correspondent at Athens says that, according to information received there from Saloniki, the Serbians are still holding Babuna pass. The time at which the message from Saloniki to Athens was filed, however, is not given.

"Desperate battles continue between the Serbians and Bulgarians in the Tetovo district," the correspondent telegraphs. "Reinforcements are continually arriving on both sides, which shows the capital importance attached to this point by both staffs. The Bulgarians are still carrying on the movement intended to turn the Serbian positions at Babuna pass and reach Perlepe. If the movement succeeds the Serbians will be forced to abandon Babuna, but the operation is considered hazardous for the Bulgarians, in consequence of the lack of practicable roads.

"Allies' troops are leaving Saloniki daily for the Serbian front. "In the Cernia river region the French victoriously repelled all Bulgarian attacks and the Bulgarians lost heavily."

Usual Italian Report.

Rome, Nov. 16.—(Via Paris, Nov. 17.)—The following official statement was issued today at the headquarters of the Italian general staff:

"In the Adige valley during the morning of the fourteenth we enlarged and straightened the position we occupy on the steep hill which slopes down from Zugnotora towards Rovereto on the left bank of the Leno de Vallera torrent. The enemy immediately opened a violent artillery fire from Monte Ghella and launched an infantry attack, but was repulsed. In the Padola valley enemy detachments trying to approach our positions were beaten off, leaving a number of prisoners in our hands.

"In the Fella valley one of our detachments met enemy troops near Lupersa which were attacked and dispersed, the enemy abandoning rifles and ammunition in his flight.

"On the Carso plateau yesterday there was an intense artillery duel. The enemy's artillery fired all day against positions recently occupied by us, without preventing our reinforcements from coming up. In the Monte San Michele zone the enemy made two violent successive attacks in force on our line, but each time was stopped by the rapid and accurate fire of our artillery and finally had to retreat with heavy loss."

Bulgars in Tetovo.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Bulgarians again have occupied Tetovo, which already has changed hands several times, according to a report current at Saloniki, says the correspondent of the Petit Journal, who adds that no great significance is attached to the possession of this town, since the forces engaged on either side are small.

The Bulgars have been reported to be attempting a turning movement against Babuna pass to Tetovo and Gostivar, which would bring them out at Perlepe, south of the passes.

"There is nothing to add to the preceding communication," says the war office report of this afternoon.
