A MOST DELIGHTFUL SIX O'CLOCK DINNER PARTY

A most delightful 6 o'clock dinner party was given on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Fox in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Waybright, Mrs. Benton Brown of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Olivia Jeffers of Olympia, Wash. The decorations of the dining room were in asters, whose beauty made a pleasing touch to the appearance of the home, and here the members of the party, fourteen in number, enjoyed the pleasures of the delicious repast served by the hostess, and here the time was passed most delightfully by the jolly party. Mrs. William Baird favored the members of the company with one of her always pleasing readings, that certainly was very much enjoyed, and at the home going hour all expressed their appreciation of the very enjoyable occasion that had been afforded them in meeting with the old friends who had made Plattsouth their home in the years gone by.

WOODMEN CIRCLE NOTICE.

There will be a special meeting of the Woodmen Circle lodge at their lodge rooms this evening at 7 o'clock sharp, to initiate two members, who are leaving town.

ELECT OFFICERS.

The Standard Bearers of the Methodist church held a very enjoyable meeting at the home of Miss Margaret Mapes yesterday afternoon which was quite largely attended, there being some twenty young ladies in attendance. After a short program the members of the society proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year with the following being chosen: president, Miss Ina Dalton; vice-president, Miss Della Frans; recording secretary, Miss Ethel Babbitt; corresponding secretary, Miss Mina Kaffenberger; treasurer, Mable Lee Copenhaver; mite box secretary, Miss Clara Rainey. Following the election the young ladies did ample justice to a very delicious buffet luncheon.

SUIT OVER PLATTSMOUTH LOTS IN DISTRICT COURT

A suit has been filed in the district court entitled Adolph Welch vs. Katherine Tielpe, et al., in which the plaintiff seeks a partition of the estate of Charles Tielpe, deceased. The petition recites that in March, 1909, Charles Tielpe died intestate, and was the owner of lots one and two, block eighteen, Young & Hayes' addition to the city of Plattsouth. In August, 1916, the plaintiff became the owner by purchase from the heirs of Charles and Louisa Tielpe of six-sevenths of the interests of the heirs in the real estate. The plaintiff now asks that his interest in the real estate be confirmed, and if satisfactory settlement cannot be arranged that the property be sold and the proceeds divided accordingly to the interests of the different heirs. The defendants in the case are the widow and heirs of a son of Charles Tielpe. Attorney J. M. Leyda appears for the plaintiff in the action.

The property in the suit is located on Locust street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

MR. AND MRS. SEIVER ENTERTAIN AT 6 O'CLOCK DINNER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Sievers on West Locust street was the scene last evening of a very pleasant gathering when they entertained at a very pleasant 6 o'clock dinner in honor of a number of their old friends who are now visiting in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Waybright, Mrs. Benton Brown and Mrs. Olivia Jeffers. The dining room of the Sievers home was very tastefully decorated with climatis and asters in profusion. Covers were laid for fourteen, and the dinner will long be remembered as a most pleasant event in every way by the members of the party, and it was an occasion that was appreciated to the fullest extent by those taking part. Mrs. Jennings Sievers assisted the hostess in entertaining.

MRS. E. H. WESCOTT ENTERTAINS FOR VISITING FRIENDS

"Sunnyside," the beautiful Wescott home on High School hill, was the scene of a most charming Kensington Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. E. H. Wescott entertained in honor of Mrs. Morgan Waybright, Mrs. Benton Brown and Mrs. Earl C. Wescott of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Olivia Jeffers of Olympia, Wash., who have been visiting here with their relatives and old friends for some time. The home was arranged most pleasingly with the flowers of early fall and made a most pleasing setting for the pleasant party of ladies, some twenty in number. During the afternoon the ladies were entertained in a very pleasant manner by several readings by Mesdames William Baird and Allen J. Beeson, which were very much enjoyed by all those in attendance at the pleasant occasion. At a suitable hour dainty refreshments were served which added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON FOR MRS. ROCKHILL AND DAUGHTER

