CARRANZA NOTE BY SPECIAL CARRIER

State Department Advised That the Message Is Coming—Contents Are Withheld.

Washington, D. C., May 24.—The new note from General Carranza will be sent to Washington by special messenger, Special Agent Rodgers at Mexico City advised the state department today. Mr. Rodgers did not say when the messenger would start and gave no forecast of the contents of the communication. It is expected to reach Washington late next week.

Previous reports from Mr. Rodgers have described the attitude of Carranza officials as increasingly friendly toward the United States, and added that the feeling prevailed among them that the critical period as to the border situation had passed. Officials have attributed this result to General Obregon's verbal report to General Carranza on his conference with Generals Scott and Funston at the border.

Leader Being Brought In. Marathon, Tex., May 24.—Escorted by a small detachment of the Eighth cavalry, Lieutenant Colonel Alvarez, a leader of the Glenn Springs and Boquillas raiders, will be brought here today and turned over to the local officials to be taken to Alpine for trial, Colonel Frederick W. Sibley said this morning.

Alvarez and two companions separated themselves from the rest of the bandits in order to stand guard over seven Americans captured at the Boquillas mines, after they had crossed the border. The three Mexicans were overpowered by their captives, led by Karl Halter, mine superintendent, and were given to the expeditionary force.

Speaking of the foray into Mexico, Colonel Sibley said today:

"I believe that our men have shown in an unmistakable way that bandits and murderers cannot operate with impunity for long in the Big Bend country. Our column was a little slow in reaching the scene of the depredations, but once there we lost no time in finding their trail, catching up with them and finally dispersing them, which was one object of the expedition. Our column was welcomed along the route by the natives because the bandits had covered the same road in their retreat and had committed outrages on the people. Our coming was a source of great relief to them and we were the recipients of many little homely courtesies, both coming and going. When we reached El Pino we found Jesse Deemer and Monroe Payne in a little hut. The bandits at that time did not realize anyone was on their trail, especially American soldiers. They had left Deemer and Payne at this adobe to go out on another raid on a nearby ranch and upon their return were to resume charge of their prisoners. You can imagine how surprised they were when one of our detachments caught up with them."

Last night Colonel Sibley received a telegram from General Funston complimenting him on the successful termination of the campaign.

RAILROAD VALUATION TO BE BOLSTERED UP

State Assessment Board Will Increase the Sum About Million and a Half Dollars.

Lincoln, Neb., May 24.—A valuation aggregating $1,500,000 will likely be attached to the railroad end of the state tax roll this year as a result of the deliberation of the state assessment board today.

The increase will be on main line mileage and not upon branch lines. It will be moderate, in the eyes of the board, and will not operate to the serious disadvantage of any of the carriers. At the same time the land value increase in the state at large will be not less than that amount, in all likelihood, according to board members.

Auditor Smith, with Secretary of State Pool, favored the increase from its first proposal today.

Figures collected by the board from twenty-one counties show an increase of valuation of lands about 23 per cent in the past six years and an increase of 45 per cent in taxes. The same tables show a total tax increase of 33 per cent for the Union Pacific and 23 per cent for the Burlington railroads.

CLAY TYLER OPERATED ON.

This morning shortly after 9 o'clock Clay Tyler was operated on at his home in this city for an abscess that had formed on his side, and the operation seems to have been entirely successful. The patient was reported as resting easy as we go to press. The operation was performed by Dr. Schleyer of Omaha and was carried out at the home, owing to the weakened condition of the patient, which would not permit his being taken to a hospital.

Won by a Bluff.

When the armies of Napoleon were overrunning Europe, General Massena, with 18,000 men, suddenly appeared before the Austrian town of Feldkirch and demanded its surrender. Instead of complying, the burgo-master issued orders that the church bells were to be set ringing and that the burghers, their wives and daughters, clad in holiday attire, were to assemble in the market square and there make merry.

The result was exactly what he had hoped for. Massena heard the sounds of rejoicing, watched from the heights overlooking the town the gathering throngs in the streets and came to the conclusion that the townsfolk must have received intelligence that an Austrian army, which was believed to be somewhere in the vicinity, was advancing to their relief.

As to give battle there and then formed no part of Napoleon's general plan of action, Massena ordered a retreat. Feldkirch was saved, and by a bluff, for as a matter of fact no relieving force was anywhere near at the time.

Blotted Out "Lord Penn."

The first book of any kind published in Philadelphia was Atkin's Almanack for the year 1686. It was an unpaginated pamphlet of ten leaves, only two copies of which are now known to be in existence. The first copy of the Almanack printed was sent to Colonel Markham, Penn's deputy, who reported to the council that the book had erroneously declared Pennsylvania to have been founded by "Lord Penn." The council disapproved such a high sounding title and directed the author and printer (William Bradford) to "forthwith and effectually blot out ye words 'Lord Penn.'" This had the effect of recalling the whole edition and the abolition of the obnoxious words.

Homely Philosophy.

Don't build your house on the site of Tribulation Town and then growl when the hurricane sweeps it away. The minute we think we're overstocked with wisdom it's high time to ask the good Lord to give us some. When we hang out the trouble sign that's the time all the little troubles locate us and crowd in to give us all that's coming to us.—Atlanta Constitution.
