

THE RED SOX DEFEAT THE ARMOURS OF OMAHA

A Very Spirited and Well Played Game, and a Large Crowd of Fans Present.

From Tuesday's Daily.

Before the largest crowd that ever attended a ball game in Plattsmouth, the Red Sox downed the Armours, by a 4 to 2 score. It was a battle royal from start to finish, and only after playing the best ball they have put up in many a moon were the Hoses able to win out. Yeast, the twirler secured from Lincoln, was all to the good, holding the visitors to six scattered hits, striking out seven men and having almost perfect control. Eddie Roben, the whirlwind little infielder, played the keystone sack as it has never been played here before, cutting off several clean hits. Floyd Rockwell, the slugging outfielder, came through with two clean swats, both figuring in the run getting. Man for man the Armours were simply out-classed and it was a deserving victory for the Hoses.

The Armours opened the first inning by securing a tally. Al Graves was safe when Rice fumbled his sharp grounder. Graves stole second and scored on Yost's single to right. The Hoses came right back. Beal and Parriott fanned the air, but "Rocky" sent a screaming double to center, going to third on Gurness' wild heave, and scored on Ryan's wild heave to first. The Packers scored again in the fifth, when Clements received a free pass to first, was sacrificed to second by Gurnes and scored on Collins' single to left. The real play came in the seventh. Craig drew a walk, went to second on Beal's sacrifice and scored on Rockwell's hit to center. Rice smacked a hit to left and Roben drew a walk. Harold came through with the winning blow, a clean single over second; Roben was nipped at third, ending the inning. The Armours threatened in their last two attempts but Yeast had them in hand at all times. Following is he score:

SUNDAY'S GAME.

In one of the most one sided games of the year the Armours crushed the Red Sox by a 12 to 2 score Sunday. The packers had their batting eye glued on the ball and drove Lefty Hirsch from the mound in 6 innings. Cost, Leamer and Al Graves responded with doubles in the pinches and misplays on the Sox part gave the packers the remainder of their runs. The Armours scored in the first stanza, Collins singled to left, stole second and third and scored on Corcoran's fly to left field. They came back in the fourth with four more, Rapp was beamed by Hirsch; Clements was safe on an infield blow; Collins ginged to center, scoring Rapp; Leamer sent Clement and Collins home with a double down the left field line. Yost doubled to left scoring Leamer. The fifth was again productive of a run for the mighty sluggers when four more runs were annexed by them as a result of the lambasting of Hirsch and the general ragged game played by the locals. Scores in the sixth and eighth enabled the visitors to pile up the score that swamped the locals who were lucky to get even two runs.

The Sox tallied in the seventh on a hit by Rice; a two bagger by Roben and these two were netted as the sum total of the Plattsmouth scores.

A REAL SMOOTH THIEF GETS POCKET-BOOK AND $70 IN CASH

From Tuesday's Daily.

Saturday afternoon a man named Conn, and hailing from Cedar Creek, met with quite a misfortune as he was gaily mingling with the crowd of 8,000 persons who filled the streets, and as a result of his experience is short 70 in good hard cash, the result of the work of some light-fingered person who, in the excitement and crowd, made the touch that caused the loss of the pocketbook and the corresponding gloom of the owner. The theft was reported to the authorities, and Sheriff Quinton and Chief Barclay did their utmost to locate the person taking the coin, but without success. The empty pocketbook belonging to Conn was found at the Burlington station, but without the money. It was thought at first that the man had made his escape on the Schuyler train, but it was searched at Orepolis without success. The theft of the pocketbook led to a number of very sensational reports as to how the affair occurred, but it was merely the case of a real smooth pickpocket getting away with the goods, and fortunately, was the only incident of the kind reported, which is very lucky, considering the large crowd in attendance at the Home Coming.

OFFICER JONES SHOT IN THE ARM BY A HOBO THIS MORNING

From Tuesday's Daily.

Officer Alvin Jones is wearing his left arm in a sling today as the result of a nasty flesh wound from the bullet of a 38-caliber revolver that was discharged at him at an early hour this morning by a party of hoboes. The officer had gone up to the upper yards of the Burlington a short distance north of the platform at the depot and here he states there were three hoboes sitting around a fire. Mr. Jones requested them to move on and not to camp in the yards and at this two of the men started away but the other instead of going proceeded to draw a gun and shot Alvin through the fleshy part of the left forearm making a very painful wound. Mr. Jones fired after the retreating men but there seems to have been none of them injured as they all made their getaway. Jones came back to the city to have his injured arm looked after and Chief of Police Barclay was called to the scene of action and in company with Sheriff Quinton and Mr. Jones visited the scene of the trouble but there was no trace of the men to be found. The place where the shooting occurred is on the west side of the railroad yards and a short distance north of the switch shanty. It is reported that three hoboes were seen along the track yesterday afternoon near the west limits of the yards.