Mrs. William J. Straight entertained a number of her lady friends, yesterday afternoon at her pretty new home at a daintily appointed bridge luncheon at 1:30. This charming occasion was in honor of Mrs. Rockhill and daughter, Miss Eleanor of New York, who are guests at the Livingstone home. The beautiful color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the table decorations and covers were laid for ten; Mesdames Rockhill and daughter, Miss Eleanor, Nellie P. Agnew and daughter, Miss Marjorie, George E. Dovey, John W. Falter, R. F. Patterson, T. P. Livingston, W. J. Straight and Miss Mathilda Vallery. Misses Nora Livingston and Muriel Straight assisted in serving.

THE NEW CARNEGIE LIBRARY BUILDING ALMOST COMPLETED

The new Carnegie library building on Vine street is now almost ready for occupancy, and by the first of October the public library will be able to be housed in their new home, that is certainly a beauty. The decoration of the interior of the building has been looked after by Frank R. Gobelman in his usual pleasing manner. On the main floor of the building the woodwork has all been finished in oak, with the dull varnishes, which looks very pleasing to the eye. The walls in this portion of the building are finished in a delicate tint of light buff while the ceilings are in dull ivory, making a pleasing combination and one that makes the room bright and attractive and easy on the eyes of the patrons of the reading room. In the auditorium in the basement the ceiling is to be finished in the ivory, with the side walls in a light shade of green, that will make this a most dainty and pleasing appearing room. The floors are finished in the natural oak and varnished so as to add much to the extremely pleasing appearance of the interior of the building. The book cases and tables are all finished by Mr. Gobelman and his workmen in the oak finish. It is really surprising how handsome the new library is on the exterior and interior, and it certainly is one of the most needed and valuable public improvements that has been made in the city in recent years, and the library board made no mistake in selecting Mr. Gobelman to look after the finishing touches on the building.

P. A. Hild of near Murray was in the city for a few hours yesterday afternoon visiting with his friends and looking after a few matters of business.

Jesse McVey departed this morning for Murray, where he expects to spend a short time in that place and vicinity with old friends and neighbors, and will be a guest at the Anderson home, southwest of Murray.

S. O. Pitman of Nebraska City motored up yesterday afternoon from the Otoe county city to attend to a few matters of importance. Mrs. Pitman accompanied her husband as far as Murray, where she remained until his return.

Does Prohibition Prohibit?

Answered by Responsible People Who Know MAY, 1916

On April 22, 1916, A. L. Tidd, of this city wrote to the Mayors of all the cities in Kansas, having a population of 3,000 to 10,000 and asked for an answer to the question, "Does prohibition prohibit in your city?" The following answers with others were received which will be printed in this space.

Hon. J. F. Bailey, Mayor of Horton, Kansas, says:

"Don't let any one make you believe that prohibition is a failure, for it is not. We don't have one drunk man in Horton now to where we had 25 when we had saloons."

Hon. W. D. Nichols, Mayor of Abilene, Kansas, says:

"Does prohibition prohibit in your city? Yes, practically. How many arrests for drunkenness last year? 4. What has been the financial effect? Good. Men that were no good, pay their bills now. Men that always rented, now own their own homes. You know damned well that a man who buys whiskey every day don't have any money."

Hon. J. L. Morrison, Mayor of Chanute, Kansas says:

"We have two day police, one night police, three in all, for a city of 10,000 population, I think it is fine. We are well pleased with it. Would not return to the open saloon for anything."

Mr. F. W. Frye, City Clerk of Parsons, Kansas, on the question of prohibition, says:

"There is no doubt of the good effects of prohibition—morally, financially or otherwise. And, with Commission form of government, as has the city of Parsons, any city should run as economically without saloon revenue as with it. Do not think the people of Nebraska will regret voting for prohibition of liquor."
