

THE STORM'S RAVAGES IN THE CITY LAST NIGHT

The Wind Was More Destructive In Northwest Part of Town Than Elsewhere and the Residents Were Much Alarmed.

From Friday's Daily.

The storm that swept down on this city at 10 o'clock last night was one of the most severe that has been experienced in the city this year and the high wind that accompanied the storm reached the pretensions of a cyclone in the northwest part of the city and as a result the residents of that locality will suffer quite a loss to property as well as experiencing a good fright for a few minutes as the wind swept down upon them.

At the residence of Claus Boetel, Jr., on North Twelfth street, the storm did its greatest damage as it demolished the new hay shed of Mr. Boetel which he had just completed yesterday, as well as stripping the greater part of the shingles off the residence and breaking trees right and left. The hay barn was completely demolished and carried half a block southeast, where it crashed against the barn on the property of E. L. Jahrig, damaging this building a great deal, and scattering pieces of the barn roof all over that part of the city. The heavy timbers used to support the roof were snapped in two and distributed by the wind in different parts of the surrounding property and a part of the shingles from the house were carried two blocks east, where the main force of the twister seemed to have spent itself. At the home of Lester Burrows, a half block southeast of the Boetel home, the wind swept away the greater part of the shingles off the roof, and, proceeding east, broke several large limbs off the trees near the residence of Leonard Born, some of them falling across the electric light wires and breaking the line. A huge cottonwood tree on the property of Otto Krueger, west of the Boetel place, was completely topped by the wind, as was also one standing in front of the residence of Henry Miller, and these branches were carried by the wind all over that section of the city. The wind, it is stated, was very twisting in its movement, and while at the Boetel place was blowing from the southwest; at one of the neighbors, less than a block away, it was coming from the northwest, and with its shifting and twisting course did a great deal of damage. There is hardly a resident in that part of the city in a radius of six blocks that did not suffer damage in some form by having trees broken or outbuildings overturned in the storm.

In the business section of the city while the wind was very strong for several minutes, it did not inflict any serious damage, although giving the persons who were on the street a severe dose of dust and dirt.

Following the wind a very heavy rainstorm swept over the entire city and to those who had suffered the loss of shingles from their homes it gave a thorough wetting. The work on the paving in the main part of the city was delayed by the rain as the streets were filled up with mud and water to the depth of several inches. As far as can be learned, there was no one injured in the storm, which is a very fortunate fact considering the severe nature of the wind and rain.

DOING SOME IMPROVING

From Friday's Daily.

The Bach building on lower Main street is now being put in first class shape by being thoroughly overhauled and redecored and painted, and the work is being looked after by Tom Stokes in a first class manner. The porch, running the entire length of the east side of the building, is being fixed up in fine shape, and the building, when completed, will be a great improvement to that part of the city and one that adds very much to its appearance. Mr. Bach will have his building in the best of shape when the work is completed.

George Hild of Pekin, Ill., who has been visiting for a few days here with relatives and friends, departed this morning for his home in the east.

THE STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION AT FALLS CITY

From Friday's Daily.

C. C. Westcott returned home last evening from Falls City, where he was in attendance at the meeting of the State Sunday School association, which was in session at the Richardson county city this week. Mr. Westcott, who was a member of the board of directors of the association, reports that the meeting was the largest in both point of attendance and interest, there being 1,600 delegates registered from the different Sunday schools of the state and representing all sections of the state. The Falls City people were very generous and hospitable in their treatment of the visiting delegates, and every train was met by automobiles that took the visitors to any part of the city they desired. One of the leading features of the convention was the addresses given by ex-Governor J. Frank Hanley of Indiana before the different sessions of the convention, touching on the prohibition question.

CLAUS SPECK DEPARTED THIS MORNING FOR COLUMBUS

From Friday's Daily.

A message was received in the city last evening from Columbus, Neb., announcing that Mrs. Henry Speck, who is at the hospital in that city, had experienced a sinking spell and her recovery was despaired of by the attending physicians and her family. Mrs. Speck was taken to the hospital on Tuesday for an operation as she has been in very poor health for several months and continued to grow worse until it was decided that an operation was necessary to give her relief. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuhney of this city, parents of Mrs. Speck, were called at once to Columbus and have remained there at her bedside since that time. This morning Claus Speck left for Columbus to be present at the bedside of his sister-in-law. Mrs. Henry Speck was formerly Miss Hazel Kuhney of this city.

MRS. CLAUS SPECK, SR., INJURED FROM A FALL ON THE STAIRS

From Friday's Daily.

