Farm Implements and Wagons and Harness!

With a large crop of corn to market many farmers are in need of a new wagon, extra box or harness, which we have in stock and invite your inspection before you buy. We pride ourselves in handling the "Birdsell" wagons and "Birdsell" extra boxes, built from genuine yellow poplar and hand painted with lead and oil, which insures your wagon against cracking and peeling when exposed to the elements. The "Birdsell" has many distinctive features not found in any other wagon and the boxes are the only "yellow poplar" sold in this territory. We carry a full line of Farm Machinery in our new 24x66 building and are prepared to fill your requirements for the Spring work. Call and give us a chance to demonstrate this fact to you. We'll appreciate the favor. Our Harness, Collars, Pads and Extra Parts to put your old harness in shape, "Eureka" Harness Oils, Curry Combs and Brushes are all ready for your inspection.

A Birthday Surprise.

Thursday, March 9, was the forty-seventh birthday of Mrs. G. R. C. Gregory, and the friends and neighbors gathered at her home to remind her that she had passed another year. To say that she was surprised is putting it mildly. At an early hour the neighbors began to arrive, and a pleasant evening was spent in various ways, and at a late hour the many well filled baskets which the guests had brought were brought forth and a most elegant supper was served, after which the friends departed to their many homes, wishing Mrs. Gregory many more birthdays. Those present were:

G. P. C. Gregory and wife, Jake Hill and wife, Carl Gregory and wife, Philip Horn and wife, Fred Kaufenberger and wife, Albert Schafer and wife, Archie Gregory and wife, Jake Trietsch and wife, Philip Trietsch and wife, Fred Meisinger and wife, Mrs. Terryberry, Mrs. George Rhoden, Mrs. Glen Rhoden, Pearl and Fay Gregory, Glen Rhoden, sr., Glen Rhoden, jr., Clifton Meisinger, Calven and Lloyd Gregory, Dorothea Rhoden, Esther Trietsch, Albert Schafer, jr., Frances Schafer, Elizabeth Trietsch, Myrard Trietsch, Florence Terryberry, Glen Terryberry, Otto Gregory, Ella Lohnes, Earl Terryberry, Delois Gregory, Miss France, Bessie Meisinger. Mrs. Gregory received many presents, which were greatly appreciated, and a day that will be long remembered was spent.

To Be at Cedar Creek.

Rev. August W. Reinhard is now permanently located in Omaha, representing the American Tract society in the capacity of field secretary and superintendent. Dr. Reinhard has been very busy in meeting his appointments and is fast winning the confidence and favor of all that have listened to his convincing presentation of his worthy cause. The very instructive and educating stereopticon lecture on "The Value of Sacred Literature," recently delivered at Cedar Creek, is a wonderful revelation of the work which is being accomplished by the society. Next Saturday evening Dr. Reinhard will give a stereopticon lecture on "The Panama-Pacific Exposition," in the Presbyterian church of Cedar Creek. The screen pictures in this lecture bring the architecture and beauty of the grounds and the general design of the great exposition so clearly and real to the mind that one would almost imagine, at the close of the lecture, he had been on the grounds and through the buildings. Rev. Dr. Reinhard will preach at Cedar Creek on next Sabbath morning in the German language, and deliver an English address in the evening of the same day.

FROM PERU NORMAL.

Dean E. L. Rouse, who has not been well for some time, left Friday morning for Excelsior Springs, Missouri, where he will take treatment and enjoy a complete rest. He may be absent for two or three weeks. Prof. Delzell is taking charge of the teachers' bureau during his absence.

Dean Mattie C. Ellis was in Lincoln Friday, where she attended the funeral of a friend.

The Men's Glee club left Monday morning for a short trip. They will sing at Dunbar, Avoca and Syracuse, and will return Thursday night. Copy for the Summer School Bulletin is now in the hands of the printer. It is the most complete bulletin ever published by the Peru normal. Copies will be sent upon request.

A large number of calls are coming to Peru faculty members for commencement addresses. President Hayes and Dean Rouse have already received many more calls than they can accept and the faculty members have accepted dates.

Correspondence from prospective summer school students and from students for the fall of 1916 is already heavy enough to take the entire time of the office force.

On Saturday evening, March 11, the members of the Y. W. C. A. enjoyed a very pleasant evening together. The following officers were installed: Amelia Chard, president; Mary Boyd, recording secretary, and Helen Parker, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the Shakespeare class, together with Prof. Wilson were instrumental in bringing to Peru last week the "Merchant of Venice" in motion pictures. The manager of the local motion picture theater procured the films, and because of the liberal patronage on that evening, will probably present "Romeo and Juliet" at some early date.

The infirmary board is confronted with the problem of furnishing the Shaw cottage, as Miss Shaw will require her furniture by the beginning of the summer school. The members of this board are undaunted in their courage, however. The enterprise is meeting with the hearty co-operation of all who know its mission. Some valuable and useful gifts have been received from out-of-town friends. The Presbyterian Missionary society of Beaver City made and donated a comforter, and some individual donors of the same city have contributed a pair of blankets and pillowslips. The nurse has been with us seven weeks, during which time she has made professional calls every day; and the infirmary has been occupied by at least one patient almost all of the time.

