He was a pleasant caller at the Journal office and had his subscription extended for another year.

Another fine tried bred Duroc-Jersey sow was added to the Oldham herd this week, purchased of Mr. Young, of Cook, Neb. This new addition to the Oldham herd is a King, the Colonel sow and bred to Wonder Gano. The bringing of this hog will help to make it possible to change the blood lines, so that old customers may be able to select from this herd.

Herman Gansemer and family will load their goods at Hartington this week for shipment to Cass county. They will take up their future home on the old Messina farm, west of Murray. Mr. Messina will take up his home in Manly when Mr. and Mrs. Gansemer arrive. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gansemer will be pleased to welcome them back to the old home.

DEATH OF LEE ALLISON A PIONEER CITIZEN

This morning Lee Allison, one of the pioneer residents of the county and one of the best known residents of this section, passed away at his home east of Murray after an illness of four weeks, during which time he gradually grew weaker as he suffered from a general breakdown of his system, which with his increasing years, he had been unable to withstand the rigors of the winter.

Mr. Allison's death will be greatly regretted by the many friends throughout the county, who have known him so well during all these years. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Lewiston church near his home, and the interment held in the cemetery nearby. There will be a more extended biographical sketch of this worthy gentleman published in the Journal later.

A Pleasant Evening.

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rhoden, northwest of Murray, was the scene of a very enjoyable time last Friday evening, the occasion being a surprise gathering given in honor of their son, Galen Rhoden, planned and carried to a successful end by a number of his friends. There was quite a large number of friends gathered in to spend the evening most of whom had a hand in planning the affair. The evening was spent in games of numerous kinds, and at the usual hour all were treated to a delicious oyster supper. Those present to enjoy the evening with Mr. Rhoden were: Glen Valley, Louise Valley, Charley Mutz and wife, Allie Leonard and wife, Ed Mutz and wife, Alvis Riggs and wife, Glen Rhoden and wife, Jake Lohnes and wife, May Valley, Ella Lohnes, Louise Valley, Florence Valley, Nellie Riggs, Sunbeam Riggs, Martha Valley, Elsie Lohnes, Helen, Marie and Gertrude Valley, Dortha Rhoden, Grover Will, Will Petty, Clinton Lane, Ambrose Smith, Joseph Lloyd, Gold Rice, Harry Lohnes, Galen Rhoden, Jr., and Lawrence Leonard.

Celebrates Fifty-sixth Birthday.

On Tuesday of this week Mrs. B. F. Brendel celebrated her fifty-sixth birthday anniversary, and in honor of the occasion all the children were invited home to take dinner under the parental roof, all of whom were present with the exception of Dr. Will Brendel, of Avoca, whose practice was such that he was unable to attend. There was present Dr. J. F. Berndel and wife and son, T. J. and wife, and Will Seybold and wife, children of the doctor and Mrs. Brendel; also Miss Rachel Livingston and Miss Rose O'Donald. The day was a very pleasant one for all.

Aged Lady Falls.

Mrs. Stella Spangler, residing down near Weeping Water, fell on the ice last Sunday morning and broke her hip. Her daughter, Mrs. Val Gobelman, residing near Union, was called to her home, and Mr. Gobelman took her down there Wednesday morning, where she will remain with her mother for a few days, and until relieved by others of the children, as it will no doubt take some time for the injury to mend. Mrs. Spangler has passed 70 years of age.

Combination Public Sale February 22.