Mrs. Claus Speck, Sr., is confined to her home by very serious injuries which she sustained a few days ago when she fell on the stairs in her home and as a result was very badly bruised and shaken up. At first it was feared that she had sustained the breaking of one of her lower limbs, but examination failed to show any such injuries, although she was badly bruised and finds great difficulty in getting around the house. Her friends will learn of the accident with great regret and trust that she may soon recover without any serious effects from the fall.

J. R. Vallery was among those going to Omaha this morning, to visit for a few hours in that city and look after some matters of business.

SORROWFUL TRAGEDY NEAR CEDAR CREEK

Andrew Sanders Thrown Distance of Twenty-five Feet and Killed Almost Instantly.

From Saturday's Daily.

A tragedy that brought sorrow to the entire community occurred yesterday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock at the Cedar Creek sandpit when Andrew Sanders was almost instantly killed in the fall of the tower of a derrick used in the dredging of the sand from one of the small lakes near the Platte river.

The young man was working on the tower when the structure broke and Mr. Sanders was thrown some twenty-five feet to the lake and in falling struck some object, as when his body was picked up a few minutes later by his fellow workmen the back of his head was badly crushed and he had apparently suffered severe internal injuries as blood was flowing from his mouth, nose and ears, and it was clear to see that his death was only a matter of a short time. Medical assistance was at once summoned from this city, but the injuries were too severe to permit of his recovery as he was near death's door when picked up following the accident, and shortly after 6 o'clock passed away.

Mr. Sanders was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanders, residing two miles east of Cedar Creek, and a young man universally respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends. One very sad feature of the accident is that the young man, who was only 20 years of age, leaves to mourn his death a bride of only a few months, he having been married last March. The funeral will leave the Sanders home tomorrow noon and the body brought here, where the funeral services will be held at St. Paul's Evangelical church, being in charge of Rev. J. H. Steger, pastor of the church, and interment will be made in Oak Hill cemetery.

To the broken-hearted wife and grief-stricken parents the deepest sympathy of the community will go out in their hour of sorrow, caused by the distressing accident that has claimed the life of their loved one.

The coroner's jury, summoned by Coroner J. F. Brendel, consisted of Philip Fornoff, H. A. Meisinger, Jacob Fornoff, J. E. Meisinger, Baltz Meisinger and Pete Meisinger, and this morning they, with the coroner, viewed the body as well as ascertained the facts as could be placed before them, and returned a verdict that the young man came to his death by being thrown from a sand-hopper, and that the accident was caused by the faulty construction of the supports of the hopper, which was the property of the Platte Gravel company.

ELECTION OF STATE OFFICERS FOR F. O. E.

From Saturday's Daily.

The state aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles closed their session in Lincoln yesterday afternoon by the election of officers for the ensuing year, and in the choice of the officers selected William M. Barclay of this city was selected as outer guard of the state aerie, a well deserved recognition, as Mr. Barclay has been one of the energetic members of the order and a great force in the Plattsmouth lodge. The officers chosen were as follows: President, R. E. Landes of Chadron; vice president, Ernest Hahn of Fremont; chaplain, G. R. Gambel of Lincoln; secretary, M. V. Avery; treasurer, J. H. Lohman of Hastings; conductor, E. P. Sweeney of Omaha; inside guard, F. H. Reuter of Syracuse; outside guard, W. M. Barclay of Plattsmouth.

Miss Elizabeth Brunizer of Broken Bow, Neb., who has been enjoying a visit at Union as a guest of Miss Mary Foster, came up yesterday afternoon and spent a few hours visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Robertson.

LADIES' AUXILIARY OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH GIVE PICNIC AT MANSE

From Saturday's Daily.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church held the annual picnic on the lawn at the Manse last evening, to which there were a large number of the members of the church and congregation in attendance, who wended their way to the Manse about 5:30 o'clock. A better and more perfect evening could not have been selected as the weather man was on his good behavior and the evening was a most ideal one, which greatly added to the pleasures of the picnic. A few moments were devoted to various outdoor games and amusements, interspersed with the fascinating game of tether tennis, which was quite an attraction to a large number of both old and young, while sociability reigned supreme. At about 7 o'clock a tempting picnic supper was served in cafeteria style, which soon disappeared under the vigorous attack of the appetites whetted with the outdoor air, and the picnic supper was but a memory. The remainder of the evening was devoted to a continued round of games and conversation until about 8 o'clock, when the picnickers sauntered homeward, having thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

ON LONG TRIP FROM LINCOLN TO NEW ORLEANS IN ROW BOAT

From Saturday's Daily.