Last Friday evening the orchestra of the Philomathean Literary society went to Dawson, where they furnished the music for the Dawson High school play.

The spring vacation of the normal begins March 23, and closes March 27. Needless to say, the students are much pleased with the prospect of this vacation.

Mr. A. A. Wolf of the senior class is in Plattsmouth, where he is taking the place of Principal Eggenberger for a few weeks.

Miss M. Edna Shopp of Plattsmouth has been elected to a position as first and second grade teacher in Waterloo, Neb., for next year. She is a member of the class of 1916.

VERDUN ARMY IN PERIL OF CAPTURE

German Wedge, Driven Into French Line, Threatens Forces East of Meuse.

VAST STORES ENDANGERED

London, March 15.—German troops have driven a wedge into the French front between Bethincourt and Dead Man hill, according to Berlin dispatches, transmitted through Amsterdam today.

Bethincourt, Berlin asserted, is nearly two-third surrounded and a slight German advance will force its evacuation. French positions on Dead Man hill, according to the German report, again are in peril.

The crown prince, it is believed, hopes by one brilliant stroke to break the French front northwest of the Meuse, and mean the surrender of enormous supplies of artillery and munitions and probably a large number of prisoners.

French Realize Danger.

French experts are awake to the danger of such a blow.

"It is significant," said one Paris dispatch, "that the bombardment, prelude to an infantry attack, has been confined almost entirely to the west bank of the Meuse, northwest of Verdun. French officers conclude that the battle will rage with the greatest fury between Bethincourt and Goose hill.

"If the Germans force those French positions, their next attack will be in Bourrus forest, two and one-half miles northwest of Verdun, and at Charny, three miles north of Verdun.

Would Be No Empty Victory.

"Were the Germans to break through to Verdun by way of Douaumont and Vaux, on the east bank of the Meuse, it would be an empty victory. They would lose 300,000 more men for the sake of an empty husk. Success on the opposite side of the river, via Goose hill and Bethincourt, might be worth mores substantial.

"French forces are holding the Lorraine front on the east side of the river. All their heavy guns and material would run the risk of being cut off and encircled, as the main bridges spanning the Meuse would be commanded by the foe.

Goose Hill Critical Point.

"The French staff is fully aware of the intention of the enemy. Precautions taken by General Petain are a guarantee against surprise. The German division may be expected to hurl themselves in solid masses against Dead Man hill and Goose hill. The French officers are convinced that they will, as on the other bank, be brought to a standstill."

Loses His Pocketbook.

Yesterday afternoon Jesse Marshall had the misfortune to suffer the loss of his pocketbook, containing $15.45, which slipped from his pocket in some manner while he was going from the corner of Fourth and Main streets to the Burlington passenger station. The loss was not noticed for some time after reaching the depot and a search failed to reveal any sign of the missing pocketbook or the money. Mr. Marshall is willing to give a liberal reward for the return of the money.

TROOPS PASS THROUGH PLATTS-MOUTH FOR MEXICO

Last evening the Missouri Pacific hauled through this city the first trainload of troops to depart for Mexico from this part of the country, when the cavalry regiment from Fort Robinson departed for the front to join in the hunt that will be made for the wily Villa by the U. S. soldiers. The scene was a reminder of the days of 1898, when the Spanish-American war was on, and for the first time since that occasion brought the sense of wartime closer to the people.

The first section of the Fort Robinson soldiers reached this city about 7:40 and remained here for some ten minutes while waiting for the passing of the north-bound passenger train. The first section was largely devoted to the horses of the regiment, as well as the wagons and other equipment which will be found so valuable in the work of campaigning over the Mexican deserts and mountains, where the outlaw, Villa, lurks after his murders at Columbus, New Mexico. There were 350 of the fighting boys of Uncle Sam on the first section and all seemed glad of the opportunity of getting to the front, where they might get into the fighting and defend the flag. A number of the boys expressed their pleasure at being relieved of fort life and being allowed to take their turn in the work on the Mexican border, as life at Fort Robinson was rather humdrum. All the members of the troop were singing and in the best of spirits and a splendid array of men well equipped and prepared to do their utmost to defend the old flag and secure justice for the American lives lost in the Villa raid.

The stop of the train here was only long enough for the boys to get out and walk for a few minutes to exercise, as the train hurried on as soon as the passenger train passed them at this station. The second section of the train passed here about midnight, bound southward.

Chris Parkening drove in this morning from his country home and departed on the early Burlington train for Omaha, where he will visit for a few hours, attending to some matters of business.

HAS EIGHT CHILDREN.

Mrs. P. Rehkamp, 2404 Herman St., Covington, Ky., writes: "I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for nearly two years and can find no better cough syrup. I have eight children and give it to all of them. They were subject to croup from babies on." It is a safe and reliable medicine. Sold everywhere.
