WILSON MUCH CONCERNED OVER STRIKE

Prepared to Make Insistent Appeal For an Amicable Settlement.

WILL AFFECT STOCKS ALL OVER

Said to Feel Way Can Still Be Found for Adjusting Differences.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—President Wilson, deeply concerned over the possibility that a general strike may tie up the country's railroads, is prepared to make an insistent personal appeal for an amicable settlement when the representatives of the roads and their employes confer with him tomorrow at the White House.

Since the situation became threatening the president has been in close touch with developments and has used every available agency of the federal government to bring the two factions together. He has taken no stand on the merits of the controversy, however, and it is not expected that he will do so at the conference tomorrow, but will emphasize the far-reaching effect a strike would have on the whole country.

The president is said to feel that regardless of the points at issue a way still can be found for settlement without a strike and the disturbance to other industries and inconvenience to the general public which would result.

Several more petitions for railway employes not members of the brotherhoods involved, asking the president to do everything in his power to avert a strike, were brought here tonight and will be delivered at the White House tomorrow. P. K. Walden of Chicago, acting on behalf of the men employed by the Chicago & Alton, brought one bearing 16,000 signatures and announced that 4,500 employes of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe had forwarded a similar appeal.

STATEMENT FROM MR. MARSHALL AS TO RESOLUTIONS

From Friday's Daily.

In the resolutions adopted by the mayor and city council of the city of Plattsmouth at their meeting on August 7th, relating to the condition of Officer William Wilson, the statement is made as to the members of the party that attacked him being drunk. Now I have made inquiries of the chief of police as well as the county attorney as to my two sons being drunk on this occasion and they are both stated that they were not to their knowledge in a state of intoxication. I desire that this fact be made public that the citizens may not have the impression that my sons, Will and Jesse Marshall were drunk on the occasion of the attack on Officer Wilson.

LAND TAXES IN GASS COUNTY ARE REDUCED IN VALUATION

Notice has been received at the office of County Clerk Frank J. Libershal from the State Board of Equalization at Lincoln, announcing a reduction in the valuation of the land tax of Cass County of 3 per cent. This reduction, however, applies to farm lands only and does not affect city or village lots. The change made by the Board of Equalization will result in a net reduction in valuation of $170,493. The change made will mean a great deal more work in the books at the clerk's office, figuring the change in the assessed valuation of the county.

The Best Laxative

To keep the bowels regular the best laxative is outdoor exercise. Drink a full glass of water half an hour before breakfast and eat an abundance of fruit and vegetables, also establish a regular habit and be sure that your bowels move once each day. When a medicine is needed take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are pleasant to take and mild and gentle in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

HENRY MEISINGER BUYS WILLYS-KNIGHT AUTO

From Saturday's Daily.

Henry Meisinger, one of the enterprising young farmers residing in Eight Mile Grove precinct, he became the owner of a fine new Willys-Knight car, that he purchased through John Bauer, the local agent. Mr. Meisinger will now have the pleasure of traveling in one of the best cars on the market today and enjoy life. Two brothers of Mr. Meisinger, John and George Meisinger, have also purchased Willys-Knights, as well as his brother-in-law, Mike Hill, and all are more than pleased with their purchases. There has been a large number of Willys-Knights sold during the past season by Mr. Bauer and the demand is constantly growing.

DRINK BRINGS NORMAN TO FACE THE DEATH CHAIR

Dramatic Story of Wealthy Man's Fall Through "The Unpardonable Sin."

The "Unpardonable Sin," which will be shown at the Gem theater on Tuesday matinee and night, will give every one an opportunity of seeing Holbrook Blinn in one of his strong features. The story of the play is as follows:

Walter Norman, a wealthy member of the smart set of a small city, indulges his liking for drink until he finds himself becoming an habitual inebriate. His best friend, Richard Grant, makes every effort to bring Walter to his senses, but has no influence until one night, when Walter, under the influence of liquor, attacks James Harker during a party at a fashionable restaurant and creates a scandalous scene.

Grant takes Norman away on his yacht, and succeeds in curing him of all desire to drink. Norman takes up a new life in New York and becomes socially popular and successful in business. He never touches liquor in any form, fearing a recurrence of the old weakness. He falls in love with Julia Landis, a lovely girl with an almost puritanical disgust for those who drink to excess. To her this is an unpardonable sin. She returns Norman's love, thereby arousing the intense jealousy of John Royce, a successful Wall Street man.

In the meantime Harker has married the girl over whom he and Norman quarreled and has come to New York to raise funds for a questionable business enterprise. He meets Royce in a business way, and at a reception discovers Norman and his fiancée and learns the reason for Royce's hatred for Norman.

From Harker, Royce learns of Norman's former indulgence in drink. He promises Harker to back his enterprise if he will get Norman drunk and bring him before Julia, knowing that she would break the engagement if she ever saw Norman in such a condition.

Harker, through his genial manner and pretensions to a desire to renew their old friendship, succeeds in getting Norman to take the first drink he has had since the sea voyage. With the first drink Norman's weakness returns, and Harker parades him before Julia in a drunken condition.

Julia breaks her engagement to Norman, who plunges into the wildest dissipation until, money gone and friendless, he is forced into the streets to make a pitiful living as best he can.

Royce at length prevails on Julia to marry him. He is blackmailed from time to time by Harker, who threatens to tell Julia the trick by which Royce and he shamed Norman before her.