This morning three young men from Lincoln arrived at the ferry landing near this city on the first lap of their 2,000-mile trip from Lincoln to New Orleans. The three men are Wallace Dolan, August Hall and Frank Skoken, and their craft with which they are to make the trip is a staunch little rowboat, the "Nebraska." The boat is well built to withstand the snags that lurk along the Big Muddy on their way to the coast country. The men carry with them a letter from Secretary Whitten of the Lincoln Commercial club addressed to the Commercial clubs and chambers of commerce in the towns along the way and when reaching this city they called at the office of President Westcott and presented their letter of introduction.

The trip was commenced Sunday last from the electric park in Lincoln when the boat was launched in the Salt creek, and this stream was followed to the mouth, and from there the trip made down the Platte to this city, with stops each night for camp. The voyage will be made by daylight as each evening the boys tie up and make camp, carrying with them a tent as well as cooking utensils, and they are enjoying to the utmost the trip southward. They expect to be three months in making the trip down the river.

ROADS IN GOOD SHAPE SOUTH OF THIS CITY

Those who motored into this city Saturday from the south speak of the excellent condition of the roads leading into the city and especially in the country districts where the farmers have been engaged in dragging the roads and putting them in the best of shape for travel since the rain of Thursday. There is nothing that adds more to the life of a community than good roads and the residents throughout the county are getting busy in seeing that the roads are kept up in the best shape possible. The cost of the care of the roads is one of the largest items in the county and the commissioners as far as possible do all in their power to see that the roads are kept in first class shape, but the large mileage of the roads makes it a grave problem with them and the farmers show the proper spirit by getting busy and assisting in the good work by dragging and floating the roads whenever possible.

FINE BALL PLAY-ED HERE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Armours of Omaha Defeat the Red Sox By a Score of 6 to 5—An Immense Crowd Present.

The same hoo-doo that has hovered around the Red Sox park every time the Armours have visited us was in evidence yesterday afternoon when the packing house athletes were able to annex the long end of a 6 to 5 score.

The game was by far the best of the season, sharp fielding being in evidence at all times. The fielding of Beal, Mason, Roberts and Clements in the outer garden were features of the game, while Rapps, Fletcher and Craig were the mainstays of the inner defenses. The Armours won a deserving victory, using their war clubs with deadly effect, especially one Mr. Corcoran, who secured three hits in four trips to the plate, one being a home run over the left field fence, the first one of the season.

The opening stanzas opened brightly for the Sox, they being able to shove a score over in the opening frame when Beal singled to right, went to second on Parriott's sacrifice and scored on Fahnestock's single to center. Again in the third the Sox were able to count. Craig doubled to the left garden, went to third on an infield out, and scored on Parriott's sacrifice fly to center. The Sox threatened in the sixth. Parriott singled to left and took second when the ball slipped through Al Graves. Fahnestock laced one to right that looked good for two bags, but Clements pulled it down, thus saving the game for the Armours.

The undoing of the Sox was started in the seventh. Al Graves beat out an infield roller. Corcoran doubled over third, and Graves scored when he beat Parriott's throw of Clements' infield rap to the plate. Herold dropped the ball and Corcoran came in with the tying run. Clements scored a moment later on Graves' single to center.

Again in the eighth the Armours were able to score. Fahnestock tripped and muffed Lehmer's hot grounder. Al Graves worked Connors for a walk, and Corcoran rapped the ball over the left field fence, scoring the runs and putting the game in a state where they looked safe winners.

The Red Sox made their usual ninth inning stand. Connors opened with a single to left. Parker struck out. Mason reached first when Ryan muffed his grounder. Connors scored on Smith's single to center, and when Collins threw wild to third Mason crossed the plate. Craig struck out. Smith scored when Beal singled to center. Parriott ended the game by grounding out to third.

The rag-chewing of last Sunday was not in evidence and the crowd went away classing the game as one of the best this year. The umpiring of James was very satisfactory to everyone and he seemed to be showing the best of judgment in his rulings on the plays.

The Armours have always been great favorites here, their clean and snappy baseball making a hit with the local fans. The summary of the game is as follows:

PREPARING TO ORGANIZE A MOTORCYCLE CLUB

From Saturday's Daily.

