Facts About the Greatest Entertainment Ever Offered:

There are over 5,000 distinct scenes in "The Birth of a Nation." Eighteen thousand people and 3,000 horses were utilized in making the narrative. Mr. Griffith worked eight months without a let up to complete the picture. The production cost $500,000. The women's dresses of the period of 1860 used up 12,000 yards of cloth. Over 25,000 yards of white material were used in the costumes of the Ku Klux Klan. Two hundred seamstresses worked for two months to make these costumes. Five thousand words and reports on history of the Civil War searched for authentic data. Ford's Theater, Washington, reproduced to the smallest detail. Ten thousand dollars a day was paid for the use of an entire county in order to reproduce the wild rides of the Klansmen. A commissary and two hospital corps were maintained while the pictures were being taken. Not a human life was lost. A musical score of twenty-five pieces synchronized to several thousand individual scenes. Nearly 200,000 feet of film was originally taken. The performance lasts two hours and forty-five minutes, with one six-minute intermission.

GREAT VAUDEVILLE SHOW LAST NIGHT

A Large Audience Witness Some of the Finest Acting Ever Performed in This City.

The program given here last evening by the Empress advance vaudeville was one if not perhaps the best bill that this high class organization has presented and its members last evening were all good and included a well balanced and clever assortment of vaudeville acts.

Evenly and Dolly, two very clever little ladies gave a really wonderful exhibition of trick bicycle riding that was thrilling in the extreme and demonstrated that these two ladies are without a peer in this line of work. Keno & Wagner presented an odd and at the same time quite pleasing number in their sketch, "Midnight in Toyland" and this was something that has not been seen here for some time. One of the features of the program that pleased everyone was that of Judson Cole, that talkative trickster, whose cleverness has really to be seen to be fully appreciated and this clever and versatile gentleman in his different acts of slight-of-hand made a great big hit with the audience and his clever jokes and high class comedy was most enjoyable and it can be stated that as a slight-of-hand performer he is as good as one can find on the stage today. The biggest act of the bill however was that of the five McLarens, who in a Scottish musical act demonstrated their ability in this line and won a great deal of approval for their cleverness for both their musical numbers as well as in the dancing specialties which they gave to the accompaniment of the famous Scottish bagpipes. This musical troupe carries with them a very clever little lady as drummer and she certainly produced the greatest amount of music out of this instrument that is possible.

The audience last evening was quite large and everyone felt well pleased in having attended and doubtless there will be a great many new members of the Empress club to take in the performance here each week as they are given and they can rest assured that they will not be disappointed in the splendid attractions that Manager Aldrich has secured.

DELIVERY CLERKS AT THE POSTOFFICE NOT ENVIABLE POSITION

The lot of a clerk in the general delivery department of the postoffice is far from being a bed of roses and the incidents that they are forced to contend with are such as would sometimes tax even the patience of a Job to contend with and still preserve a calm, even temper. It is really surprising to see the number of questions that is piled to those clerks each day as well as the unnecessary trips they are compelled to make by parties making inquiries for their mail and in this the smaller children are especially very active. They will make trips to the postoffice at every opportunity and while it might have been only a short time previous that they had been there will inquire after mail when they hardly ever receive any. Another of the annoyances that is given the clerks is that of someone asking for mail and after it has been given they will push it back and say they will call later as they just wanted to know if there was any there and then with an inward feeling of gratified curiosity they will depart to return later and compel the clerk to again dig up the mail. Others will come to the window and stand there and if the clerk does not recognize them expresses great indignation at being compelled to give their name though the clerk has several thousand patrons each day to meet and wait upon. Truly the general delivery clerk has no soft snap with all the troubles and little annoyances they meet up with.

MATTER OF DR. COOK VS. C. LAWRENCE STULL IN COURT

This morning on the assembling of the district court the case of Dr. E. W. Cook vs. C. Lawrence Stull was called for trial and the selection of the jury commenced. This is a suit for services performed by the plaintiff and covers $152 with interest, including $100 for an operation on Alva Stull, a nephew of Mr. Stull, the operation which was performed in this city in July 1911, and for which the plaintiff claims the defendant was responsible as having called him to attend the injured young man. This morning the plaintiff, and Dr. J. S. Livingston, who assisted at the operation were placed on the stand and detailed the circumstances of the operation as well as the customary fees charged in such cases. The defense claims that he was not responsible for the payment for the operation on Alva Stull. The case will probably take the greater part of the day in hearing as there are quite a number of witnesses.
