From Saturday's Daily. The question of what is to be done with Fritz Deithel, the young man who has been here for the past few months as a charge on the city and county is one that is now adding grey hairs to the head of the county commissioners and a solution of the problem will bring a reward to anyone who can bring it forth.

Women of Sedentary Habits.

Women who get but little exercise are likely to be troubled with constipation and indigestion and will find Chamberlain's Tablets highly beneficial. Not so good as a three or four mile walk every day, but very much better than to allow the bowels to remain in a constipated condition.

"A QUEST FOR GOWN" PURELY A LOCAL OPERETTA BY HOME TALENT

From Saturday's Daily. Forty-five of our most popular young people are preparing to give us a treat in the nature of a three-act comedy with music, "A Quest for a Gown," for the benefit of the local chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution. The cause is a most creditable one, and we take for granted that the play will be the same, as it was staged in Fremont last year by the same over-seers, at a high admission to a crowded house and received many favorable comments in the newspapers.

Mrs. Fred Laird and Miss Alderman of Fremont, who are authors of the entire production—words, music and dance steps, and the staging the play here, have written several other plays and produced more than a dozen, all of these were from the pen of one or both of the young ladies, and produced at different places in the state. Papers from Fremont, Arlington, Stuart and Lincoln, speak highly of their ability and the results obtained, as do also, the literary and musical critics to whom the manuscripts have been sent for criticism.

Miss Alderman, who writes the music is highly praised as a young woman of considerable talent. Two of her Operettas for children have been sold outright and are published, after having been successfully staged in Fremont. Mrs. Laird, who is a daughter of Judge Geo. Loomis, now Internal Revenue Collector for Nebraska, studied play writing and elocution at Nebraska university and in Hannover, Germany. She was regent of the D. A. R. chapter at Fremont when the play was produced there. The young ladies staged a play for the Redpath Lyceum Bureau last summer.

MRS. J. C. PETERSEN ENTERTAINS THE PAST CHIEFS OF DEGREE OF HONOR

The Past Chief of the Degree of Honor were entertained yesterday afternoon at the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Petersen in a most delightful manner and the hours spent in the enjoyment of the gracious hospitality of the Petersen home were very pleasant indeed. The ladies came with their fancy work and spent the afternoon in sewing and with the plying of the busy needle a great deal of pleasure was derived and to add to the pleasures of the occasion several very delightful vocal and instrumental numbers were given by Mrs. Marie Zunders of Red Oak, Ia., which added very much to the delights of this happy event. At a suitable hour the ladies were invited to the dining room where a most elaborate luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles Petersen, Jr., and Miss Myrtle Petersen, and the dainty and delicious repast prepared was enjoyed to the utmost by the members present. The rooms of the Petersen home were very prettily arranged with decorations of potted plants and ferns and made a most charming setting for the gathering. There were sixteen members of the Past Chiefs' present to take part in the meeting and three, Mrs. Homer McKay, Mrs. H. C. Van Horn and Mrs. F. H. Steimker were reported as being ill and unable to attend and take part in the enjoyment of the occasion.

REMAINS IN POSSESSION OF THE FENCED-UP STREET

From Saturday's Daily. The mandate of the state supreme court in the case of George E. Perry vs. the City of Plattsmouth has been received in the office of the clerk of the district court for record. In this the supreme court affirms the decision of the lower court in the case where Mr. Perry sought a permanent injunction against the city to prevent their interfering with his fencing of certain streets in the south part of the city where his property was located and of which he had had possession for some years. The plaintiff won the case here in the district court in 1913 when it was tried before Judge Travis, and was later appealed by the city to the state court, where the city lost. The case is now settled that Mr. Perry can remain in possession of the fenced up streets and the city not be able to move the fences and open up the highways for travel.