The motorcyclists of Plattsmouth and this part of Cass county are preparing to organize a club for the purpose of furthering their enjoyment of this sport, and will hold a meeting for this purpose on next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at Fred Dawson's shop on South Sixth street. There are a great many of these machines in the county and through the perfection of an organization it is thought that a great deal more pleasure can be derived than would be possible otherwise with an organized tour and other features to add interest to the sport.

FUNERAL OF ANDREW SANDER YESTERDAY

The funeral services of Andrew Sander, the young man who was killed in such a tragic manner at the sand pit at Cedar Creek last Friday afternoon, was held yesterday afternoon from St. Paul's Evangelical church in this city and was attended by quite a large number of friends of the deceased young man, to pay their last tributes of love and esteem to his memory. The services were in charge of Rev. J. H. Steger, pastor of the church, who selected as his text "There is but one step between me and death," the minister speaking in both German and English, and conveyed to the sorrowing relatives the message of peace and comfort that the teaching of the Master might bring to them. The choir of the church gave two very appropriate numbers during the services that aided in softening the blow and sting of death which had so suddenly been visited upon the unfortunate family. The pall bearers were all young friends and associates of Mr. Sander, and they tenderly laid to rest all that was mortal of one they had prized so well in life as a true and loyal friend. They were: Forest Daughmann, Elmer Lohnes, Floyd Schneider, Erven Meisinger, Ralph Meisinger and Rudolph Meisinger.

Andrew Sander was born February 25, 1896, at Plattsmouth, Neb., and died at his home near Cedar Creek, June 23, 1916, as the result of his fall from a sand dredging tower, which, owing to defective supports, collapsed and caused the fall of the unfortunate man that resulted in his death. He lived two hours after the accident, but never regained consciousness. The death came as a great shock to the young wife and family. He was married on March 7, 1916, at Plattsmouth, to Miss Myra Taylor of Spragueville, Ia., and during the short time of his married life no couple could have been happier. He leaves to mourn his death besides the widow, his father, mother, three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Mary Albert, Mrs. Dora Albert, Miss Anna Sander, Henry Sander and Johnnie Sander.

CARD OF THANKS

To our friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us with their aid and words of sympathy at the death of our beloved husband, son and brother, we desire to return our most heartfelt thanks and assure them that their kindness will never be forgotten. We also desire to thank the Degree of Honor lodge and friends for their beautiful floral offerings, and we also wish to thank our friends for the use of their automobiles.

Mrs. Myra Sander, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sander, Mrs. Philip Albert, Mrs. Henry Albert, Mr. Henry Sander, Anna Sander, Johnnie Sander.

CALLED BY DAUGHTER'S DEATH

From Saturday's Daily. This afternoon T. W. Glenn and daughter, Miss May, departed for Gothenburg, Neb., where they were called by the death of Mrs. J. R. Holcomb, a daughter of Mr. Glenn, who passed away last evening at her home, near Big Springs. The funeral of this estimable lady will be held at Gothenburg.

WM. DELESDE- NIER TELLS OF EXPERIENCE

Helps Fellow to Get From Under His Over-Turned Automobile.

Last Monday Wm. DelesDernier and son, Herold; Mrs. Florence DelesDernier and Mrs. Wm. Langhorst left for Palmer, Neb., to visit Mrs. Chester DelesDernier and children at the Green ranch. They passed through Lincoln, Seward, York and Aurora on the way out and arrived at the Green ranch, four miles north of Palmer, at 5:15.

Several days were spent in fishing, and Bill says that they caught an abundance of fish and had all that they could eat. On Wednesday he attended to some business matters at Fullerton.

The party left for the return trip Saturday morning, and at Clarks passed over Road of Bridges (there are five bridges at this point to be crossed). A few miles south of Clarks they asked a farmer the best auto road to Osceola and he said "You go a mile right north" (pointing east). The fellow got mixed up on other directions, and then Bill gave him a little advice about going to Sunday school and after asking him about the crops the party drove on.

About five miles west of Yutan a black cat ran across the road in front of the car and Bill said that he told Herold in a joking way to drive careful. They had not gone very far from this point when they saw an auto turned turtle in the road and as they approached they saw an arm sticking out and waving a little. They stopped and they were able to lift the car enough to get the man out. The car was resting on the fellow right over his heart and he could not have stood it much longer. They took him on into Yutan, but the fellow did not seem to be much affected by his experience. He thanked them for helping him out of his perilous position and even wanted to give them money, but of course they refused and felt grateful that they had been able to help him out.

The party reached home Saturday evening, feeling that they had had an eventful trip.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.
