

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Novelized by Samuel Field From the Successful Play by

ROI COOPER MEGRUE and WALTER HACKETT

Complications.

WANT to talk to you," said Rodney, coming toward Mary. "I've been wanting this opportunity for days, and now that I've got it I don't propose to be interrupted. That's why I locked the door."

Rodney had come over to her. "I want to talk to you," he said impetnously. "Mary, will you marry me?" "Why, really," began Mary shyly,

"I don't know what to say," hesitated the girl, feeling her ground. "Say yes," cried Rodney, waiting feverishly to hear her answer.

It came at last shyly, "Yes," whereupon Rodney cried, "You angel!" joyfully and tried to grab her. But things must not go quite so fast, Mary thought intuitively, and drew away a little from him, though, to tell the truth, she would willingly have let him catch her as she felt now.

"No, no; wait a moment," she said. "We'll be married right away," went on Rodney unabashed.

"But suppose your father disapproves?" said Mary. "He won't know anything about it until we're married, and then what could be do?" objected Rodney.

"He might cut you off." suggested "Would you care?" asked Rodney.

"I? No, no, indeed," said Mary hastily. "I was thinking of you, dear." "Don't you bother about me," cried Rodney. "We'll be married tomorrow | and then come home for the parental

"No, I couldn't do that." said Mary. "It wouldn't be right. I'm his private secretary. He trusts me and brings me here to his home, and then to find I'd married his son on the sly-no, Rodney, we couldn't do that."

"You do make it sound rather bad," said Rodney. "I shouldn't want to treat father badly. We've always been pretty good friends, he and I. I guess I'd better tell him-in a week or so -Mary's self composure had been rapidly returning during this colloquy, and she was surer of what she wanted. Indeed it piqued her a little that Rodney should have made such a proposal to her, so that now her own inclinations and the old gentleman's upstairs ran in the same channel. She spoke up quite resolutely:

"Why Rodney, if you love me you will want to get this awful suspense over with."

"But suppose he does object?" Rodney argued, seeing his light of happibess grow dim.

"Even then I wouldn't give you up," said his sweetheart. "Mary! "You could go into business," she went on, "make a big man of yourself, giving him another twinge. make me proud of you"-"You talk just like the heroine in a play I saw last night," protested Rodney. "She wanted the hero to go to and came with it to his father. work, and he did, and then for four acts everybody suffered."

"Don't you want to work?" asked Mary anxiously.

"I should say not," Rodney answered quite seriously. "Imagine going to son sincerely. bed every night knowing you'd got | to get up in the morning and go to there? business.

"You'd be happier, wouldn't you," queried Mary, "if you had a job?"

"Please don't talk like father," protested Rodney. "He's preached a job at me ever since I left college. Why should I work? Father made millions out of soap and is forever complaining that he's always had his nose to the grindstone, that he's never known what fun was, that it's all made him old before his time. I can't see the sense of following an example like that-I really can't. He's got enough their grandchildren. I've explained all this to him, but I can't seem to make work when there's millions in the famfly? And why even talk of it when you and I are in love?"

stretching out his arms to her, and fin-"Come, kiss me, Mary." But Mary drew back from him quick- son!" he called to Mary.

He leaned hungrily toward her,

ly. "No, you mustn't," she said firm-"Not till you've spoken to your father." "You won't even kiss me till I tell him?"

"And you will when I do?" "Yes.

"No."

"Then I'll tell him right away!" cried the valiant lover, striding to the door. "Oh, Rodney, you're splendid!" applanded Mary, "and don't be afraid." "Afraid!" echoed Rodney scornfully. But he paused a moment at the door and said: "You don't think I'd better wait till the morning? "No. I don't," sald Mary. "And don't be silly about his gout. He really is a for one it's much too small for two," very patient invalid." Rodney stood a moment with his hand on the knob, plucking up resolution. As he lingered there a violent | that I might marry?" inquired Rodney knocking sounded on the other side. and his father's voice could be distinctly heard crying "Ouch!" in an extra loud tone in the hall.

