NO matter what your tastes in dress may be you will find within precisely what you are looking for.

We show models built on conservative lines—models of ultra fashions, semi ultra and some designed especially for the younger men. We have models for all, and models for all occasions.

The same variety and purpose is shown in our selection of fabrics. Here you will find the finest ideas of the season, all in the newest weaves and tones and comprising the latest novelties in stripes, plaids and checks, together with a full assortment of rich and popular staples.

In the garments themselves we offer the most distinctive tailoring—every detail correctly executed and in full compliance with the very highest standard of workmanship.

SLAYING THE WOLVES IN CENTER PRECINCT

Jack Boom, the notorious trapper and hunter, organized a most successful wolf hunt in Center precinct in Cass county, which was pulled off yesterday, and comprising twenty-four sections, and in which 490 men participated, and were successful in killing eight out of twelve wolves. Special mention must be made of the organization of the boys, who held their lines and came in on the final wind-up like a regiment of drilled soldiers. To this good organization we attribute their success. Rudolph Bergmann of Manley was one of the successful marksmen in killing one wolf. Another hunt is scheduled for Monday, February 21st, east of Manley, and James Terryberry will have a good line-up from the north.

Making Some Rabbit Hunter.

We have been informed, recently that our mighty good friend, Jake Shaffer, out at Alvo, is becoming some rabbit hunter these last few snowy winter days. We have not heard Jake tell how he does it, neither have we heard of him telling just how many he has been slaying, but no matter how large the story may be, we will wager a coon skin that it will be the truth when he tells it. He must be a good shot, for there is one thing sure, he cannot run fast enough to catch them. Jake is one of the best fellows in the world, but if we were out hunting for rabbit hunters he is the last man in the world that we would take for a successful hunter; he would make a better fisherman. This is our long suit, so come down, Jake, and we will show you that it is the best game of the two.

To Give Cash Prizes.

Saturday evening at the masquerade given by the T. J. Sokol girls at the hall on West Pearl street, there will be four big cash prizes offered for the best costumes, and until unmasking there will be no one allowed on the floor without a mask.

Carl Kohrell of Nebraska City was a Plattsmouth visitor last Saturday evening, and Sunday morning he went to Omaha, where he spent the day visiting with friends. Carl is farming down in Otoe county and lives with his father, Louis Kohrell. He reports all the folks doing nicely and enjoying good health.

F. A. Finkle came up from Union last evening to attend to some business matters and visit friends for a few hours, returning home on the midnight train. Frank gave the Journal a pleasant call.

$4,000,000 FIRE DESTROYS TWO RUSSIAN VESSELS

Rope Ladder Formed—One Sailor Is Taken From Top of the Steamer's Mast.

THE FIRE BEING INVESTIGATED

New York, Feb. 16—The Russian steamships Bolton Castle and Pacific were burned at Brooklyn piers early today.

No lives are believed to have been lost. Fifty naked men were rescued from one sand barge.

The total loss is more than $4,000,000.

The Bolton Castle was loaded with paraffin, gasoline and oils, and the Pacific was nearly half loaded.

Fire Marshal Brophy and Fire Chief Kenlon immediately began an investigation. They suspect a possible bomb plot.

All available fire apparatus was called into action and every fire boat in the southern end of the city played streams on the burning vessels.

Another report was that a short circuit of electric wires on the dock started the blaze, which swept along the 700-foot pier and set fire to the steamers.

Two Stories of Cause.

Joseph Johnson, engineer of the Bolton Castle, was walking on deck, he said, when there was a terrific explosion in the forward hold.

Instantly that part of the ship became a furnace of flame, and Johnson dove into the slip and swam to pier No. 36.

The pier, jammed with stevedores and freight, soon was a mass of flames. The fire next leaped to the Pacific, and both vessels and the pier were enveloped in fire in an incredibly short time.

One of the Pacific's seamen, trapped as he ran up from below, climbed the fifty-foot mast and, half naked, hung at the top peak, yelling for help. Flames roared below him. A fire tug shot him a line, he knotted one end about the mast and slid to safety while his comrades on deck cheered wildly.

Oil Ship Towed Away.

The fire boat New York averted further disaster by towing away a gasoline-laden lighter, on whose decks burning brands were falling.

More than fifty stevedores and their families aboard lighters were saved by firemen with a rope bridge.

C. C. WESCOTT OF THIS CITY AGAIN HONORED IN OMAHA

At the convention of the Nebraska Retail Clothiers' association, held in Omaha Tuesday and Wednesday, February 15-16, Mr. C. C. Wescott of this city was re-elected to the position of secretary-treasurer of the association, and all of the old officers of the association will be retained in office for another year. Mr. Wescott has been one of the hard-working officials of the state association and his election is a well deserved recognition of his services to the association and the general promotion of the trade interests throughout the state. The convention was closed last evening by a big banquet at the Fontenelle hotel, tendered by the Omaha jobbers to the visitors.

WM. CHANDLER, FORMERLY OF THIS CITY, DIES IN THE JUNCTION

This afternoon the body of William Chandler arrived from Pacific Junction, where he passed away yesterday at the home of his brother, John Chandler, in that place. Mr. Chandler was a resident of Plattsmouth for a number of years, being employed in the Burlington lumber yard in this city, and later he removed to Lincoln, where he made his home for the last few years. He visited the Junction several weeks ago, and while there was taken sick and gradually grew worse until death came to his relief. The body was taken from the Burlington passenger station to the Streight undertaking rooms, where it will remain until the hour of the funeral, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist church. Mr. Chandler was an old soldier and will be well remembered by a great many of the older residents of this city.

Basket Ball Game Tomorrow.

Tomorrow evening the Christian Endeavor basket ball team of Auburn will visit our little city and take on the Young Men's Bible class team of the Methodist church in an exhibition of this line of sport. The Auburn team is rated as one of the best in this part of the state and will give the bible class team a run for their money. There is a great deal of interest being shown in the game and the rooters of the local team will all be present to cheer on their team to victory.

Father Leete Better.

The friends and parishioners will be pleased to learn that Father Leete, who has had quite severe attack of tonsillitis, is feeling much better and was able to be out on the porch for a few moments today. His many friends trust that he will continue to improve.

Mrs. O. P. Monroe Ill.

Mrs. O. P. Monroe has been on the sick list for the past few days and the store will be closed until she has recovered sufficient to resume the management.

Mrs. George Goos and daughters, Mrs. Peter Mumm, jr., and Mrs. James Marasek, departed this morning for Omaha, where they will attend the funeral of the late Peter Goos.

W. M. Kitzel and C. E. Cook, from near Alvo, who were here last Thursday evening attending the democratic banquet, paid the Journal office a brief call, and while here Mr. Kitzel renewed his subscription for another year.
