Give Reasons for Refusing to Accept President Wilson's Plan.

THEY OUTLINE THEIR PROPOSAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—A formal statement issued by all railway presidents Tuesday afternoon embodied their own proposal to the president, and gave their reason for refusing to accept his plan of settlement.

"We are unable after the most earnest consideration to agree with the proposal of the president," it said, "which is that we accept without arbitration the substitution of an eight-hour day for the present ten-hour day in all the existing practices and agreements." This is the main point in controversy and we cannot surrender it without an opportunity to be heard in some form of fair arbitration.

"We do not assent to the statement that the eight-hour day now undoubtedly has the sanction of the judgment of society in its favor. We believe that society has not yet recorded its judgment upon this subject."

The Roads' Proposal. After reciting at length their reasons for opposing the eight-hour day, the statement concludes:

"We propose, however, as a basis of settlement, the following:

(A)—The railroads will, effective September 1, 1916, keep the time of all men represented in this movement, upon an eight-hour basis and by separate account monthly, with each man, maintain a record of the difference between the money actually earned by him on the present basis and the amount that would have been earned upon an eight-hour basis—overtime on each basis to be computed pro rata. The amounts so shown will be subject to the decision of the commission provided for in this memorandum and payable in money as may be directed by said commission in its findings and decisions.

U. S. to Keep Books. (B)—The interstate commerce commission to supervise the keeping of these accounts and report the increased cost of the eight-hour basis, after such period of actual experience as their judgment approves or the president may fix, not however, less than three months."

A HEALTHY STOMACH.

It is a well known fact that sometimes the stomach refuses to accept any food, no matter how well it is prepared. This loss of appetite is usually the first symptom of diseases. This condition demands an immediate attention and the first thing to do is to take Triner's American Elixir of Bitter Wine, which quickly stimulates the digestive organs to renewed activity, which creates a natural appetite and strengthens the body. Many diseases are either the result of constipation or constipation is the most prominent symptom of them. This remedy will clean out the body thoroughly and keep it clean. At drugstores. Price $1.00. Jos. Triner, Manufacturing Chemist, 1333-1339 South Ashland Ave., Chicago.

If you will rub with Triner's Liniment aching muscles or joints, you will be surprised, how quickly you will be relieved. A hot bath followed by a rub down by this liniment will keep the muscles strong. At drugstores, 25c and 50c; postpaid, 35c and 60c.