"Speaking of the patient invalid." whispered Rodney, looking back at the girl for whom he was so greatly dar-

"If you don't ask him now I'll never marry you," whispered Mary, forming her words as distinctly as was possible under the circumstances.

"Open the door!" cried the elder Martin angrily in the hall. "I'm coming, father. Coming," quaked Rodney as he turned the key. his father strode into the room stern- friend, even if I am your father. Don't wary 16. The door was no sooner opened than ly, uttering the ejaculation "Ouch!" twice and the polite phrase "the devil! at least once as he crossed the thresh-

"Why was that door locked?" he demanded, seowling. "Was it locked?" asked Rodney innocently. "You young fool, didn't you just unlock it?" roared his father.

"So I did," said Rodney nervously. Mary in the meanwhile had retreat ed to her typewriter, and now began typifying violently.

"Stop that noise," shouted Mr. Mar-

The noise ceased immediately, and Rodney looked at her discouraged. She motioned to him to go on Meunwhile Martin painfully limped to a chair by a small table and sank into it, his foot

"Ouch! Oh, my poor foot!" be moaned. Rodney hastily picked up a footstool

"I'm areald your foot hurts," he ventured propitiatingly.

"Not at all-I just pretend that it does," growled his father, "I hoped you were better," said the "Well, I'm not. What's that you got "A footstool-I thought it might make you more comfortable. "Comfortable? How much do you she wants." want out of me now?" his father asked shrewdly. "Why nothing, father," Rodney answered. "Well, anyhow the answer is, not a nickel"-"Why do you say that?" Rodney qua-

"I know you, and whatever it is you can't have it."

Rodney turned appealingly to Mary, who ignored him. He turned back t for you and me and our children and his father again, and tried to muste up his courage to the sticking point. "Well, as a matter of fact. I did shan't insult the girl I love," protesthim understand. But it's simple-why want"- he began, clearing his throat. ed Rodney hotly. "Oh, now we're getting to it," Mar> tin retorted. "Well, what is it?" "I wanted to have a talk with youan important talk"-"Curious! That's just what I wanted ished on a note of genuine appeal: to have with you. I've wanted it all day, and now we'll have it. Miss Gray-

"Yes, sir," said Mary meekly. "Get out!"

She went without a glance at Rodney, who stood looking after her dejectedly, not knowing that his love's intention was to give him moral support by listening in the hall. "Now, what do you mean by over-drawing your allowance again?" she heard Mr. Martin say when the door was closed. "Why?" innocently answered Rodney,

"it simply proves that I was right when I told you my allowance was too small.

"What!" ejaculated his father, quite evidently aghast. "And if my allowance is too small the boy continued ingeniously. "For two?"

"Father, has it ever occurred to you for anything," growled his father. "I don't consider a man a fool because he's married," said Rodney. "That's because you've never tried it." "I intend to try it, just the same," said Rodney. "Oh, you do, do you? Who is the girl?" "The girl?" repeated his son nerv ously. "Yes, girl. You're not going to marry an automobile, or a polo pony, or an aeroplane, or any other of your idiotic amusements, are you? You're going to marry a girl, aren't you? Some blue eyed, doll faced, gurgling, fluttering little fool. Oh, why doesn't God give young men some sense about women?" "I object very strongly to your speaking in that way of Miss Grayson,' spoke up Rodney angrily.

"Miss Grayson? Miss Graysonyou're not going to marry a type writer!"

"Yes. sir." "Does she know it?"

"Yes, sir." "Oh, of course she knows a good thing like you when she sees it"-"I won't listen to you talk of Miss Grayson in that way"-"You've got to listen. I won't permit any such absurd, ridiculous marriage. Thank heaven you had sense enough not to elope!"

