A FURIOUS BATTLE IS RAGING IN THE EAST

Russian and Austrian Reports Contradictory on the Fate of Czartorysk.

FRENCH REGAIN TRENCH

Petegrad, Jan. 8.—Russian gains at three distinct points on the wide battle front extending from the Priget river southward to Bessarabia was reported in an official statement from the war office tonight.

The war office admitted that German troops drove the Russians out of Czartorysk, in Volhynia, a few hours after they had captured the town. Russian counter attacks again dislodged the enemy, it was stated. Czartorysk was recaptured and three officers and fifty prisoners taken.

"Our forces have captured Austrian positions at several places along the Stripa river," the war office announced "and we are still in close contact with the enemy. We have taken 1,000 men, seventeen officers and numerous machine guns."

"By heavy counter attacks the Austrians attempted unsuccessfully to stop our offensive northeast of Czartorysk. We took fourteen officers and 300 men prisoners, as well as some machine guns."

In the Riga region, Germans used asphyxiating gas against the Russian trenches without success.

Using Heavy Guns.
 Vienna, Jan. 9.—(Via Berlin by wireless)—With a great hammering of thousands of heavy guns, the Russians have resumed their offensive along the Bukovina frontier and in Galicia, the war office announced tonight. It is officially admitted that Russian troops swept into the Austrian trenches in furious hand to hand fighting near the Bessarabian frontier, east of Raranonza.

"They were quickly driven back by our reserves in a hand to hand fight," the official statement added. "We captured one officer and 250 men."

On the Galician frontier, the Slavs, after a heavy artillery bombardment, rushed the Austrian trenches under cover of a heavy mist over hanging the Galician hills along the Stripa river. Austrian artillery quickly located the advancing enemy forces and poured thousands of shrapnel shells through the fog. Their front swept by a raking artillery fire, the Russians began falling back. The Sixteenth and Twenty-fourth Honved regiments and the Fifty-seventh Galician regiment were ordered to counter attack and ejected the enemy from all the positions they had gained taking prisoner 720 men and ten officers, including one colonel.

Deny Russian Report.
 Bitter fighting is also occurring near Toporoutz, nineteen miles northeast of Czarnowitz, the war office asserted. The official statement contradicts the Petrograd claim that the Slavs have captured the town of Czartorysk in Volhynia, in their offensive movement against Kovel.

"All Russian attempts to reconquer the cemetery north of Czartorysk have failed," the war office said.