From Saturday's Daily. Last Sunday was men's meeting at the Methodist church and a number responded to the call of the pastor for their special attendance on that afternoon. A male quartet from Plattsmouth, consisting of Messrs. Brooks, York, Seivers and Cloidt, rendered some good selections which were enjoyed by those present. The rest of the time was taken up by remarks from A. L. Tidd, H. H. Cotton, H. Davidson and William Gravitt. The revival seems to be progressing very nicely under the charge of Rev. Dr. Liner of the Plattsmouth Methodist church.—Union Ledger.

AN OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY AT I. O. O. F. HOME

Peter D. Bates, Long a Resident of Plattsmouth, Dies From Sudden Stroke of Apoplexy.

Yesterday morning Peter D. Bates, for a half a century a resident of Cass county, passed away at York, Nebraska, where he has been for the past two years making his home there in the state home of the I. O. O. F., order which he has been a member of from young manhood. The death of Mr. Bates was caused by a sudden stroke of apoplexy and death came shortly after the attack. He has been in rather poor health and at several different times has been visited by slight visitations of this mudy.

Peter D. Bates was a native of New York and at the time of his death was eighty-five years of age. He came to Nebraska in an early day and located on a homestead near Weeping Water where he resided for several years and later engaged in the carpenter business in this city, where he was among the best known contractors in the city or county. With his advancing years his health gradually began to decline, he was compelled to give up his former activities and retire to the home of which this order had founded for their aged and sick members, where, with his wife he has resided since leaving this city. He leaves the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Charles Hiatt and Mrs. E. F. Goodman, both of this city; two sisters, Misses Ellen and Lilly Bates of Weeping Water, and one brother, Fred Bates, of Seattle, Washington, to mourn his death. The body will arrive here this evening and the services held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church under the auspices of the I. O. O. F. The old friends and members of the order desiring to take a last farewell can meet at the residence of Henry B. Miller at 1:30.

A NUMBER OF THE GOSPEL TEAM WENT TO UNION SUNDAY

Yesterday to assist in the work of the revival services now being held in Union, a number of the members of a gospel team from this city visited our neighboring city and joined in the services. Those who went from this city were: Jesse Perry, Hugh Cecil, Phil Hubbard, Verdon Vroman, Frank Frazier, Floyd Stone and E. H. Westcott. These gentlemen participated in the services of the day and a most pleasant time was had in the carrying on of the religious extension work that is being planned in all sections of the country by the laymen of the different creeds to further the spread of the doctrine of Christianity. The members of the team gave testimony as to their experience in the line of Christian work and what the uplifting influence of the church has did for them. The Union meetings are constantly growing in interest and the attendance has become quite large as the work of Rev. Drulliner continues, and it seems as though that community was to have one of the greatest religious awakenings in recent years. The meetings will continue all this week at least, as the interest is becoming more manifest.

From the records in the office of County Judge Beeson it is learned that during the year just passed there was issued in his office 131 marriage licenses, which entitled 262 happy hearts to join in wedlock, and the showing is a very good one and shows that the matrimonial market is keeping a steady growth that indicates that Dan Cupid is still busy in old Cass county in rounding up the young and old who dwell in a state of single blessedness.

JOSEPH HATHAWAY RETURNED FROM THE HOSPITAL SATURDAY

Joseph Hathaway, the gentleman who was injured so severely at his farm home south of Murray several weeks ago as a result of being kicked by an infuriated horse, and who was compelled to undergo the amputation of his right leg later in order to save further injury from the infection that had set in on the injured leg, was able to return home Saturday afternoon, arriving here on No. 24 and being taken from this city to his home in the automobile of Thede Amick. Mr. Hathaway has stood the ordeal of the operation in fine shape and his leg has healed up nicely and he will soon be able to be around as well as usual, although it will be some time before he has thoroughly become accustomed to getting around with only one of his lower limbs. It is a source of pleasure to the many friends of this estimable gentleman throughout the county to learn that he is getting along so nicely and to have him back with them again as he has had a very close call from the injuries he sustained.