"I wanted to, but she wouldn't. She insisted on your being told. So you see what an injustice"-

"Injustice! Can't you see she wanted me to know so that if I disapproved and cut you off she'd not be stuck with you on her hands?" "Please, father"- pleaded Rodney and then dropped his hands at his sides and turned to go, adding, "It's quite useless," "No, my boy; wait a minute," said

Mr. Martin. "Remember I'm your

"I'm coming, father. Coming," quaked Rodney.

you believe it? It's only your mone,

"I know it isn't," replied Rodney "I'll prove it is," said his father, pushing an enameled electric bell that stood near him on the table. "What are you going to do?" cried Rodney nervously.

ther grimly. "I'll tell that schemin; her special training in music made was highly successful and each ses- hospital with his wife, who is improv- may legally come before it. secretary that if you persist in this her services at the piano and in the sion was attended by a large and ap- ing nicely. marriage I'll disinherit you, and then choir especially valuable. Her pres- preciative audience. Much enthusiasm you watch her throw you over," he amplified for Rodney's benefit, "Even if you are my father you

"Poppycock! You're afraid to put chuck you," retorted his father. But Rodney answered quietly: "I'm not afraid, father. You're mistaken." Johnson appeared meanwhile in anhis usually imperturbable face, if they number of friends to morn her loss. had only noticed it, returned with looked from father to son with an elab-

"You wanted me, Mr. Martin?" She saw Rodney out of the tail of And all beneath that shines is vain, her eye make a movement toward her There is a brighter world on high, and say "Mary" in a pleading tone: Beyond the reach of care and harm. then heard his father interrupting him Then, let the hope of joys to come her, "has just informed me that you If God be ours, we're traveling home has a good team, but Peru team did and he intend to get married. Is that inquired:

(To Be Continued.)

FOUND.

FOUND-A good horse blanket. Belle Boreman was born near Alvo, second semester. Owner can have same by calling at June 2, 1894. Died January 16, 1916. Among the trainers we now see Miss the Journal office.

ALVO NEWS ITEMS They Let Him

Sold Everywhere.

would have graduated this spring. She

Omaha, Neb.; Clay C. Foreman, Kend-

Funeral services were held January

19, 1916, in the Alvo M. E. church.

Card of Thanks.

so kindly assisted us in the death and bural of our beloved daughters and

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Foreman, Sr.,

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godbey and

FROM PERU NORMAL.

An informal opening was held at

and Family.

Daughter.

Keefer has a class in music and will pathy shown us in this, our greatest

We desire to thank all those who rick, Colo.; Glenn and Carroll, Alvo.

C. R. Jordan was in Lincoln Mon-

Lincoln Tuesday. R. W. Stewart was transacting busi-

Harry and Oscar Toland were in

"Since taking Foley Kidney Pills
I believe I am entirely cured and I sleep soundly all night." H. T.
Straynge.

Take two of Foley Kidney Pills with a glass of pure water after each meal and at bedtime. A quick and easy way to put a stop to your getting up time after time during the night. ness in Omaha Thursday. George Ryan and Lafe Mullen were night.

Folcy Kidney Pills also step pain in tack and sides, headaches, stomach troubles, disturbed heart action,

Mrs. Charles Rosenow was a passtiff and aching joints, and rheumatic pains due to kidney and bladder ailenger to Lincoln Wednesday. Ed Casey returned from South Oma-

Lincoln visitors Wednesday.

ments.
Gainesville, Ga., R. R. No. 3. Mr.
H. T. Straynge says: "For ten years
I've been unable to sleep all night without getting up. Sometimes only a few minutes after going to bed I'd have to get up, and I tried everything
I heard of for the trouble. Last year I tried Foley Kidney Pills and after taking one bottle I believe I am entirely cured and I sleep soundly all right." ha Wednesday, where he visited his parents for a few days. Tucker Uptegrove returned Saturlay from Missouri, where he has been isiting for some weeks. "Of course it has. You're fool enough Ed Uptegrove of Sidney, Neb., came n Monday to visit his parents, Rev. nd Mrs. E. L. Uptegrove.

> The new books for the library are 1916. expected to arrive this week. The lirary will be open Saturday.

argest funeral ever held in Alvo.

