OPERATED ON IN OMAHA TODAY

DAUGHTER AT BARGER HOME.

This morning P. J. Lair and wife departed for Omaha, where they will be present at the Immanuel hospital in that city when their daughter, Miss Leta, is operated on for appendicitis this morning. Miss Lair departed yesterday for Omaha, and her case being quite acute, it was decided to operate at once in hopes of giving her relief. The many friends of this popular young lady will await with much anxiety word from her bedside, and in hopes that she may soon recover from the effects of the operation and be restored to her family and friends in her former state of good health.

This morning the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barger was gladdened by the arrival of a fine little daughter, who will make her home with them in the future. The mother and little one are doing nicely, and Earl is feeling very proud of the addition to his family. The many friends will extend to the happy parents their best wishes for the future welfare of little Miss Barger and trust that she may live to be a joy and comfort to her parents in the years to come.

PASSES REVENUE BILL; CLASH WITH ALLIES EXPECTED

Senate Puts O. K. on Retaliatory Measures Adopted by House.

BILL IS AIMED AT BLACKLIST

May Put End to Discrimination Against the Commerce of U. S.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—A sharp diplomatic conflict between the allied governments and the United States is expected to follow retaliatory measures incorporated in the revenue bill passed by the senate last night.

With agreement to the amendments by the house conference committee anticipated today, it is thought the allied governments, probably led by Great Britain, may begin shaping counter commercial retaliations.

It is the hope of the administration, one official said, that the drastic legislation enacted may result in putting an end to the blacklisting policy of the British government, the discrimination against American commerce, interference with American mails and embargoes on American products.

The bill is expected to raise approximately $205,000,000 a year largely by taxes on munitions of war exported, inheritances and incomes.

Provisions of the Bill.

The bill provides: "A tariff commission of six members, named by the president, to investigate effects of tariff laws and tariff relations between this and other countries.

"That use of United States mails may be denied citizens of any belligerent country which does not accord those facilities to Americans.

"That clearances may be denied any vessel from American ports which discriminates in favor of or against any American citizen, whether here or residing in neutral countries.

"That commercial privileges may be denied any vessel or person of a belligerent nation which does not allow full commercial facilities to American citizens.

"That the president may employ army and navy forces to enforce retaliatory measures, and to prohibit importation into the United States of goods from nations which prohibits importation of goods from this country.

"That shipment of salmon and halibut into this country be prohibited from the Pacific coast except in bond from a United States port.

"That it shall be unlawful to import goods at a price substantially less than the actual value or wholesale price of domestic goods of the same nature.

"That tariff rates on dyestuffs shall be raised after the European war closes."

The bill provides for taxes as follows:

Income Tax.

"An increase of from 1 to 2 per cent on the normal income tax with exemption of $4,000 for married and $3,000 for single persons. Surtaxes:

1 per cent on net income exceeding $20,000 up to $40,000; 2 per cent, $40,000 up to $60,000; 3 per cent, $60,000 to $80,000; 4 per cent, $80,000 to $100,000; 5 per cent, $100,000 to $150,000; 6 per cent, $150,000 to $200,000; 7 per cent, $200,000 to $250,000; 8 per cent, $250,000 to $300,000; 9 per cent, $300,000 to $500,000; 10 per cent, $500,000 to $1,000,000; 11 per cent, $1,000,000 to $1,500,000; 12 per cent, $1,500,000 to $2,000,000; 13 per cent on net income exceeding $2,000,000.