LETTER FROM C. W. SHERMAN IN CALIFORNIA

Interesting Letter From C. W. Sherman, in Which He Mentions Other Cass County People.

From Tuesday's Daily.

From far off California comes a very interesting letter from C. W. Sherman, for a great many years editor and publisher of The Journal, and tells of the doings of the former Cass County people in the coast country. Mr. Sherman has removed from Oregon to Los Angeles, and is now enjoying life in the beautiful southern city. In writing Mr. Sherman says: "Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 29th, 1916. Publisher Journal, Plattsmouth, Neb. My Dear Sir: Enclosed find cash in payment of subscription to the semi-weekly Journal for the coming year to be sent to Wm. R. Davis, at 112 E. Walnut St., Fullerton, Cal. "Let me say, Mr. Davis was formerly of Cass county, is a brother of the late Stephen Davis, for many years a highly respected resident of Platts-mouth."

"Mr. Davis says that while life in southern California is the acme of pleasurable satisfaction, it is not quite complete without The Journal, with its twice-a-week installment of news from his old home in Cass county.

"Some forty people, former Cass county residents, attended a Nebraska picnic at the Long Beach Auditorium on the 19th inst., and enjoyed the luxury of a visit and the renewal of old acquaintanceship for the day, taking in a sail on the bay and from San Pedro and the Los Angeles harbor, late in the afternoon—three steamers having been launched for their accommodation. Among those present I noticed ex-Senator Thomas, who, although in his 84th year is still an active business man of Long Beach; Captain L. D. Bennett and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Cooper; Mrs. Moses Dodge and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Bryant and her daughter of Hollywood; Wm. R. Davis of Fullerton and his family, including several grandchildren; Mrs. Emma Van Cleve, formerly Miss Hesser, and her youngest sister (whose name I have forgotten) of Fullerton; Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Dr. John Black, Mrs. Lentz, formerly the wife of George Minor; H. Cannon; Arthur Helps, who with his brother John, is in the realty business in Long Beach. Many others were there whose names I do not now recall.

"It is noticeable that all the cities and towns along the ocean beach are full to overflowing at this season with summer visitors, and the same is true of this city, the mild and even-tempered climate being the chief magnet which draws them hither. Long Beach, which normally is a town of perhaps 35,000, is now crowded by 10,000 more, and the proportion holds good at all the beach resorts.

"I notice that wherever water for irrigation purposes can be obtained population is rapidly advancing in southern California; and it would advance much faster were it not for the greediness of realty holders, who insist on discounting future values too much, for the markets of the city disclose a greater variety and a better quality of products the whole year through than it has been my pleasure to see grown anywhere else in the thirty-odd states I have traversed in my time—the winters being so mild that many forms of vegetables grow and flourish throughout the winter months almost as abundantly as in spring, summer and autumn. (Not being a realty owner here I think I am permitted to say these things without being charged with boosting from interested motives.)

SCHOOL SEASON FAIRLY LAUNCHED; GOOD ATTENDANCE

The school season of 1916 has been fairly launched now and the boys and girls of the city are getting over the effects of the summer's vacation by getting warmed up for the winter's school period. The increase in the attendance has been very satisfactory, and the instructors are right on the job in getting the youngsters started on their year's work. The enrollment of the first day in the high school reached 220, an increase of twenty over the first day of last year, and one that is encouraging of the growth of the schools. This season the high school will have a number of new instructors to take hold of the work and these are proving very satisfactory and add much to the efficiency of the instruction.

The young people are developing a greater desire to remain in school than has been shown for years, and each season the graduating classes grow larger as the young folks are realizing the value of the education they receive, and desire to complete their courses at the school in order that they will be in a better position to take up the battle of life. The need of a good education is becoming more and more of an advantage in the life of the world, and the young people are more than ever anxious to take the fullest possible advantage of it. The patrons of the public schools are well pleased with the showing they are making, and this, in spite of the handicap of the lack of room, but this will be overcome when the new high school building is erected and ready to be occupied.