Dr. L. Muir attended the State and later entered the high school at Medical association convention in University Place from which Belle Omaha Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mart Campbell of taught school in 1914. Both girls were White Lake, S. D., spent Saturday popular, and will be greatly missed by all. They leave to morn their loss with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Appleman. their parent, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fore-Mrs. William Casey and sister, Mrs. man, sr., brothers, J. H. Foreman, jr.,

William Barber, and little daughter visited friends in Lincoln Monday and John D. Newkirk of Ansley, Neb., is spending a few days with his broth- Interment was in Alvo cemetery in one er, William Newkirk, and renewing old grave.

acquaintances. Charles Godbey visited Tuesday with J. H. Foreman, who is in the hospital at Lincoln. Mr. Foreman is geting along nicely. Miss Pearl Keefer of University sisters. Words cannot express our ap-Place was in town Wednesday. Miss preciation of the kindness and symteach here each Wednesday. A shower was given Monday afternoon for Mrs. Jesse Hardnock at her home. Many useful presents were received and a very enjoyable time was

George Ryan came down from Chappell, Neb., to attend the funeral of his cousins, the Misses Belle and Edith Foreman, who were acidentally killed by the Rock Island flyer Jan-at dinner Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Ed ernoon and hundreds of students, facin honor of Mrs. Moore's uncle, Mr. Many appropriate donations were business man in early days. C. Grant, of Chicago, Illinois, who left made by the interested citizens, for his home Wednesday, after two among them, jellies, canned fruit, weeks' visit here.

grape juice, bedding, towels, etc. The Mr. and Mrs. Allhads, a sister, of merchants of the town contributed Kearney, Neb.; James Friend of Over- liberally from their various stocks. A liance, Neb., a cousin; Mr. and Mrs. a year's supply of milk. Mart Campbell of White Lake, a sister, attended the funeral of their niece, from the press which is given over to Miss Alma Godbey.

Obituary. Miss Alma Bernice Goodbey was ment by Professor B. C. Hendricks. born in Kearney, Neb., July 23, 1897, This bulletin is for free distribution and died in Alvo, Neb., January 16, among the schools of Nebraska. Re-1916, age 18 years, five months and quests should be accompanied by postthree years old her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godbey, moved to Alvo pure this Manday and the City yesterday for a few 1916. SARAH M. HARDERSON Mrs. Charles Godbey, moved to Alvo nual trip Monday, appearing that eve- hours looking after some trading with Alma received her common school in Wesping Water Tuesday evening; ducation in the public school of Alvo, in Lincoln Wednesday evening; in and for two years has been in attend- Dawson Thursday evening, and in Neance at the high school in University maha City Friday evening. The pro-Place, where she was a junior and gram includes the usual quota of light president of her class at the time of melodies and college songs, but lays her demise. She took an active part stress upon music that is really good. in school life and leaves behind a host Miss Meyer of the voice department. of loving and appreciative school will appear in a solo and also in an of the Omaha division of the Burling- Plattsmouth, Nebraska, at 10 a. m., united with the M. E. church at Alvo, Mr. Howie will contribute solos. The company. and remained a faithful and consistent numbers contributed by the ten-piece member of the same. She was always band will prove especially attractive. afternoon for Omaha, where he will are elected and qualified, and for the "Send for Miss Grayson," said his fa- ready to cheerfully do her part, and The series of debates held last week visit for a short time at the Immanuel transaction of such other business as ence in the church and Sunday school was manifested. The judges named will be greatly missed by many friends the following as the team which who had learned to love and honor her will oppose Kearney and Wayne Norfor her beautiful Christian character. mals: Roy Hagerty of Geneva, Clar-

She was a loyal friend, and a loving, ence Howie and Emmet Donovan of her to the test. You're afraid she will respectful, obedient daughter, possess- Peru, Bryan Emmert of Tripp, S. D. ed of the pure, sweet qualities of bud- Luella Rowley of Barnston, Roy Hull knew her. She leaves a father, mother able mention was given to Sam Dress-

> Funeral services were held in the M. John Sahlstrom of Minnesota. cemetery at Alvo. January 19, 1916.

men from the first were a bit too home. swift and machine-like for the visitcurtly. "My precious son," he told Dispel our cares, and chase our fears; three successive games and no doubt

> Though passing through a vale of some effective work and the final score stood 3 to 16 in our favor. tears. Miss Hope Connely of Nehawka has taken up work as a sophomore for the

1-15-tfd Edith Foreman was born near Wal- Elsie Gapen of Plattsmouth.