Norman learns of the trick through overhearing a conversation in a bar-room, and inspired by revenge pulls himself together and begins to climb back out of the pit of degradation into which he has fallen. Slowly but surely he wins his way against the liquor craving and begins to pile up small savings. Under another name he gambles on a careful system and wins. With his winnings he goes into Wall Street and steadily piles up his capital until he becomes a formidable figure in the market. He then turns his financial guns on Royce and brings him to the verge of failure.

Julia at length overhears a conversation between Royce and Harker and learns how Norman was tricked by the two plotters. Infuriated, she seeks out Norman, pledges her love to him anew and offers to defy the world of convention and give herself to him forever.

Norman touched to the depths of his nature, tells Julia to return to

CARL SMITH IS MARRIED IN OMAHA THIS MORNING

This morning in Omaha occurred the marriage of Mr. Carl Smith and Miss Georgia Hanley, and the ceremony uniting these two young people was very quiet with only the members of the bridal party being present. The wedding occurred at the Sacred Heart Catholic church and the beautiful and impressive mass of the church was used to unite for life these two popular young people. The groom was attended by Mr. August Cloidt of this city as best man and the bride by her sister, Miss Hanley as bridesmaid. Following the ceremony the bride and groom departed on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to Denver and other points in Colorado and on their return will make their future home in Omaha. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith of this city and a young man very popular among a large circle of friends in this city who will learn of his happiness with great pleasure. He is a young man of marked ability and for the past several years has been employed by the M. E. Smith company in Omaha where he has won an enviable reputation for himself with his associates. The bride is one of the charming and popular young ladies of the metropolis and possesses a host of friends among those who have the pleasure of knowing her best.

REPORTS FROM THE INJURED OF THE DISTURBANCE SUNDAY

From Friday's Daily.

Officer William Wilson is reported this morning as not being quite so well, and seems to have suffered a slight relapse from yesterday, when he seemed to be gaining, and during the night his change brought a much more serious condition. His illness is such as to make it hard to determine just how seriously he has been injured or the exact nature of the injuries. He has not as yet regained clearness of mind enough to give the details of the unfortunate affair in which he was so seriously injured.

Reports from the Immanuel hospital in Omaha state that William Owens, who is at that place, is showing signs of continued improvement and unless the unforeseen happens he seems to be on the mend and will recover from the effects of his wounds. Jesse Marshall, the second of the men who were shot in the riot, is getting along in good shape and his condition has at no time been serious.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WED.

This afternoon at the court house occurred the marriage of Mr. Sophus Christenson and Miss Sophia Miller, both of this city. The wedding ceremony was performed by County Judge Allen J. Beeson in his usual pleasing manner, and the young people departed from the court house rejoicing in their new found happiness. The groom has resided in this city for the past year, and is a native of Denmark, as is his bride. He is employed in the Burlington shops. Both of the contracting parties are highly esteemed by those who have the pleasure of knowing them.

DEATH OF LITTLE CHILD.

Last evening shortly after 11 o'clock the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gradoville, in the west part of the city, was visited by the death angel and the little 5-months-old son, Joseph, was taken from their midst. The little one had been in poor health for the past few weeks and had gradually grown weaker, until death came to end its sufferings last night. The many friends of the bereaved family will extend their deepest sympathy to them in their hour of grief and sorrow.

S. H. Shoemaker was among those going to Omaha this morning, where he was called to spend the day looking after some matters of business.

GET READY.

Now is the time that your hens will moult or shed their feathers. This process is rather slow and nature should be assisted. B. A. Thomas' Poultry Remedy will help your hens to moult, causing them to shed earlier and be ready to lay when eggs are highest in the winter. If this remedy does not make good, we will.

NEW FORD AGENT HERE.

T. H. Pollock of this city has become the representative in this city of the Ford automobile company, having taken over the agency formerly owned by the Pfung company of Springfield, and which was in charge of W. W. Wasley as agent. Mr. Pollock will in the future look after the interests of the "universal car" and see that those desiring to secure the new Fords will be treated right in every way.

Mrs. A. F. Seybert departed this afternoon for Omaha, where she will visit for a short time.

TANLAC LEAPS TO GREAT FAME IN THE NATION

Nothing Yet Has Ever Approached the New Tonic in Merit or Popularity.

A little more than two years ago, the first bottle of Tanlac, the modern medicine, which has been building up countless thousands of run down men and women throughout the country, was sold in a drug store in Lexington, Ky.

From that sale grew a romance of the business world in which a million people now have a personal interest—an interest supreme, because it is based on health.

Today this remarkable preparation is being distributed by the carload. In the annals of proprietary medicines nothing has ever remotely approached Tanlac's instant and tremendous leap into popularity.

The original company which put Tanlac on the market was completely swamped with orders in six months and found itself unable to introduce Tanlac in sufficient quantity to meet the monster demand.

Overwhelmed with the colossal demand, it became necessary for the original company to increase the capacity of its laboratories, but now, the thousands of people who have been waiting for Tanlac may share in the benefits of relief experienced through its influence in stomach, kidney, liver and catarrhal ailments and symptoms which arise from these disorders, such as nervousness, dyspepsia, dizziness, sleeplessness, loss of flesh, waning strength, distress after eating, constipation, blotchy complexion and those offensive and annoying catarrhal effects like bad breath, drooping of mucus, watery eyes and constant colds.

Tanlac now may be obtained in Plattsmouth, at the Maury Drug Co. Tanlac may also be obtained in Springfield, at H. Fiegenbaum's store, and in Weeping Water, at the Meier Drug Co.

FOUNDER NEVER RESULTS

When Farris' Colic Remedy is used for it does not contain opiates which constipate, but is laxative in its action. It is dropped on the horse's tongue—cures by absorption. We sell it on the money back plan.