Local News

Sleep Soundly From Tuesday's Dail7. G. R. Rhoden was in the city for a few hours today looking after some trading with the merchants.

> Ed S. Tutt of Murray was in this city for a few hours today looking after some matters of business and visiting with friends.

> County Commissioners Snoke and Heebner came in last evening to resume their work in checking over the different county offices.

> Fred Rezener of Alliance, Neb., is in the city visiting with his wife at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Tams, west of the city.

ton, June 19, 1897. Died January 16, looking after some matters of import- of Mrs. Garrison as to having received

They, with their parents, moved to Mrs. F. R. Guthmann returned home Cheney, where they lived until about last evening from Murdock, where she The triple funeral of Belle and Edith seven years ago when they moved to has been for the past few days visit- gestion, dizziness, drowsiness. For a Foreman and Alma Godbey was the Alvo, where they have since resided. ing with her son, H. A. Guthmann and mild, opening madicine, use Doan's Both sisters attended the Alvo school family.

Mrs. James W. Helmes of Murray came up this morning to enjoy a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rawls and with other relatives and Ed Ruhge of Weeping Water drove o this city yesterday to attend to some business matters and visit county cat friends. He was a pleasant caller at this office.

Morgan Waybright was among those going to Omaha this morning, where he will visit for a few hours with his daughter, Mrs. Allen J. Beeon, at the Immanuel hospital.

Henry Kehne and son, William, came down this morning from their home between Louisville and Weeping Water and spent the day here looking after business matters, and while here in the District Court of the County of Water and spent the day here looking called at the Journal effice for a short

L. H. Puls and wife and Louis Fredrich motored up this morning from their home near Murray and departed on the early Burlington train for Omaha, where they will visit for the day and Louie will secure some auto repairs while there.

John M. Shirk of Alliance, who has been in Chicago attending a labor meeting, was here for a few hours today en route to Denver, where he will Mr. and Mrs. H. Moore entertained the Students' Infirmary Monday aft- be present at a union meeting. Mr. Shirk is a son of Mike Shirk, a former Case and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shaffer ulty members and citizens called. resident of this city, and a well known

From Wednesday's Daily. John F. Gorder was a passenger this afternoon for Omaha to spend a few ton, Neb., a brother; Jack Ryan of Al- local dairyman gave milk tickets for hours looking after some matters of

> A Normal Bultecin has just con e W. A. Ingalls was among those going to Omaha this morning where he some out-live courses in botany by was called to look after some matters Professor Jean, and some suggested of business for a few hours. nature study material and its treat-

Luke Wiles and wife were among those going to Omaha this morning where they will spend the day looking after some business matters.

where she has since lived with them. ning at Prownville. They will sing the merchants, returning home on the "Schuyler."

> Mrs. C. Tyler returned home this ofternoon from Moorehead, Iowa, where she has been for a short time visiting with her sister, who has been ensemble number. Miss Grace Seich ton, was here today for a few hours February 24, 1916. On the 10th day of April, 1910, she is the accompanist. Mr. Donovan and looking after some matters for the County Judge Beeson departed this pany to serve until their successors

> C. F. Vallery and Jesse Brown came in this morning from the country districts and departed on the early Burlington train for Omaha, where they will visit for the day, looking after business matters.

W. A. ROBERTSON, Lawyer.

East of Riley Hotel. Contes' Block, Second Floor.

EX-SENATOR W. B. BANNING CALLS ON THE JOURNAL

While in the city today William B. Banning of Union dropped into the Journal editorial sanctum for a short chat with the editor, and the occasion was one that was very pleasant, as "Billie" Banning is one of the most genial and whole-couled gentlemen in the county. He is here attending district court as the administrator of the estate of the late G. W. Garrison, in the action entitled W. B. Banning, administrator, vs. Mrs. Nancy J. Garrison, in which the plaintiff is seeking to recover the $16,000 in notes which Mrs. Thomas Wiles was among were awarded the defendant in the those going to Omaha this morning, jury trial last term. New evidence where she will visit for a few hours, has been introduced to refute the story the notes from her husband.

> Constipation causes headache, indi-Regulets. 25c a box at all drug stores.

Subscribe for the Journal.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS. STATE OF NEBRASKA.

ass County, ss. the Matter of the Estate of January In the Malter of the Estate of James Cassitey, Deceased:
Notice is hereby given to the creditors of said deceased that hearings will be had upon claims filed against said estate, before me, County Judge of Cass County, Nebraska, at the County Court room in Plattsmouth, in said County, on the 1th day of February, 1916, and on the 6th day of September, 1910 at 10 o'clock a.m., each day for examina-0 o'clock a. m., each day for examina-on, adjustment and allowance. All claims must be filed to said court

Sarah M. Harrison, Sarah Elizabeth Martin and Eva May Harvey, Plaintiffs,

William Harrison, et al., To William Harrison, if living, if dead, his heirs, devisees, legatees and personal representatives, and all persons interested in his estate, whose names are unknown, and tison, whose first real name is unknown, defendants: defendants: ou and each of you are lereby noti-D. 1915, the above named planting in Township Twelve (13), North, of Range ten (10), East of 6th P. M. in Cass County, Nebraska, to forecer exclude and enjoin you and each of you, and all persons claiming by through or under you, from claiming any right, the claim item or interest in or to title, claim, Hen or interest in the said real estate or any part in, if any, either legal or equitable, and to have the same adjudged inferior to plaintiffs' title to said land, and for equitable relief. Plaintiffs allege that they and Samuel W. Harrison, from whom they inherited said real estate, title to said land, and for relief. Plaintiffs allege that Samuel W. Harrison, from whom they inherited said real estate have been in the actualy continuous popen, notorious, exclusive and adverse possession and ownership of all said ands, claiming the same against all the world and especially against the defendants herein, since prior to the year 1888. You and each of you are further otified that you are required to answer id petition on or before the 21st day February, A. D. 1916, and dance with the prayer of plaintiffs'

EVA MAY HARVEY, PALMER, TAYLOR & PALMER,

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the Stockholders of the Burlington & Missouri River R. R. Com-A. F. Hendengren, master carpenter pany in Nebraska, will be held in election of nine directors of the com-

The meeting will be held for the

C. J. ERNST, Secretary. Omaha, Nebraska, January 5, 1916. 1-10-5wks-w

ROAD NOTICE.

To All Whom It May Concern:

The Commissioner appointed to Henry Horn departed this morning view and report on the expediency of ding womanhood, and commanded the of Murray, A. A. Wolf of Indianola, for Omaha to visit his son, H. J. Horn, establishing and locating a public respect and confidence of all who C. W. Osness of Burke, S. D. Honor- who is at the Immanuel hospital in road 40 feet wide, running across Omaha taking treatment for his in- the North East Quarter (NE 1-4) of short time and with a queer look on and sister, Mildred, besides a countless ler of Peru, William Novak of Howells, Harry Pitman of Dunbar, and gerat deal of trouble since the injury. ship Ten (10), North, Range Thirteen Mrs. Angelina Hitt of Table Rock, (13), East of the 6th Principal Meri-Mary Grayson under his escort. Mary E. church, and interment made in the The first game of basketball for this Neb., who has been here visiting at dian, parellel and adjacent to and on season was called at 8:30 Tuesday the home of her son, Charles Hitt and the north side of the Right-of Way orately assumed air of innocence and But though earth's fairest blossoms evening. The new seats were novel family, for the past few weeks, de- of the Missouri Pacific Railroad Comand comfortable, the band made lots parted this morning for Omaha for a pany, where said right-of way crosses of noise and enthusiasm ran high. Our short visit before returning to her said land, has reported in favor of the establishing thereof; and all objections hereto, or claims for damages, ors. Cotner came to us the victor in the County Clerk's Office on or before noon on the 25th day of March, A. D., 1916, or such road will be established without reference thereto.

FRANK J. LIBERSHAL, County Clerk. Done at Plattsmouth, Neb., this 15th day of January, 1916.

1-17-4 wks